OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY —

Important Issue

The City Editor Did Not Know Whether It Was Important and Who or What Was Important Was Not Known.

By
One Freemen Lethrop

WHEN she came into the newsroom, she saw him eyeing her with that wolfish gleam. Well, she wouldn't speak. She sailed over to her desk and began sorting her notes. He was becoming indifferable!

There was a note in her typewriter. "The day is dark and nothing worthwhile."

Unless you turn to me your lovely smile."

Surreptitiously she stuffed it into her purse. For an hour she typed furiously. She had a deadline to meet. Perfectly good excuse for not dawdling around with amorous males. Then she heard him coming. She didn't look up, sensing that the city editor had a quizzical eye on them.

"Pardon me, madam, could you suggest a good method of making up with your wife when you've had an altercation? Would you say candy, flowers, dinner invitation, or a new hat would be best?"

Idiot! He wasn't going to get a rise out of her.

"Sir, Mr. Dayton! You've been quarreling with your wife again! Don't come to me with your troubles. I'm no lovelorn expert. I write a news column."

"But this wasn't a quarrel. Merely a difference of opinion. She said—" "Spare me, she said, 'No, your son aren't darned. They aren't even mended.' And you said, I should think you might at least attend to a few minor household details.' Oh, I know that old routine. I have my husband begins that line, I know exactly what is coming."

"So you quarrel with your husband too! Just a couple of misunderstood spouses aren't we? How about lunching with me and moaning into our coffee cups about it all?"

He was piling up her papers with his long slender hands. She tried not to look up. Why did he have to be so attractive and persistent, yet such a hot-headed male?

"No, thanks, I'm lunching with Dan. He and I have to talk over the picture layout for my Sunday feature."

"How about making it a threesome and laying all our cards on the table?"

He hoped her eyes snapped a positive refusal. "That would defeat the purpose of the whole arrangement, wouldn't it? I'm not going to spend my—unmarried and definitely attractive—evening content to be bored by a couple of unhappily-married moaners. The answer is still no."

She gathered up her purse and her Sunday feature and dashed out the door. He was following her. At the turn of the stairs she could see his long legs gaining. If only she could make the wearing lecher-come-lately here he caught up. But she didn't. "Listen, angel-face. We can't keep this up indefinitely. You know I'm crazy in love with you, and you surely can't deny you are a little wacky about me. Why don't we do something about it?"

She turned to face him. "Are you suggesting that we simply ignore our mutual difficulties and go gallivanting about together like a couple of lovebirds? Wouldn't that be hypocritical?"

"It would be enjoyable. Because I don't see eye-to-eyes with my wife about silly things like housekeeping, and you don't see eye-to-eye with your husband about washing his car, why should we spend a perfectly good love-life together?" He was running an experimental hand up and down her arm.

She wrenched away. "It may not be grounds for divorce that your husband insists on wearing fancy wool sox that the washwoman won't do but, after all, I'm married and it certainly can't be expected to attend to such sordid details like a mere housewife."

"Inconsequential," he scoffed.

"Are you saying that I don't have a leg to stand on in my case against my un-understanding husband?" she challenged.

He grinned. "On the contrary, I would swear that you have a couple of perfectly beautiful legs to stand on. In fact, in those nylons they are practically demoniacal me!"

She stamped her foot. "Is it or isn't it important that a woman who wants to keep on working so that the couple can accumulate funds faster to build a home can't attend to all housekeeping details?"

"It is—or I mean, it isn't important." Oh gosh, Pixy, you get me all mixed up when you ask involved questions and look like that. What I really mean is that I wouldn't care whether my son are darned or not, if only you love me. You epitter, I'll make you forget there ever was a sock in the world."

The city editor came clipping down the stairs and stopped in his tracks. "You love-birds made up again? I declare I don't know whether it's such a good idea to have a husband and wife both on the news force. Or maybe it is—I dunno." He went on down the hall grinning and scratching his head.

HARVESTING GOOD CROP ALBERTA FARMER IS

MEDICINE HAT.— First delivery of 1952 wheat to a Medicine Hat mill was made by district farmer Ed Schlenker, who said it came from the best crop he has ever harvested.

The wheat went 62 pounds to the bushel, graded No. 1 Northern and came from fields which averaged 25 to 30 bushels to the acre.

HELICOPTERS HOP ACROSS ATLANTIC—In a 16-day trip from an air force base in Massachusetts two U.S. army helicopters proved they could fly the Atlantic. Authorities called the flight "Project Hopalong" as the 'copters stopped at Maine, Labrador, Greenland and Iceland before landing at Prestwick, Scotland. The two egg-beaters are shown above Prestwick just before landing. They flew at an average of 90 miles an hour and their longest hop was over 800 miles.—Central Press Canadian.

STRAPPING HONEYBEE COLONIES FOR MOVING

A better method has been designed to facilitate the strapping of bee colonies when they are to be moved to a new location. The conventional method generally employed by beekeepers has been to use hive staples or wood-lath material to fasten together the bottom boards, hive bodies and covers. Some of the disadvantages of these methods are: (1) the amount of labour and material involved; (2) the disturbance to colonies by hammering; (3) the mutilation of the hive staples or wood-lath frequent use; (4) the shifting of the equipment en route; (5) the unsecureness of strips covered by the cleats; (6) the unsuitability of the method when a proper job has been completed by experienced help.

Recent trials at the Apicultural Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, report E. Braun have proved that single or double hive-bodied colonies can be rapidly and efficiently moved by the use of half-inch width flat steel strapping material, commonly used by large shipping firms. The colonies are prepared as follows:

(1) The entrance screens are inverted or attached.

(2) The ventilated bee - escape boards are placed on top of the colonies after removal of the metal hive covers.

(3) The colony is moved forward so that the cleat rests on the upper part of the slighting board to prevent the insertion of the strapping material under the bottom board. If 2 x 2 or bricks are used as hive stands, the strapping can be placed under and over the colony without any prior handling.

(4) The strapping is cut to the desired length beforehand, but an extra few inches are allowed so as to permit the use of the material a second or third time. The two straps are placed approximately eighteen inches apart at the front and back end of the colony when using new equipment and a single band in the centre with old equipment.

(5) The tension tool is applied, the metal-clip band put into place and crimped, the colony loaded and moved to the new location. The bands are cut close to the metal clip and stored for re-use at any future time.

The colonies thus prepared, by inexperienced help with a minimum of guidance, withstand jolting by the hand holes when one super is completely filled with honey. Jostling or dropping from a height of several feet (although this treatment is not recommended) and truck transportation over rough roads will not cause any shifting or dislodging of bottom boards or supers.

Further information may be secured from the Apiculture Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Highly Specialized Task Is Done By Community Press

WINNIPEG.—In a small room, sitting behind a desk cluttered with the articles of his trade, an old man bends over a typewriter putting a news story together. He is 88-year-old Konstantin Flemming, and he writes Swedish. More than 3,000 persons across Canada eagerly read what he writes.

Flemming was one of the first members of the "Little People's Press", a Winnipeg community of 15 newspapers which claims a readership of 200,000 in Canada, the United States and Europe.

These papers are published in many languages—Croatian, Ukranian, Polish, German, Yiddish, Norwegian, Hungarian, Swedish, Icelandic and Slovakian.

The main reason they have concentrated here is Winnipeg's geographical location. Lower transportation costs are a big factor in their tight budgets.

The community press has a responsible and highly-specialized task —to link the Canadian way of life with the traditions of Europe, and to introduce Canada to the newcomer. Some of the sheets have been performing this task for more than 50 years.

Although the language is foreign the spirit is Canadian. Michael Pochoreky, editor of the tri-weekly New Pathway says: "The men who work in this field are dedicated people. They work with an emphatic zeal for the cause of Canadian citizenship. One of several publications offering complete information service to new immigrants is the Hungarian News which distributes without

News Notes From Your District Home Economist

Judging Competitions

At the Olds school of agriculture on July 29 and 30 were the Provincial Judging competitions. Each Home Economist took two of her best 4H Club girls from Food, Clothing and Gardening projects (the D.A. took his best team from each of the boys' projects) to compete with all the other teams in the province. The winning team from each division has the opportunity to go to Toronto for the Dominion Judging competitions. Perhaps you'll remember that Alberta's Food and Clothing teams have won at Toronto for the past three years.

My teams, the best in this district, were Shirley Gunn and Kathleen Swayne from Paradise Valley in Gardening, and Margery Robertson and Marlene Clark from Dunness in Clothing. Both teams did very well and I'm so proud of the girls. Marlene and Margery placed second in the provincial competitions, and Shirley and Kay were very close to that in gardening (I don't know exactly where but I do know they were high). All four of these girls did their best, and to me, they are all winners.

Pin Money

Did you know that the phrase "Pin Money" originated in the 14th century when pins were so costly that manufacturers sold them in shops only on the first two days of January each year. Husbands gave their wives pin-money allowances to purchase this luxury item.

In the 15th century, a bride's trousseau included a pin dowry. One young nobleman checked his fiancee's trousseau carefully before the wedding to make sure that the 3,000 needles and 3,000 pins' were included as promised.

Rose Hips

Rose hips are beginning to ripen and are one of the richest known sources of vitamin C. Three average rose hips contain as much vitamin C as one medium-sized orange. Among the foods for health included in Canada's Food Rules are citrus fruits and tomatoes daily. This is to assure a sufficient supply of vitamin C in our diet. It's not always easy to follow this rule when the foods called for are scarce or costly. Here we are fortunate in having an abundant supply of another source of vitamin C — rose hips — and they are free for the picking. Use "Alberta Oranges!".

Fruit Stains

Fruit stains can be removed from washable materials by stretching the stain over a bowl and pouring boiling water through from a height of two feet. Use commercial bleach for old stains. Sometimes covering the stain with salt and pouring the water through will remove the stain more quickly.

For silks and wools, bleach the stain out with hydrogen peroxide.

Send for the free pamphlet "Wild Rose Hips" so you'll get some idea on ways to use Rose Hips, and for sewers' recipes.

Ten Commandments To the Mother Of A School Beginner

1. You shall see to it that your Johnny is physically fit for the year ahead of him. Look to his eyes, his ears, his teeth, his weight, and last, but by no means least, his adenoids and tonsils.

2. You shall clothe your Johnny neatly and cleanly and continue to do so throughout the year.

3. You shall instruct your Johnny carefully in the unassisted donning of coat, cap, rubbers or overshoes. This do and the teacher will bless you.

4. You shall not frighten him with tales of what the teacher will do, should he misbehave. Let him find out for himself if the time comes, if ever.

5. You shall keep his dog at home from this day forward.

6. You shall refrain from any criticism of the teacher in the presence of your Johnny.

7. You shall acquaint yourself with his teacher. It frequently from out many problems.

8. You shall await the teacher's instructions before purchasing supplies. It quite often prevents disappointment.

9. You shall administer the soap and water at least twice a day.

10. You shall not be overanxious to start Johnny to school. If he appears immature for his age, seek advice before sending him.

These things do, and you will have a happy, healthy child, who will be a joy to his teacher and the pride of his parents.

Yes, Sir . . . I'm for the Alberta Wheat Pool

1. Because Alberta Pool Elevators give effective service and protection to all.
2. Because Alberta Pool Elevators are operating at cost and excess earnings are returned to member patrons. Over the years such patrons have received over $5 million in cash and nearly $6 million in reserves. Ownership rests with the reserves.
3. Because Alberta Wheat Pool and Pool Elevators are owned by many thousands of Alberta farmers who have invested close to $8.5 million in this great enterprise. Pool members can safeguard this investment by delivering all their grain to Pool Elevators. A large volume of deliveries means low cost of operation.
4. Because the Wheat Pools are mainly responsible in keeping down the cost of handling grain. Such costs are remarkably low, probably the lowest in the world. This is a tribute to the effectiveness of farmer co-operation.
5. Because the business operations of the Alberta Wheat Pool are an "open book." Pool members may obtain the fullest information concerning the operations of their organization through their elected delegates and directors.
6. Because the co-operative principle of "each for all and all for each" is the co-operative ideal which aims at spreading economic justice throughout the nation and throughout the world.
7. Because it is of vital importance to Alberta grain producers that a strong co-operative elevator system should flourish in this province. It is essential that such an elevator system should be under the control of Alberta grain producers—the men who are actually following the occupation of farming.
8. Because Alberta Wheat Pool is the only organization in Alberta which meets these requirements.

"PREVENT DUCK DAMAGE"

HELPFUL HINTS CONTAINED IN PAMPHLET

Suggestions to aid western grain growers in their efforts to prevent crop damage by migratory waterfowl are contained in a pamphlet "Prevent Duck Damage", published by the Canadian Wildlife Service, Department of Resources and Development and distributed through the provincial game authorities of the four western provinces. The pamphlet gives detailed instructions for the construction of several effective and inexpensive devices for scaring ducks from grain fields.

Used with considerable success in the U.S. these methods for scaring waterfowl range from straw-stuffed scarecrows to the more expensive spinning whirler, which is used in gasoline stations and roadside stands to attract public attention. Even ordinary white paper bags or balloons are suggested in the pamphlet as a frightening device. Any slight breeze causes them to bounce or swing in a manner highly disturbing to the ducks.

Emphasis is placed on the extreme difficulty of getting ducks out of a field after they have fed there for a few days. Installation of frightening devices should begin immediately upon the start of swathing or stooking operations and they should be moved every two or three days. The pamphlet points out that farmers should keep a close watch at daybreak and dusk, to determine when and if waterfowl are going to feed in a field. A couple of hours effort each day for a few days may mean the difference between harvesting all of the crop or only part of it. For best results dispersal operations, as authorized by a scaring permit, should be carried on together with the erection of the scarecrows.

The pamphlet also stresses the importance of removing scarecrows from fields after harvest, as that additional feeding areas may be made available for the ducks.

SALMON PRICE DOWN

Salmon is down about $3 a case depending on grade, its size, at the West Coast, compared with the season's opening says The Financial Post.

Woodvale News

The sympathy of everyone in these districts goes out to the families who have lost loved ones in the polio epidemic, and we hope that all the stricken ones will soon be on the road to recovery with no serious after-effects. From these parts Margaret Sweeney and her young uncle Lee Lysons are the victims of the dreaded illness. Margaret has gone to Edmonton for further treatment to her leg so she will have the full use of it soon, while Lee is still in the isolation hospital. Luckily little Jimmy Gaston's illness was diagnosed as flu, the first symptoms of these diseases resemble each other very closely so they need constant watchfulness, the necessity for which is by now well understood by everyone.

Death of Jim Hudson

The death of Jimmy Hudson in Edmonton recently will have shocked many of his friends and neighbors in the Thorncliff district where he spent his boyhood years. He was severely burned when his clothes got sprayed with gas by an engine and ignited. He died ten days later on Aug. 6th. John and Keith King attended the funeral services where the latter was one of the pall bearers.

Mrs. C. McGrath Breaks Hip

Mrs. C. McGrath was most unfortunate when she broke her hip in a fall at home on July 22nd, a very serious accident for one of her age. The break has been set successfully and is mending nicely. Mrs. McGrath is a patient in the Islay hospital and hopes to be home and able to get around a bit again by the end of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Portsmith have bought the house of Mr. and Mrs. D. Hind who now live in Kitaway, and will move it to near the Tolland store. It is good to see this couple back in our midst again after their journey east and visits with friends and relatives.

Congratulations to Freddy McGrath and Francie Wolters who were successful in their grade 9 exams.

Congratulations also to Mr. Dick Allison snr. his bride who were married in Vancouver on July 26 and who passed through Vermilion on their way back after a short honeymoon in Winnipeg. They spent a day here to visit with Dick's daughter Mrs. Elmer Isley and family.

Welcome visitors to Woodvale during fair time were Charlie Friedland from Cherry Grove, who brought home delicious Cold Lake trout for a few of his friends here, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Doyle of Winfield, Alberta. Bill is working on the road construction near Mannville and brought his wife down to see her old friends hereabouts. She was our first teacher in Woodvale, our Standard Neighbor), News scribe and still takes a great interest in the activities of her former eighters and pupils. But it will be eating near Winfield.

Several carloads of relations and friends undertook the long journey to Vegreville near Czar on August 1st to attend the wedding dance there of Mr. and Mrs. John Croore (nee Mable Lysons).

Bill McGrath went for a short holiday to Idaho and Bud Heidebrecht is attending the Air Cadet camp at Abbotsford B.C.

Mrs. Edith Pettinger, Bob and Jim of Black Diamond were visitors at the Van Wageningen home during the latter part of July.

A Red Cross meeting and quilting bee was held at the home of Mrs. Mable Webber on Aug 7th with seven members, and Mrs. W. Steele as guests, spending a busy and pleasant afternoon together. The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday Sept. 3 at the home of Mrs. Van Wageningen.

At the present rate of ripening crops, probably will not be ready for harvest by that time and it is hoped the ladies will be able to come to this meeting

Sailrushes on Summerfallow

The continued cold and damp weather is hampering haying and overtime is worked everywhere whenever there is a dry and clear day. We were always considered to be living in the semi-dry area but after three summers of wet weather with this year's maximum rainfall even tall rushes have started to grow on our summer fallow, a rather unexpected crop!

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil King and Joy have returned from their three months' trip to England and enjoyed their holiday very much. Joy stayed a few days at the farm by home before returning to Edmonton.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. STRANGE
Director, Research department, Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

THE PRAIRIES HUGE WHEAT CROP

The first yield estimate of the season was published by the Searle Grain Co. on Aug. 8th from observations made by its many correspondents on the still standing unthreshed crop which is from one to four weeks away from full vest. The wheat yield for the 3 prairie provinces is forecast at 337 million bushels with an average yield per acre of 21.6 bushels. This is the largest production of wheat ever grown on the prairies the next largest was last year 1951 with 538 million bushels.

The yield per acre this year of 21.6 bushels, however is not the highest. This was in 1915 with a yield to the acre of 23.97 bushels. 1942, too, had 23.6 bushels to the acre.

The huge yield of wheat this year then is accounted for to a great extent by the large acreage sown to wheat which is no less than 25 [illegible] acres.

Even this acreage, however is not the largest ever sown on the 3 prairie provinces for in the year 1949 the record of 26,180,000 acres were sown to wheat. 1949, however, was a semi drought year and gave a yield to the acre of only 12.7 bushels. It is to be hoped that this present crop will not suffer damage from frost or other serious conditions so that this yield may be successfully harvested.

A Public Service

THE VICTORIAN ORDER OF NURSES in Canada is observing the fifty-fourth anniversary of its founding this year. In a great many Canadian communities the uniformed figure of the visiting V.O.N. nurse is a symbol of comfort and mercy, and the services of this organization are valued greatly in the many places in which they carry on their work. The Victorian Order of Nurses is a voluntary public health agency, serving in all parts of Canada. When it was formed here, in 1897, it consisted of a staff of 12 nurses serving in four cities. Today, the staff numbers 535 and its nurses are ministering on their work in 110 communities throughout Canada.

* * * * *

Wide Service Is Provided

Originally, the purpose of the V.O.N. was to provide visiting nurses to care for the sick in their own homes, under medical supervision. However, although this service is continued, the V.O.N., also serves in small industrial areas which do not require the services of a full-time industrial nurse in baby clinics, schools and other branches of public health service. The scope of the work has increased with the times and the needs of the people, and the original work of caring for the sick in their homes has grown in importance, as it has been found that the time in hospital can be shortened for many patients when proper nursing care at home is assured through the work of the visiting nurses. Medical authorities believe that many cases of chronic illness are averted through this care and that the V.O.N. is contributing in this way to the raising of health standards here.

* * * * *

Growing Needs Have Been Met

Canada's population has increased in recent years and with it have increased the demands on public health services of all kinds. Fees are charged by the V.O.N., but these are scaled to the patient's ability to pay and help is never refused in cases where no payment can be made. Funds for the work of the V.O.N. are raised in part by well-deserved public support, and it is to be hoped that this support will continue as that the organization may observe future milestones such as the one which is being passed this year, with reports of expanding activities in the very valuable service which it renders throughout Canada.

Shipping Rate On Grain Is Very Low

MONTREAL.—Shipowners say the bottom has fallen out of the grain-shipping business, with the rate the lowest in eight years.

The rate for a ton of Canadian wheat to Europe was $3.75, in contrast to $14 a year ago. To Britain the rate is about $4 a ton; it was also $14 a year ago.

Shipowners blamed the situation on two things surplus of world shipping brought about by a lull in the Far East and improved conditions in Britain and on the continent, attributed to recovery programs.

The slump, shippers said, is not confined to the east grain rates are also on the way down on the West Coast.

They said no up-swing is expected between now and the end of the St. Lawrence navigation season.

Ask Ambulance Plane Service To U.S. Clinics

WASHINGTON.—A hearing was set on an application by the Saskatchewan Department of Public Health to operate ambulance planes to hospitals and clinics in the United States.

Barron Fredericks, examiner for the Civil Aeronautics Board, told a reporter the hearing would be little more than a formality and he will recommend that the application be granted.

No opposition appeared at a pre-hearing conference at which preliminary details were ironed out. Miss Marion MacPherson, third secretary of the Canadian embassy, represented the Canadian health agency.

Fredericks and the health department wishes to operate planes from Canadian points to Rochester, Minn., Chicago, New York and other U.S. medical centres.

Cattle Embargo Will Likely Be On Till Spring

OTTAWA. — Removal of the United States embargo imposed against Canadian meat and cattle because of the foot-and-mouth outbreak cannot be expected until the spring of 1953, according to the best information available to the federal government.

The Canadian government, accordingly decided to continue its appeal to livestock producers to hold cattle off the market.

The situation was under discussion by the cabinet.

Word from Washington is said to have warned Canadian officials to pin no hopes, or make no plans, in anticipation of the embargo being removed this year.

It is possible for the U.S. government to end the embargo 60 days after the Canadian government officially declares Canada free of the disease. But that is a minimum and in the case of the Mexico embargo, the U.S. waited a year.

The director of the U.S. bureau of animal industry in the U.S. must decide if and when a country is free of the disease.

Bureau of animal industry officials will be cautious in declaring the disease eradicated. In California after it was announced the disease had been eradicated in 1929, it flared up again a few months later. The new outbreak was traced to infected meat that had been placed in cold storage.

A similar outbreak occurred in Mexico after Mexican officials were convinced the disease had been eradicated.

OAT CRUNCHIES

Each spoonful of dough spreads on the pan and bakes into a large, crisp, chewy cookie, open and lacy.

1½ cups rolled oats
½ teaspoons Magic Baking Powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon grated nutmeg
⅛ cups, well beaten
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups fine granulated sugar
1½ tablespoons butter or Blue Bonnet Margarine, melted

Make cookie sheets ready.
Preheat oven to 350 deg. F. (moderate).

Measure rolled oats into a bowl and sprinkle with Magic Baking Powder, salt and nutmeg; mix thoroughly.

Combine well-beaten eggs, orange rind and vanilla; gradually beat in sugar and melted butter or margarine.

Add egg mixture to rolled oat mixture and mix thoroughly.

Drop dough by small spoonfuls, well apart, onto prepared cookie sheets and centre each round with a piece of nutmeat.

Bake in preheated oven about 15 minutes.

Remove from pans immediately. Yield: 8 dozen cookies.

If cookie dough is too soft to roll, (which can happen easily in a hot kitchen), wrap it and chill a while, rather than add more flour.

Old Indian Artist One Of The Last Argillite Carvers

VANCOUVER.—Captain Brown, 73-year-old Haida Indian, is one of the last of British Columbia's unique artists, argillite carvers, whose works are known in many of the world's leading museums. Argillite is a slate found on Graham Island, off the Queen Charlotte group. When quarried it is comparatively soft, but hardens quickly when exposed to air. Its surface takes a beautiful polish.

When white men first arrived on the Pacific coast, the Haidas were carving wood, bone and ivory, into almost everything from spoon handles to ornate ceremonial masks.

These products were sold readily to the whites and soon the Haidas were reputed to be the best wood carvers in North America. They acquired steel tools and learned to carve gold, copper and silver, and later, slate.

Some of the oldest and most ornate pieces were collected before 1800, but the finest carving was done from 1830 to 1880.

In that period handsome boxes, carefully joined by wooden dowels and fish glue, plenty of irridescent abalone shell with slate inlays and small totem poles were turned out.

Best known carvings were the totem poles, symbolizing mythical and real ancestors.

No matter what they carved there was always a "flowingness", symmetry and simplicity creating distinct beauty.

The Haidas used dried skin of sharks or dogfish, or just the palm of their hands to add polish to their work.

A figurine created in 1833, now in an eastern United States museum, is said to be the finest example of work by any North American aboriginal. It is called "Bear Mother", based on an Indian legend of a princess captured by bears and forced to marry the king of the bears.

She had a child by him and the figurine depicts with perfect rhythm of line and pattern the bear mother writhing in agony while nursing her ferocious offspring which is half bear and half boy.

The Haida's skill began to wane late in the 1800's and early 1900's when they sacrificed skill and patience for mass production to satisfy the demand for their work.

However, old Captain Brown, peering from near-sighted eyes as he plies his carving tool, still gives loving care and patience to his craft.

Mysterious Disease Puzzles Biologists

WINNIPEG. — Identification of a disease which killed thousands of gulls in the Round Lake district, 60 miles north of Brandon, may not be made for two or three years.

Alex Reeve, biologist with the provincial game and fisheries branch here, said that biologists are satisfied it is not botulism, an ailment common in eastern states during dry periods. As only young gulls were affected, he might indicate an upswing in juvenile mortality.

This nice weather is greatly enjoyed as belated haying is going ahead before the grand rush of harvesting. Cliff Cruthers is the first to cut barley in our corner but next week, weather permitting, will see lots of grain going down.

Mr. Gordon Cameron of Ponoka was an overnight caller at the Wallington home last week. Gordon is employed by Wilson & Wilson contractors who are working at the big oil field near Cold Lake. It was while he was trucking the material in that he stopped over.

Last week Mrs. J. Wilson had the pleasure of a visit from her mother Mrs. Finlay of Manmville and her sister Mrs. Fluker of Ft. Saskatchewan.

Everyone was sorry indeed to hear of the demise of Jimmie Hudson, of Edmonton. Jimmie was born and spent a good bit of his childhood in the Thorncliffe district before his parents moved to the city. All their many friends here extend deepest sympathy to his young wife, sorrowing parents and sister Esther at his early passing.

On Sunday afternoon the Wallington family accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Graham and Laurence Graham took a drive around to show Mr. and Mrs. Graham a view of our country. First stop was the Battle River bridge that has recently been repaired where some pictures were taken; then on to Wainwright and back by highway 41 to Brocksville school and home. Mr and Mrs. Graham celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on Aug. 18th. We hope that they will be spared for many more happy years together with their family and friends.

On Friday Bill and Adam Smith along with Mr. and Mrs. J. Bathe drove by car to Bonnyville to visit with some of Johnny's relatives. They returned Sunday evening. George and Gary Cruthers did the chores while they were away.

Alice Seuffert of Vermilion spent part of her holidays with her cousin Doreen Martin in Wildmere.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Gibson and family visited with Mrs. Gibson's niece Mrs. A. Ruud and husband of the Tangle district.

We are pleased to hear that Mrs. George Martin has landed in Canada on her return from England. She was visiting her daughter and husband in Windsor, Ont., before returning to her home in Vermilion.

Another family visiting in England from the Thorncliffe district has landed safely back home. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil King and daughter Joy. They report having had a wonderful visit but are pleased to be back home again.

We are truly sorry to hear of the illness of Mrs. Lila Waterfield and we all wish her a speedy recovery.

Hope We Eat More Bread

Canadian flour millers facing a situation of declining export trade are hoping that new regulations requiring enriched flour and bread will give them a bigger domestic market in 1953 says The Financial Post.

The new regulations come into force Jan. 1953, except in Newfoundland where enrichment is already permitted and was before Confederation.

"This should give the bakers a big selling point, and so reverse the declining trend in per capita consumption because of the extra nutritional value offered," one official told The Post. This has been the experience in the U.S.

If bread consumption can be increased, this will be a major development for the industry. Per capita consumption of bread today is nearly 20% down on the 1935-39 period — 174.6 lbs vs 205.7 lbs.

NEWS from ISLAY

Our annual W.M.S. tally of the United church, Islay, scheduled for Sept. 4th, will be postponed indefinitely.

The hall is receiving a coat of paint. Charlie Hanna and Norman Mercier wielding the brushes.

Harry Young is adding to his store-dwelling a hand-dug cistern, as he thought and struck a vein of good water. He is using the water for mixing his cement. The water comes out the hose with quite a force so he will now have running water in his home.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Bill Young and family of Dewberry, along with Bessie and Ralph Anderson visited some friends at Irma.

Dave Buchanan is having quite an addition built to his house. He also had a good well dug which will be covered by the new addition.

The new highway in our district has been finished. It seems quite quiet now with no trucks rumbling through town.

Sheila Purves and Faye McLennon returned from their jaunt south to Youngtown, Calgary, Red Deer and the Red Lands. Gertie and Liz (car and trailer) bore up admirably, not a flat, not a spot tee--just rolled right along. Mrs. Purves stayed out with them but had returned home, and then with a sister went to Edmonton, and luckily, as Sheila says, to get a ride home with her and Faye. Also two rides were enjoyed in a plane, one over Calgary and then in Edmonton, taking Mrs. Purves up too. The new Mr. Purves home stood at Pollockville, and in that area the farmers who rent abandoned land pasture 3 cows to a quarter section . . . doesn't sound like much grass there . . .

Frank Cargill was shaken up some on Monday when his truck jumped the road and into Anderson's field, upsetting on its side. It is thought the steering gave way.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs Jimmie Hanna, (nee Verna Buchanan) on the birth of a son, in Islay hospital, Aug. 15th.

Sorry to learn Mrs. McGrath Sr. is in hospital with a broken leg. A niece Mrs. Magnon of Saskatoon called to see her on her way home from Banff.

Natived Sid Kohen taking better a combine; Bill McFadyen with a new smather and Rudy Anderson a combine also Bill Purves and Danny Dacey doesn't seem as if there will be much stook threshing bee.

Mrs. Bill Weir has returned after visiting her sisters in Ontario for the past ten weeks.

Mrs. Peddle and Billie have returned from the east. They visited at Guelph and wheep in Toronto Bill Bodwell and Mrs. Ireland (Rev. Ireland was minister in Islay) visited with her. She also went to New York city to visit relatives and all in all had a very nice trip.

Wins Car At Viking

The ninth winner in the second series of the Viking Car-a-month club was King and his Court' the famous 4-man fastball group who were on tour from College Place Wash., U.S.A. and played a game at Viking. Their number was 984 and the car was a new Pontiac. The next winner and last of the second series will be announced on Friday Aug. 29th.

Tickets for the third car-of-month series by the Viking club are now ready on sale. Proceeds will now be for the building of a Memorial arena at Lyalta. All sets of the cars drawn for will be new Pontiacs with the first draw on Sept 26th. $10 gives you a chance at all ten cars with 3000 being the maximum number of tickets sold.

Dairy Farmers Set Aside $100,000 For Advertising

TORONTO — The first $100,000 mark has been reached in the Dairy Farmers of Canada's 1952 Jump Advertising Set Aside, according to an announcement from the national headquarters of the organization. Returns are now being received at a faster pace and officials are optimistic that, despite the depressed condition of some sections of the industry, this year's total will exceed last year's $500,000. Finalization of the 1951 Set-Aside returns shows that Alberta was the only province to set aside a full 100% of its possible total. It is expected that Alberta will equal last year's record and that other western provinces will show an increase this year. It is anticipated that the set aside from the cheese section of the industry will be down this year due to the number of plants not operating and the depressed state of the cheese industry. However, officials are encouraged by the number of cheese plants which, despite conditions, are making set-aside returns.

"Singing At Sight" New Booklet Available

One of a series of instructional booklets on cultural activities, "Singing at Sight", has been issued by the Cultural Activities Branch of the Dept. of Economic Affairs.

Its purpose is to provide a basic knowledge of music reading and to gain value in practice time for choral groups. The booklet contains information on the meaning of various musical symbols, scales and intervals, rhythm, timing phrasing and accents. It was prepared by A. C. Ballantine, director of the Civic Service Choral Society and choirmaster-organist at St. Stephen's church in Edmonton.

The Alberta Music Board, a group interested in the development of music in the province, has sponsored this booklet as an encouragement to the development of choral singing in Alberta.

REDS FEAR I.O.D.E.

Next to the RCMP, the most dangerous organization in Canada is the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire.

In a lively article in the current issue of Maclean's magazine, McKenzie Porter tells why.

"One day last year, the Labor Progressive Party, Moscow's fifth column in Canada, drew up a list of its enemies in order of importance. At the top of course was the RCMP. But for number two, incredibly enough, was the IODE," he writes.

The article goes on to explain that last year, the 32,000 Daughters, unasked by an outsider, raised just under one million dollars, or about $30 a head, and spent nearly every penny hitting Communism in its breeding grounds of want, ignorance and prejudice."

Husbands, says the Maclean's article, often refer to the IODE as "I Often Don't Eat" and critics sometimes call it, "In and Out of Every Damned Enterprise", nonetheless scores of well known Canadians got their start through IODE bursaries and scholarships and Lord Alexander himself said that the Order's effect on Canadian life was stupendous.

OBITUARY

EDWIN CLARK GILLIES

Masonic funeral services for the late Andrew Clark Gillies, beloved husband of Margaret Gillies, were held in the Knox United church, Islay, on Tuesday, July 8th at 2:30 p.m.

Alberta Division Of The Red Cross Annual Meeting

The election of a Provincial Zone Chairman; a report on a successful campaign; and a word of caution highlighted a meeting of the Provincial Zone committee of the Canadian Red Cross Society at Calgary on Aug. 1st.

Mrs. H. E. Bedingfield of High River was elected Provincial Zone chairman, succeeding Mr. W. A. Austin of Didsbury, the originator of the committee. The new chairman comes to this important position after many years on the executive of the local High River branch and latterly as zone chairman for the High River area.

As a volunteer, the new provincial chairman will be responsible for the co-ordination and activities of approximately 30 zone chairmen serving in various areas all over Alberta. She will also encourage the formation of zones not now served by a chairman.

A report on the 1952 campaign revealed that the provincial objective of $400,000 was exceeded by approximately $20,000. However, officials pointed out that there could be no room for over-rejoicing as the actual anticipated expenditure for 1952 was slightly over $800,000. This is the amount required to operate such services as the Crippled Children's hospital, the Blood Transfusion program and the many other services of the Red Cross.

The situation was summed up when one official said: "The constant threat of the discontinuation of services will always be present unless the sum being spent on the province can be raised in the province."

SWATHING

The dominion government experimental farm service has issued a brief article on swathing grain. It recommends that the height of stubble should be one-third that of the total length of the straw. The swather canvas should move at the same speed as the forward speed of the machine. Swathing should be done no faster than 4 miles per hour.

Young People Feature Opening Day At Vermilion Fair

Young people took feature roles in the opening day of the three-day Vermilion fair. In the top picture the pretty little miss in the glamorous costume is Beverly Ann Strome six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orton A. Strome of Vermilion. She was among the leaders in the Junior saddle class. On the right is James Mooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mooney of Prince Albert, Sask., who is riding Albert West's fine saddle horse 'Winston'. Light horses are a real feature of the Vermilion Fair.

FORT BARLEY
A new barley named FORT has been licensed for Eastern Canada. Prairie farmers are strongly urged not to grow this variety for it has no merit for Western Canada, and only serves to lower the quality of our malting barleys and so impair their sale and reduce their malting premium.

Pretty Wedding At Mannville Church

GREEN—WAY

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the McQueen United church, Mannville, when Miss Kathleen Veronica Way, daughter of Mr and Mrs. W. M. Way, became the bride of Mr. Andrew Morris Green, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Greek all of Mannville.

The Rev. Crighton of Mannville officiated.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was charming in the traditional bridal satin gown trimmed with brussel lace and styled with a full train and lily point sleeves. Frills of lace modified the front of the gown. The bodice was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline surrounded by folds of satin. Her veil fell from a satin halo trimmed with pearls and rhinestones. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a Canadian bouquet of American Beauty roses, gardenias and stephanotis. Little David Victor was the train bearer.

Miss Stella Way, sister of the bride was bridesmaid, who received the Master's Degree at Alberta University in 1950 this week in Illinois to obtain further qualifications, returned to Alberta this summer to make the first tests with the chemical under Western Canadian conditions. The work at Mr. Green's farm was well by the forenoon of extensive experiments with more efficient equipment, the results obtained have been very encouraging.

Using a 45-lb. pressure sprayer 25 lbs. of 65% sodium cyanamid dissolved in 15 gallons of water were applied per acre to grain crops testing approximately 40% moisture. Five to six days later the treated strips of crop was ready for straight combining while the remainder of the grain contained soft kernels. What I like about it," he said Mr. Green, "is that a couple of days after spraying, my grain was safe from sprouting and any seed treatment did not cause any shrink age".

Providing there is no rain for 5 hours after application, the chemi-gown of white satin with white accessories and a white picture hat. Red roses and stephanotis completed her corsage. The groom's mother wore a green crepe dress with white accessories and a white picture hat. Her corsage was of red roses and stephanotis.

The bride's table was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake and silver candelabra and tapers. Pastels were gaily decorated in mauve, yellow and green. Over one hundred guests were entertained at the bride's home.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Charles Finlay.

Leaving for a honeymoon trip the bride wore navy suit with pink accessories. On their return the newlyweds will make their home at Marwille.

Out-of-town guests present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. O. White and Murray of Kimberley, B.C. and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Way and family from Edmonton.

Wildmere W. I. Notes

The July W.I. meeting was held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Garnett with ten members and five visitors present. The visitors were Mrs. R. Clark and daughter Eunice, Mrs. John Elliott all of Tressday, Mrs. (Mrs. Fred and Peggy Graham. Roll call was answered by singing. There was no sick committee report.

Mrs. A. Bolin reported on the conference held in Vermilion, a donation was made to Mr. Dodly from the W.I. Mrs. W. J. Garnett gave a talk on Farm Women's Week at the U.S.A. Mrs. J. Wilson gave a reading entitled "Mother Mildew in Scraps on the Farm". Mrs. Bolin obtained some papers re parcels for overseas from the Treasury branch.

Mrs. Garnett, our president, then spoke briefly and stated her pleasure on having so many visitors present.

Johnny Jump Up was won by Mrs. G. Garnett. The meeting closed by singing "God Save the Queen."

Pictures of the group were taken following which Mrs. Garnett served a tasty lunch. Owing to so much sickness the August meeting was cancelled. Watch the Winks for the date of the September meeting if it is decided to hold one.

Presiding at the coffee urns were Mrs. S. Buckingham, Mrs. A. Gillies, Mrs. J. Magee and Mrs. Joe Jory.

Miss Eleanor Cleveland was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Kenneth Sproule attended the display of wedding gifts.

Rev. C. W. MacKay proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom suitably replied. Two telegrams of best wishes were also read from former classmates of the bride. The bride is a 1949 graduate of Lamont hospital.

Leaving by car for a honeymoon trip to Banff and Jasper the bride donned a powder blue English wool suit with navy and pink accessories and completed a topcoat to match. She also wore a pink rose corsage. The young couple will make their home in Calgary upon their return.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Lois, Miss Evelyn Charles, Mr. and Mrs. S. Buckingham, Mrs. S. Magee Mr. and Mrs. E. Hills, Mr Keith Black, Mr and Mrs. G. Spray To Hasten Maturity of Grain

Interesting Tests on Farm Of L. F. Green, Dewberry

Last fall, L. F. Green of Dewberry, visited Lavergne, Saskatchewan to enquire about grain drying, a problem to which many western farmers are giving considerable thought as they harvested tough grain. While there Mr. Green became interested in top-killing the hastening of maturity by spraying with sodium cyanamid.

The outcome of this visit has been that Dr. G. Cooper, Crop Production Specialist, who received his Master's Degree at Alberta University in 1950 was sent to Illinois to obtain further qualifications, returned to Alberta this summer to make the first tests with the chemical under Western Canadian conditions. The work at Mr. Green's farm was well by the forenoon of extensive experiments with more efficient equipment, the results obtained have been very encouraging.

Using a 45-lb. pressure sprayer 25 lbs. of 65% sodium cyanamid dissolved in 15 gallons of water were applied per acre to grain crops testing approximately 40% moisture. Five to six days later the treated strips of crop was ready for straight combining while the remainder of the grain contained soft kernels. "What I like about it," he said Mr. Green, "is that a couple of days after spraying, my grain was safe from sprouting and any seed treatment did not cause any shrink age".

Providing there is no rain for 5 hours after application, the chemical is 'set' and the action of drawing the moisture out of the grain commences. The feeding value of the straw is in no way impaired by the chemical. In some instances an increase in nitrogen has been evident. At present the cost of spraying per acre is $2.50, if large quantities of the chemical were being used this figure would be reduced and with more efficient machines the water required would be considerably less; making it practical and economical to swathing by spraying with sodium cyanamid, and eliminate the need for grain dryers.

Discussing the use of the chemical in the U.S. Dr. Cooper stated that it had been used not only on grain crops but on cotton, peas, beans and corn to good effect. The 45-litre sprayer, a self-propelled unit, mounted on narrow wheels and fitted with 'dividers' to protect standing crops is widely used, this machine has low and high pressure pumps and will spray any chemical at up to 80 pounds pressure.

Mrs. Hilda Cross Resigns From Council

BY-ELECTION SEPT. 22nd

A by-election may be necessary to fill a vacancy on the town council caused by the resignation of Mrs. Hilda Cross. Mrs. Cross, the first lady to be a member of the town council, was elected last February. She has said that she will party in Vermilion and will shortly return to the farm.

During her short time as councillor, Mrs. Cross has proved her worth on several occasions, and on her serious outbreak of polio in this area a month ago her knowledge as a nurse was invaluable, and she took a leading part in organizing, and equipping the emergency isolation hospital set up at the college.

Nominations for the office will be received on Saturday Sept. 8th at the Legion hall from 11:00 a.m. to 12:00 o'clock noon by returning officer Hiram H. Hedges. The election if necessary, will be on Monday Sept. 22nd.

The motel is ideally located on the south side of town just off high way 16 and across from the agricultural park. Each one of the 10 units will be of modern design, serviced by water, sewer and electric.

When the motel commences to operate a staff of nine will be under the personal supervision of Mr McCormick.

SLY FOX LIVES UP TO NAME

RAPPLES STANDARD REPORTER

A fox, and we mean of the fox legged variety, made a mysterious appearance in the west end of town on Saturday and put on a real crowd pleasing show. Where it came from and to what parts it went to are still unknown. These are the facts. The Standard reporter received a call early Saturday morning to the effect that at that very moment a ball game was in progress on the Vermilion ball diamond and that the fox had entered into this game. Sure enough on many of the baseball diamonds in this area it is a fox full count and with a very beautiful tail. The business men refrain from playing baseball during business hours and cause quite a fuss in their establishment when they are asked to obtain permission to be away and. A short distance from its nest. Wherever it went it caused quite a stir and was most captured if the wily animal just staying out of reach. Next word of the fox was in the vicinity of the Legion ball diamond where it caused quite their appearance. Lured to the ball park by the promise of a ball game to them with the fox was at it usual tricks. Some one secured a ball on the chase. They put it to the test and away they went.

No New Polio Cases in District

ISOLATION HOSPITAL IS EMPTY — PEOPLE URGED CONTINUE PRECAUTIONS

The polio epidemic in this area seems to be definitely on the wane as no new cases have been reported in town or immediate district since Aug. 14th. One additional case is reported from the country 25 miles south with the patient being treated at home.

The emergency isolation hospital set up here to serve the municipalities of Minburn and Vermilion River has been empty since Saturday. August 23rd when the last patient left for further treatment at Edmonton. The hospital is being maintained in readiness should new cases occur.

People are urged to continue to take all precautions until Sept 15 at least, when schools will open. If they do, it is unlikely that any new cases will develop

Black Dirt For Prepared Boulevards

TOWN CITIZENS JOIN IN WAR ON WEEDS

Following the article in the Standard last week many citizens of the town really went to war on the weeds. The results have been particularly noticeable along the residential property lines where boulevards appear in such weed free condition that the town is supplying black dirt to level up the bush yards so that all will be in readiness for sowing to grass next spring. When you have the section of the street in front of your property clean and sown call the town office for a big truck load of good black dirt. Don't be too long though, as the supply of dirt is limited and as stated before many citizens are going to work with a will Clean, weed free, tidy premises are an uplifting effect and create a very favourable impression on the visitor to town and every motorist. A property surrounded by weeds loses value too. Join the campaign for safe and sane living, your own pride, cut down every weed in sight of your home or business places and do your bit for the appearance of the town, it has done a lot for you by providing you with an opportunity to make a good living What have you done in return"

Veterinarians Meet In Vermilion

Plan Action Against Brucellosis

Local veterinarians met recently in Vermilion to discuss with representatives of the Agricultural Services Board the vaccination program for 1953 in the Vermilion River district.

The district was designated a Brucellosis Restricted Area in January 1951 at the request of the majority of cattle owners. The Brucellosis Regulations state that a herd is considered infected when one animal in the herd reacts to the blood test for Brucellosis. Under the vaccination program in each district all animals, calves, heifers and cows, are vaccinated against the disease.

Dr. G. Lawrence, chairman of the A.S.B. stated that the program last year had not been satisfactory. This was largely due to an unfortunate widespread outbreak of pneumonia-septicaemia (Shipping Fever) which prevented the veterinarians from completing their vaccination program.

After lengthy discussion it was agreed that a man well known in the district should be engaged to carry out the vaccinating program in each district and accompany the veterinarian, assisting, him in his work. R. H. Buckingham, D.A., suggested that farmers having calves for vaccination should construct a simple corral if other suitable enclosures are not available in this way much time and effort could be spared.

Dr. A. R. Anderson of Vermilion will be doing the vaccinating in the west half of the M.D. while Dr. Lloyd and Dr. G. Watt of Lloydminster cover the eastern half. They plan to commence vaccinating early in October and to complete the work in 5 or 6 weeks. Including approximately 6000 heifer calves against Brucellosis.

School Bells Again

The average schoolboy may not feel too jubilant about going back to the classroom next month, but to many Canadian businessmen, the ringing of the bell is a note of music, second only to December's jingle bells, comments The Financial Post.

With over 3 million young Canadians scheduled to join the school-desk parade—that's around a million more than in the last war year —back-to-school business is expected to reach new highs.

Some estimates put the back-to-school business pie to be carved up at $1(0) millions. An estimated $75 millions would go on outfitting the youngsters across the country, the rest on their tools.

The average annual cost per pupil of texts and supplies is about $7 for elementary grades, $19 for gr. 9, $21 for gr. 11 and $26 in gr. 12.

The estimated cost of outfitting a boy with a sport coat, slacks, tie, shirt, shoes, socks and underwear goes up with age as follows: 8-10 years $37, 11-16 years $44, 17-20 years $73.

Perfect Weather Aids Harvest

CUTTING IN FULL SWING

Perfect weather of the past week has greatly aided harvest and cutting of grain is now in full swing everywhere with the binder and swather. Only two very light showers fell, .01 on Sunday night and .03 early Monday morning.

The district continues frost free with the low point being 34 on Wednesday morning. Last Friday was the hot spot of the week with 90.

B. C. Election Called Political Phenomenon

The story behind the Social Credit party's capture of the British Columbia's legislature is told by B.C. writer Mac Reynolds in the current issue of Maclean's magazine. Reynolds calls the election, held in late spring, "a political phenomenon unequalled in Canadian history."

Much of the credit, he says, goes to "a short middle aged man with a loud tie, a mouth creased down at the corners and a permanent five o'clock shadow — the Rev. Ernest George Hansell, national president of the Social Credit Association of Canada.

Old line parties, says the Maclean's article, dismissed Hansell as "a little thumper from the prairies, a funny-money man, a fanatic, a flaming evangelist, an anti-Semitic and a Fascist."

But despite the fact that the party went to the polls without a leader it "wound out the CCF and administered the worst drubbing in provincial history to the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives".

"Hansell, saved up the B.C. historians will say, a twisted mind of religion and red-hot electioneering," says Reynolds. He often hitch-hiked from one speaking engagement to the next. But he sold his listeners many of them dissatisfied with the current government — on Social Credit.

Reynolds sees a determined drive for Social Credit leadership in the federal field. The victory in B.C. is to Hansell "a missionary work . . . a skirmish. "Sooner or later" writes Reynolds "there will be another political vacuum to fill."

Heinsberg Man Dies At Lake Whitney

BODIES COME TO THE SURFACE AFTER DROWNING

William Crook, aged 74 years, of Heinsberg, died Saturday last in the waters of Lake Whitney when he suffered a heart seizure while swimming. The elderly man was in a boat with his two adult sons, when about 100 yards from shore he jumped from the boat to swim in. He swam about 50 yards and then seemed to weaken. One of the sons plunged in and helped his ailing father to the boat. He was taken from the water and artificial respiration applied with no results. Dr. Anne Welgerinck who examined him said that death was due to a heart condition.

For many years, until reaching the age of retirement, William Crook was the ferryman on the Heinsberg ferry.

Country Club Meets At Chatsworth

Harvesting is well under way in this district and to date there appears to be no damage from frost, though fall is in the air as trees are turning color, especially maples. A good deal of grain is in the swath and the use of the combines will be more general in the district this fall.

June and George Honey returned to Edmonton on Sunday the 17th, after spending a two weeks holiday with June's mother, Mr. and Mrs. George Honey, Sr., and the Lady Honey event back by bus on Monday evening, Aug. 25th.

Mr. I. Brotherson who formerly lived in the King Edward district renewed acquaintances in and around the Chatsworth district last week. He now resides in Vancouver.

The August meeting of the Chatsworth Country Club was held at the home of the writer on Thursday 21st, with the newly-elected president Mrs. V. Patterson in the chair, and nine members present. Visitors were Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Angus Anderson, the latter becoming a member at this meeting. The tickets for the raffle of a wool blanket were distributed for sale at 3 for 50c or 10 cents apiece. Discussion as to a date and plans for a supper took place and Mrs. Jim Panter and Mrs. Arthur Towell were delegated to supply particulars for the next meeting, which is to be held at Mrs. Jim Panter's on Sept. 18th. A letter from a young girl in India, received by Mrs. R. Good with a sample of crochet work enclosed. It was decided to have Mrs. Good contact her as to prices for the handiwork. The nickel draw was won by Mrs. Arthur Towell and the Social contest by Mrs. E. Thompson. The Sick comittee reported two members in hospital these being Mrs. Morton Tovell and Mrs. Matt Farkash. At the close of the meeting lunch was served, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Jim Panter and Mrs. Cyril Davis.

Soon our summer church services will be at an end, the next one to be held this Sunday, 31st.

The funeral of the late Jane Turner Watts, was held from St. Saviour's church, Vermilion, on Sunday Aug. 24th, at 2:30 p.m. with the Rev. Cathcart of Clandonald officiating.

Many friends of the family paid their respects, uniting in a service of praise for a life well spent. Mr. Cathcart used the theme of 'Love for all to test, combining with this the passage from the 23rd Psalm, 'Surely Goodness and Mercy shall follow me all the days of my life', and his message was an inspiration to all present. A nice crowd attended church on Sunday evening. Our services are drawing to a close for another year with only three more Sundays left. Rev. Dew has had a successful season despite many handicaps of sickness and rain. We all wish him every success in his field for the next two years at St. John's United church in Vancouver.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Sam Graham and the wife, and husband enjoyed a turkey dinner and a nice visit with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McGinnis and family of Vermilion. Mrs. McGinnis is a niece of Mrs. Graham.

If any of you folks need a helping hand at haying call on Mr. Dave. He very kindly helped Jim Walker, on with his haying which was greatly appreciated.

The writer got a surprise on Monday but it was a pleasant one — when a car drove in and out stepped Howard Graham and his wife from Seattle, Wash. Howard was born on our farm and lived here until he was 7 years old when the family moved to B.C. They have also visited at Dawson Creek where a sister and brother and families live. They could only stop a short time as they had to be in Missoula, Montana the next day.

The Wallington family and Mr. and Mrs. Graham had a pleasant visit one evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hicks and family, and one at the Fadden home last week.

Mr. George Haines of Wildmere, Mr. Webb of Big River, Sask., Mr. Currie and Mr. O'Rourke were Monday evening visitors at the Wallington home. Mr. Webb is a cousin of Mrs. Fred Haines.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Westman and baby visited Sunday at Mrs. Westman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bettle, Basswood. They also all called at the Cruthers' home.

In a recent letter from home now in Ontario Mr. and Mrs. Graham heard that it's been very wet since they left and a blight has struck the potato crop which causes the potatoes to rot. Potatoes were very scarce last year there from the same thing. They cost around $8 a bag last spring. Mr. and Mrs. Graham plan to return home next week. We surely have enjoyed their pleasant visit and hope some day they will come west again.

HAVE A CUP OF TEA

Tea comes from an evergreen plant which grows in tropical and semi-tropical countries — from sea level, in an elevation of 6000 feet. A hot, moist climate with plenty of sun and rain is essential. The gardens in the tropical or sub-tropical plains yield the biggest harvest but the finer varieties of tea are produced from the mountainous regions in the hill..

Although the tea bush grows to a height of 40 to 50 feet, under cultivation it is kept pruned to a height of 3 feet or less as the bush will produce an abundance of leaves and make plucking easier. In China where the climate is always hot and moist, tea is plucked throughout the year but in some areas like Northeast India plucking is seasonal. The quality of tea we drink in Canada depends on the style and skill of tea plucking. Most of the plucking is done by busy women workers whose nimble fingers select the top two leaves and a bud. When the day's work is done, the baskets of leaf are examined for stalks and other foreign matter, the leaf is weighed and then transported to the factory for processing.

There are three types of tea — black, green and oolong—but, of course, black tea is by far the most popular in Canada. In the manufacture of black tea, the leaf first is withered. That is, the moisture is evaporated, leaving it soft and pliable. Then the leaf is rolled in huge rolling machines which break up the cells and liberate the juices and oxygenes. The next step is the fermentation process during which chemical changes take place. The leaf changes color and gives off the characteristic odor of black tea. To prevent further fermentation, the leaf is fired (dried) and then, finally, graded according to leaf size. In the manufacture of green tea, the leaf is not allowed to ferment, while with oolong the leaf is semi-fermented. All three, of course, come from the same bush.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY —

WANT-AD WIFE

By GEORGE ENRICH

Mom Won in a Good Spot To Get Her Man.

NORA reached over the counter and seized the sheet of paper from his tanned, muscular hands.

"Is this the way you want your ad to read?" she asked, smiling up into his embarrassed face.

He nodded, swallowing hard.

Nora read it aloud: "Veteran, 27 wishes to meet respectable girl about same age with intention to marry and settle down. Have summer resort, no debts, lots of ambition. Please write, enclosing snapshot."

Nora bent over the paper, making the twinkle in her eyes. "And you want this to run in the Sunday newspapers?"

"Yes, ma'am, and please leave all the letters in the name of Jim Whitman. I'm going out of town now, but I'll be in to collect them Tuesday."

"All right," Nora said, slowly. He paid her hurriedly and pushed his way out through the glass doors. Nora stood for a long minute, lost in thought, watching his figure as it disappeared down the street. Nora was thirty-five, an age when a girl appraises strange men with quick, surprising eyes. When she was not good. Some girl, she mused, is going to be awfully happy in that summer resort. It could really be—

Suddenly she became very busy. The monotony of hot, time-worn duties overpowered the smile hovered about her lips the rest of the day.

Monday afternoon found her positively gay. Tuesday morning found her still happy, but strained. It was nearly closing time that day when she stood again in front of the glass doors, certainly torn with indecision. Finally he shouldered his way through and approached her.

Methods Of Harvesting Sweet Clover Are Very Important

WINNIPEG. — Sweet clover has become an important seed crop on the prairies in recent years, chiefly because of great importance since poor handling results in an unacceptably high loss of seed. Sweet clover should be cut with either the binder or mower when about 10 per cent of the seed has matured.

If the seed crop is left standing beyond this stage, some of the early seed will begin to drop, generally resulting in a greater loss. The main principle behind methods of harvesting is that the material be handled as gently as possible, says J. E. R. Greenshields, Forage Crops Laboratory, Saskatoon, Sask.

Standard swathers may be used to cut the sweet clover. The farmer must first consider what size of swather his machine will be able to handle. However, unless the crop is very heavy it is possible to handle a 16 foot swath with a 12 foot combine. When the swath has had time to dry thoroughly, it is then picked up. The swath is often so fluffy that it does not feed into the combine very well. The difficulty may be overcome by having a man sit on the front of the combine with a long pole or hockey stick. Some farmers have surmounted this problem by mounting a small auxiliary reel directly in front of the conveyor from the auger platform to the first feed. If possible considerable seed can be saved by swathing and picking up in damp weather.

When swathers and pick-ups are not available the sweet clover can be harvested satisfactorily with a grain binder. The sheaves should be set in long narrow stooks. Some shattering of the seed normally takes place during harvesting. A shallow pan or box, attached to the frame of the binder under the opening between the table and elevator canvas will catch the seed that falls on the table canvas.

When threshing with an ordinary grain separator, best results are generally obtained when only one row of concaves or teeth is used and when the concaves are set well away from the cylinder. If most of the pods are left on the seed the cleaning of the seed is simplified.

The weight containing of sweet clover for seed has not improved satisfactorily if test weight of the seed has dropped by the time the stems are dry enough to combine.

In swathing or harvest at the proper stage and handle the material as little and gently as possible.

Grasshopper Threat Is Showing Decline

BRANDON.—Only two small areas in Manitoba's Red River valley are likely to hatch any quantity of grasshoppers next spring and these should have no significant effect on next year's grain crops, the insect laboratory at Brandon reported.

A grasshopper egg survey just completed showed hoppers have been killed on the prairies for the past three years.

Two small areas at Oak Bluff and St. Elizabeth showed infestation that might become of economic importance next year, the survey showed.

Rust Becomes Major Menace To Sunflowers

WINNIPEG. — Rust, always a problem for grain-growing areas, become a major menace to the sunflower growers who once had come to Manitoba's most promising industries.

In the rich farmlands of the Altona district 55 miles south of here many sunflowers rot in the fields, abandoned by growers. A $1,000,000 plant at Altona works far below its capacity.

Here the plant processed sunflower seeds into cattle feed, shortening, salad oils. The hulls were commercially ground into fireplace logs. Ready market for sunflower products brought new prosperity to the district, and land values almost doubled since the industry started a few years ago.

Now a decline has set in, with rust mainly responsible, although other factors have been cool growing seasons and insect pests.

Manitoba had 26,000 acres under sunflowers last year, but this year's planting was estimated at only 5,000.

Efforts have been made to substitute other oil-bearing crops, such as rape seed from Argentina, soybeans and safflower, a relative of the thistle. Experiments with these and other crops may prove successful but the best solution lies in creation of a rust-resistant sunflower. Research and plant-breeding to this end might require years, and meantime the sunflower industry suffers.

Longest plant known is the giant seaweed growing on the coast of California. The seaweed often reaches 900 feet in length.

Prairie Plant Breeders Have Extended Range Of Ornamental Shrubs And Produced New Types

The range of choice in ornamental shrubs is being greatly extended by plant breeders. Horticulturists at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, have made many contributions in distinctive new hardy shrubs. In recent years efforts on the prairies have also been considerable and fruitful.

Apart from Experimental Stations such as those at Indian Head, Sutherland and Morden, private citizens such as Dr. F. L. Skinner, Percy H. Wright, Georges Bugnet, R. Simmonet and R. M. Muckle, have been to the fore in shrub breeding.

In reporting on the work done at the Morden, Manitoba, Experimental Station, Superintendent W. R. Leslie mentions some of the notable named introductions. The Almey crabapple of the Rosybloom class is a hybrid of winning popularity. The variegated tree-bears bright red flowers annually. The small scarlet fruits are retained on the branches all winter unless eaten by winter birds.

The Prairie Almond, from a small Oriental almond mother and by double flowing plum pollen is commencing to be rated as more valuable than the pollen parent. The fine-textured bush with small narrow leaves is abundantly floriferous. The double pink flowers with red centres are succeeded by interesting red nuts The fruits add interest to the subject.

In hybrid bush roses, Prairie Wren and Prairie Youth are distinctive. Prairie Youth is a grow thy shrub which bears many rich salmon pink, double, fragrant flowers in June and July and a few thereafter into September.

In the late hybrid lilacs, Coral with pink, Royalty with purple, Redwing with cerise-red, and Pre-dom with a great abundance of pale, pinky-lilac flowers appear to be valuable additions to prairie shrubberies.

Tidy caragana with narrow fermy foliage appears in Southern Manitoba as more healthy than Lorberg caragana to which it carries resemblance although it arises from a different species.

Prairie plant breeders, says Mr. Leslie, are busy on many kinds of shrubs and vines. They are counted upon for a wide array of further new kinds of distinction during the next decade.

FOR FUTURE ANGLING

PRINCE ALBERT. — The Saskatchewan fisheries branch recently completed stocking of 9,000 eastern brook trout yearlings in seven areas of the province. No fish were released in suitable streams in the Maple Creek, Arborfield, Hipawan, Hudson Bay, Big River, Lac la Ronge and Norquay areas. They are expected to reach angling size in 1954.

CHICELAND, Sask.— Fire of unknown origin destroyed the elevator of Federal Grain Co. and two annexes along with 8,000 bushels of grain in this village 75 miles northeast of Prince Albert. There was no damage estimate.

Big Seed Program

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Alta.—Plans for the biggest reed program in the district's history have been made by the county council. More than $150,000 has been earmarked for construction of more than 100 miles of road and surfacing of another 55 miles.

Boys' Band Goes East

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask. — The Swift Current Boys' Band, which salvaged some of its lost instruments from ash cans, and through constant effort has gained international fame, has left for eastern Canada, where the young musicians will give numerous concerts, and compete for national honors at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Seen in Manitoba

WINNIPEG.—Evidence that some of the world's vanishing whooping cranes may nest in northern Manitoba has been reported by Ducks Unlimited. Officials of the group said some of the distinctive, big white birds with black wing tips—whose world total is believed less than 35—have been seen about 130 miles northwest of here in the Lonely Lake-Turtle River area.

Additional Grant

FLIN FLON, Man. — Additional grants of $47,000 to the town of Flin Flon by the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company have been announced by Mayor Cyril Steventon. The grant will be used to make final payments for water and sewer extensions in subdivisions. Cost of the project was $1,450,000.

"True happiness springs from Moderation."

THE HOUSE OF SEAGRAM

MEN WHO THINK OF TOMORROW PRACTISE MODERATION TODAY

ALLANDALE

Weather has been ideal for harvesting, the warm days ripening the grain nicely. A number of farmers have started cutting and those with combines will start later.

On Aug. 12th lightning struck in Ralph Sirome's hay field east of the Clandonald road. A spot was burned on the hay stacker where the men had been working. Ralph and Eddie Throndson were close to the stacker and one of Ralph's feet was affected, otherwise they were not hurt.

On Aug. 14th a trip north to Elk Point and Spring Park visiting relatives and picking blueberries, was enjoyed. Rumors are, that some people at Elk Point saw a cougar drifting down the river on drift wood. Police and the game guardian were notified. They waited at Lindbergh but seemingly the animal landed before getting that far.

The week of the 17th Dorothy Wilson spent most of the week at her Ominess grandparents while her brother Raymond was recuperating from polio. Raymond is getting on wonderfully well

Gordon Mayhew joined his family on Aug. 13th at the O'Fee home. They all returned home to Banff the following Sunday. Auntie O'Fee remained home with the family.

Joe McKone accompanied Gordon for a couple days to the O'Fee's. Joe came over the ocean with the O'Fees around 20 years ago and started working near Sirome where O'Fees spent two years before coming here. They hadn't seen him since.

Bruce Ominess of the R.C.A.F. left Wainwright the morning of Aug. 19th for Trenton, Ont.

We are glad to welcome back Mrs. Wm Crom to the farm. They have had their farm home modernized and now have all conveniences of a city home.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lee and girls are back on their farm home.

Helen Nelson has been working in the telephone office through the holidays. Miss Olivier Nelson and the rest of the family have been on the farm for holidays and have spent some time at Fergus on Flats visiting with her family and friends hereabouts.

Mr and Mrs Lloyd Darling have moved to Fergusen Flats. Being old time residents here they will be greatly missed in the district. They have moved to Mrs. Darling's old home there.

Mr and Mrs. Wm. Mayers motored to Elk Point last Saturday to visit the latter's sister Mrs. Swanson. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swanson and family from Red Deer and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Robertson and family of Beaufort were also visiting their mother Mrs. Swanson.

Johnny Nelson, Ralph Sirome, Eddie and Alvin Throndson motored to Moose Lake last Sunday. Fishing and blueberry picking.

Mrs. Nora Ronaghan and Mrs. Allen Ronaghan and daughter were visitors in the district last Sunday.

Another visit from the jet airplane — think have it secured to circle over Campbell Lake and go west. It certainly travels at a terrific speed.

Closing Thought: Be happy with what you have and are, be generous with both, and you won't have to hunt for happiness.

Sun Life Has $5 Billions Of Insurance in Force

ISSUED BY COMPANY

INTERESTING STATEMENT

MONTREAL — Canada's leading life company, the Sun Life of Canada, has now more than five billion dollars of insurance in force, according to an announcement just released by Geo. W. Bourke, President. An interesting note on the remarkable progress of this 84 year-old company is that more than 34 years were required to reach the first billion of insurance in force, whereas the last billion was achieved in less than 4 years. Since the first policy was issued by the Sun Life in 1871, policyholders have received from the Company more than $2½ billion in benefits.

The insurance in force of five billion dollars provides security and protection to Sun Life policyholders who own nearly two million policies, the amount including Group life insurance which now stands at more than $1,390,000,000 — an increase during the first six months of the current year of more than $125 million, or 19% Annuities to individuals or through Group Pension plans are not included in any of the above figures

Mr. Bourke, in commenting on the ever-rising tempo in the company's life insurance sales, points out that Canada leads the world in insurance in force expressed as a percentage of national income with 110% in Canada, while the United States is in second place with 98%. More and more individual citizens are practising thrift, said Mr. Bourke, and seeking security through life insurance They are becoming increasingly aware of the desirability and the wisdom of exercising self-help in providing family protection and independence through the many savings plans offered by life insurance companies today. Canning Celery . . .

Canning celery is something new to be found in most canning books. Miss Lewis, Department of Agriculture, Nutrition, advises that it would probably be best processed the same length of time as asparagus or carrots, in a pressure cooker that is, 20 minutes, for pints, 25 minutes for quarts at 10 lbs. pressure.

Feeling Sorry?

Do you feel sorry for yourself because of all the work you have to do? Here's a poem to cheer you on. I remember first reading it in Mom's poem scrapbook: and it was just reprinted lately in a magazine.

A Perfect Day

"Grandmother, on a winter's day, milked the cows and fed them hay, slopped the hogs, saddled the mule, and got the children off to school; did a washing, mopped the floor, washed the windows and did other chores; cooked a dish of home-dried fruit, pressed her husband's Sunday suit, swept the parlor, made the beds, baked a dozen loaves of bread, split some firewood and lugged it enough to fill the kitchen box, cleaned the lamps and put in oil, stewed some apples she thought would spoil; churned the butter, baked a cake, then exclaimed, 'For heaven's sake, the calves have got out of the pen' — went out and chased them in again, gathered the eggs and locked the stable, back to the house and set the table, cooked a supper that was delicious, and afterwards washed up all the dishes; fed the cat and sprinkled the clothes, mended a basketful of hose; then opened the organ and began to play, 'When I Get Come to the End of a Perfect Day.'

Highway Accidents Climb

Pages of newspapers are peppered more than usually this season with stories of pile-ups of cars and trucks on highways. The most spectacular such multiple accident happened south of Toronto a few weeks ago, on the Queen Elizabeth Way. In a heavy flow of traffic, a fatality motorist stopped suddenly. The car following on his bumper, plowed into him, and so on down the line. By the time police had unscrambled the mess and started traffic moving normally again, a total of approximately $50,000 damage had been caused to scores of vehicles.

This same mishap on a smaller scale occurs every day on Alberta highways. All too often these collisions result in a fatality or serious injury

Such accidents are attributable directly to human carelessness, the most fruitful cause of all accidents. They could be eliminated were a few simple and fundamental common-sense rules to be followed by every driver. The first never stop suddenly on a highway, and if possible never stop at all on the pavement but pull off to the side before doing so. Because of the narrowness of the shoulders along our paved roads and their lack of gravel it is not always convenient to drive off the pavement before halting. The prevalence of this type of highway mishap suggests that the department of highways could well give more thought to widening the shoulders and gravelling them

Another wise precaution is for every driver to assume that the one ahead may stop suddenly. Tests have established that a car proceeding at 30 miles an hour travels 198 feet on dry pavement after the brakes have been applied before coming to a stop. At this high speed, the vehicle goes 55 feet before a vigilant driver senses the danger and applies the brakes. So, in all, it travels 243 feet from the time the danger is sensed by a wide-awake driver until it has been halted. This distance is reduced considerably at 20 miles per hour, but even then it is 52 feet. Some books on driving hints suggest that there should be at least a car length for every 10 miles of speed between vehicles. While that is a safer procedure than virtually touching the bumpers of the car ahead, even this distance should be stretched somewhat for complete safety.

Something to remember is that the stability range is sharply reduced at night. The limit with the best of lights is about 150 feet Since it takes 243 feet to stop a car at 50 miles an hour after danger has been realized there always is the possibility that at this speed a car cannot be halted at night in time to avoid crashing into a slow moving or stationary object ahead, particularly if the lane for approaching traffic is filled. Hence a wise motorist drives at a slower speed after dark

The Coronation

LARGE NUMBERS OF CANADIANS are planning to visit Britain next year, and to attend the coronation of Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II. This historic event, which is already attracting widespread interest, is the thirty-eighth coronation to take place in England since the Norman conquest, and it is the fifth one to be held in the month of June. The British Ministry of Information has recently published some interesting facts concerning the coming coronation and the pomp and tradition which surrounds it.

* * * * *

Usually Held On A Sunday

Until the eighteenth century, we are told the coronation usually took place on a Sunday or some other solemn feast day, but for the past two hundred years the custom has been disregarded. Queen Elizabeth I was crowned on a Sunday but the coronation day of Elizabeth II will fall on a Tuesday. The crown, which is the central symbol in the ceremony, is the coronation crown, or the crown of St. Edward. This crown has been worn by every sovereign since the time of King Charles, except at the coronation of Queen Victoria. On that occasion, the Lord High Steward carried the Coronation Crown throughout the ceremony, and the Queen wore the lighter Imperial crown, said to be the most beautiful and valuable crown in the world. It has not been decided yet whether Queen Elizabeth shall follow the precedent set by Queen Victoria in this regard or whether she will choose to have the Coronation Crown used in the ceremony.

* * * * *

Event Of Color And Pageantry

These and many other historic symbols will play a part in the proceedings which will mark the coronation of Elizabeth II, the first Queen to be crowned since Victoria became Queen on June 20th 1838. As Princess Elizabeth the Queen was a familiar and beloved figure to the people of Great Britain, the Commonwealth and Empire, and the formal beginning of her reign will be a happy occasion. Great Britain has suffered war and serious reverses in the national economy in the last two decades, but the coronation will be a colorful and joyous occasion and it is to be hoped that the reign of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II will bring peace and prosperity to her people.

NOT EXACTLY FRIENDLY— Somebody save me" seems to be the distressed expression of 14-months-old John Hawker, of Farmington, Minn., as a rabbit nuzzles his neck. The bunny was one of several entered in the Dakota county fair by John's father, but the youngster apparently hasn't become used to the animals and became very vocal in his protest.

Supersonic Waves May Speed Germination Of Barley Seeds

EDMONTON. — Barley seeds and supersonic waves seem a queer combination, but the alliance could be a potent one if the experiments of George Obelenski prove successful. Already, tests being carried out by Obelenski in a laboratory of the University of Alberta's plant science department have proven that supersonic waves can be made to speed germination and growth of plants.

The "guinea pigs" for most of the experiments so far have been barley seeds but there's no reason, says Obelenski, why the treatment could not be applied to almost any plant.

The linking of supersonic vibrations and plants is an entirely new field and the Russian-born scientist says the surface has hardly been scratched yet although an encouraging start has been made.

In his experiments, he is using an ultrasonic generator, imported from Germany and used widely in a type of medical "deep massage" treatment for humans.

It sets up sound vibrations at the rate of 800,000 a second. This speed can best be imagined when one considers that the human ear can hear vibrations up to only about 18,000 a second.

Obelenski's method so far in treating seeds has been to soak them for periods up to 48 hours, thus starting the germination process, and then applying the vibrator to a vessel of water in which the seeds lie.

The effect is seen in small plots of barley growing in a greenhouse. The plants growing from treated seed are an average of six inches higher than those not treated and already are headed out.

"It is difficult to explain simply the biological effect of the treatment, but it best can be explained by saying that the seed is 'shocked' into faster development," says Obelenski.

Dr. L. P. V. Johnson, professor of agronics and plant breeding, under whose supervision the experiments are being carried out, says:

"There's some indication, too, that mutations or hereditary changes are produced, but conclusive evidence in existing plants have been almost absence."

Dr. Johnson feels it would cost far more than it would be worth to treat enough seed for a barley crop.

Born in Moscow, Obelenski left Russia in 1920 after the revolution and has since gained agriculture degrees at the University of Yugoslavia and Vienna.

Oil Boom Spreads To Areas In North West Territories

EDMONTON — The oil boom which began five-and-a-half years ago near Edmonton is still spreading. Besides all of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, and north-central British Columbia, the search is now taking in some 19,000,000 acres of the North West Territories. That is about the same as the amount of land under exploration on the prairies in the year before the Leduc discovery. It is a very large acreage for such a remote region, and may be taken as evidence of the vitality of our oil development.

EXHIBITION HAD TO CANCEL CAMEL ACTS

VANCOUVER, B.C. — The law kept camels out of Canada recently. Several of the hump-backed "ships of the desert" were scheduled to perform at the Pacific National Exhibition. An official said the act was written off because American regulations enforced after Canada's outbreak of foot and mouth disease would prevent their return to the United States.

QUEEN MARY HELPS AT CHURCH BAZAAR

U.S. Will Not Hurry To Lift Cattle Embargo

OTTAWA. — The Canadian Government planned a quiet, patient wait for the United States to remove its six-month embargo on Canadian livestock and meats.

With foot-and-mouth disease eliminated, the Government officially declared Canada free of the tenacious virus and immediately informed U.S. authorities.

"But we don't plan to bring any pressure on them to remove the embargo," an official said. "We know the U.S. Government will consider the matter carefully and reasonably and act as quickly as possible."

Canada appeared to be in for a long wait. A Washington dispatch quoted Acting Chief R. O. Fladmoe of the Agricultural Department's Bureau of Animal Industry as saying the U.S. will take no immediate action.

The American fear, as far as it could be ascertained here, is that the virus may still be lurking in some Canadian food locker. Until that fear is dispelled, it appeared the embargo will remain intact. Another view is that the U.S. will not act until after the U.S. presidential election in November.

Meanwhile, south Saskatchewan farmers in the former infected area, their activities curtailed since quarantine and buffer-zone controls were imposed Feb. 25 last, were free to receive farms with new livestock.

The official declaration, issued under the name of Agriculture Minister Gardiner, said all restrictions on movement of livestock throughout Canada and all precautionary measures against spread of the disease in south Saskatchewan have been removed.

Prices Are Rising On Farm Products

OTTAWA — Farm prices of agricultural products are going up for the first time in a year. The Bureau of Statistics reports the turning point came in June.

The bureau's index for June, based on 1935-39 equalling 100, stood at 263.7 compared with 257.8 in May and 260.7 in the same month in 1951.

The bureau said the June gain was attributable mainly to higher prices for livestock, potatoes, poultry and eggs.

May Change Law So Drivers Can Pass On Curves

REGINA. — The law governing passing on Saskatchewan highways is expected to be changed at the 1953 session of the provincial legislature to allow drivers to pass on some curves.

The anticipated amendments would bring the Vehicles Act in line with the way curves are being marked in this summer's program of painting white lines down the centre of all black-topped highways.

At present the Vehicles Act forbids passing on curves.

However, the white lines being placed on highways indicate that passing is allowed on some curves.

JELLY ROLL

Fun to make! Rolls well, as long as you avoid over-baking. For a gala dessert, top cut slices of filled roll with ice cream or whipped cream.

1 cup once-sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon Magic Baking Powder
2 eggs, separated
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons cold water
½ teaspoon vanilla
Line bottom and sides of 15x10½-inch jelly roll pan with greased paper

Preheat oven to 375 deg F. (moderately hot).

Sift flour and Magic Baking Powder together four times.

Combine egg whites and salt and beat until stiff but not dry; gradually beat in ½ cup of the sugar.

Beat egg yolks until thick; gradually beat in water, vanilla and remaining ¼ cup of sugar. Fold yolk mixture into meringue, then sift in dry mixture about a third at a time, folding to combine after each addition.

Turn into prepared pan

Bake in preheated oven about 30 minutes

Sprinkle with fruit sugar, cover with a tea towel, turn out and peel off paper, working very quickly. Trim off crusts, roll up cake and wrap in towel until set. Unroll to spread with any desired filling

STORING GRAIN ON FARM

Farmers will store a good deal of grain on their farms for some considerable time before it can be hauled to country elevators for sale. The following advice is tendered by Dr. H. E. Gray, head of the Stored Products Insect Investigations, Dominion Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa

A granary with a wooden floor above the ground is best for farm storage, and several small granaries are better than a large one for long-term storage. If "sweats" develop, weed infested grain must be aerated, keep it in small bins, or market it first. Carry out the following procedure

Repair leaky roofs, window and doors to exclude rain and snow if the granary floor is of concrete, cover it with moisture-proof paper.

Clean walls and floors thoroughly. Sprinkle a little hydrated lime over the floor and sweep it about to fill all cracks.

If insects or mites were present last year, coat the inside walls with whitewash containing one-quarter to a pound of bpc per gallon.

Fill the granary to the plate only, leave space between the grain surface and the roof must be provided for ventilation.

Open bins or piles are risky. If available, place on well drained ground or two or three feet of straw. Piles should be uniform cones.

Kitscoty Girl Married At Lloydminster

HARVARD—SHATTUCK

A very pretty wedding took place in Grace United church, Lloydminster on August 13th when Irene Grace, youngest daughter of Mrs. Clare Shattuck of Kitscoty, was united in marriage with Mr. Albert Edward Harvard, son of the late Mr and Mrs. Harvard of Lloydminster.

Evergreens and sweetpeas graced the church altar for the occasion.

The Rev. Morrison performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother Willie Shattuck, the bride chose a taupe cloue suit with navy and white accessories adorned with a corsage of red roses.

The bride was attended by her sister Mrs. Helen Ralston of Vancouver who was attired in a white suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. John Harvard was his brother best man. Guests were scattered to their seats by Mr. Kenneth and Robert Shattuck.

Wedding music was supplied by Mrs. Morrison who also sang "I Love You Truly" during the signing of the register.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Shattuck chose a blue figured nylon dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Later 36 guests attended a reception at the Prince Charles hotel where a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by sweetpeas centred the bride's table.

A toast to the bride was proposed by the Rev. Mr. Morrison to which the groom ably responded.

Following a honeymoon at Jasper and Banff the young couple will make their home on the groom's farm near Blackfoot.

NO NEW POLIO IN DISTRICT

No new cases of polio have been reported in town or the immediate district of Vermilion for three consecutive weeks and health officials are hoping that the dread sickness is over as far as this area is concerned. They still emphasize however, that the precautions should be continued as the number of cases of the disease is still increasing in the cities and in other parts of Alberta. The Standard is of the opinion that delaying the opening of schools within the Minburn-Vermilion Health unit area was a very worthwhile precaution.

No Frost Registered At Weather Station

No frost was recorded at the weather station here this past week although farmers claim in some cases that ice had formed on pails and water troughs. Coolest temperatures at the station were 33 on Saturday morning, 32 on Sunday morning and 37 on Monday. Warmest was 77 on Thursday last, Aug. 28th for the week.

A good harvest week was enjoyed until Wednesday when the weather broke and rain commenced to fall, continuing on Thursday. During this time .84 inches of rain fell. The forecast is for clearing and warmer.

More interesting weather statistics supplied by the Dept. of Transport for Lloydminster will appear next issue.

School opening date — Monday, Sept. 15th at 9:00 a.m.

WORK ON DAM STARTED

Additional heavy machinery was moved to Tuscarora last week on the actual moving of clay to the site of the Vermilion Valley dam has started in earnest.

Activity on construction of the bridge has been slowed by shortage of some necessary pilings.

SAVE THE BEST FOR SEED

A. M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner, Alberta Dept. of Agriculture, suggests that there is never a better time than when the grain is being harvested to put away the purest and best of the crop for seed. Farm storage and elevator space is more than usually limited this year. On farms where temporary bins have to be constructed, the grain for seed should be given storage preference as that it will be in the best possible condition for next year's planting.

Mr. Wilson points out that much of the crop planted last spring is showing mixtures of varieties. This is undesirable due to the fact that large amounts of ordinary grain of unknown origin were used for planting as a result of the poor seed harvest of last season. Examine your grain crops now, be advised, and save only the best for seed. If mixtures are present, dispose of your grain through commercial channels and obtain pure varieties for next year's planting.

D. R. MITCHELL GIVEN BIG JOB

APPOINTED RETURNING OFFICER FOR NEW BATTLE RIVER-CAMROSE FEDERAL CONSTITUENCY

D. R. Mitchell, a fellow townsman has been appointed Returning Officer for the new Federal constituency of Battle River-Camrose. The area is just as big as it sounds, stretching all the way from the Saskatchewan boundary west to range 21, a distance as the crow flies of 126 miles east and west. North and south along its east boundary it starts at the Saskatchewan river and runs south to Township 42. Along range 7 it narrows down to townships 40 to 43. A portion has been taken from the south end of Battle River and added to Acadia, while the north-west corner goes into the Vegreville constituency.

The change was made necessary due to the increase of population of Edmonton entitling that city to one additional member in the Federal house. The rural areas of Alberta have lost some population so the four former constituencies of Acadia, Vegreville, Battle River and Camrose, have been revised to form only three constituencies, Acadia, Vegreville and Battle River-Camrose.

This creates an interesting situation as far as Battle River-Camrose is concerned as the home of two Federal members, Robert Fair of Vermilion and Dr. Byrnestein of Camrose are included in the new constituency.

A nominating convention will be held at Viking not later than Nov. 15th to decide who will be candidate.

Friends and supporters of Bob Fair should immediately get busy in order to ensure a large number of delegates at the nominating convention.

Rocky Mountain Diesels

A new era of mountain railroading in Canada is being unfolded as modern streamlined Canadian Pacific Railway diesels, the first to go into service in the Rocky Mountains, replace steam locomotives, longtime conquerors of the steep slopes and rugged mountain wilderness. Pictured are two of 40 new diesel units which the C.P.R. has acquired since last fall to dieselize train operations in the area of Vermilion and Dr. Byrnestein of Camrose. Revelstoke, B.C., and Calgary as they pull a passenger train past towering peaks near Lake Louise. Passenger and freight trains on this run, one of the toughest in the world, are being given diesel power as part of the railway's dieselization program. An additional 18 road and switch engines will be delivered before this fall to completely dieselize the area.

Helen Bernice Coombe Bride At Salvation Army Wedding

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Salvation Army hall at Red Deer Alberta, when Miss Helen Bernice Coombe, daughter of Raymond Coombe and the late Mrs. Elsie Coombe, formerly of Islay, became the bride of Mr. Ernest Thorngate Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fletcher of Olds, Alberta.

The ceremony was conducted by Capt. Kari Hagglund of Camrose, before an altar banked with gladioli, carnations and fern. Pink and white sweet peas marked the seats for the guests of honor.

The bride given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. George Coombe of Islay, chose a teal brown suit with accessories in pale pink. She carried a cascade bouquet of blush pink roses and fern. Her only jewelry was a gold locket and chain, a gift of the groom.

The bridal attendants were the Misses Clara and Nellie Coombe of Edmonton, sisters of the bride. They wore matching suits of delphinium blue, complete shantalet with white accessories and carried matching bouquets of pink and white sweet peas and fern. Each wore a locket and chain, the gift of the groom.

The groomsmen were Mr. Lief Klanning of Red Deer and Mr. Dale Berkman of Meeting Creek. The ushers were the Salvation Army lieutenants from Olds.

Miss Jean McKee, a former room mate of the bride, played the wedding music. During the signing of the register Miss Joan Peterson sang "Together With Jesus".

After the ceremony a reception was held in the hall which was decorated with bells. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake and bouquets of gladioli and carnations. Between 45 and 50 guests were entertained.

The bride's grandmother, who in also her dairy mother, were Salvation Army uniform with a corsage of red roses and fern. The groom's mother chose a featherweight wool suit in autumn russet shade with darker accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses and fern.

Following the reception the bride donned a beige coat with white purse and yellow rose corsage. The happy couple left by car for Banff, Lake Louise and points west. On their return they will make their home at Red Deer.

Bowtell Bulletin

Many friends and neighbors gathered at the hall recently for a social evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Perkins . Granny Robinson made the presentation to them of a chest of silverware from the community. Good luck is wished them in their new home and enterprise.

The August Busy Bee meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Lowe with a good attendance. Mrs. Fulton was appointed secretary pro tem. Plans were made to have the annual supper which was held in Wednesday evening. The next gathering is at Mrs. Johnson's.

Everyone is very busy in the harvest fields these days and at time of writing the weather continues to be perfect for these operations.

Miss D. Isley is at present helping at the Pierman home and Gordon Scott and George Gow are having a two weeks' holiday.

Former Vermilion Man Married At Streamstown

HARVEY—HINES

Vases of stately gladioli in summer hues graced the altar of St. Patrick's Anglican church, Streamstown in the afternoon of Thursday, August 21st, for a pretty wedding when Miss Sylvia Hazel Hines pledged vows of marriage with Mr. Donald Cameron Harvie. Rev. W. H. Pyrdewey, of Lloydminster, officiated at the nuptial rites, for which the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hines became the bride of the son of Mrs. J. Harvie and the late Mr. Harvie, all of Streamstown.

Mr. Hines gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride wore a gown of snowy white nylon net over nylon taffeta. Of setting design the bodice was fashioned with a round neckline, short cap sleeves, and the back was closed with a row of rhinestone buttons. The bouffant skirt featured rows of net ruffles on the net overskirt. The entire gown glistened with sparkling rhinestones. Her three-quarter length veil of misty illusion was crowned with white satin. It was caught to a small net cap trimmed with rhinestones. She carried a white Bible topped with red roses lily-of-the-valley, and white streamers. A rhinestone necklace and earrings a gift from the groom, was her only jewelry. Floor-length net mitts completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Harold Van Camp sister of the bride, was matron of honour and Miss Dolly Evans was her bridesmaid. Their dresses in dusty pink and pale green, respectively, were similarly styled with fashioned length skirts of net over taffeta. Bolero jackets, they wore shoulder-length veils and carried muffs of summer flowers.

Mr. Merle Harvie was the best man and Mr. Homer Hines also attended the groom.

Guests were ushered to pews marked with clusters of sweetpeas on lace paper doilies, by Mr. Robert Tyner and Mr. Frank Graham.

During the signing of the register Mrs. George Bootsman sang "Because", and was accompanied at the organ by Miss Irene Hutchinson.

To receive about 80 guests at the reception held in the banquet room of the Royal Cafe, Lloydminster, Mrs. Hines chose a plum-colored crepe frock. Her hat was pink felt and she wore pink accessories. At her shoulder she pinned a corsage of pink roses.

A navy crepe dress with white hat and accessories was the choice of the groom's mother. Yellow roses formed her corsage.

The brides' table was laid with a white linen table cloth centred by a four-tiered wedding cake embedded in white tulle. Flanking the centerpiece were smaller white tapers and silver baskets filled with summer flowers. A toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Graham.

For travelling the bride donned a navy taffeta redingote over a navy-and-white polka-dot crepe dress. Her hat was navy straw with white flowers and her accessories were white. Her corsage was red rosebuds.

When they return from a honeymoon from Calgary and Banff, they will make their home in the Willow-lea district.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. A. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cameron, Miss Alma Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Hines, Vermilion; Capt. and Mrs. H. Van Camp from Chilliwack, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. G. Jackson, Edmonton; and Mr. and Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. Burwash, Mrs. Cartwright; Mrs. C. Tyner from Hudson Bay, Sask.; Miss Vera Sneller, Miss A. Hurshanin, Mrs. J. Hines and Mrs. Isabelle Wilson and Mrs. W. S. Johnson from Edmonton; Mr. Merle Harvie and Mrs. J. Harvie, Calgary, and Mr. and Mrs Kelly Whaley of Helena, Montana.

Back At School

There was a stir down our street this September morning, a sort of trembling of the valves and stops, as boys and girls ran out from houses on both sides. Carefully washed and combed, with shining faces and most of them in new shoes, they walked not with the abandon of holidays, but with new purpose-fulness. Happy, eager conversation showed that school, for them, was an enjoyable adventure despite the popular idea that it is dreaded and disliked.

At the entrance of her front yard young Mrs. Bentley stood for a long time, shading her eyes toward the school. At last I built to her precious six-year-old out of her sight. She turned toward the house then came back again and pressed a big boy, in a new brown suit, who was whistling joyous notes. "Jim, have an eye for my Tommy, won't you? School is new to him. Don't let anyone pick on him or bully him."

"Sure, I'll look out for Tommy, Mrs. Bently." straight-faced, touched his brand new cap, then stood up whistling.

More doors opened: little girls with fresh frocks and long bare legs, and eyes full of laughter, came out, joined others and flocked up the street.

Then the doors of the big, gray schoolhouse were closed, and the street was quiet — so quiet. Only a few lonely dogs were left, and they lay on the sidewalks, nose between paws, resisted temptation the school, waiting hopefully for their playmates to come back.

What can we do to help our children who have gone so eagerly to spend the best hours of the day in the big gray school? Is there anything we can do? If mothers could be teachers for a while they would soon know that a pupil's success depends very much on the home from which he comes.

First we can help him physically. You have only to look into the face of a child to know whether he has had a full night's sleep been properly bathed, and had an adequate breakfast with plenty of time to eat it. It will tend to make him alert, to give him a grip on life and a consciousness of his right to place among his fellows. Remember, attending school is "real work."

We can help the school child socially, too. Some boys and girls have a way with them that wins friends immediately. others like them, trust them. Almost at once they are chosen leaders in various activities. Other youngsters stand aloof, shy, timid, unhappy, perhaps even sullen. Why? The home should find out and bring about a reversal.

Clothes have a marked place in school life, just as they have in other kinds of society. Untidy, unclean, ill-fitting clothes give the school boy or girl an inferior place in his own estimation, as well as in that of teachers and school mates. Unusual apparel — clothes unlike those worn by the majority mark a boy or girl as "queer." Youngsters do not often complain of these things, but they suffer much from self-consciousness. Let us, as far as our means will permit

GRAIN STORAGE PROBLEM

Some figures have been published about the storage of grain which enable the student to face the day, his teacher and his comrades-uncertainties of his clothes He will if they are not noticeably unlike those of his mates.

You will want your child, also, to have a happy, genial outlook on life, with a certain "grey school" Consider that he can hardly do this, if he hears unfavorable remarks against school, teacher or pupils, at home. It will help him if we welcome get to know the friends he brings home, and it will help to keep him at home if we manage to have some place — shed, lean-to or garden — where 'the gang' can and will come to play.

A quiet, warm, well-lighted place and a set time for study will be about all the help required of us with regard to the child's homework. And if we are alert, ready at all times to do for the child all that belongs to the home to do, it is not likely that we shall be disappointed with the results at school.

Laura Gray

exaggerate the difficulties ahead The facts are that the total storage capacity of all country and terminal elevators is around 430 million bushels, now running for working space. On Aug. 1st there were 302 million bushels of grain occupying that space, so there is 130 million bushels of space available Making all the necessary calculations, taking into account this year's crops, carry-overs and probable sales, it seems that at the worst there will be not more than 100 million bushels of all grains that cannot be stored in country and terminal elevators by July 31st next.

Farmers, however, will have a problem to store their grain on their farms until there is sufficient room in country elevators and nerves to take it in during the crop year

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

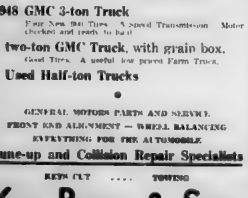
BANKING BUSINESS

By VEGA BROWN

THE ledger-keeper smiled as he handed Ellie the savings book. People always smiled at Ellie. Could be her dancing eyes, or even her cute tip-tilted nose; but more likely it was the way she looked at them. Even John Grant smiled back. A slow, quiet quirk which meant more to Ellie than all the other smiles in the world.

Ellie glanced at the figures in the book. One thousand dollars! Was a time she would have thrilled with excited happiness. It was enough for the coat—the Persian lamb coat. But this morning she had other business, important business. Before the door marked "ACCOUNTANT", and in smaller letters, "Mr. John Grant", Ellie paused.

He might not like her coming but she must talk to him. Soon it would be too late. She must be gone to manage that bank down east. She had to make him understand before he left that she was not just a silly, fun-loving girl, but a serious person, too. It was no good trying to talk to him at their boarding house, he wouldn't take her seriously there. He would treat her as a child, the way he always did. As if seven years weren't a considerable gap!



Mrs. John Brainie Puts on Blue Serge Suit — Finds it's Best!

Take your cue from Mrs. John Brainie (Mrs. Brainie of radio fame, and wife of the well-known actor) Choosing Blue Serge for suit or gartus with eag spread at any price Like the leading Canadian lady, you'll find Burn Bosway's fresh, sweet flavor always rates top billing. You'll love it's year-round nutritional value. You'll be delighted with the dollars you save, when you use BURN BOSWAY, Buy Burn Bosway, get "All #'s Flavor! Nutrition! Economy-s-s!"

(Burn Bosway Margarine is sold in the regular economy package with color tablet. Also in the famous Yellow Quna bag for last, easy color.

He would show him she could attend to business, the way a banker's wife should. Then maybe—

"There's nothing to be scared of," she told herself. "You're here on business-banking business."

"Of course," he said seriously, but there was a glint in his eyes which made Ellie feel that, Beep down, he was laughing at her.

Ellie sat on the edge of the chair and held out the book. John noted the balance; his eyes ran over the regular deposits.

"I wanted your advice, Mr. Grant," said Ellie solemnly. "Advice about investment."

"We shall be glad to be of service, Miss Golding. I must congratulate you on your systematic saving."

"Well, I wanted a coat—a Persian lamb coat," Ellie said, and stopped abruptly, whatever was she saying? What that has nothing to do with it," reddening. "I mean—well, I am older now and a girl has to consider the future. How would you advise investing the money?"

John put the tips of his fingers together. "I think I should know more about the cost first. I take it you don't want the coat now?"

"Oh, I do—I mean—" She looked at John suspiciously. Was he making fun of her again?

"Well, I did save the money for a coat," she blurted out. "Whatever I was tempted to spend, I just pictured myself in the coat. You understand, don't you?"

John was silent, doodling. Ellie felt she was making a mess of things. She had come to talk about investments—stocks and bonds—and here she was talking about a Persian lamb coat. Now he would think her sillier than ever.

She started again desperately: "I thought I should consult you, Mr. Grant, before I spent all that money. That is what bankers are for, isn't it? To advise people about money. You think I should put it in bonds?"

"It all depends," said John continuing his doodling, "on your future plans."

"Of course, I could leave it in the bank until I am married," she said hastily, "but that would need it to set up housekeeping."

Ellie colored furiously. John chuckled, now and then sat on his desk as if for support. "Married!" he said. "I had no idea that you were contemplating—"

"Oh, I'm not," said Ellie. "At least—" she floundered. "That is well, I'm nearly twenty-one and a girl should begin to consider—"

She stopped abruptly, flushing angrily. He couldn't be so stupid. She had been feeling herself when she thought he cared. She rose, chin in air. "I came here thinking that at least you would talk to me seriously about banking business. But it seems I was mistaken!"

They reached the door together, but his hand was first on the knob.

"Miss Golding—Ellie," he said. "There is nothing I want more than to talk to you seriously. I've been trying to ask you something ever since I knew I was going east, but you are never serious more than five seconds at a time."

"That's your fault!" Ellie cried indignantly. "When I try to be serious, you just make fun of me."

In the silence of the office she could hear her heartbeats galloping past the ticking of the clock. She edged closer.

"You wanted to ask?" she said. Minutes later the phone rang.

"Tell them you're busy, John," Ellie said. "I'm here on business, remember—banking business."

Latest Survey Shows Record World Crops

WASHINGTON—Abundant wheat and rye crops may give the world a record-breaking breadstuffs harvest this year, the United States department of agriculture said.

The record, set in 1935, is 268,000,000.

Conditions were recorded as good to record-breaking almost every where. A notable exception was Soviet Russia, from which only sketchy information is available.

Record wheat crops are predicted for the U.S.—1,300,000,000 bushels—

Argentina, where last year's crop was a virtual failure, reports the outlook good at the start of the growing season.

Australia expected a 160,000,000-bushel decline from last year's 382,000,000 figure.

Belgium has been the site of more battles than any other European country.

NEW KIND OF SEDATIVE

THE HAGUE — The Dutch state railways have hired a cow to be the latest addition to its airport staff. The hen perches on the hands of elephants being flown in the air freight service. The idea is to calm the animals' nerves.

Artists speak louder than words.

Pilot Who Made Canada's First Trip With Airmail Still Flying

HIGH RIVER, Alta. — John Palmer and an old girl named Jenny have a pretty solid spot in Canadian aviation history. On June 27, 1922, to the plaudits of a Lethbridge crowd, they took off with 150 pounds of envelopes on Canada's first sanctioned airmail flight.

Old Jenny, the airplane, has long since made her last landing But the 56-year-old Palmer still sees sunrises and sunsets over airplane controls. He has played his part in the skies in two wars and pioneered prairie and mountain flying.

Palmer, who operates an electrical business when he isn't flying, still has the enthusiasm he had that bright June day when he took off from Lethbridge with those envelopes.

His destination was Ottawa but he never got there because of a woman driver. At that time, flying routes were haphazard, and an oil company had arranged caches of aviation fuel at various points on the route.

The night of June 27 Palmer made Weyburn, Sask., for his first stop. He took off again next morning but after checking through customs at Portal, N.D., he was over Minot when Jenny developed a wheeze.

Palmer landed, repaired Jenny a ailing valves and took off on a test flight. A woman drove onto his landing field to get a better look and Palmer wrecked Jenny's undercarriage trying to avoid the car.

The mail was delivered to Ottawa by train. Palmer took Jenny back to Lethbridge on a flatcar and that was the end of Canada's first air mail flight.

Palmer served with the Royal Flying Corps in the First World War and afterwards helped to form Southern Alberta Air Lines

The Alberta government in those days—as now—forbade liquor advertising. Palmer filled this gap for the manufacturer of a product called Purple Label beer by buying a purple aircraft to deliver the stuff and take distributors on courtesy flights. From that grew Western Airways.

Palmer then branched out on his own with flying training schools in the mountains and pioneered mountain flying with the forestry patrol until 1939. After an instructing stint during the Second World War he re- ed with the High River club, aiming to be log of 14,700 hours initiated since he began flying in 1916.

Asks Separate Consideration Of Grain Rate

REGINA — The Saskatchewan government has asked the federal transport board to consider the railways request for domestic grain haul rate increases separately from their general application for a freight rate hike.

Municipal Affairs Minister L. F. McIntosh, who sent the board a telegram, said domestic grain rates should be considered separately because they have no connection with the general application.

The grain rates were also of great concern to the processors of domestic grain—such as the flour mills and the feed companies and the feeders of domestic prairie grain—for instance in British Colu bia and Ontario

Both the do mestic grain rate application and the general application for a seven per cent increase are to be heard by the board at hearings beginning Sept. 22. The hearings on the general application for a further nine per cent. rate boost are to be held in November.

Mr. McIntosh, minister in charge of the provincial freight rate services division, said the domestic grain rate proposal could mean an increase of up to 10 per cent. based on distance

"We therefore felt justified in asking that this matter be dealt with separately," he said.

Text of the governmental wire follows, in part:

"In view of strong feeling developing in western Canada on issue of proposed increase on domestic grain rates, government of Saskatchewan strongly urge that this issue be decided by itself and not part of the general application on Sept. 22. We respectfully submitted that the issue can be more effectively and satisfactorily dealt with if treated by itself."

New Date For Weyburn's Fall Seed Grain Fair

WEYBURN.—Date for Weyburn's annual fall seed grain fair has been set back a week from Oct. 15 to Oct. 16. It was announced by Roy Schultz, secretary of the chamber of commerce. The fair which also includes exhibits of storage vegetables and poultry is sponsored by the chamber of commerce and the agricultural society.

The fair will be staged in the Legion hall, while the agricultural rally will be in the Capitole hall. Guest speaker at the rally will be Major H. G. L. Strange, director of research department, Searle Grain Company Limited, Winnipeg.

The violin contains about 70 different parts.

A Note on Drying Vegetables

One lady wrote about drying vegetables. Maybe there are more of you interested in knowing how to dry vegetables. Here's what you do.

Drying is the oldest, simplest and least expensive method of food preservation. The food does not spoil because the water has been removed and the organisms which cause spoilage cannot grow without moisture. Free circulation of air is as important as heat.

Vegetables which can be dried most successfully are corn, beans and peas. Others, such as celery, squash, string beans and greens may be dried, but not always with satisfactory results.

Preparation of Food For Drying

Use vegetables of good quality. Gather when fresh and young, and dry the day they are gathered. Wash thoroughly, cut in pieces or strips if necessary. Blanching sets the color, destroys spoilage organisms and hastens drying.

1. Sun-Drying Requires bright, hot days with a breeze. Place the vegetables after preparation approximately ¼-inch deep in a tray with a wire or lath bottom and suspend or support it two or more feet from th ground. Cover tray with cheese cloth to protect from insects and flies but do not allow it to rest directly on the food. Take indoors at sunset. Turn product once or twice a day. It takes 3 to 5 days to complete the drying process.

2. Drying with Heat. Recommended method for vegetables. The drying may be done in the oven on screens, or trays, in the warming oven, or on trays preferably of mesh or wire bottom suspended from the ceiling about 10 inches above the stove. Dry at a low temperature at first, so that the outside of the product will not dry and close the fibres before the inside is thoroughly dry. The oven door should be left open, the temperature not exceeding 100° at first.

The product is dried sufficiently when a piece cut through the centre shows no moisture when pressed between thumb and finger.

Conditioning. Allow food to remain in kitchen on trays. Stir and pour from one box to another daily for 3 to 4 days. If insufficiently dried, return to oven.

Storage In moisture proof containers, baking powder cans with tight lids, glass jars or paper bags, which may be brushed with paraffin. Store in a warm dry room, away from light.

MARWAYNE COUPLE MARRIED AT LLOYDMINSTER

DOULL—JOHNSON

Gladioli, sweet peas and baby's breath provided the setting for a very pretty wedding at Grace United church, Lloydminster. A double-ring ceremony Monday afternoon, August 25th at 3:30 o'clock united in marriage Miss Melva Eileen Johnson a second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson of Marwayne with Norman Doull, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Doull of Marwayne. The Rev. Mr. Pigeon of Lloydminster officiated.

Entering the church on the arm of her father the bride was lovely in a floor-length gown of nylon net over satin styled with a sheer nylon yoke. Lace flowers trimmed the fitted bodice and skirt and the long sleeves tapered to petal points over her wrists. Tiny self-covered buttons closed the bodice down the back from neckline to waist. Her circular veil hung from a coronet of crystal beads and seed pearls and she carried an arm bouquet of red roses. A four-strand necklace of pearls with earrings to match complemented her costume.

Mrs. Ione Leighton attending her sister as matron of honor was dressed in a pink taffeta gown with fitted bodice and carried a bouquet of cream gladioli and baby's breath. The bridesmaid, Miss Ena Greig, wore a gown of cream satin with fitted bodice and lace peplum. Her bouquet was of pink gladioli and baby's breath. Both were wreaths of flowers in their hair.

The groom was attended by George Hansen and Bill Leighton. John Doull, brother of the groom, and Laurence Perks acted as ushers. Miss Martha Swanson played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Miss Phoebe Hines sang "Forever and Ever".

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The groom's mother was dressed in a printed blue dress with grey accessories. Her corsage was of red sweetheart roses.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served at the Prince Charles hotel to 37 guests. The bride's table was centred with a four tiered wedding cake which was flanked by bouquets of pink and white gladioli. Bouquets of sweet peas decorated the tables. Rev. Mr. Pigeon acted as master of ceremonies. Dr. Dickout very ably proposed the toast to the bride which was happily responded to by the groom. The toast to the bridesmaids was proposed by the groom, was replied to by George Hansen.

During the dinner telegrams of congratulations were read from the groom's sisters Mrs. Wm. Doull of Dawson Creek, Miss Miss Jeannette Doull of Vancouver. A three tiered wedding cake was cut by Mrs. and Mrs. Alex Doull of Edmonton.

Leaving for points in Jasper and Banff in navy blue suit with white accessories. A [illegible] completed her ensemble. From the Rapids they will be at home [illegible] Edmonton.

Drought In Australia

WITH A BOUNTIFUL CROP THIS YEAR which promises to tax storage and transportation facilities, most Canadian farmers have little fault to find with weather conditions and the other factors which affect the success of the season's work. Good harvests have been the order in this country for some time now and have not only brought prosperity to the farmers but have contributed substantially to the need for food in other parts of the world. In such times drought, which in the past has caused such havoc with the land here, seems remote, but few people who lived in Western Canada during the great drought period of the 1930's will fail to sympathize with Australian farmers, who are now faced with that problem.

* * * *

Cattle Are Being Lost

Reports from Australia tell that nearly a million square miles of land North of the Tropic of Capricorn are without moisture because of failure of the monsoons, and thousands of cattle are being lost. Cattle production is to the farmers of that area what wheat is to the farmers of the Canadian prairies, and the losses this year are already grave. The loss will be felt not only this year, but for several years to come, as the depletion of stock now will affect the size of future herds. While man cannot control the rainfall the 300,000 Australian farmers in the afflicted area are asking that better railway connections and well watered stock routes be provided to help move cattle out when there is insufficient rainfall.

* * * *

Action To Produce More

As the Canadian farmers are helping to solve the world food problem by producing large quantities of wheat, the Australians are anxious to produce more to supply the needs of other countries. While weather conditions cannot be controlled, experience has shown that much can be partly overcome if proper measures are taken. It is a problem which is faced by almost every agricultural country at some time, and it has in the past been the cause of misery and suffering in many places. Just now the farmers of Northern Australia are faced already with a loss of 300,000 tons of meat which would have been sent to overseas markets, and Canadians will sympathize with the Australians over the present situation there.

WOLF BOSSES HILLS WITH SADDLE PONY

BAULT STE MARIE — There is a timber wolf in the Algoma lake area, 250 miles north of here, that apparently has no or heard of a 'no hunting' sign.

Chief Ranger Byron Smith of Sand lake in the area, reports this particular timber wolf nightly rounds the hills with a saddle pony, the wolf trotting close to the pony's heels. At dawn they part.

The wolf also feeds regularly at a garbage dump with two bears.

Canadians Still Spending Freely

OTTAWA.—Canadians tapered off their buying during June for the first time this year, but were still spending at a rate well above 1951.

In the first six months they spent $25,000,000 more than in the corresponding period last year for everything from furniture to clothing and radios to washing machines.

If they keep it up, Canadian buyers will total more than ten billion dollars by the end of the year.

The Bureau of Statistics reported that retail sales in June totalled $979,383,000, compared with $940,-218,000 in June last year. This brought the six-month total to a whopping $5,305,871,000 compared with $4,989,180,000 in the first six months of 1951.

The bureau figures showed, however, that the June figure was down 7.3 per cent. from the $1,053,460,000 spent in May. Retail sales have increased every month this year up to May, the highest spending month so far.

REASON WHY TRAFFIC WAS MOVING SLOWLY

SYRACUSE, N.Y — The busy thoroughfare looked like speeders' territory. The police set up their electric timers and sat and waited.

Lots of cars passed—all moving sedately within the limits.

Patrolman Nicholas Margiano mounted his motorcycle and sped around the block. His catch: Two youngsters with a sign reading: 'Danger, slow down. Police ahead.'

Fish Being Saved By Road Hacked Through Bush Land

HAZELTON, B.C.—A road hacked 60 miles through wild country near here in a desperate attempt to save millions of fish from destruction is paying off.

The road leads to the big rockslide on the Babine River that constituted one of the most serious threats ever to face the northern British Columbia fishing industry.

The slide came down a lonely canyon nearly a year ago, blocking hundreds of thousands of sockeye from their natural spawning grounds in Babine Lake.

The Federal Fisheries Department pushed a road through practically unknown country to get at the slide and to devise some means of getting the fish through. The fish do not change their spawning habits, and if they can't reach their natural spawning area they will batter themselves to death in the attempt.

Fish were only "trickling" into Babine Lake earlier this year, but fisheries officials now report salmon are completing the five-day run from the slide area to the lake at a rate of more than 3,000 a day.

"It appears certain that at least the vast proportion of the run will get through safely this season," said one official.

A crew at the slide is stationed on the river, creating natural fish ladders. At one point they had to get the fish past a 13-foot fall.

Biologists and engineers are seeking a way to clear a permanent channel for the fish. This may mean dredging a new channel or constructing big permanent fish ladders.

Limestone is used in the steel industry as a slag-forming material.

Supper had been ready for a long time when the bespeckled husband stole into the house and hung up his hat. "Henry," said his wife from the dining-room, "what do you mean by being two hours late?"

"Hot, darling, I've been over," he protested from the hall. "Well, what of it?" she demanded coldly. "It doesn't take two hours to get run over."

On holiday in Harz, he wrote to his fiancee, "I'm having a great time; Florence is delightful."

She replied: "Don't hurry back. I'm having a jolly good time with Harry."

Two girl friends met in the street one day. "I'm engaged at last!" one of your engagement," said one of them.

"Oh, my dear, yes," answered the other. "Jack simply became impossible. He criticized the way I dressed, objected to my friends and always expected me to be at his beck and call. Then, on top of all that, he suddenly went off and married another girl. So I simply made up my mind to have nothing more to do with him."

Three Explorers Who Returned Safely From Nahanni Valley In Far North Describe Their Trip

EDMONTON. — Legends of death stalking those who brave the wilderness of the far northern Nahanni Valley may have had some foundation, but the dangers are not from supernatural forces. That's the firm belief of R. M. Dick Shamp, young chemical engineer from Washington, D.C.

He and two companions — writer-photographer Norman Thomas of Albuquerque, N.M., and botanist Howie Martin of Yale University — were out against the elements in a gruelling exploration of the famed valley this summer.

"If trappers and prospectors have failed to return from the valley it's because they were not as fortunate as we were," says Shamp. "There is good reason for their failure to return. It's the kind of country where one mistake can mean your life."

They financed the trip by a commission from the U.S. Defence Department to test a new food ration pack, and an assignment to write scientific reports on their findings.

The trio motored from Washington to Watson Lake in the Yukon, where northern aviator C. C. F. Dalziel picked them up for the 180 mile flight in their base camp at Glacier Lake, some 180 miles upstream from the mouth of the Nahanni River. The river is in the Northwest Territories and about 700 miles northwest of Edmonton.

They started from Glacier Lake because some of the Nahanni Valley had been covered by prospectors and trappers, and they wanted to go through a region less likely to have been seen previously.

When they got going on foot each carried a 75-pound pack with a rifle and other equipment. Shamp cracked a knee-cap and fractured a shoulder-blade soon after the start, but continued with the others.

A few days later one rifle was damaged on rocks beyond repair, and the two others were put out of commission by continual dampness, leaving them without arms to kill game for food. On the whole trek they saw the sun only three days.

In 35 days they walked 150 miles through tortuous country, but were only 90 miles from their starting point. With rations getting short, they decided to return to camp as fast as possible. On the way back they built rafts on three occasions, suffered a spill in glacier-fed waters and once were trapped for two hours in a whirlpool.

They got back to base with three meal bars, one pair of shoes among the three, one sleeping bag, a camera and film. The rest of their equipment had been lost in rain or lost in raft upsets. All had lost a lot of weight—Shamp about 25 pounds and the others about 20 pounds each.

From the base camp they flew to Watson Lake. Shamp went to Anchorage, Alaska, for hospital treatment before coming here to tell the story.

He doesn't believe the legend about a tropical valley in the Nahanni, but says there are some hot springs around which animal growth is luxuriant. They also found some mineral deposits but not enough to bother about.

Cover and set in a warm place (85°) free from draught. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down dough, grease top and again let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down dough; turn out on lightly-floured board and divide into 4 equal portions; form into smooth balls. Cover; let rest 10 minutes and let rest for 15 more. Shape into loaves; place in greased loaf pans (4½" x 8½"). Grease tops, cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. C.P.R. Vice-President Meets Diesel Pioneer

A college thesis was responsible for a long delayed meeting in Montreal recently between the Diesel engine's designer and builder, the world's first dieselelectric locomotive shown above) and the man president of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The story began when N. R. Crump, (right), now vice-president of the C.P.R., was studying for his Bachelor of Science degree at Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind., and was renewed in 1928 when Mr. Crump was locomotive foreman at Moose Jaw, and was working on his thesis for his Mechanical Engineer's degree. His subject, "Internal Combustion Engines in the Railroad Field", was one that required a study of facts that were almost unobtainable at that time. Mr. Crump turned to the reports of Dr George Vladimir Lomonoff, then a Russian mechanical engineer who had designed the first locomotive to use oil fuel and had one in operation in 1924 to get the information he needed. The Diesel-electric unit, which Mr. Lomonoff, whose son is presently employed with the Montreal Locomotive Works, has been constructed in Montreal for the past two years that it was only recently that Mr. Crump learned of his presence in the city and arranged an interview. Modern C.P.R. diesel-electric locomotive built in the Montreal Locomotive Works is shown in the picture behind Dr. Lomonoff and Mr. Crump

Harvest appears to be in full swing - tinders and stookers on same farms awathers on others. Gardens are wodnesy bountifully, canning and pickling seem to be the order of the day. Flowers have been exceptionally gorgeous adding much beauty to house and grounds.

One of the highlights of the summer was the marriage of her granddaughter Helen Coombe, to Mr. Ernest Fletcher. The wedding took place at Red Deer where both of the young people worked.

The writer and son Raymond and family and George Coombe motored to Red Deer for the occasion. A large number attended the Salvation Army wedding ceremony, also the reception which followed and where three long tables were beautifully set in with a riskie repast. The wedding gifts were displayed on a side table and many beautiful and useful gifts were placed there. Photos and stage were taken of the bridal party and of the families. Helen expressed the wish that many more could have been present and sent such greetings to not only the three sons in service as well as Helen's brother-in-law who had their hebo banquets to be placed on their mother's grave in loving memory.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gordon and son Marvin motored up with Mrs. Gordon's mother who had been returned to Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Gates and family from Vancouver are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gates. Lots to buoy renew acquaintances.

A few days was spent by the writer in the Elk Point district at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Andre. Everyone was busy gathering berries at different points. The writer brought home several quarts of high bush cranberries, the first he has seen since living in Manitoba. These with a few more delicious berries grow in a bog there, the creeping low bush and high bush. As the winter approaches the high bush excels the others, for jelly and jam, having the best flavor.

Noticed the other evening a noisy tractor drumming at a tree in the grove, also the same evening and other pleasant and breed of 12 to the square yard. Wasn't then we approached they just walked away, tired of flying. Every lake seems to be teem with broods of young ducks. These youngsters will need no feeding from outside sources, the scattred grain. Leaves are curling, as the people especially are busy in a bit of autumn in the air.

Federal Government Spends $6,500,000 On Civil Defence In Fiscal Year

The Dominion Government has provided more than $6,500,000 for civil defence during the fiscal year, Hon. Paul Martin announced parliament.

Mr. Martin who is minister of national health and welfare responsible for civil defence at the federal level said that the most important addition to the budget for civil defence in the present fiscal year was the sum of $1,400,000 proposed for grants to the provinces for general C.D. purposes.

The provincial grants the minister explained, were calculated for each province on a formula based on the relative distribution of the population in target and non-target areas. The provincial governments would qualify for federal financing for specific projects, mutually agreed upon, as long they made an equivalent expenditure.

Will Be Filled With Water This Fall

Day and Night Work On Vermilion Dam

Construction of the dam in the Vermilion River valley is being pushed 24 hours per day and already the long dykes of earth fill indicating the location of the dam. Given good weather the actual dam will be completed by the end of September. Work on the new bridge with which is combined the spillway for the dam is also well underway.

The dam is designed to back up the water to a depth of 8½ feet over the floor level of the valley. This means that the valley will be completely flooded for a distance of approximately 3½ miles. Beyond that point the river of course will be filled to the height of its banks for several more miles.

The dam will be 78 feet wide at the bottom plus a three foot thick clay blanket extending out 75 feet in front. The average height of the earth wall will be 14 feet and width on top will be 10 feet.

In all 2100 feet of dam will be built, 1300 feet of this runs south west from the south end of the new bridge, while 800 feet runs north and south along the present roadway.

Considerable work will also be done by the provincial government in raising and widening the present road across the river valley.

Some work will also be done this fall to locate one or more sandy places for the making of beaches. Cutting of the brush on what will be flooded areas will also be done.

Approximately 1100 acres have been purchased by the Alberta government for the development of the Vermilion Valley park.

Plans Made For Re-Opening of Sunday Schools in Town

MINISTERIAL ASSOC. WELCOMES REV. D. FORD

At a recent meeting of the Vermilion Ministerial Association, a welcome was extended to Rev. D. A. Ford, who has recently taken charge of St. Saviour's church. Mr. Ford fittingly replied and expressed his pleasure that there is a feeling of unity amongst the churches of this town.

With the polio ban about to be lifted, the ministers concerned themselves with the resumption of Sunday schools in the near future. Recommencing their Sunday school this coming Sunday, Sept. 14th will be the Alliance chapel who meet at 10:30 a.m. and The Salvation Army who meet at 2:30 p.m. The following day, Sept. 21st, will see the opening of the services of the Anglican church at 11:00 a.m. and the United church at 11:00 a.m. Ministers expressed their hopes that all parents would urge their children to attend their respective Sunday schools.

It was also decided at the meeting that Sunday, Sept. 28th would mark Bible Sunday in Vermilion, with ministers making special mention of the publication of the new Revised Standard Version of the Bible.

Dewberry Couple Observe Golden Wedding

Former residents of Dewberry district for 37 years, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Kinsella observed their Golden Wedding on Wednesday, Sept. 3rd. Since last fall they have made their home at Leduc where their daughter Gladys lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Kinsella have two daughters living near Dewberry, Mabel and Annie and sons at Lloydminster, Marwayne and two in Edmonton. They have 13 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Dewberry Saddened By Death Of Three Prominent Citizens

The Dewberry district has been saddened by the recent deaths of three prominent citizens. Sam Butz, Alex Lunden and Wilfred Dawes. Funeral services were extended to the bereaved families.

Young Wilfred Dawes was injured in an oil well servicing accident in Saskatchewan and died as a result of the injuries several days later in a Saskatoon hospital.

It is hard to say enough in tribute to those that have now passed on. Mr. Sam Butz, for many years a very successful livestock buyer, was well known for many years as a keen sportsman and one of the old timers in the Dewberry district. His popularity that nearly 300 people gathered to pay their last respects to him at his funeral in the Dewberry hall. Always a man who was ready to help and who for years kept our dances in the best of order acting as floor manager. He held numerous offices during his time out the community on school boards, community organizations, sports associations and was a charter member for this area on the municipal hospital board. It is much hoped that the generation following will take up the torch of such generosity and helping hand to mankind.

Those who knew young Wilfred "Pennie" Dawes cannot help but be saddened in his sudden passing. A young man with a big heart and lots of courage he left home only this spring to make his way in the world.

Jim McGilvaree is enlarging his house and several men over 30 were outlining him with a rope during the furnishing the foreman Gibb Nicolas, Archie McGilvaree is visiting his father. Grace has been employed as clerk in the Dewberry Co-op store.

Bob Pourayre and the teacher Mr. Rebenya have been appointed caretakers of the Dewberry schools.

Several changes have taken place in the local Co-op store. The former manager Gershi Hodgson now has a position with the Neil Jones firm. Winston Braithwaite will continue on as the manager. George Ewen is also a new clerk in the store, successor to Cliff Beek.

Miss Peggy Ewen and Shirley Vollarr have left for Calgary where they will take the nurses' aide course. Every success is wished them in their studies.

Little Gayle Theobald

Little grain has been threshed due to unsettled weather. Erven Archer cleaned Garnet Lunden's wheat on Sept. 3 and 4. It was a very nice sample. Rust is showing up in some wheat fields. Gordon Rainey had a nice crop of wheat that took $1.25 worth of twine per acre.

John Finlay is noticed driving a new car.

Wilfred Pourre expects to have his house moved to its new location shortly.

The D.A. has been complaining that Dave Dirne pigs in his district. The writer has noticed quite a number of very healthy pigs of this description roaming with the Townsworth strain. Tom Collins has a new Hereford boar and Keith Brethour has two purebred Hereford cows. Yes Sir, we mean Hereford white heads and red bodies.

The road past Don Brethenbach's is undergoing a new construction job. The fills south of the Hazeldine corner have just been completed.

Mrs. Garrett, although badly shaken up and his car extensively damaged, is still at work. He took to the ditch to avoid some heavy load on the road, with resultant damage to himself and car.

L. Bendfan had the misfortune to have his truck upset in the sand hills when he turned quickly to avoid a gravel truck. The roof of the truck cab is crushed but no one was hurt.

Frank Bowman has his truck back in shape again after its roll down the creek hill near Spivers.

The roads continue terribly rough and before one wonders when they are going to be improved after all the taxes are high enough.

Leave Those Jobs at Home!

Now that the duck season is open, it is hoped that people using .22 rifles will leave them at home. Every year the writer has had accidental escapes from careless whistling across the old slough just remember it is against the law to use .22 rifles in hunting ducks or geese.

Pairing in the Labor Day week end golf tourney at Vegreville, Ted Riley won first prize in the consolation of the third flight. Al Lecky and Roger Rowe won 1st and 2nd respectively in the 4th flight with golfers competed.

NAMED MINISTER OF EDUCATION

Anders O Aalborg, member of the legislative assembly representing Alexandria, was Monday named Minister of Education in a shuffle of Alberta cabinet offices. Mr. Aalborg succeeds the Hon. Ivan Casselman who becomes the minister of lands and forests. The two ministers were sworn into office on Tuesday.

Mr Aalborg who is well known locally, is a graduate of the Vermilion high school. He was born 38 years ago at McLaughlin in the Alexandria constituency which he now represents. Following high school in Vermilion he attended the Edmonton Normal and has taught continually since in the Vermilion school division. For the past two years he has been principal of the Allister two-roomed school at Rivercourse.

He was elected to the provincial house of assembly in 1948 for the first time and re-elected in the August elections this year. From his first appearance in the house he has taken a prominent part in legislative debates, especially when education was the topic.

Local Legion Holds Decoration Day Service

On Sunday Sept. 7th the annual Decoration Day service was held in the Soldiers' Plot of the cemetery. Canadian Legion members and Auxiliary took part in the service as well as a number of the general public. The service was conducted by Lieut. Robert Chapman of the Salvation Army, assisted by the Salvation Army band. The Legion wishes to take this opportunity to express their thanks for the assistance of the Salvation Army, and for all the donations of flowers used in decorating the graves on ex-servicemen.

The Legion party formed up at the cemetery gate and marched to the Soldiers' Plot where they formed a square around the cenotaph. A short service was held followed by a minutes of silence in memory of our honored dead.

He met all the principals of the Division in the Vermilion high school and discussed with them the probable programs in their respective schools for the next term. The discussions and the information on new courses provided by Dr. Reeves proved particularly valuable and made certain that once the Vermilion schools open they will be able to move ahead without any undue delay. It is to be hoped that this valuable conference will become an annual affair.

In The Vermilion School Division:

2350 Young People Back To School on Monday

Approximately 2250 young people ranging in age from 5 years to 21, plus 118 teachers, will troop back to school in the Vermilion School Division on Monday, Sept. 15th at 9:00 a.m.

With two weeks of the school year lost due to the opening being delayed by the polio epidemic, it is expected that no time will be lost in settling down to work.

The school division board found the supply of teachers practically non-existent this year and vacancies more difficult to fill than ever before. In order to operate all the schools necessary two supervisors have been engaged to take charge of one room rural schools.

Hockey Discussion At Board of Trade Next Wednesday

APPROVE RADIO PROGRAMS —WANT TOWN IDENTIFIED FROM AIR

A ullse discussion on the senior hockey project for the town is slated to be the feature of the Board of Trade's next meeting, Wednesday noon next, and the meeting is wide open for every citizen.

Consideration of senior hockey was raised by the President of the hockey club, Dr. Ben Kerr. Dr. Ben King stated that to ensure a good club it was necessary to have a bigger and stronger group back of it and further executive elected for the coming year. Support of the hockey club for the forthcoming winter was also one of the opinions of business men and the hockey fans.

It is known that Wainwright has been advertising for players and a coach already and that Lloydminster has all members of last year's Hustlers back and are angling for other players to strengthen the team. With the exception of goalie Lashmar last winter Vermilion had a team made up entirely of players from the towns in this district, coached by Elmer Keller . . . Agreement seems to favor this plan being carried out again this season.

Radio Broadcast Approved

The recommendation of the retail committee that a regular radio broadcast be made by announcers was approved at the meeting. The idea is designed to make the owners, public even more appreciative of the ads. These broadcasts will commence the 1st and run for 6 weeks. They will be heard at 7:45 a.m. on Saturdays and 7:33 a.m. on Wednesdays each week in the week. The idea is directed to the rural population, and a program will consist of general advertising of the town, and business centre mingled with items of interest concerning the town.

To Identify Town from Air

The recent complaint of air travellers that none of the towns over which planes passed could be identified from the air came up for discussion. It was felt that Vermilion having had the first real airport of any in Western Canada, being the location of the Dominion weather bureau, and really a town situated on the edge of one of PCA planes, should immediately take steps to have its name painted on the roof of one of the larger buildings. There are several suitable places for this and it was thought the ideal spot would be the farm mechanics building at the Vermilion school of agriculture. A committee was appointed to further consider the project.

Attend the meeting of the Board of Trade next Wednesday. It promises to be a very interesting one particularly if you are hockey minded.

I.O.D.E. Resume Meetings

Following a two months' recess the Elsie Lake Chapter of the I.O.D.E. held their first fall meeting on Friday Sept 5th at the home of Mrs. T. E. Draper.

Many plans were discussed for the fall work. During the recess a fine quilt tea was held for Mrs. W. C. Bond and Mrs. Draper. All the members were sorry that Mrs. Bond left before the tea that had been planned for her was held.

At three of the depositing meetings were given to the sewing sessions. These members will be guests missed and best wishes go with them to their new homes.

George Maxwell, popular Sun Life representative, is on holidays this week at Jasper and Mount Robson.

Hockey Club Executive Meeting

The executive of the Vermilion Hockey club will meet in the Board of Trade room on Thursday evening at 8:00 p.m. All members are requested to be present.

It appears that the spread of the disease has been stopped here although new cases are reported daily in other parts of the province. It is therefore advisable to continue precautions as laid down by health officials as regards keeping physical fitness at a maximum.

Damp Weather Hinders Harvest

Damp cool weather has prevailed all week with the result that little progress has been made with any phase of harvesting. Swathing is well advanced and 65% of the total swathing and cutting with a binder has been done. Amount of threshing is negligible.

No frost has been registered to date at the beam station, the lows being 37° on Monday morning, 36 on Friday last and 36 on Wednesday. Light rains to the total of .31 of an inch fell on Sept. 1, 7, 9, 10 and 11. The forecast is for warmer and no rain is mentioned.

Emergency Lighting In Columbia Theatre

Emergency lighting has been installed at the Columbia theatre. In the event of a power failure the theatre is supplied with lights, including the exits. This is another fine installation carried out by W.P. Pilkie and Son.

Vermilion Goes Ultra Modern

About the only thing left to make Vermilion ultra modern was a stamp vending machine and now one of these has been installed at Beake's Drug store. You simply put your money in the correct slot and you get your stamps. To the casual observer it looks as if the machine is purely a convenience to the public but as the only profit in the odd cent here and there when the denomination of the stamp doesn't divide into even money.

Highland Dances To Be Taught Here

Contained elsewhere in this issue is the announcement by Ann Whiteman of the teaching of highland dancing in town. This will be a popular move, all the more so since St. Andrews have commenced holding their annual Highland games.

To be taught are the four Scottish dances, the English Sailors' Hornpipe, and the Irish Jig. See Mrs. Whiteman for particulars.

Pleasant Valley

Everybody is very busy these days trying to get ahead of old man winter. Not a very warm thought is it? However, it can be made a little more cheerful too if we all start digging up a few potatoes and plant them in pots. They will bloom all winter. Come and get some folks, the writer has quite a number to give away. There are double pink, mauve all very pretty.

Sympathy is extended to the Purves family on the passing of their father. He was an old timer of the Pleasant Valley district and was on the school board for many years.

NEW EXPERIMENTAL CHRYSLER CONVERTIBLE C-200

Chrysler Corporation's experimental C-200 convertible, designed in Detroit by Chrysler engineers and built in Italy, arrived in New York City from Europe, aboard the Laner, S.S. Constitution. The picture shows the convertible being lowered to the dock after a fast Trans-Atlantic crossing.

The C-200 convertible was conceived and designed by Chrysler Engineers in Detroit, as "a further experiment to explore the blending of sports car styling with practical automobile design and engineering features."

European influence is reflected in the longer hood, and large, fully exposed rear wheels.

Wildmere Winks

Harvesting is going ahead out our way but grain is rather slow in ripening J. Wallington has finished cutting. Quite a lot of swathing has been done but so far no combining. We all hope good weather remains to let everyone get their harvest safely into the bins.

Our deepest sympathy goes out Mrs. John Wilson on the loss of her uncle Mr Leahy of Manmville: also to his surviving daughter, sons and relatives. God did not separate that couple very long as Mrs. Leahy passed away only last May.

A small attendance turned out to church on Sunday evening to hear Rev. C. W. McKay give a very fine sermon and conduct Communion.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gibson of Dasewood had their three children baptized, Mary, Isabelle and Ernest. Mr. Dewey will be back for church next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Graham who have been visiting at the Wallington home for the past month left for their home in Ontario on Mon., Sept. 2nd. We hope they see their way clear to come back to visit us, once again.

The Wildmere Beavers Girls club meeting has been postponed until this Saturday to a future date. Your supervisor will let you know where the next meeting will be held.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Norman Smith and daughter Donna of Bon Accord, accompanied by Mrs. C. Morand and Mrs. R. Priest of Calgary visited Bill and Adam and Albert Smith and family, and Mrs. C. Crutwers and family. They returned home again on Sunday evening. Mrs. Morand plans on coming back next month when her mother Mrs. Smith returns from Scotland.

Mr. William Burns of Vancouver B.C., better known as "Billie" to old timers, is visiting his old home steading pal Mr. George Wilson. Both these men came from Scotland together and homesteaded in our district in 1906. After growing up his land Billie went to Winnipeg and followed his butcher trade. He enlisted in the first war and after came back to Winnipeg. Mr. Burns moved to the west coast where he has since resided with his family.

Schools will re-open this coming Monday if all goes well. We hope polls to cover. Mrs. Wilson will again have charge of them and Mrs. Hughes will be at Bisawood once again. This school will have a few more pupils as there are three beginners this year.

Several of the young folks of this district are on the sick list. We wish them a speedy recovery and hope to see them around again soon.

Four of the young men from here went fishing several days ago. Not catch between four one fish. Have to get a few tips from your dad, Les.

Durward Bowman caught a whopper of a fish last time out. It was over 12 pounds. No sir, this was not one that got away as we saw it when Durward brought it home.

A few of the higher grade students from here are going to Kitscoty to continue their schooling.

We extend our sincere sympathy to the wife and family of the late Sam Butz. The large number of people at the funeral and the many floral tributes spoke highly of the esteem and respect in which he was held. He was a well known and well liked man.

We also offer our sympathy to the parents, brothers and sisters of the late Wilfred Ewen of Daverberry who died as the result of an accident in the Saskatchewan oil fields. It is hard to know cause so young. Wilfred was only 20.

Paradise Valley United Church Notes

The first meeting of the fall season was held by the P.Y. group of the W.A. on Friday, Sept. 5th. The meeting was held in the church basement.

Next Sunday Sept. 14th will see the opening of adult Bible classes in both Paradise Valley and McLaughlin. It is to be hoped that these classes will, to some measure, take the place of services of worship during the winter months. The class at McLaughlin will meet at 10 a.m. and that at Paradise Valley at 3 p.m. All persons interested are urged to attend these opening classes so that the work may be well under way before the closing of church services for the summer.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY

LOVE AT THE CROSSROADS

By W. H. DAVIES

IT'S A woman's privilege, I suppose, Changing her mind, I mean. Marian was certainly no exception. She blew hot and cold like an autumn wind. The first time I asked her we hadn't known each other long enough, she said. And I was too impulsive . . . not settled enough for her to risk a hasty marriage. I had no quarrel with that so I let it pass.

Fo a couple of months after that I did everything I could to please her. I even left my pipe at home when we went out for an evening. Then I popped the question again. This time she weakened. But it was only long enough for us to get the license. She wanted a big church wedding then. It would take weeks of planning, she said. But the plans didn't jell. They just disappeared into a breeze. I might have put a few pointed questions to her then except that I did have the license. It was like holding the first mortgage on a piece of property . . . a mighty nice piece of property, I thought.

Some guys prefer to drown their troubles in liquor. I like to drown mine in good coffee and pleasant conversation when I can find the right combination. It's not so much that but it's cheaper, easier on my stomach and accomplishes the same end.

Marian's friend Triangle and Joe Thompson of town stooked Jimmie Wallington's crop this year.

Mrs. Stanley Paden has been helping Mrs Lloyd Howard during the latter part of the holidays.

Oldest Twins in Canada Celebrate Ninetieth Birthday

CALGARY. — Joseph Graham of Calgary and his brother Benjamin of Vulcan, Alta., probably Canada's oldest identical twins celebrated their 90th birthdays.

Benjamin moved to Alberta from Ontario in 1904 and took up land in the Vulcan area. Joseph moved west to Vulcan in 1915. While Benjamin has remained at Vulcan, Joseph retired in 1920 and moved to Calgary with his wife. The Joseph Grahams celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary last New Year's. 3002

Study Shows Shelterbelts Reduce Soil Drifting Hazards

OTTAWA.—Establishment of field shelterbelt projects in certain areas in Manitoba has permitted a study of the effect of tree rows on wind velocity and crop growth, says W. J. Staple, Soil Research Laboratory, Swift Current, Sask.

A series of dense, 5-row shelterbelts, 16 feet wide and placed at different intervals, reduced the speed of a cross-wind at all points within the intervening strips. A reduction of 20 to 30 per cent was measured at the most exposed points. Hedges of single row caragana, 7 to 9 feet high, did not shelter all points within a 40-rod strip, but the extent of sheltering was at least 20 times the height of the trees.

Other measurements showed that wind velocities were approximately the same at corresponding points in the strips between a series of single-row parallel hedges. There was no evidence of a cumulative effect—that the sheltering increased with the number of hedges in windward.

The extent and depth of snow drifts near field shelterbelts depends on a number of factors such as amount of snowfall, wind speed and direction and type of shelterbelt. In recent years 8-foot caragana hedges have held snow drifts 2 to 4 feet deep and 30 to 65 feet wide on each side of the hedge.

There can be little doubt that field shelterbelts reduce the soil drifting hazard in adjoining fields. Not only does the wind speed reduced but also since field shelterbelts are planted in parallel rows, there is no cumulative effect of the benefits of strip farming. No large fields are left exposed, and soil drifting does not occur readily on narrow strips. When high winds occurred on May 25 and 26, 1951 only a trace of soil movement was observed in the sheltered area while soil drifting was quite prevalent in surrounding districts.

The effect of field shelterbelts on crop yields varies with type of shelterbelt, season, etc. The results obtained to date indicate that increased yields near shelterbelts are attributable largely to the storage of moisture from snowfall.

Record Level In Benefit Payments

TORONTO. — Benefit payments to Canadian families from the 60-odd British, Canadian and United States life insurance companies operating in Canada were at a record level for the first half of this year, being more than $129,000,000.

The Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association reported that this was some $6,500,000 more than the previous record total of the first six months of 1951.

Death benefits accounted for $51,000,000, up about 11 per cent. from the previous year.

Payments to living policyholders were in excess of $78,000,000, equal to about 60.3 per cent. of total payments. The "living benefits" were up over $7,000,000 from those of the first half of the previous year. It is estimated that they were 62 per cent. more than similar payments in the first six months of 1951, reflecting the greatly increased use of life insurance for living benefits during the past decade.

Fi h bookbinders were regarded so highly during the 17th century that they were exempt from paying taxes.

Cancer was recorded as a disease by the Egyptians in 1500 B.C.

DRUMHELLER, ALTA.

Miner Underground For 45 Years, Never Lost Love For Flowers

DRUMHELLER Alta.—All during the 45 years that John Gallagher worked in coal mines in England and Alberta he never lost his love of flowers.

Now freed from underground work the 63-year-old retired miner is concentrating on his first love. This year he grew 7,000 gladioli for the fun of it. Next year he plans to raise money.

His native Blyth, Northumberland, he used to raise roses when he went down a mine pit. He and his wife Martha moved to the Drumheller valley in 1930. Six years ago they bought a 24-acre plot five miles west of the central Alberta coal centre for a garden.

Even before his retirement Gallagher and his wife worked in their garden spending their evenings and holidays. Every year he added more gladioli bulbs until today he has a collection of nearly 20 varieties.

His wife is dead now, and Gallagher says he finds comfort in life from the acres of blooms. The occasional visitor gets a bloom or so, at least that.

Martha and I always liked flowers," he said. "We helped to raise many in the old days. Now she is gone. The flowers stay.

TO SCARE DUCKS, NOT KILL THEM

REGINA.—A machine expected to aid farmers who are suffering severe crop damage by ducks has arrived in Saskatoon, provincial game commissioner, E. L. Puxley announced.

The sonic equipment, as it is called, weighs a little more than ten tons. The machine "shoots" a high frequency sound, which discourages ducks from the vicinity. Mr. Puxley said its effective range is not known.

This method has been used for discouraging birds from airports and sheds from high buildings, Mr. Puxley said.

The equipment is coming to Saskatchewan as an experiment through the co-operation of Canadian Wildlife Service, national research and the department of National Resources.

Western Farmers Talk Of Bushels Per Acre

Not Interested in Talking Politics, Football or Summer Vacations

REGINA. — The men in the country isn't talking politics or football or vacations these days. He's talking about his crop and how many bushels he's likely to get. Traveral through vast stretches of rural Saskatchewan and talks with the men driving the tractor in the field give a sample of the thoughts of the farmer, Saskatchewan's most important resident.

He's not mad at anybody.

His gripes are being remitted away by the warm breezes blowing across his fields of thick, waving grain.

He may wonder a bit about where he will store his crop, but he doesn't seem to have too much complaint about the price.

One farmer near Moriach west of Moose Jaw, said he is getting along pretty well. Of course he has a fair amount of land and maybe a smaller farmer wouldn't find things so good. Still, he thought, a farmer like that would be able to get along too.

The grain man near Cabora said farmers he met were not too unhappy about prices. After all, he said you have to consider the ability of importers to pay.

The man on the tractor near Kamsack thought machinery prices were too high. But then, he knew some farmers who paid more than the latprice just to get scarce machinery first.

Some farmers thought labor pushed its wage demands too strongly and thereby pushed up prices.

An agriculturist at Swift Current thought farmers were severely pressed about grain prices. They knew they were going to have to take less sometime but they hoped this didn't occur too soon.

A livestock man collecting stock out of Kelvington said cattle raisers were also disheartened by present payment levels. Some of them thought last year's prices were too high.

One farmer said it hadn't rained in his district for a number of weeks at one time during the growing season. How many bushels would he get to the acre? About 35, he said.

What about rural de-population the experts talk so much about?

The pioneer near Lloydminster said the towns along the line would never change much. They wouldn't grow appreciably.

The farmer near Nipawin said there wasn't much sense in a strictly grain farm, even though it might let you live in town.

His view: "A farm isn't a farm without cattle."

The farmer near Montmartre said he was living in town now. He hoped, though, to get buildings on his land and move out there. Wanted to be closer to it, he said.

A symptom of a move back to the land? Nobody could tell, but at least it was an indication the movement was not all one way.

Another indication is in the alert modern one-storey farm house with picture-window that is going up on many farms.

Major worries of the farmer today are labor and the keeping of machinery in repair for the next several weeks.

REPORT to the PEOPLE

BY ROBERT FAIR, M.P.
BATTLE RIVER

We are told that there are three important events in the life of almost every normal individual: First you are born: Second you get married. Third, you die. All along the line, while those things are taking place, there is at least one thing you cannot escape and that thing is taxes. Because so many of those taxes are in the hidden tax bracket, many people are not aware of their share on the price of the things they buy from day to day, so with this in mind I think it might be interesting to write something about taxes at this time. In my last column I attempted to show the hardship under which our farmers are and have been working that is, doing rapidly produce lots of foodstuffs without any guarantee of either a market or a price that will enable them to steer clear of bankruptcy. This is a matter of national importance because, after all, Agriculture is our Basic Industry. If crops fail or the price should hit the skids as in the depression days of the 30's, all will agree that the first group outside of the farmers, to feel the pinch will be the merchants that supply goods and services to our farming communities. Therefore, as a means of self-preservation, our merchants, Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in towns and cities should always be on the alert to see that agriculture gets a square deal. Many people feel that the farmers are very well off at the present time but when you look up statistics you will find that in 1951, the farmers who comprise more than 20% of our total population received only 9.95% of the national income. Had they received their proper share, our merchants would have been able to double their sales with very little increase in overhead outlay. This should be worthy of some consideration by those concerned and appropriate action taken without delay. Loss of purchasing power in the hands of the farmers soon causes goods to pile up on the merchants' shelves. This soon results in overstocked wholesalers warehouses, which in turn results in a reduction in production at the factory and the result unemployment all along the line. From the above, it would seem to be good business to keep all occupational groups in the country in a prosperous condition and this can be brought about only by the adoption of fiscal policies designed for that purpose.

Because of taxes levied in the past which were not sufficient to pay our way, we had at March 31, 1952 a gross national debt of $17.5 billion dollars or an average of approximately $1,225 for every man, woman and child in Canada. Quite a nice "birthday present" it is estimated by Hon. D. C. Abbott Minister of Finance, that it will cost the government 4 billion, 272 million dollars to run the country during the present fiscal year which ends on March 31st, 1953, and an amount of 9 millions in excess of that has been budgeted for. This means that an average tax of $304.80 will be levied against every individual in the country or an average of $1524 per family of 5. For the province of Alberta alone, this will mean a levy of $286,350,-205 as a contribution to the expense of running the country for one year.

Add to this the amount of tax contributed for Provincial government operation, then continue adding your municipal tax, your hospital tax, your school tax and the many other contributions that are requested in the course of a year. If you haven't got a headache by the time all those additions are made, you may continue by adding an amount equal, at least, to the total of all the foregoing, to take care of the devaluation of our dollar which is now worth about 50 cents as compared with its value in 1939, a direct result of the policy followed by the government since that time. I am sure the figures quoted above will be startling to many readers but I hope they will help to awaken in our people an inclination to right themselves the causes of our high cost of living, high rates of taxation which provide for an additional 2% since July 1st to provide pensions for the aged, and also some of the discontent that exists among many of our lower paid workers, upon whom the 10-4 structure bears especially heavy. In a recent issue of an eastern industrial magazine, it was stated that the average worker earning $50 per week, pays $17.50 a week in taxes. This is rather poor encouragement for the worker so salary and we depend to a great extent on the lower paid workers to pay our taxes.

The effect of taxation also has a great deal to do with the drastic cut in production on many of our farms. Coupled with this, of course, is the loss of markets, due mainly to the fact that the British people, in particular, cannot secure the necessary dollars with which to pay for our products and the government apparently would rather see our production cut down and our markets snatched by other countries than make the necessary arrangements to use British pounds. In 1946 we shipped more than seven hundred million pounds of Wiltshire sides to Britain, but none this year. In the Edmonton Journal of Aug. 28th last, a news item stated that Britain has concluded a contract with Denmark which provides that Britain will buy not less than 95% of Denmark's exportable surplus for the next 2 years at a starting price of $35.35 per cwt. (112 lbs.). The contract provides that the price cannot be varied by more than 10%.

Will the government tell us: Where do we go from here?

Q
At what age do most women retire?
A
Ten years earlier than men . . . usually at 55.
They also live longer. Business women, therefore, require retirement income for a much longer period of time than men. Many women find Mutual Life of Canada's pension, with their absolute safety, their steady increases in values and their long record of generous dividend payments, the best possible way of providing adequate income for the future. Discuss your problem today with a Mutual Life of Canada representative.

Miss S. N., home from Europe, writes to thank her bank for the way the accountant helped her with money arrangements:

"Mr. W. expended considerable effort to arm me with details of various European currencies and methods of procedure, enabling me, though travelling alone, to avoid much of the delay and embarrassment encountered by many experienced travellers whom I met along the way. All of which contributed in no small degree to my comfort and enjoyment."

Former Vermilion Man Married At Macomb, Ia.

Miss Minerva Ann Morrow, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roger Morrow of Macomb, Iowa, became the bride of Theodore L. Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Reid of Bigger, Sask., and formerly of Vermilion, Alberta, on the afternoon of August 23rd. Their vows were exchanged in a double ring service at 4:00 o'clock at the Presbyterian church in Macomb, the Rev. Cort ley H. Burroughs officiating.

White gladioli decorated the altar for the candlelight service, and white ribbons marked the pews. Mrs. Esther Dendaworth, organist, played "My Heart Ever Faithful" by Bach, "Because" by Godard "Serenade" by Schubert, "Poems" by Fibich, "Ich Liebe Dich" by Greig and the traditional wedding processional and recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of ivory embroidered organdy over ivory taffeta and crinoline. Her fingertip veil fell from a tiara of orange blossoms and pearls, and her pearl necklace and earrings were a gift of the groom. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white roses.

Her attendants, Patricia Ann Beaford of Peru, Neb., and Marilyn Skidmore of Mt. Pleasant, Ia., as maid of honor and bridesmaid, respectively, wore blue organdy gowns made ballerina-length, and caps and mitts also of blue organdy. Their colonial bouquets were of pink sweetheart roses.

Richard Garms of Cedar Falls, Ia., served as best man. Ushers were Dave Brown of Highland Park, Bill Stavros of Bettendorf, Ia., Glen Reid of Bigger Sask. and John Morrow of Riley, Kan. The latter two who are brothers of the groom and bride, respectively, lighted the candles preceding the ceremony.

The bride's mother wore a dress of periwinkle blue with blue-gray hat and accessories. The groom's mother wore a green summer suit with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white gladiolus.

A reception followed in the church parlors. Miss Pauline Lane of Des Moines, Ia., and Mrs. Richard Garms of Cedar Falls presided at the refreshment table. Mrs. Irving Garwood, Mrs. Fred Curtiss, and Miss Sarah Miner of Macomb assisted as hostesses. White gladioli provided a mantle decoration behind the refreshment table, which was centered by the three-tier wedding cake. A colonial bouquet of sweetheart roses topped the cake, and other sweetheart roses and fern surrounded the cake.

After the ceremony the couple left for a northern trip into Canada. The bride chose for travelling a yellow summer suit with black and white accessories. After their trip the couple will reside at 914 Emmanuel Court, Ames, Ia.

The bride is a graduate of Cornell College and is studying architecture at Ames. The groom was graduated from the University of Alberta, Edmonton, and is attending Iowa State College at Ames. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity.

News Notes From Your District Home Economist

Hello Everyone!

This is the first time I have had a chance to say this to such a large number of people. As you very likely know I am taking Miss Reed's place in Wainwright. I do hope you will write or call in any time for help with your sewing or cooking; your housework or start being a girl's club. I will be very pleased to assist you.

School Days! School Days!

That's the familiar tune this week. Then of course there's that old question "What will I pack for lunch?"

Children want something good to eat but it's up to you, the mothers to see they get the energy giving and un-necessary foods necessary for good health!

Something good to eat can mean hot soup, sandwiches (enriched) a whole wheat bread if possible) filled with meat, fish, cheese or eggs if there's no vegetable in the sandwich filling and if you have time, pack salad in a paper cup or dish every wrapped in a wet paper towel, then in waxed paper.

Milk should appear in soup or cocoa or by itself in a vacuum bottle.

Something sweet could be fruit, fresh, canned or stewed or ripe rice, rice or cornstarch pudding, baked custard. Vary things by adding cookies, plain cake, salted nuts, a candy bar or dates.

To make lunch box packing easier keep equipment in one spot (paper napkins, paper cups, waxed paper, aluminum foil, containers for salads and desserts, paper or plastic forks and spoons.

Sandwiches fruit, dessert can be prepared the night before, then stored tightly wrapped or covered, in a cool, dry place.

Remember to scrub and air the metal lunch boxes daily. Wash the thermos with a mild soda solution, scald and leave unstoppered.

Send for the free booklet on Lunch Boxes and Hot School Lunches. It gives suggestions for sandwich fillings, menus for the lunch box and recipes for beverages, soup, main dishes and desserts.

Painting Hints

Do you have some left-over painting jobs that you just have to do this fall? With ordinary household paints and a collection of familiar objects you can create unusual designs for your walls, floors, furniture and fabrics.

Kitchen floors and parts of the walls liable to get discoloured can be stippled with steel wool. Several colors can be used. The paint should be allowed to dry between colors.

For walls, horizontal and vertical lines make a plaid type of pattern when you use a cardboard tube mounted on a paint roller. Dip it evenly spaced, gives a very pretty ceiling and novelty effect.

Be sure to use a drop on paper to define the wall area to be painted next week.

For decorating furniture and fabrics, be sure to watch for my column next week.

VIRTUES OF FREE ENTERPRISE

Britain's serious economic and financial difficulties are continually in the news. Several years of policies of Socialism and Government Planning called The Welfare State) by the present Labor Socialistic Government Britain is even worse than she was when we came to her aid. She is still importing more than she exports, still spending more than her income and her financial reserves are diminishing month by month. Britain therefore has to be aided by continuing gifts from other countries across the U.S. in order that she may feed, clothe and shelter her people and so that she can build up her armaments against the threat of aggression.

For seven years Britain adopted Socialistic Planning as the cure for her troubles and to eliminate the alleged defects so that was blamed of the system of competition and free enterprise. It is interesting to note, however that Britain is about to be aided by the assistance of the United States of the wealth for long years past has been created by that country's belief in that freedom which promotes individual enterprise initiative and profits and savings all of which is usually known as Free Enterprise. Surely there is a lesson here for those who are inclined toward Socialistic practices as a cure for economic and financial troubles

Troops Getting Real Experience In Field in Big Manoeuvres

(By Jim Sherbanick, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

WAINWRIGHT, Alta.—Canada's largest army training camp looked like a ghost town recently with most of its 6,000 troops bedded down somewhere in a 140,000-acre wilderness.

Exercise Buffalo X, one of the last training ground in this and all the other prospects."

Action involved troops under Brig. Pangman and the 2nd battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry under LL-Col. Jim Stone, "enemy" leader.

A brief visit was paid the battlefield by British Maj-Gen. M. M. A. R. West, new general officer commanding the British Commonwealth division in Korea. Gen. West is en route to Korea.

Among observers at the exercise were two United States army officers and a military leader from Britain.

Brig. J. E. C. Pangman, commanding officer of the 27th Canadian infantry brigade replacement group, gave his men the order at the last major night manoeuvre—a withdrawal to a new position more than 30 miles from the camp proper.

In an interview at brigade headquarters, Brig. Pangman said: "The outstanding lesson to be learned from this kind of exercise is the realization of physical privation experienced on the battlefront.

"Living in all kinds of weather, moving only at night and a change of living quarters help to make men accustomed troops from green recruits. Wainwright army camp is an excel-

Northern B.C. Town Great Shipping Centre For Grain

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. — British Columbia may not be one of Canada's big grain-growing provinces, but this fall-shipping town in far-northeast B.C. handles more grain in a season than any primary shipping point in the three prairie provinces.

The Alberta Wheat Pool reports that Dawson Creek, in the B.C section of the Peace River Block is shipping into northern Alberta, hundred 1,671,000 bushels of grain from harvest in the 1951-52 crop year.

Dawson Creek is at the end of rail lines and is also the start for the Alaska highway. It is the shipping point for farmers over a large area, and a big quantity comes down the Alaska highway, with some grain grown 70 miles north of Dawson Creek.

VICTIM OF CHILDREN'S PLAIN FOR REALISM — A childish game with his chums in a neighbor's backyard resulted in the almost fatal hanging of 10-year-old Carmel Richmond, of Ottawa. Playing cowboys and Indians, a flavor of realism was added to the game when youngster was hanged by the neck from a clothesline standard six feet above the ground until he was unconscious and "black as coal". Only the timely intervention of a neighbor, who, having heard the children cry out that "Carmel was dead", applied artificial respiration, saved the boy from death.—Central Press Canadian.

Even Mean Horse Can Be Useful

EDMONTON. — There's one thing about horses that can't be said for humans, says Herman Linder. The really bad ones have a use.

They end up as pensioners as bucking stock in rodeos.

Linder, rodeo producer Linder of Cardston, Alta., is a man who knows all about mean horses.

He's seen in the rodeo business since 1934 when, at the age of 17, he won his top money at the Cardston stampede.

Linder says cowboy life is pretty much a gamble. Most are lucky if they make $3,000 or $4,000 a year—not counting expenses — although about 15 cowboys in the world make more than $20,000 a year and a few more win $10,000 to $20,000.

One of the luckier ones, Mr. Linder hung up his chaps and spurs in 1950 and has been ranching in Southern Alberta and judging and producing stampedes since then.

He says he got out of the breeches riding life with "nothing more" than a smashed knee and a chipped spine.

"A man is seldom killed by a horse", says Mr. Linder. "The Brahma Bulls are responsible for most rodeo deaths."

Brahma Bulls are imported from California. The bucking animals are ridden one day, then rest for four days to get back in shape.

Talking about Mr. Linder says, "It's only the mean ones that are needed."

"But they are really mean."

MONTREAL — It's an advantage to children to be "left-eyed".

That's what Lawrence Dayhaw, Professor of psychology at the University of Ottawa, said here

Speaking to Montreal's Pickerino Club, he said medical opinion is that children tend to be either left-eyed" or "right-eyed".

Because reading as we do it in from left to right left-eyed children have a better chance than the other kind of saving their sight, he said.

Ask Parliament To Consider Tax Injustice

OTTAWA —W. R. Fisher of the Income Tax Appeal Board, in a judgment made public, urged Parliament to consider at its next session an apparent injustice against parents of children born in December, the last month of the taxation year.

Mr. Fisher said he had "every sympathy" for W. G. McMurray of Toronto, who appealed his 1950 income tax assessment. But the judge said that because of the present wording of the Income Tax Act he could do nothing else but dismiss the appeal.

Mr. McMurray claimed a $400 exemption for a daughter born Dec. 25, 1950. The income tax department cut the deduction to $150 on the ground that the child was "eligible" for family allowance payment.

The appellant's complaint — and Judge Fisher agreed—was that while a child born and registered in December is "eligible" for family allowances that month, under the Family Allowance Act the actual payment is made until the following month.

Also, family allowances are paid only until the age of 16, so that parents of December-born children are allowed a deduction of only $150 a year for 2 years. Parents of children born in any month get a $150 a year deduction for 15 years and a $400 deduction in the 17th year when the child goes off the family allowance rolls.

Children Have Fun Driving Small Cars

REGINA.—Jim Ryan is a district farmer who became a success in the entertainment field down on the farm.

There's a miniature racing circuit on the Ryan farm where children begin driving four small, motor-powered cars that have independent steering.

The idea developed when he built a tiny vehicle for his seven-year-old son to drive around the farm, after the boy had outgrown his pedal car.

Now the track on the farm is a popular place on evenings and Sundays. He can look after the racing business without giving up his farm work.

Occasionally he takes the cars into the country for various celebrations. They are equipped with farm utility motors by a horsepower, and obtain a speed of about six miles an hour. They have two pedals—an accelerator and a brake.

There's a nominal fee of 10 cents a ride, but Ryan isn't fussy about it. "I like to have children around me and I enjoy seeing them have fun," he says.

Cattle Rustling Once Again Hits District In Quebec

QUEBEC. — Cattle rustling with the gusto of a Hollywood western pitted against the conveniences of modern science has again hit the Lake St. John district.

Lucien Roy, a farmer at St. Charles, awoke one morning to find seventeen of his cattle missing. He detected cows missing from his pasture. It was the same story next day for Farmer Caron of Laurierville.

Farmers near Lavai each reported losses of more than $300 in cows, heifers and sheep.

Provincial police set to search for the rustlers are a far cry from the garb and mode of Hollywood. These vigilantes wear the serviceable khaki of the Quebec Provincial Police, equipped with the latest instruments in crime detection.

The rustlers apparently use trucks to rush the cattle to forges city markets.

Says Lieut. Conard Giroux, chief of detectives:

"They wait for late August when the animals are fattened for market. We've usually been able to follow their tracks to the main highway, but they're too fast for us. The cattle usually have been sold by the time we reach the late stages of investigation."

Will Ask For More Time To Finish Highway

VICTORIA, B.C.—British Columbia can not possibly complete its portion of the Trans-Canada highway by the target date of 1956, it was reported here.

Public Works Minister A. P. Gaglardi is expected to go to Ottawa shortly to ask for an extension of the deadline.

British Columbia has barely started on its 600-mile section of the highway, which is mostly through rough terrain.

The original agreement with the federal government called for completion of the highway and at a cost of about $40,000,000.

Now the cost is estimated between $80,000,000 and $90,000,000 and the job is expected to take two or three more years than originally planned.

The route of the highway winding through country that has no connection in any other province.

The Trans-Canada section, coming from the interior to the coast cost $1,000,000 a mile in some cases.

In the Big Bend country near the Alberta border, it would cost $1,500,000 to repair a highway that would probably only be used for a short time.

Work Needed on Phone Line

We are sorry we have not had any news in the paper for several weeks, but we have been busy, as have most women, canning, and with the phone having another of its 'not working' spells. It was difficult to gather any news at all. We certainly hope that in the very near future the members of the Woodvale Mutual Telephone Co. can get together in a real co-operative effort to fix this line and not leave it to the executive and a few willing people. Only then can we get some decent service and cope with the occasional disturbances that crop up on any line.

First let us congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Harry Teasdale and the boys on the arrival of a baby girl in the family.

Belated congratulations go to Ernie Isley on a very good grade 9 exam.

Another local boy who has been very successful in his studies is Joseph Goutier, who won a $120 bursary for the highest mark in the province of Alberta for French given by the Association Canadian Francais d' Alberta. Joseph made 98% and is otherwise also a very good scholar, as he finished his grade 7 in Vegreville and is going to St. John's college, Edmonton to take grade 9, skipping grade 8. Cecile, Jeanne and Robert Goutier left for boarding school in Morinville last week.

Freddy McGrath will take his black mare and colt to Wainwright while Frankie Wolters and Bud Heidebrecht go to Killarney.

Rumors have it that the new school in Woodvale will not be finished in time for opening and the children will be temporarily taken to Watson school.

Harvest is in full swing now, but showers cause considerable delay. The prairie still looks nice and green, a thing we cannot complain having seen in our 33 summers in the parts for like time of this year. Maybe we'll get some warm, dry weather yet to harvest the big crop. Anyway the crocuses think spring is here, as we have noticed clumps of them blooming on the prairie in the last three weeks. We hope they are right and that we will have a duplicate of the same dry spring weather we had here in April and May.

During the latter half of August Bert Portsmith with his brother John and Herman and Frankie Wolters went for a fishing trip to Moose Lake and a week later he, Betty and Mr. and Mrs. Lyons and Dorothy Portsmith went therefrom to fish and pick berries.

Apparently fishing it's really not necessary to go that far away to catch jackfish Tommy and Johnny Brown caught one right in the Grizzly Bear creek near their home, brought it home alive and put it in the water by the gate and in the hope that it will thrive there all winter. Good winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sweeney, Mrs. Eunt Lyons and Walter visited her father the bride was lovely, in a floor-length traditional gown of white, styled with a lace bodice and big-pointed sleeves and net yoke. The net skirt featured a pleated ruffle set with hand painted lace inserts on the front and a chapel length train. The bridesmaid Miss Thelma Flint, cousin of the bride was becomingly attired in a floor length dress of pink, with the bodice and upper part of the skirt of lace, edged with ruffles of the net which formed the rest of the gown and draped bertha collar below a net yoke formed tiny puff sleeves. She wore a floor length picture hat of matching pink net, and matching pink gloves. She carried a Colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

The groom was attended by his brother Mr. John Llevers, and the ushers were Mr. Sweeney and Fred brother of the bride, and David Fair.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Cyril Flint, and during the signing of the register Messrs Arthur and David Fair rendered the duet "The Wedding Prayer".

The mother of the bride wore an afternoon dress of green crepe and and matching green accessories. Miss Minnie Llevers taking the place of the late Mrs. Llevers was attired in a blue crepe with touch accents of white lace and matching navy blue accessories. Both ladies wore corsages of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Prairie Chalet hotel, Lloydminster where some 65 guests sat down to the wedding supper. The bride's table was centred with a four-tiered wedding cake, flanked by vases of gladioli. Rev Fairbairn acted as master of ceremony and he proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded in a few well chosen words.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a tailored dress of moss green wool gabardine with accents of brown velvet, and wore a hat of amber colored velvet. The young couple will make their home on the groom's farm at Neerlandia.

Out-of-town guests included Mr and Mrs. Cliff Lock of Edmonton sister of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gaunt, of Edmonton Mr and Mrs. Ralph Krikke of Neerlandia Misses Alice and Gladys Krikke of Edmonton. Misses Minnie and Reeka Llevers, Mr. and Mrs. Wm Llevers of Neerlandia. Mr. Ben Llevers Sr. and Mr and Mrs S. Kiffiak of Edmonton.

Cheaper Cars for West

Automobiles are going to be cheaper in Western Canada, says The Financial Post.

To meet increasing truck competition, the CPR systems have slashed by 20% transportation rates for autos moving west-bound. As a result dealers will make savings in moving popular make cars from Ontario plants to Western cities, from $20 to Winnipeg, to $30 to Vancouver.

Almost all of this saving, it is expected, will be passed on to customers.

Mannville Local Items

Mrs. Gerard Knight (nee Eleanor Sedgwick) of Ely, Cambridge England, has returned to Mannville following an absence of 17 years. She will visit with relatives and friends here until November.

Mrs. Gordon Williams, Mrs. Les Williams and son Scott from Vermilion spent Friday last week with Mr and Mrs. Grant Hetherington on the occasion of the fifth birthday of the latter's son, Billy.

On a fishing trip last week Bryan Hasinoff caught a 12 pound Jack fish. The record for that size is 24 pounds. Bryan is the 7-year-old son of Dr. Hasinoff. Allan Mann was second with a 10 pound fish and Danny Hasinoff caught several good sized ones. After fishing all day the best Fred Proudfoot could do was catch a one pounder.

Among those from Mannville attending the wedding of Miss Geraldine Gerhardt and Mr. James Clemenger in Edmonton recently were Mr and Mrs. C. Sowden and Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gerhardt and family, Connie Gerhardt, and Mr and Mrs J. Wagner and family of Minburn. The wedding took place in the Beulah Tabernacle. Over 400 attended the reception at the I.O.O.F. hall.

Attractive Wedding Near Derwent

BOYKO—GULAYETS

The Anglo Lake Greek Catholic church was the setting for an attractive bridal recently, when Miss Elizabeth Gulayets, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Gulayets of Derwent was wedded to Mr. Nick Boyko, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Boyko of Myrnam.

Rev. Cherkawsky officiated at the ceremony.

Entering the church with her father, the bride looked lovely in a white gown of lace and net. The bodice of heavy lace featured a peplum and the bouffant skirt of net featured lace inserts. Her veil misted from a satin Juliet cap, trimmed with pearls, and she carried a bouquet of red and white roses. The bride wore a rhinestone necklace and matching earrings, a gift of the groom.

The bride-maids attending the bride were the Misses Rose Gulayets, Tillie Gulayets, Adeline Boyko and Pauline Lychak. Their ballerina-length gowns featuring crepe-less bodices with matching boleros were in the shades of mauve, blush pink, yellow and nile green, respectively. Bands of flowers completed their headdresses and they carried nosegays of pink and white carnations.

Attending the groom were Bill Boyko, Emil Gulayets, Ed Sawchuk and Nicky Chorney.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The following day a reception was held in Myrnam, at the home of the groom's parents.

The newlywed will reside in the Derwent district where Mr. Boyko will teach school

Allandale

The weather has been quite favorable for harvesting, slight frosts and light rains. The country is getting the lovely fall look with all the colored trees and last week the beautiful harvest moon.

On Aug. 23rd Mr. McBride was admitted to the Vermilion hospital for an operation. A speedy recovery is wished him from his many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Ommen and daughters Janice and Irene of New Scotgia are spending their holidays visiting the latter's relatives at the Grand Centre district.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Broadfoot of Saskatoon were visitors at the Baldock home a few weeks ago for a week end. Glen Baldock has been working with his uncle through the holidays. He accompanied them home but returned to Saskatoon with them until school opens.

Our deepest sympathy to the Cross families in the recent bereavement of the loss of their mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Baldock motored to the city last week end to visit with their daughter Beryl, son in-law and granddaughter Brenda. Sept. 8th was Brenda's first birthday. Happy birthday Brenda and may you have many more.

On Sept. 17th Allandale was very pleased to have some of the Young People from Vermilion, accompanied by Mrs. McKay, take the service. The opening of the worship was by Mr. Jackson. Scripture and responsive reading was by Mr. Jim Adam; devotional ably led by Miss Nessie Tingle. "Kindness, what comes too late", and Miss Ruth Marfleet "Things that matter most". Mr. Jackson gave the benediction. It's really grand to have these Young People take such a keen interest in church work, may it be an inspiration to more to follow in their footsteps.

Sept. 21st is our last church service for this year. It is our M. and M. service.

Closing Thought: Those who bring sunshine into the lives of others, cannot keep it from themselves.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for all the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral tributes received from our many friends and neighbors during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved husband and father, Mr. Alex Lunden

Mrs. A. Lunden and family.

Prairie Chicken Is Thoroughly Domesticated

District's Most Unusual Pet

The Machon family at Dewberry claim that a prairie chicken is about the most interesting pet they have ever had, and they prove it by pointing to the 'Chickens' in the photo above. Shown on the left is Mrs. Machon with the very tame, bird on her lap, and wherever Mrs. Machon sits down and the family pet spots her, it's up on her knee he hops. It is also a sign that he expects to be fed. On the left is son John and the chicken just walks all over him, perching at will on his knee, arms and shoulders.

The Machons have had the unusual pet for a year now, and last fall the half grown chicken flew against their car and just simply knocked himself out cold. They weren't so sure then just what variety he was, particular, pheasant or chicken as he didn't have his adult plumage. Feeding him at first was a problem too. Oddly enough he utterly disdained the things chickens are supposed to relish, such as worms and mosquitoes. Canary seed and water was his first menu, and it was on this diet that he regained his strength following his collision with the car. However able to eat around again he showed no great inclination to leave the home of his benefactors and despite the naturally shy disposition of the species, the bird rapidly became an affectionate pet and a practically inseparable companion of the family. He developed a great liking for car riding and makes week end trips with Mr. and Mrs. Machon and son John. His favorite perch is on the middle of the back of the front seat where he sits and peers at the passing scenery and traffic.

About the yard at their home the chickens follows members of the family around contentedly here and there in the garden. Once in a while waxing playful, he chases young John up and down the rows with wings spread, picking badly with his stubby legs. He even puts the run on other members of the family in the same manner.

Reverting to the wild instinct occasionally, the prairie chicken will disappear, but reverberating sound often heard coming from apparently nowhere. This proves a most interesting sight, with tail spread and erect and wings beating his body.

Returning to the matter of food the chicken is now full grown and thoroughly domesticated in his tastes. His favorite dishes are lettuce or cabbage salad to liberal use providing it is buttered, and bird seed occasionally doesn't come amiss.

This pet has a pen of his own in the yard where he spends much of his time but in the winter he is fond of the basement. He likes about the yard outside but never offers to stray away, realizing in his own way that the Machon home is a powerful haven for him.

Harvest Held Up By Wet Weather

Wet weather last week gave way to fine days on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and everything appeared to commence harvesting operations from then on. Tuesday night was too warm and rain resulted, again delaying operations. Wednesday and Thursday were cool and cloudy with no rain. The only bright spot in the weather has been the absence of any widespread or killing frost.

Francisco-Mix Nuptials

Marriage vows were exchanged recently at the Legion hall, Vermilion, Alberta, when Leta Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mix of Vermilion, was united in marriage with Mr. Bennett Ivan Francisco, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Francisco of Plaxcombe, Sask.

Rev. George Francisco, brother of the groom performed the double ring ceremony under an arch of flowers and streamers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor length gown of white satin, featuring a lace trimmed full skirt. The bodice was fashioned with lace yoke back and front complemented with a lace stand-up collar and closed at the back with tiny covered buttons from neckline to waist and long lily-point sleeves. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a net coronet with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of Cascade American Beauty roses and wore a three strand pearl choker with rhinestone trim, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. James McAuley, sister of the bride was matron of honor and was dressed in yellow nylon mar quisette with eyelet trim. She wore mauve net coronet and net mitts and carried a bouquet of mauve gladioli.

The bridesmaids, Miss Marjorie Mix, sister of the bride, and Miss Bertha Wilson, cousin of the bride, wore identical gowns of turquoise and mauve taffeta, with net yokes, full skirts and wore net mitts and coronets and matching headdress and carried yellow and pink gladioli.

Best man were Mr. Joe Brunner, Mr. LeRoy Dirkus, Mr. Ronald Allan. Ushering the guests were Mr. Ronald Mix, brother of the bride, and Mr. Gordon Treuses.

The ceremony were synced with Mrs. Gordon Treuses, sister of the bride singing "Together" and "I Jesus" and during the dedication "This is my Prayer". Miss June Francisco, sister of the groom played the wedding music.

A reception to 70 guests was held later. Rev. George Francisco was master of ceremonies and Mr. Ronald Allan proposed the toast to the bride. Mrs. Harold Noyd, cousin of the bride, sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "Saviour like a Shepherd Lead Us" and Mr. LeRoy Dirkus sang "Just a Closer Walk with Him".

Mrs. Mix chose for her daughter's wedding, a navy blue sheer over frayed taffeta, with white hat and navy accessories. Her corsage was of roses. The mother of the groom wore a black velvet dress, trimmed with white and a red velvet hat and corsage of roses.

The bride's table was centred with a three tiered wedding cake flanked with summer flowers.

For a honeymoon to Banff, the bride changed to a navy blue gabardine suit with mauve accessories and white shortas.

The young couple will be making their home at Plaxcombe, Sask., for the present before continuing their studies at Eston Bible school, Eston, Sask.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Francisco of Plaxcombe, Sask., Rev. Geo. Area Under Bang's Disease Control Extended

MEMBERS M. D. 19 NOW INCLUDED

The council of M.D. of Minburn agreed at their regular meeting last week to set up a compulsory Bang's Disease vaccination area. This means that every heifer calf in the municipality between the ages of 4 and 8 months must be vaccinated. The test and slaughter policy hasn't proven practical in badly infected areas.

Ques. 6.—Should vaccination be done in a clean herd?

Ans.—Definitely yes, to build up a Bang's resistant herd. With a resistant herd, a cattleman doesn't need to worry too much if his neighbor's herd becomes infected. He may have the odd cow short but certainly won't have an abortion storm and lose thousands of dollars in gross income.

Ques. 7. What is calfhood vaccination?

Ans.—It is the vaccination of calves with Brucella Abortus Strain 19 vaccine, giving them a good resistance against Bang's Disease so that they won't lose their calves when they mature and take their place in the breeding herd. Calfhood vaccination isn't 100% perfect, but has proven to be about 95% effective, which is very good.

Ques. 8 Does the vaccine cause the disease?

Ans. — No. The vaccine is not strong enough to cause the disease, but it is strong enough to build up a good resistance, as proven in many Alberta herds.

Ques. 9 Does vaccination interfere with breeding efficiency

Ans. No, according to a report of the U. S. Livestock Sanitary Board. Evidence in Alberta shows as good breeding records in vaccinates as in non-vaccinates. If trouble exists, call your veterinarian to check for other causes.

Ques. 10. At what age should calves be vaccinated?

Ans.—To be classified as official vaccinates, calves must be vaccinated between the first day of the ninth month and the last day of the fifth month of age. Calves can be vaccinated though, down to four months and up to 9 or 10 months in some cases where they are for herd replacements. Purebred owners should get all calves done as official vaccinates, as they can export without a test up to 22 months after vaccination when the U.S. border re-opens.

Ques. 11—Are vaccinates worth more money?

Ans.—Yes. Wise buyers are only purchasing vaccinates and they are paying $10 to $25 more. One dairyman in Alberta paid $50 extra each for several heifers because they had been vaccinated as calves.

Vaccinated stock are the only blood that should be brought as additions to infected herds.

Qs 12 — How are vaccinates identified?

Ans.—A numbered temperproof tag is put in the ear and that number is registered on the vaccination certificate that the veterinarian gives to the owner.

Ques. 13. Are there many calves vaccinated in Alberta?

Ans. About 33% of all heifer calves last year. 91,214 calves were vaccinated in Alberta in the period April 1st 1951 to March 31st 1952, compared to 6,700 in 1947 Seven municipalities are Brucel losis Restricted areas and are vaccinating every heifer calf. In a few years, the whole cattle population

Wildmere Winks

We quite agree with our Wood vale scribe we can't remember either when the grass, weeds and gardens stayed so green this time of year. The trees though are showing signs of fall with all their wonderful hues of color. Nature is a grand artist.

Quite a number attended church on Sunday evening. Next Sunday will be our last service for the season. Mr. Dewe will return to college at Vancouver. We all wish him every success in his chosen profession. After church, last Sunday Mr. Dewe, George Wilson, Billie Burns, Billie and Allen Smith gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hobe where a sing-song was enjoyed.

Monday saw most schools in our part open for the fall term. Children were pleased to go back to school after their long holiday as most of them had been confined to their homes owing to the polio ban. To most and also with their pals was something looked forward to. Mrs. Green is again teaching Tryangle where she has five new beginners, Dennie Fedden, Larry Donnelly, Betty Whitlock, Mary Gool and Norman Coughlin all starting for the first time. Mrs. Hughes at Beaver Hill has three beginners Gerald Linda Smith, Joanne Hughes and Hughie Dibbon.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Coburn of Willoughby district on the birth of a son, Murray Donald; to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leversedge of town on the birth of a daughter, Lloyd Howard was in Edmonton last week getting treatments on his arms which have been bothering him a lot lately. We all hope you soon get relief Lloyd.

Sunday Sept. 1st George Taylor and Laurence Hudson from north of town were visitors at the Wallington home. On Sunday Sept. 7th Gordon Converse of Panuka who is now working at Cold Lake was a visitor in the same house. Mr. H. Lumsden, Mr. Radnatz and another neighbor were callers last Sunday at the Wallington home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. (Bud) Locke of Lloydminster and son Jimmie spent last week at the Bud Sisler home in Innisfree.

On Thursday evening while Jimmie was out on council work, the writer had a nice visit with Mrs. Dunlop and family of Triangle. Later Jimmie, Bobby and Kenny enjoyed a tasty lunch with the jolly people. We are pleased to see Mr. Dunlop recovering so well from his serious illness. Last Friday Mr. Freddie Martin is helping him harvest this fall.

On Thursday last week Peggy Graham went up to Edmonton with Clare Stowe and Doreen. Both girls went up for an interview at the Royal Alex hospital. On their return home Friday, east of Vegreville they turned back owing to the rain and spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. A. Little. Starting out again Saturday morning they did finally get to Vermilion after 5 hours, tired, dirty and hungry. Wet weather certainly plays havoc with the roads.

"Most Tickled Man I Ever Talked With"
Says Druggist Ross

"My, but what a wonderful name of MOONEY'S EMERALD OIL is to know of and use. I'm the most tickled man I ever talked with. Ever did see the look my wife had on her face the day I brought home a bottle of MOONEY'S EMERALD OIL. I'm the most tickled man I ever talked with. He said he had tried everything and could get no relief. I suggested MOONEY'S EMERALD OIL and he was so delighted he came back to see me about it. Now he's a booster for MOONEY'S EMERALD OIL and the look on his face is my reward. Say, I've had this sensational discovery for years and I'm tickled to death to be able to tell the world about it. Why don't you get a bottle of MOONEY'S EMERALD OIL and see for yourself how good it is. You are sure to be tickled."

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY —

Real Estate Deal

Following the Parrot, Mad Scramble to Get Clients The Deal Is Closed

By R. K. KENT

FRED HANSON paid no attention to the screams coming from the white house on the barrow peak. His appointment was too important, he wasn't taking any chances of losing a listing. But the persistency of the screams beat on his consciousness. Fred grudgingly opened the gate and ran down the walk. But he pushed open the front door and stopped gingerly onto the hall carpet. The scene was peaceful enough—even a canary singing in the living room. Fred listened intently, then shrugged. He turned to retrace his steps when another scream, this time more of a squeal, came from the living room door. Fred dashed around it to the small woman wearing a funny green hat. Her lips were a pretty red, but eyes stared wildly. Fred felt sick at a feeble, "Help—"

"Say, what—" Fred turned to the gaping closet door. Cautiously he peered inside. It was filled with coats, and he took a tremendous poke at one or two. He turned to question the lady when he felt himself shoved against the coats. "Hey . . ." he yelled. But the door slammed and the key grated in the lock. "Hey . . ." he beat against the door. "Let me out, I'm sure. Hey . . . let me out ——"

He heard the phone being dialed. "For the love of mike, no lies," he felt in his coat pocket for the hundred dollars on that new listing. "Bo! Going to steal my money," What a slick knave. Now if he only had something to fish for that key. No comb, no file in his pocket, only that receipt for the money he had intended paying Mrs. Daley. He folded the long envelope and smiled it around under the door. Perspiration ran down his face and he sat down on his heels. The key had to be there, it couldn't possibly slide through the crack and fall again. Yes, he bit something but he couldn't snag it. He fanned himself with the envelope.

Fred tore a wedge out of the envelope, tore one end and used the envelope is snag the key. His fingers were shaking when he slipped it into the lock. It turned easily, and he blinked when he stepped into daylight.

Fred straightened painfully. He put one over on them that time. Maybe he could catch up with Mrs. Daley yet. Where was the check? He peered into the living room but was greeted with the same feeble call for help. He turned to spring for the door, but he eyed sigh and a soft look on his too much for his curiosity. The lady was still in there. Bruce and Mayer & Phelps 24.11.

Fred love at his hair. Her colorless face fascinated him. Why didn't she scream? Maybe just fainted. If women were always fainting. He grabbed a letter from an end table and started fanning her, his eyes intent for any flickering of her eyelashes. And he kept repeating, "Snap out of it. Come on, snap out . . ."

When he heard footsteps on the porch he remembered his danger. But this was another of her feminine tricks. He would shout for an extra escape. The window was open. He couldn't resist one rough shake of her shoulder before he made a lunge for the window.

Such legs were over the sill and the fresh air smelled like freedom, but a strong hand pulled Fred back into the room. "Where do you think you're going?" The voice was as strong as the hand.

"I . . ." Fred looked up into the face of a burly policeman who had stood at the door, and another was helping the lady to the davenport.

Fred sighed. At least he was safe now. He laughed a little embarrassed chuckle. Eyes from all parts of the room were pinning him to the wall. They made it hard to accuse such a little woman.

Terror in her eyes, she pointed to Fred and whispered, "I . . . I caught the thief at last. The fiend."

She looked appealingly at the officer. "I was getting ready to start to town for an appointment. I'd just put on my hat when that . . . that man burst in. I locked him in and phoned you."

Three square chins poked out at Fred. "Okay, bub," one of them said, "come on."

Fred stepped back. "Wait a minute. I was going past minding my own business when that . . . that woman started yelling. I didn't want to come in here. I had an important appointment. But she accused me, bold . . ."

The lady stared at Fred then she threw back her head and laughed until her little hat fell off.

When she stopped laughing, she said, "It was only two minutes I heard. My parrot always screams when I put on my hat."

"Okay, laugh this off." Fred said. "Do you go around locking people in closets when they come to rescue you? I just had a good business deal because I tried to be decent."

"Virtue is its own reward," one of the men said.

"You can't sell virtue," Fred growled.

The lady stood up. "Your engagement wasn't any more important than mine. I just lost out on an important deal too." She picked up the letter from the floor and shook it in Fred's face.

He stared. Then he sighed. "You wouldn't be the Mrs. Daley I talked to on the phone, would you?"

"I would," she smiled

He pulled the torn envelope from his pocket. "This, lady, is what is left of a receipt for the hundred dollars I'm Fred Hanson, the real estate dealer. Here, sign it in the presence of these witnesses so that I've already seen your house I'll get right out and close the deal."

Growing Demand For Small Things Now Brings The Midget Cow To The Farm

(From the Baltimore Sun)

There is a growing demand in this country for useful objects in small size. We have small fruit trees and midget automobiles. We enjoy the benefits of baby tractors, household pets and miniature room air conditioning plants. We have developed usefully large specimens for a family. We have miniature turbines and watermelons bred to fit into refrigerators.

It might be expected, therefore, by now to learn that we now have a miniature cow which is said to be ideally suited to a domestic establishment in the suburbs. The breed of cow in question is not new. It is described as a native of the Guernsey's height and 36 inches and weight of 1,250 pounds. While the Guernsey gives five gallons of milk a day, the Dexter gives only two.

One great advantage of a midget automobile is the number of miles it will go on a gallon of gas. So too the Dexter admits of appreciable savings of "feed". Where a Guernsey needs two acres of pasture and from three to four tons of supplemental hay a year, a Dexter can get along on one acre of pasture and one ton of hay.

What is more, the Dexter does not have to be fed on alfalfa and clover. It is said to have a taste for weeds, including wild grasses, thistles, nettles and even poison ivy. In fact on one farm in New York Dexters are used in place of goats to keep the weeds down as well as to give milk. We are told, further, that they do not enjoy pampering like the larger Allan, seem, a hero in Winter and protect themselves from cold with a shaggy coat of hair.

This venture or so ago the Jersey was greatly fancied both in England and in this country as a private family. w It was small and gave a limited quantity of exceptionally rich milk. In the Dexter perhaps we have an extension of the same principle to more present day needs.

Scouts Have Tense Time In Shooting Bears At Camp

WINNIPEG.—With only one round in the breech of his rifle, a young Winnipeg scoutmaster stood tensed in the bush near Lyon's Lake. Twenty paces away a 400-pound bear stood glowering over the body of his dead mate. In the surrounding bush, two more bears watched sullenly while the 22-year-old scoutmaster, Charles Hoosy and scout camp chief, Charles Griggs, 24, St. Vital, waited for a companion to return with more ammunition.

Hoosy killed all four black bears with eight shots from a borrowed .303 during that dark night in the Whiteshell forest reserve.

About 25 people from all parts of the province were attending a Silver Arrowhead course in the bush. Said Hoosy, "We knew there was a bear in the area because we had lost a 10-pound ham, some butter and jam. After a council meeting some of the boys spotted a bear stinking around.

"I snatched my rifle and loaded it with the five rounds I had."

Camp Chief Charles Griggs, 24, of St. Vital shone his flashlight into a bear about 30 paces away.

"I saw a pair of eyes glowing," says Hoosy. "I fired and missed.

"I fired again and I sounded like a hit but nothing fell down. I fired a third time and two bears fell out of the tree. We could see one bear lying on the ground but we couldn't tell what had happened to the other."

Hoosy fired again—and again he missed.

At 9 o'clock next morning Bill Martin, who was sent to West Hawk Lake for more ammunition.

The 400-pounder moved out of hiding and lumbered over to his dead companion. The two men waited.

Twenty minutes later Bill Martin saw the crashing the bush with his five more rounds of ammunition The bear took off. Hoosy hurriedly loaded up and fired

"We finally picked him up in the flashlight again and I shot him dead through the eye," Hoosy said

The dead bear all started down the tree "About ten feet from the ground I shot him through the head. The bear fell to the fourth bear lying lead a little later. It took five of us to haul them away," said Hoosy.

News Notes From Your District Home Economist

Home Storage Space

Only by providing enough storage space can a housewife hope to keep her house orderly, says Miss Carolin Judson, Home Designing Specialist, Alberta Department of Agriculture. When a family starts to plan a house ample closet and storage space should be included, but something happens, usually, before the house is completed. The closets and storage units disappear to save expenses. The family would be better off with one less room and more storage space.

Examine the house plan room by room to assure yourselves that storage space provided is adequate for present and future needs.

In the kitchen, space for linens, recipe books, picnic baskets, vases, etc. should be provided for besides that for the usual kitchen cupboard layout for utensils and food supplies. There should be a cleaning closet for vacuum, brushes, mops and cleaning supplies, perhaps in the back hall.

The bathroom should be large enough to accommodate a linen closet and medicine cabinet. Each bedroom should have a large clothes closet (at least 6 sq. ft. of storage space for each person in the room). The closet should be at least 2 ft. deep and over a hanging rod 5 ft. from the floor.

The living area, too, should be planned for storage of card tables, games, hobbies, records, musical instruments. Here, built-in units should be considered.

For Those Who Love Cheese

Here are some recipes showing variety and low cost.

Cheese and Chopped Beef Hash — 1 tablespoon margarine or butter; 1 16-oz. can corned beef hash, chopped; 1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese; 1 onion, chopped. Melt the margarine or butter in heavy skillet; add remaining ingredients. Brown slowly in skillet. Serves 4.

Cheese Marmalade Bars:

Make pastry using 1½ cups flour; ½ cup orange marmalade; 1 cup shredded cheddar cheese. Line the bottom of 9-in square pan with half of pastry, spread with marmalade, sprinkle with cheese and top with pastry. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) for 20 minutes. Cut into bars about 1x3 in. bars. Yield, 24 bars.

More Decorating Hints

Remember last week I asked you to watch my column for more decorating hints using ordinary household paints? Perhaps you find you just can't afford to spend money on some very necessary curtains or draperies this fall. Here is a quick and easy way to solve the problem.

Obtain plain inexpensive material with a smooth or glossy surface and the size desired. Some materials such as plain denim, factory cotton, sateen cotton drill, or glazed chintz will be suitable.

For fabrics a thick enamel should be used. Choose your color according to your color scheme. Experiment first on a piece of paper or better still on a piece of the fabric left over. Use a flat surface such as a table and be sure the painted areas don't come in contact with one another.

The Design: A textured design can be obtained from a dishcloth inched on a wooden block approximately 3 inches square (depending on the size of your material). Dip the block in the enamel, place on fabric and press with both hands. Print the squares side by side so you will have an "all-over pattern". On many fabrics several impressions of enamel may be necessary.

This completes the second series by the Viking club. Membership at $10. per month giving each member a chance on ten new Pontiac cars now being sold. Sincere sympathy is extended to Jack and Billie Cross on the passing of their mother.

Don't be so shortsighted if you notice in this district this year as a good crop has ripened early it will be nice to get them dry during warm weather for a change.

Deepest sympathy is extended to the Barr family on the death of a fine husband and father.

Pleasant Valley

Congratulations Daisy, your garden is very enchanting to my flower lovers eye.

The writer was very sorry to learn of the accident suffered by Junior Lawrence Jenkins.

Mrs. Gillies is away spending a few days in Edmonton.

Mrs. McClelland spent Wednesday afternoon at the writer's home. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mercer visited at Doreen's home.

Lila and Bill Waterfield visited at Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle Cash's last week. Mr. Bowser is helping Chris to build a granary. Quit your gossip for a youngster, eh Lou? We are going to miss another old timer of this district soon as Mr. and Mrs. Van den Dekker have purchased a home in Vermilion and expect to move before winter. We also hear that the Miller family plan to move to the Perkins home so there will only be a few left in this immediate district to carry on.

Our church service Sunday was fairly well attended. Our new minister the Rev. Ford introduced himself and his choir. Oh was very captivating also his singing and playing. Let us hope that the other services we have left before the snow flies will be well attended.

It is nice to see Mr. and Mrs. Hollingshead drive out to the services. Last Sunday they were supper guests at the home of the writer and their visit was enjoyed very much.

The hills and dales are certainly lovely, all the beautiful shades of autumn hues skies interwoven with clouds of blue. Autumn seems create and weave such a lovely sight — then all too soon winter creeps in at night.

Progress At Churchill

THERE ARE MANY CANADIANS who have great interest and faith in the future of that part of our country which lies close to the Arctic. The prospects for future developments there in mining, forestry, oil and agriculture are still great and there is no doubt but that it will contribute much to Canada's economy in the future. One of the greatest developments which have so far taken place in Canada's Northland is the operation of the Port of Churchill. Each year grain from the prairies is shipped overseas by this route and the facilities of this northern port are constantly being enlarged and improved.

Have Added To Safety

Radar, gyro compasses, new ice breakers and ice spotting patrols, operated by the R.C.A.F., have all added to the safety of the Hudson Bay route in recent years. In the last twenty years insurance rates for ships travelling by way of Hudson Bay have decreased by 25 per cent because of the improvement in safety factors made during that time. Last year, 7,500,000 bushels of grain were shipped by way of Churchill and it was estimated that another 2,500,000 bushels could have gone, had more ships been available. No doubt as facilities at the port improve and more safety is insured the amount of grain shipped through the port will increase.

Open Longer This Season

The shipping season through the Port of Churchill each year is now from the 22nd of July and was expected to extend to the 15th of October. While this is longer than the usual season, the period of navigation is not very unfavorable with the shipping season of seven and one half months which is the average for ports on the St. Lawrence route. However in spite of the short season and other adverse conditions, the Port of Churchill has developed and progressed for many years. There are still those who question the value of this northern port but it would seem that it has already justified the faith of those Canadians who have advocated the establishment of an inland waterway by way of Hudson Bay.

Bob Moore Of Swift Current Heads Weekly Newspapermen

Fifty-year-old Bob Moore of the Swift Current Sun, has been a newspaperman for most of his 50 years. Recently the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' association announced his election as president of that association.

Moore's father bought controlling interest in the Sun in 1909 six years after it was founded. And young Bob soon began to smear his fingers with printer's ink. Since 1933 he has been a co-publisher of the 3,500 circulation Sun, with James Greenhal and Malden Hutchinson. The paper makes the modest claim that "In Swift Current everything revolves around the Sun."

Moore was born in Manitou Man., and moved west with his parents to Moosomin, Sask. then to Swift Current. When he finished high school he worked for his father's paper as a reporter for two years, then became a journeyman printer, and went to Toronto to learn the linotype. For a while he worked on western Ontario papers, then returned to the west.

Mrs. Moore the former Anne Rodger, was accountant for the paper when she married Bob in 1926. They have one daughter, Sandra, 12.

Moore was last year's president of the local Kinsmen club; is secretary-treasurer of the United church board of trustees; junior deacon, Swift Current Lodge, A.F. and A.M. immediate past first principal, Unity chapter, Royal Arch Masons, 18th degree member, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite

Other officers are W. K. Walls of Barrie, Ont., first vice-president, and W. E. McCartney of Toronto, managing director and secretary-treasurer.

Directors include:

Manitoba, R. S. Evans, Morden; George Kraft, Selkirk. Saskatchewan A. G. Lancaster Melfort Walter Ashfield, Grenfell, John Pinchbeck, Rosetown, Alberta Fred John, Leduc K. E. G. Patrige, Camrose, Brit. Columbia: Stanley Orve, Grand Forks, Leslie E. Barber, Chilliwack.

Next year's convention will be held at Saskatoon in August.

Young Mother Killed In Freak Car Accident

PORTLAND, Idaho — A young mother of three children was strangled by the front door of her automobile as it was accidentally backed out of a garage by a neighbor's driveway.

The body of Mrs. James Schultz, 25, was found about three hours after the accident. Her head was inside the car, her neck caught between the door and the frame.

The coroner said it happened like this:

Mrs. Schultz was to pick up three friends at a neighbor's house for a lodge meeting at 8 p.m. She apparently was late and the three women left without her.

She drove into the sloping driveway and got out. The car began to roll backward and she reached inside to put on the brake. Before she could do so, the car rolled against a telephone pole and jammed the door tight against her neck.

Midget Deer

A tiny deer, a week old and only six inches tall, nuzzles the face of veterinarian Glen G. Crosbie at the San Diego, Calif., zoo. The fawn is a Chinese Muntjac deer and even when it is fully grown will stand no higher than 19 inches.

Funny and Otherwise

The train had stopped, and refused to budge.

"I think we should get on better if we got off," said the passenger to his neighbor.

So they alighted and walked on. Two minutes later the train passed them.

"Well," said the one who made the suggestion, "I thought we should get on better if we got off, but we should have been better off if we had stayed on."

BRAN MUFFINS

Astonishingly delicious and light for a muffin of this type—sweetened, but not much so to be good with a salad. Serve hot—they're truly good.

1 cup once-sifted pastry flour or ¾ cup once-sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup fine granulated sugar
1 cup natural bran
1 egg, well beaten
½ cup milk
½ teaspoon vanilla
3 tablespoons butter or Blue Bonnet Margarine, melted

Grease ten 2½-inch muffin pans. Preheat oven to 400 deg. F. (hot.)

Mix and sift once, then sift into a bowl, the flour, Magic Baking Powder, salt and sugar; mix in bran.

Combine well-beaten egg, milk, vanilla and melted butter or margarine.

Make a well in the flour mixture and add liquids; combine lightly.

Two-thirds fill prepared muffin pans with batter.

Bake in preheated oven about 30 minutes.

Yield: 10 muffins.

Manitoba Game Area To Protect Beach Site

WINNIPEG — A new small game preserve surrounding the village of Delta at the southern tip of Lake Manitoba has been established, Resources Minister J. S. McDiarmid announced.

The new preserve, only 3½ square miles in area, has been established for the dual purpose of public safety in the vicinity of Delta beach and to provide "much needed protection," for tame waterfowl entering and leaving the area of the Delta waterfowl research station, he said.

HOUSE MOVING TO ORDER

British Factory-Built Houses May Be Erected In The West

LONDON. — A British factory-built three-bedroom house designed for the Canadian market was erected on a site at Lincoln in eight hours and 10 minutes recently. R. A. McMullen, agent-general for Alberta, one of several Canadian officials in attendance, said that the home was "ideally suited to the needs of rapidly expanding communities in Alberta and Western Canada."

The home, of timber construction, has glass fibre insulation and special storm-sash window fittings designed for the Canadian climate.

The cost of the house laid down in Canada would be roughly $4,180. Erected and fitted, the cost would be about $7,000.

Mr. McMullen said that he would recommend it to his department in Edmonton, and they in turn might recommend it to oil companies or pairo-chemical concerns expanding in the province and needing housing for employees.

He suggested that B.C. with developments in the interior, and Saskatchewan might also find it suitable for housing in areas where an influx of population was expected.

Although Britain itself is short of housing, the three-bedroom home is designed for export only as an attraction for dollar markets. It will not take materials away from domestic housing projects.

The design of the home put up in the demonstration is one of 35 specially-designed for Canada. The units can be crated here and shipped abroad for rapid assembly.

Farmers Using Scaring Devices To Foil Ducks

REGINA.—Several farmers in the Kindersley area of Saskatchewan have come up with new ideas in scaring devices to keep ducks from damaging their swathed grain. Canadian wildlife service biologists of the federal department of resources and development, working in this area report that some of these ideas appear to have merit and farmers themselves feel that they have been effective under conditions encountered this year.

One farmer simply strung fire or six tin cans on a wire between two posts. In each he put several pebbles. This device was put in the fields and the action of the wind on the cans caused them to dance about with almost continuous action. The noises of the pebbles bouncing in the tins added to the effectiveness of this creation.

Another innovation used by a farmer near Marengo was a replacement of a scarecrow created by federal wildlife biologists. This type scarecrow uses flashing squares of tin or aluminum suspended by wire and swivels from crossed two by four lumber for its effect. This device was found to be too heavy and the swivels would get out quickly in a continuous winds. Improving with material he had on hand this farmer made his device of light strips of thick lumber and suspended pieces of short roofing, eight inches square from each arm of the crossed wood with three loops of heavy wire. Three wire loops provided almost the same action as swivels and were almost indestructible. In that the crossed arms could be lowered for easy carrying from field to field he made them in two pieces and bolted them to the stake.

Using this device in fields that had suffered heavily from feeding ducks last year this farmer has to date suffered no appreciable damage. He said that the flashes from the tin-can pieces of color rotating could be easily seen by moonlight.

Clandonald News Reflects Thriving Community

With so much unseasonable weather during the past few weeks it would seem reasonable to suppose that we will eventually get a spell of fine weather sufficiently long to make it possible for the completion of harvesting operations. One redeeming feature of the weather is the fact that so far as the writer knows there has not been a damaging frost which is most fortunate as many crops are very late owing to the poor germination due to dry weather until June 10th. Light frosts in the low spots have been noticed on several occasions but so far most of the tender garden stuff is unharmed.

TWO DISTRICT WEDDINGS

Congratulations and best wishes for future happiness to the two young couples of the district whose wedding took place recently.

DOROTHY—LOUK

Johnny Louk's home has been spent practically all of his life to date in this district was married on Saturday in Edmonton to Irene Locke of the Ashmont district. The young couple are making their home in Clandonald where Johnny is employed by the Beaver Lumber and Hardware Co.

On Wednesday evening a large crowd of friends gathered in the Orange hall to honor the newlyweds. Following a few hours dance during which lunch was served following which Mr. and Mrs. Forsyth were the recipients of many lovely and useful gifts.

CLARK—WATERBURY

On Friday Sept. 12th Stella Waterburn whose home for years was in the Landonville district became the bride of Jerry Glass. The same evening a large crowd were guests at a dance in the Columbus hall in honor of the newlyweds.

Deepest Sympathy is Extended

Deepest sympathy is extended to several families of the district who have been bereaved by the loss of loved ones during the past month. Among those who have lost near relatives are Mrs. Ern Smith were the latter's fathers recently. First stop of their journey was at Calgary where a son Roy has his home. Roy Jasper is very well known in these parts, having homesteaded several miles northeast of town in the early days. For many years he operated a large threshing outfit and later did considerable brush breaking and brush cutting when the power outfits first came into general use. Always known for his kindly disposition and ever ready to lend a hand to anyone in need. His passing leaves another vacancy in the rapidly dwindling band of pioneers who did so much to develop this country shortly after the turn of the century.

The writer is indeed glad to be able to report that the second of our young people who entered the sun last fall with symptoms of T.B. is now back home greatly improved in health. Winnie Conroy eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Conroy is back following an absence of nearly a year, all of which was spent in sanitariums in Edmonton. When one considers the almost certain fate that would have been in store for both Winnie Conroy and Tommy Stockwell it makes us very thankful that we live in an age when facilities and medical services are available to cope with such diseases.

Old Timers Visit

The writer was very pleased and quite surprised recently to see two old timers who have been absent from the district for several years as they now make their home in Victoria. They were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Semple who were visiting in the district for several days last week.

Other visitors of recent date were Mr. and Mrs. Ray LeJeune who were spending a few days here visiting old friends and staying with Mrs. LeJeune's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Stanley. Mr. and Mrs. Al Fabro, better known as Ray and Ivy, came from a southern Alberta town where Ray is a C.P.R. station operator.

Another visitor from the south who makes his home in Calgary was Tom Forsyth who in company with a friend motored from that city and spent a few days visiting with his brother Johnny and his grandmother Mrs. S. Filgate. Most of the visitors have been taking advantage of the duck season to do a bit of hunting.

Residents for many years about half way between Clandonald and Dewberry where they carried on farming operations but now making their home at Salmon Arm, B.C. Mr. and Mrs. Ern Smith were disappointed in the crops recently. First stop of their journey was at Calgary where a son Roy has his home. Roy Jasper is very well known in these parts, having homesteaded several miles northeast of town in the early days. For many years he operated a large threshing outfit and later did considerable brush breaking and brush cutting when the power outfits first came into general use. Letters to the Editor

This paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.

R. R. 3, Vermilion,
Sept. 13, 1952.

The Editor,
Vermilion Standard.

Dear Sir:

Just a few comments on reading the current issue of the Standard with your kind permission. I notice where the Searle Grain Company's "World of Wheat" column takes a crack at the British Socialists blaming the three years of Labor government for all the ills of the United Kingdom and on the other hand extolling the virtue of free enterprise. Reading further in the Standard in Mr. Fair's column that our Government of Canada is in debt to the tune of $12253.00 for every man, woman and child must prove that our own country has been living beyond its means also. Taxation is not so bad if it is levied to supply needed services governments have to raise money by taxation, but if it is levied to pay interest on debt, then is bad Mr. Fair says further in his very interesting article, that the farmers, enjoying more than 20% of the population receive only 9.3% of the national income. Somebody should inform the Edmonton Journal about this (or their article of "Farmers on a Feather Bed"). How can the farmers' share of the income become be remedied" Only by organization I believe Farmers should support their organization should join like men, and not wait to be asked. In this way we are receiving their proper share of the National Income for the farmers would increase easily. If the farmers received more, somebody else would receive less and the total in value would be the same. That is the point who is willing to take less and who has been receiving more than their fair share of the national income? Lots of influential people believe that the farmer has been getting too much and would like to see the price on all our products reduced.

All this in a free enterprise country, where according to Mr. Fair the average worker gets $5 per week and pays $17.30 in taxes. In this country it is the well organized that have the advantage and leave the unorganized in the lurch.

Yours truly,
H. W.

EDUCATION COSTS

There can be no hard and fast rule for costs in education. That's the consensus of replies to a Financial Post question.

"Eliminate the frills" is suggested most often, but against that are the recommendations that nothing should be done to lower in any way our standards of education.

"We have probably been too shortsighted in the salary levels for our teachers and too generous with buildings and equipment," comments one Ontario businessman.

Elks Lodge Farewells Don Logan

Following the regular lodge meeting on Tuesday evening, Sept. 9th, about 10 members of the local Elks honored Bro. Don Logan at a farewell party. Don has been a very active and useful member and is a past exalted ruler and a past District Deputy. The brother Elks were sorry to see him leave Vermilion but wished him the best of success in his new location of Edmonton. Don was the recipient of a beautiful Elks ring from the Lodge. He felt deeply the regard shown him by the members and the fact that he would be away from the Vermilion lodge after so many years in constant touch with it.

The district good wishes of the Elks and the Royal Purple are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Logan.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. L.H. Beckett entertained at a largely attended shower in honor of Miss Simonsen. The array of beautiful and useful gifts was presented by little 5-yea old Yvonne Pocket who made a very pretty diminutive bride. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

The Lesby Family

Plaque From England Presented To Birch Creek W. I.

MANNVILLE. The September meeting of the Birch Creek W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Fred McFadden with 17 members and 2 visitors present.

One very popular guest was Mrs. Gerald Knight (nee Eleanor Sibley) from the Witcham W.I., England, who presented the Birch Creek W.I. with a beautiful plaque with a raised picture of Ely Cathedral on it from the members of her W.I. group. She then gave a talk on W.I. work in England and told of attending a conference at Royal Albert hall where 9000 other delegates of the Federated Women's had assembled. Her talk was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

On behalf of the local W.I., Mrs. Russell Witham presented Mrs. Knight with a corsage and Mrs. Rutherford presented her with a gift with the compliments of Birch Creek W.I.

It was decided a home cooking sale will be held Sept. 20th.

Birch Creek paid their share to the W.I. scholarship fund. The meeting closed in the usual manner and the hostesses Mrs. McFadden and Mrs. J. Finlay served a delicious lunch.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ally Colburn.

WEDDING BELLS

NICKERSON—LANG

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the First United church, Vermilion, when Marion Lorraine Lang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Lang of Vermilion, became the bride of Gordon Foster Nickerson, formerly of Nova Scotia, now stationed at the Wainwright Militia camp, serving with the Royal Canadian Army Pay Corps, son of Mrs. Norman Ratcliff of Hagensborg, B. C.

Rev. C. W. MacKay officiated.

The bride looked lovely in a suit of green gabardine with white hat and matching accessories. Her corsage was of white gladioli.

Attending the bride was Miss Evelyn Hillmer, cousin of the bride, who wore a suit of wine gabardine with blue hat and matching accessories. Her corsage was made of mauve gladioli.

Cpl. Gene Field, of the R.C.A. Pay Corps, served as Mr. Nickerson's Military camp, was best man.

During the signing of the register Miss Beatrice Hillmer, cousin of the bride, sang "I'll Walk Beside You", accompanied by Mrs. John Hillcox on the piano.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, which was decorated with vases of mixed flowers, for about 35 relatives and friends. The bride's mother received the guests in a two-piece ensemble of navy blue crepe with short sleeves and white shirt and matching hat and wedding shoes. Her corsage was of pink gladioli.

The bride's table was set with an ivory lace cloth centred with a three tiered wedding cake. Mr. Lowell McIntosh proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom fittingly responded.

Following the reception, amid showers of confetti the happy couple left for a honeymoon trip to Edmonton.

Pte. Gordon Nickerson and Cpl. Gene Field were both dressed in their military uniforms for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Nickerson, after a few weeks will be making their home in Edmonton.

We hope that nobody was too worried Tuesday night, when smoke arising around the bank. It was just clean up night in the club room.

After the dust settled the meeting was somewhat tame with more new president (very impressive) in the chair. Ten members were present (one slightly late —Pte. R.C.).

Doc McCormick aided by Merle and Vivian make up the new initiation committee.

Our next meeting is Tuesday night at 8:00 sharp. Those arriving late or leaving before the end of the meeting will be marked absent.

Barbara and Celia don't forget checking Saturday night.

We hope that you will attend our annual Harvest ball to be held Oct. 31st. We will do our best to see that you have a good time.

Tuesday Night Bridge and Tea

Vol. XLIV. No. 12. Vermilion, Alberta, Thursday, September 25th, 1952. $2.00 per Year

Health Unit Receives $15,000 Grant From Federal Govt.

OTTAWA.—The federal government has allocated $15,000 from its health grants to help set up a new rural health unit in the Minburn-Vermilion district of Alberta, the minister of National Health and Welfare, Hon. Paul Martin has just announced.

Award of seven public health nurseships to residents of Alberta and Saskatchewan was made public at the same time.

The new health unit, Mr. Martin said, has a population of 3,304 sq. miles and serves about 21,000 people. It is staffed by a medical officer of health, three public health nurses, a sanitary inspector, a stenotechnician and a part-time secretary-treasurer. The unit's main centre is at Vermilion, with sub-offices at Innisfree and Lacombe. It will be responsible for a general public health service, including organization of immunization programs against contagious diseases, development of maternal and welfare clinics, and inspection of milk, water and food supplies to ensure their purity and safety.

This type of basic health service is performed in Canada only wherever it has been set up, Mr. Martin said, and the federal government is glad to be able to assist in extending it to another section of the country.

The federal grant meets 40% of the cost of equipping and operating the new unit. The remaining 60% is provided by the communities within the area.

Every Alberta resident receiving a nursery is J. W. Carmichael of Edmonton.

The people of the parish and of Vermilion generally have watched for several months the re-building of the church. Home Economics And Shop Work For Jr. High School at V.S.A.

Through an arrangement with the Vermilion School Division the necessary Shop and Home Economics laboratories are being put to good use this fall. Boys attending Grades 7, 8 and 9 in Vermilion are having classes in "General Shop" at the V.S.A. for two half days per week. Instruction in this work is being given by Mr. Polk. At the present time Miss G. Sinclair is teaching Home Economics to the girls. This arrangement will be in effect until the new classes open for the school of agriculture. Then when the regular term starts a new spring similar classes will be given for Grade 10 pupils.

The arrangement is only on a trial basis for this year but is proving very popular with the pupils and it is encouraging to see good use being made of these facilities at a time when they would otherwise be unoccupied.

$200.00 Grant Instead Of $2,000.00

The grant made to the I.O.D.E. by the town council for the purchase of books for the new library was $200. and not $2000 as appeared in the council meeting minutes last week $2000 was the figure appearing in the copy of minutes submitted for publication. Death of John T. Fyfe At Islay

One of the most widely known and esteemed citizens of this area of the province, John Thomas Fyfe, passed away at the family home at Islay late Monday evening, following a short illness. He was 74 years of age. For forty-two and one-half years he served as postmaster at Islay and during that time he became well and favorably known by a very wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

Mr. Fyfe came west 45 years ago from Exeter, Ontario, settling at Islay in 1907. From that year until 1948 he served as postmaster when he voluntarily retired but he and Mrs. Fyfe continued to make their home in the village. Just this fall they moved out to the farm home of their daughter Mrs. Chas. Robertson and family, a short distance west of Islay.

Mr. Fyfe was an adherent of the United church. He was a faithful member of the lodges of the Masonic Order, including Vermilion Lodge A.F. & A.M., the Royal Arch Masons, and the Order of the Eastern Star.

He is survived by his sorrowing widow and one daughter, Mrs. Chas. Robertson of Islay. There are two grandchildren. Four brothers and six sisters reside in Eastern Canada.

Funeral services are being held under Masonic auspices at the Islay United church on Thursday afternoon Sept. 25th at 2:00 o'clock. Interment will follow at the Islay cemetery. The Rev. C. K. Vogel will conduct the services.

Drilling Returns To Borradaile Field

DST PROGRAM PLANNED BY PRELIMINARY RESULTS SATISFACTORY

At one time the second largest oil producing field in Canada, the Borradaile area is seeing a resumption of drilling The Armena Drilling Co. moved on to location last Friday, and Wednesday were spudding in their first well. The location is approximately 7 miles east and a half mile south of Vermilion. This is just to the east of the present oil wells, on a section on which little drilling was done.

Apparently there is quite a demand for fuel oil as the use of oil burning units continues to increase generally. The washed or cleaned oil as supplied by the cleaning plant at Lea Park is considered to be superior to burner fuel, as the Borradaile product contains all the necessary ingredients. Results of the drilling are being watched with much interest

New Gas Turbine For Vermilion Power Plant

DOUBLE GENERATING CAPACITY

A statement given to the Financial Post by H. M. Hill, manager of Canadian Utilities Ltd., says that a gas turbine has been ordered for the Vermilion plant of that company. Delivery of the turbine is scheduled for 1954 and when in operation will double the generating capacity of the plant here

The company has recently completed a 69000 volt line from Vermilion to take care of the load at the airport being built at Cold Lake by the Dominion Government for air force training and experimental work. Location of the air station in this part of the province will mean quite an influx of civilian populations and the company is making plans to take care of the demands from this source, which the officials think, will be equal to the demands from the air port itself.

Farm electrification is proceeding satisfactorily, with the irrenedical crop which will be harvested this year, the company expects record demand for farm power. Mr. Hill says.

HELP THE BLIND—

The I.O.D.E. stated that in achieving victory over blindness, many thousands of Canadians have been assisted by the guidance and service of the C.N.I.B. and that 530 blind people in Northern Alberta were continuing to look to this organization for services which are available to them from no other source. They appeal for generous support of the current campaign, pointing out that this is the best way of assisting blind people and of insuring the continued operation and growth of the only organization which is actively concerned with their welfare.

Good Neighbors

Head, Heart, Hands and Health—these are the qualities implied by the title 4-H now assumed by the former Junior Clubs of Canada. There is much in a name, and we in this country have learned to associate the term "Junior Clubs" with an alert and progressive farm young people.

It is felt, however, that the time has arrived for the common ideals and interesting neighborliness of farm youth groups of many countries to be recognized and commended by the use of a common title. That is why the Canadian Council of Boys and Girls clubs (now the Canadian Council of 4-H Clubs) decided to adopt the name used by farm young people's groups of the United States and several other countries.

Here is the 4-H club pledge: "I pledge my Head to clearer thinking, my Heart to greater loyalty, my Hands to larger service, and my Health to better living, for my club, my community and my country." With 4-H members everywhere aspiring to these ideals, their spirit of friendship and influence for good can well prove effective within and beyond the national sphere.

Warm, Dry Weather Harvest in Full Swing

Beautiful, warm bright summery weather has prevailed since last Friday with the result that harvest is now in full swing. Cutting is practically completed and combining started in many instances. On three successive days since last publication the high temperature has been in the 80's.

Claymore Clippings

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Gerrie accompanied by Miss Alice Zelander and Gordon Elder of Edmonton spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. MacMillan.

It is pleasing to learn that J. Horne is feeling much better after being quite ill for several days last week.

Mrs. J. MacCurdy and infant daughter left early last week for Ottawa where she will spend a few weeks visiting her parents and relatives.

Cutting of grain is practically completed in this neighborhood and if the present dry weather continues threshing and combining will soon be in full swing.

Miss Margaret MacMillan was home over the week end. She returned to her school in Minburn Sunday evening.

Mrs. Laurena Harrison of Staplehurst was in Clayamore last Friday and Saturday and called on a few friends while here.

New pupils starting school in our district this fall are Frankie McCauley and Russell Willes. There are 25 pupils going into Mannville by the Clayamore bus this term.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Van Nest and Jim Howe were baking in Vally Lake two weeks ago and had a batch of 49 good sized fish. One weighed over 5 pounds.

The road south from the Clays more school is under repair. The road east from Willes' corner is being graded and straightened to the hill. The hill also has been cut down. As this is the school bus route it will mean a big improvement for winter driving.

Philip Thompson from Stanville, Que. is helping with the harvest on the Robert MacMillan farm.

Car, Truck Crash On North Hill

NARROW ESCAPE FROM SERIOUS INJURY

What could easily have been a more serious accident happened on the north river hill road on Friday last shortly before 6:00 p.m. when a car owned and driven by John Rosychuk of Elk Point, coming into town, collided with a loaded gravel truck owned by Chas. Farkasn and driven by Alf Beecroft.

It is alleged that Rosychuk was travelling at a high rate of speed and that after making the first turn at the top of the hill the car swung far out onto the wrong side of the road and crashed into the side of the box of the gravel truck. The truck was proceeding north.

The estimated damage to the car was $750 and to the truck $1000. All car passengers received cuts and bruises and one, Wm. Lindquist, has a broken leg. Other passengers in the car were Jack Olsen and Eugene McDonald.

There are four warning signs at the approach to the top of the hill. The car driver, Mr. Rosychuk has been charged with dangerous driving and appears before Magistrate Kaiser in Police Court this Thursday afternoon.

It is reported that Lindberg was driving through a school zone just a few minutes after 4:00 o'clock at a faster speed than he should have been. He collided with a school bus driven by Wilfred Little as it pulled away from the school into the intersection. No one was injured but both car and bus were damaged.

Don't forget, new members — do not arrive until 8:30 next Tuesday night. But before we will do our best to have a warm welcome ready for you. Oh yes, don't forget your umbrella.

"I put away my hard-earned money"

This young bank depositor recently wrote to his bank manager:

"I made a goal of $1,000 for this year. It is two years since I opened the account with two dollars. I owe thanks to you that I put away my hard-earned money where it will benefit me . . . I do not wish to touch it for the time being."

Building up a bank account means work and sacrifice. But Canadians know the value of having savings handy in time of opportunity or need: they maintain 7½ million savings accounts in the chartered banks—almost twice as many as ten years ago. At the same time bank staffs have almost doubled. That, and higher wages, have increased bank payrolls almost three times.

More people use the banks, more people work for the banks than ever before.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY —

THE BRIDGE

The Bridegroom Was Late Arriving . . . Strong Affection for Ex Indicated By Her Quick Wit That Succeeds He Said.

* * *

By R. G. HANLEY

THOSE double chain of lights, divided by darkness, seem London Bridge.

"Interesting bridge that. Gentlemen," her host said. "In its day, pretty cross-section of our life has passed over it. It treats both wealth and poverty, life and death with equal indifference. I have a deep affection for it. Indirectly because of it I owe what little success I've had."

We murmured in reply to his modesty.

One by one we took our seats. The Inspector relaxed back into the well-worn leather chair. The light from the fireplace restlessly painted the panelled walls.

"I've always lived in sight of it and some forty odd years ago it definitely altered my life. At that time I was hardly a respected member of society. I was pretty useless. It's strange how fate steps in and changes things.

"One warm July night, finding sleep unobtainable, I dressed and strolled casually across the bridge. The usual people were there—chestnut sellers, a couple of prostitutes hastily as they staggered on arm in arm.

"Half way over, in a niche formed by a buttress of masonry, I noticed a young woman leaning over the rail. A respectably dressed young woman doesn't belong there at two o'clock.

A mere whistle, I thought, but much anyone can do though. If I stop her one will have to think of some other method or find some more convenient place. Still, I felt I just had to try. Since that night I've vestigated a great many such cases and usually my intuitions of that night have proven correct.

"I crossed the street and approached quietly. I was told me her object to notice me. 'Good evening, Miss,' I broke in. She started, and as she turned towards me and the light, I saw her soft brown hair and the beauty of her face marred by tears on her grief.

"Her grief is interesting at night, isn't it? A great place for lovers and potential suicides. She noticed the cynical reflection in my careful placed on the word lovers.

"She started to protest my interference in her affairs. 'Oh, no, Miss, I don't mean you, I was referring to myself,' I said, cutting her short.

"I thought then that I could feel all the warmth and sympathy in her touch and to me. 'It's silly of me, Mum, to be talking to you, but I guess a little time doesn't matter now I've made up my mind. I always had another spot or another method. There are so many exits.'

"She remained silent, hearing me out, and I was sure she was forming arguments in her mind to stop me. 'You see, Miss, I've had everything that was near and dear to me.' My son, whom I adored, died of the flu this spring; and then my wife ran away. Since then I've lost my job and this coming Monday I must pay the rent. I owe my lodgings. I'm not a coward but there seems no reason to go on.'

"Gentlemen, I realized then that the acting world had lost something when I hadn't joined it; but as I looked at her with my tale of certain truths emerged and I realized how much I myself was to this unfortunate bridge. Only the wife and son were imagination.

"The log in the fireplace broke with a shower of light and I saw the Inspector's rugged face. The light glinted on his iron grey hair.

"She spoke for the first time when I had finished and her light, but to my life was something I shall never forget, used the very arguments that I knew would fail I had used on them on her.

"Instinctively we started to walk and with the innocence of a child she linked her arm in mine. One more memory of a night I shall never forget.

"We walked without purpose until we saw an all-night restaurant. Inside she told me her name was Elsie Chalmers and that she had no one in the world except a maiden aunt in Bristol, England. Somewhere she was a governess. Then she confessed to me she had come like myself to the bridge to throw herself over. 'You see, Mr. Clements,' she said, 'my life was turned upside down in an hour. I loved my employer's son, my duties were easy and my life secure and endowed. One day, about a month ago, my employer's wife flew into a jealous rage. She accused me of flirting with her husband. I denied it and later so did he, but it never ceased to be. She insisted that he give me no references and it's hard to get a job without them. After hearing all you have been through, Mr. Clements, I feel like a double coward. My troubles are so small by comparison.'

"We walked back across the bridge. Before I left her at her room she begged me not to do anything until I saw her again. We arranged to meet the next day.

"The next morning was the turning point for me. I applied for a position at Scotland Yard. Although it would take time they gave me some encouragement and I knew I would make it. My useless existence was behind me. I thought about Miss Elsie Chalmers never again visited the bridge for that purpose.

"My life shifted in our chairs. "How do you know?" I asked.

The Inspector hesitated and the door opened admitting a little white-haired lady carrying a plate of sandwiches. She smiled at the Inspector and I could see she had once been very beautiful.

"Gentlemen," said the Inspector, "this is Elsie, my wife."

Fisherman's Wife Has Hair-Raising Experience With Bear

WINNIPEG —What would you do if you were a woman alone at night with a drunk bear in your house and you hadn't fired a gun in 30 years? Mrs. Jake Skibinski, whose husband is a commercial fisherman on Selme bay at the eastern end of Rainy Lake, Ont., 200 miles east of Winnipeg, had to figure that one out.

The lone woman had a hair-raising experience, but finally succeeded in killing the unwanted guest with the fourth shot from her husband's rifle.

The story was related at Fort Frances by Mr. Skibinski, who said he left his wife alone at their fishing camp for five days while he visited Chicago on business. On his return, he found Mrs. Skibinski in a state of shock after an adventure which lasted the full five days.

Mr Skibinski had shot a 600-pound-plus bear earlier but could not find the proud marauder he knew was around. When he left, he advised his wife to poison the animal with wood alcohol if it bothered her. Mrs. Skibinski was unfamiliar with either the 30-30 rifle or shotgun owned by her husband.

When the bear, a young one weighing an estimated 200 pounds came into her yard Mrs. Skibinski asked him food to keep him away from the house But the more food he was given, the bolder he became, until finally he was sitting on the doorstep.

Game Bird Season

WINNIPEG. — Upland game bird season for the whole of Manitoba begins Oct 1 and ends Oct. 31, says J. S. McDiarmid, minister of mines and natural resources, announced. Regulations prohibit hunting of migratory waterfowl on the lake itself and in the marshes surrounding it. To ensure observance of this no one is allowed to possess a firearm in the lake or marshes or within 100 yards of the shoreline at any time during the open season for the hunting of migratory fowl.

Drowning Toll Down

REGINA Drowning fatalities in Saskatchewan this year to Sept 12 totalled 33, a decrease of three from the same period in 1951, provincial headquarters of the Red Cross reported. The highest drowning toll in the last six years occurred in 1947 when 56 persons lost their lives In 1951, the total was 36.

Do You Know That . . .

The largest passenger vessel ever to be operated on a body of water in the Canadian Northland pre-war, Mackenzie River steamer Mackenzie King, was built in 1922 at Waterford, Ont., by the Canadian Government Railways, and was named after the then Prime Minister. Do you find you still have a large quantity of green tomatoes that won't possibly ripen before a frost? Even if they have been caught by the first light frost they can be used.

'Mature greens' (those about to turn color and others with a white spot around the blossom end, will ripen at cool temperatures, 55 to 70° F. in either sunlight or shade. Spread them out in the attic, or in the porch if not too cold. Or line them up on the window sill if the room is not too warm.

'Immature' green tomatoes won't ripen and are likely to rot if kept too long. It is best to use these as soon after picking as possible. While not as rich in Vitamin C as when ripe, green tomatoes are still considered a valuable source of Vitamin C.

Ways to Use Green Tomatoes

Fry or boil them by cutting in ½ inch slices, dip in beaten egg, then flour or bread crumbs and cook until tender and brown. Sprinkle with grated cheese if desired.

Simmer and mill with other vegetables to meat stew.

Stuff green tomatoes with burned beef or other leftovers with cheese and bake or scallop alternating layers of tomatoes and bread crumbs and top with grated cheese.

Other ways in which green tomatoes may be used are in green tomato marmalade, green tomato mincemeat, mincemeat cookies and mincemeat fruit cake, filled green tomatoes, green tomato relish and tomato apple butter.

Send for free recipe sheets 'Green Tomato Recipes'.

Clandonald News

Boom in Home Construction

Quite a boom in home construction has been taking place in Clandonald during the past summer. Ernie Stanley started first when he moved the former Cole residence from the farm about 3 miles out of town onto the site formerly occupied by one of the lumber companies for their manager.

Mrs. Sutherland Sr. who has been living in Vermilion for several years has had a small residence built not far from the Catholic church and expects to occupy it within the next few months.

Tommy Stockwell purchased a small house from Ted Clark and moved it onto a lot just south of Gus Garnier's house.

Mr. Fred Douglas, retired school teacher, is constructing a fine new residence with full basement, next Mrs. Wilkinson's house. The Douglas's have been living in the former Curry house but had to vacate as is the present owners, Beaver Lumber Co., needed it for their new manager Phil Zeff who is in charge of the lumber end of the business and has moved into town with his wife and family.

Work on Separate School

The new Separate high school is not yet completed so school carries on as previously for the time being. When finished it will be a very fine building, modern in every way.

Congratulations to Eugene Matis for his outstanding achievements this year, winning two very valuable scholarships. Eugene has taken all of his high schooling here and his future progress will be watched with great interest.

Sister Alphonse Leaves

A teacher here for many years, Sister Alphonse left for the east recently and former pupils feel that the old school will not be the same without her.

Miss Mavis Brake whose home is here and who took all of her schooling in town, is the new teacher for the junior room at the public school. Mrs. Ed Barclay who taught for several years, has resigned due to ill health. Mr. Tony Convey continues in charge of the senior room.

Rev. R. Cathcart left for Toronto early this week where he is attending a college reunion. Rev. Cathcart and family may be leaving this point shortly and this would be much regretted as the whole family have endeared themselves greatly to all who have worked with them during the past three years.

Denny Good has been learning the grain handling business at Hugh Logan's elevator during the past few months and is now working at Two Hills.

New Postmaster Appointed

John McMorrow Jr. now has the permanent appointment as post master succeeding his father who reached the age of retirement about six months ago. Mr. McMorrow was postmaster for 16 years and during that time proved himself a very efficient and courteous official, earning the respect of all who had dealings with him. Many happy years of retirement are wished Mr. and Mrs. McMorrow.

IS YOUR SUB. PAID UP?

A Higher Standard

WHEN LARGE NUMBERS of citizens were undergoing physical examinations for entry into the armed services during the last war, it was found that many Canadians were suffering from malnutrition. This discovery lead to a further study of the matter in various parts of the country and these investigations showed that in spite of the fact that Canada is known throughout the world as a land of plenty, there were many cases of malnutrition and of other diseases resulting from poor nutrition. At that time the country was emerging from a long depression and no doubt that factor had some bearing on the situation.

Report Tells Of Advance

It was found however, that all those suffering from the effects of improper diet did not come from families with low incomes, and that lack of knowledge regarding food values was partly responsible for the situation. Since that time much effort has been put into raising nutrition standards throughout the country. Minimum diet requirements have been made known to the people through the press, radio various government departments, welfare agencies and other bodies interested in the well-being of the people, and no doubt this is at least partly responsible for the fact that Canadians are now eating more food, and food of better quality than they were in the years before the Second World War.

Increase Has Been Noted

A recent report by the Federal Department of Agriculture shows that the per capita expenditure of food in Canada in 1926 was $73 while in 1961 this figure was $265. The report adds that between 1935 and 1961 the expenditure for food per person increased by 236 per cent, while the cost of food over the same period increased by 150 per cent. Thus while prices increased considerably the rise in prices did not account entirely for the amount spent on food. The general rise in income and employment levels doubtless accounts in part for the advance in living standards in the last seventeen years, but whatever the cause it is obvious that Canadians are eating better and that as a result standards of health have no doubt risen to more satisfactory levels.

Railways Have Placed 4,500 More Box Cars To Haul Grain

WINNIPEG — Canadian railways pressed into service for the grain have placed 4,500 more boxcars in movement the western grain haul than were engaged in the same work last season.

Under load the additional boxcars will handle upwards of 8,000,000 bushels of wheat, railway officials said.

Build-up of extra car supply needed to handle this year's expected record crops on the prairies began several months ago officials said.

As soon as it became reasonably certain what the size of the western crops would be, they said, the extra cars were allotted and began rattling into the Prairie provinces from all divisions along the two big railway lines.

Some 30,000 boxcars already were in the west including those set for the grain haul.

Both Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways have big diesel programs under way, with many

Nine Duck Eggs Hatched By Women Under Armpits

BERLIN — An East German woman hatched nine duck eggs under her armpits.

The newspaper Dr Morgen reported that the woman who lives in the village of Hessen got in bed with 11 duck eggs under her armpits because the hen supposed to hatch them had "gone on strike".

Three days later nine ducklings appeared. One of the eggs failed to hatch; the other broke

Modern Touch

For years experts have been saying that totem pole making is a lost art but now Indians of British Columbia some new totems are going up, like this one. A definitely modern touch is the brassiere. The lady doesn't look any happier than the lowman used to.

Former Relief Areas Of Alberta Now Prosperous

"Special Areas" of Rest-Control of Province Show Rapid Rural Regeneration of $2,554

(By the Canadian Press)

Fourteen years ago much of the population of east-central Alberta was burdened with debt and harrassed by soil erosion and drought. Today those same districts, which now make up the province's Special Areas, support a thriving population of grain farmers, ranchers and mixed farmers.

From 1931 to 1934, residents in the areas received direct relief of almost $1,000,000. In 1951, total direct aid for the same population was little more than $5,000.

The Special Areas now cover 264 townships and have a rural population of 12,552, a figure constant for the last six years.

The Special Areas were organized to assist farmers and ranchers financially and agriculturally and to control settlement in the traditionally dry regions. One of the first phases of the program was government-donated depopulation to a point where the remaining farmers and ranchers would have enough land to make their operations successful.

From 1936 to 1938, economic and water surveys were made and the lands were divided into three major classifications — sub-marginal land

Doris Slapped Flies And Made $5.00

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Doris Lott slapped flies and made $5.

It happened the city civilian worker at Kelly Air Force Base visited her parents at Cameron, Texas. They went to a cattle auction where the flies were thick.

Doris started slapping at them. The auctioneer then each slap to mean a bid on a calf.

Finally the calf was led over to Doris. She had taken from the bid was $30.

When he learned she didn't want the calf, the auctioneer sold it for her for $40 and Doris got the $5 difference.

Funny and Otherwise

She—Remember me? Years ago you asked me to marry you.

Absent-minded professor—Ah, yes, indeed—And did you?

They were canoeing in the starlight.

"How bright the stars are tonight," he said. "Almost as bright as I."

"Oh, you flatterer," she ejaculated.

"As they were last night," he continued, calmly.

"Yes," said Mrs. Sharp to a neighbor, "she's accustomed to being rooster in her own house. It low first husband's will the only thing he bequeathed to her was his trousers press."

A recent cartoon shows a housewife at the meat counter telling the butcher "It's been ages since I could fit it in my budget, so the same chops are . . . but this may help—you smother it with onions."

A man asked his doctor quite humbly what was wrong with him. "Well," said the doctor, "you eat too much, drink too much and you're terribly lazy."

"Thanks," the patient replied, "but would you be kind enough to put that in Latin? Then I can have a week off from the office."

A certain author was noted for his unpleasant books. He was at a literary party and an acquaintance, a dignified type of man, asked him how he was.

"Oh," said the author, "I've not been feeling so well lately. Had some stomach upset."

"Really?" said the other. "Something you ate, no doubt."

A man was telling about a movie he saw on television that was really bad. "Who was the hero?" somebody asked him. "I was," he said, "I stuck with it to the finish."

Doctor "Well, Mrs. Smith, did you give your husband the sleeping powder I ordered?"

Mrs. Smith "Yes, doctor. You said as much as would cover a threepenny bit, but as I hadn't one I used three pennies. He's still asleep."

Lightning Destroys 110 Chickens

BETHUNE — Fried chicken lay all over the poultry house on the Joe Cvokaen farm, following an electrical storm here. One hundred and ten birds were destroyed when lightning struck down through the chimney, and out through the door, doing little damage to the building. The birds were nearly ready for market, and damage was over $300. One lone rooster survived, but he was pretty groggy. The farm is southwest, four miles from Bethune.

United Church W.A. Rally At Marwayne

The members of the former Vermilion Presbytery Women's Association were invited to a friendship rally in the Marwayne United church on Sept. 17th. Despite the muddy roads 67 members registered to enjoy one of the finest fellowship gatherings per enjoyed by the Presbytery members. At 12:30 noon members of the Marwayne W.A. served a tasty luncheon to the delegates driving long distances.

This was followed by a worship service conducted by Mrs. Booth of Streamstown, which in keeping with the Friendship theme set a high plane for the business of the day. Our Creed, Motto and Aims were read by Mrs. Rose of Vermilion and the theme song "May the Beauty of Jesus be Seen in Me" was played and sung by Mrs. Morrison of Lloydminster with the members joining in the chorus. Mrs. Booth, a member, and the motto, aims and creeds are authorized as opening worship exercises for all W.A. meetings, together with a devotional period.

Greetings to the gathering were extended by President Mrs. Margaret Bentley of the conference, who though only serving as head of the Presbytery for less than a year, has evidenced herself to all by her efficiency and ready wit. Mrs. Campbell, president of the Marwayne W. A. extended greetings to all those attending and expressed regret that the rain should have somewhat curtailed the attendance for the day.

Mrs. C. M. Shillinglaw of Forestburg, who is Provincial treasurer of the Conference Society of Christian Stewardship sent wishes from her department. As she is also Life Membership convenor she explained that funds for these memberships must be raised especially for that purpose and not taken from the general funds. the $15 includes a membership pin and certificate.

Mrs. J. G. Inglis of Kitscoty brought greetings from the W.M.S. Presbyterial. In well chosen words linked the activities of the women of the church. She stressed the individual responsibilities of members to give of their best.

The minutes of the last annual meeting and the following executive meeting were then read by Mrs. J. Crawford of Vermilion. A letter from Dr. E. J. Thompson of St. Stephens College, thanking the group for completing their project of furnishing a room at the college was also read. $220 was sent to him for this project, raised by the 156 members making up the Presbytery W.A.

Mrs. Bentley next outlined the matter of larger presbyteries, in which this smaller Vermilion group has been amalgamated into what will be known as "St. Paul's Presbytery" to include Cold Lake to the north and Wainwright to the south. She suggested a meeting of the two executives to be held soon at the half-way house of Mrs. Alex Stone at Auburndale to make plans for an official body to complete the year's work across a new slate of officers is elected at the annual meeting. A motion of confidence was passed by Mrs. Morrison of Lloydminster and Mrs. MacKay of Vermilion.

The roll call was then taken revealing that nine bonds were represented.

Mrs. A. J. Little, 1st vice-president of Vegreville, gave a very fine report of the conference held by Calgary last March, to which she was a delegate. Mrs. Booth of Marwayne next presented the treasurer's report which showed all committees in the black to the balance of some $25 on hand.

In the absence of the local solicitor, Mrs. Morrison and Lloydminster gave a very fine rendition of a favorite hymn.

Guest Speaker

Guest speaker of the day was Mrs. Tiedell of Vermilion who drove 170 miles to attend. Taking as her topic "Fellowship and Faith" she gave a very fine talk on these Christian essentials for a fuller life. Young and attractive, Mrs. Tiedell has a very fine platform manner, and she generously shares her talents for the use of the church. Her address was very much appreciated. Mrs. Bentley voiced her appreciation and that of all the women present for the fine words and songs that had done so much to make the day a memorable one. Her farewell words to the members will long be remembered. She is a very good president.

Mrs. Hardie of Vermilion expressed a hearty vote of thanks to the hostesses of the day, Marwayne W.A., who served the noon luncheon and Streamstown W.A. who served the afternoon tea. Both were much enjoyed.

Mrs. Morrison gave the closing worship service and the meeting ended with the Mispah benediction. A fine social hour was spent over the tea cups to bring to a close a memorable Friendship Rally

Keen Interest Shown In Fight Against Bang's Disease

Dr. E. E. Ballantyne, Director of Veterinary Services, Alberta Department of Agriculture, reports excellent response from the Alberta cattlemen in the fight against Bang's Disease The following table shows the number of calves vaccinated in the various provinces under the Federal-Provincial Brucella Control program for the period April 1 1951 to March 31, 1952:

British Columbia	21,190
Alberta	91,214
Saskatchewan	25,757
Manitoba	24,004
Ontario	177,758
New Brunswick	3,389
Nova Scotia	1,191
Prince Edward Island	37

The high total from Alberta compares with 6,700 calves vaccinated in 1947, is due to educational work and the co-operation of the vaccinator campaigns, says Dr. Ballantyne. Campaigns are organized in practically every municipality in the province by district agriculturists, agricultural service boards, cattlemen's organizations, and other farm groups. Seven municipalities are brucellosis restricted areas with 100% vaccinations.

Continued co-operation of all cattlemen is urged in this campaign to build up Bang's resistant herds. Arrangements for vaccination of heifer calves should be made with local veterinarians, or the calves listed with district agriculturists or agricultural service boards

Edmonton Friendship Train

EDMONTON Ninety Edmonton businessmen will travel on the 1952 friendship train sponsored by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce and operated over the lines of the Canadian National Railways.

This is the fifth annual four-day tour of the friendship train and the first to travel west of Edmonton.

The special train left the C.N.R. station in Edmonton on Sun day evening, Sept. 21 and stop at Jasper, McBride and Prince George on the westbound trip. Returning, stops will be made at Dawson and at other communities between there and Edmonton. Purpose of the tour is to foster close business relationships and a better understanding between Edmonton businessmen and those in the surrounding area

Four years ago the first friendship train toured the Peace River area. Since then the C.N.R. line has taken the Edmonton business men on to points along the eastern main line of C.N.R. and south to Red Deer

Wildmere Winks

We are sorry we have not sent congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Truscott on the birth of a daughter. We are sure the triplets and other little brother are very proud of the new arrival.

A nice crowd turned out to our last church service on Sunday for this season. We are all sorry to see church come to an end. After church we enjoyed the favorite hymns as enjoyed when Mr Dawe played on the guitar. Everyone is hoping he will be able to return next summer

Omar Easton of Islay was a caller at the Wallington home for a couple of evenings his week when he was busy cutting the weeds along the roadside

Mr and Mrs. Norman Smith and Doris of Bon Accord spent the week end at the home of Bill and Adam Smith. Norman enjoyed a duck hunt while here early Saturday morning. Ducks are going after swathed grain in our district.

Threshing, combining, etc. is going ahead this fine weather and we hope it stays until everyone is through. A slight frost hit this part on Sunday morning and some of the top leaves of cucumbers and tomatoes. Wonderful how it held off so long.

Members of the Wildmere W.I. please take note that a meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Wallington on Wednesday Oct. 1st. It was Mrs. Haines turn but owing to her moving into their new home Mrs Wallington has agreed to have it. Roll call will be a suggestion of what each member wishes to make for the bazaar social, nursery rhyme, topic, Mrs Steele. We hope to see as many as possible attend as no meeting has been held since July.

There may be no Winks next week as the writer will probably be digging spuds

We were interested to learn Clandonald scribe that you were a brother of Mrs. Shrigley as we knew her when she nursed in the old hospital in Vermilion

MEN WHO THINK OF TOMORROW PRACTICE MODERATION TODAY

"GREEN ACRES"

Buy Rams and Boars Now

In recent years there has never been enough good rams and boars to go around. Farmers should buy now before the supply has been picked over. The department buys rams and boars on order and delivers them free freight to your station. See me for price list and application forms.

Killing Weeds in Fall

During harvest, cultivation of the summer fallow is often neglected. The careful work of summer cultivation can be pretty well lost if thistle and Toad Flax are allowed to grow unchecked in the fall. Fall tillage of stubble fields is one of the best and cheapest ways of killing out thistles. Start early so that there is time for two or maybe three cultivations before frosts up.

Rural Winter Fair

The railways are offering a return fare to Toronto for $70. However, there must be 15 or more tickets sold to get this cheap rate. I think there are lots of stock men and others in this district who ought to see Canada's biggest livestock show. Let's get organized and go down this year. The show starts on Nov. 14th. See me or the ticket agent at Vermilion.

The Toronto Seed Fair

It would appear that there will be some good seed grain here this fall. What about sending some exhibits down to Toronto in November? Only one sack is required and the Alberta Department of Agriculture pays the charges. You have nothing to lose so bring in or send in a sample of your grain or grass seed and I will give you my opinion as to whether or not it is suitable to send to the Toronto Seed show.

Free Trees

I have just been told that quite a number of trees are still available for next year's planting. If you have summerfallowed land ready for planting there is still time to order trees. Only caragana, ash and maple are now available. If you have not as yet ordered trees you can get an application form from my office.

Keep Your Limbs

It is an awful messy thing when one gets a leg or an arm caught in power driven gear. Farmers and farm workers: Be careful of moving parts and beware of fire also. Let's try to get through this harvest without losing any arms or legs.

Woodvale News

With crops still on the green side and elevators taking only dry grain, quite a number of farmers are pondering a slight variation of the Shakespearian quotation "to be or no to be", namely to cut or combine or not and to thresh or not to thresh. Nice Indian summer and perfect harvesting weather set in over the week end — let's hope for a long period of it. Most farmers are going ahead as quite a bit of feed is needed anyway and so late in the season it cannot well forever.

With only a little frost so far many gardens show only slight damage although it may not be a record, it still is unusual to pick peas, beans and corn in quite edible state on the first day of autumn. We even are gathering a second crop of fair-sized unripe tomatoes and onions, and found ripe berries, big, juicy and red on new planted vines.

Twenty-four children have gone back to school, for the time being, at Watson school with Miss Edna Thompson as their teacher. Work on the new Woodvale school seems to have come to a stop lately, but will no doubt be resumed soon. As Brooks Lyons has been unable to get his school van his brother Art is helping him to bring the children to the Tolland school. Mrs. Mr. A. Robinson is bringing the pupils from Union. Besides the boys mentioned last time, Fred Isley, Evelyn Nelson and Velda Haines are all going to Kitscoty, staying in the dorm there.

Mrs. Roger Watt went to Lamont to see her mother during one of the rainy spells last week.

Mrs. R. Van't Hoff of Kelowna, B.C. spent a week at the writer's home and having a few hours to wait in Vermilion before bus time, we showed her around the V.I.A. by Mrs. T. Rackham.

Sorry we have not been able to gather more news but everyone is too busy working.

Allandale Notes

What a lovely bright sunny Monday morning. Let us hope that our equinox weather may be passed, let's hope so. The trees are losing their leaves very quickly but the array of colors this fall was magnificent this spring and caretaking in the district began this week. It won't take long with so many machines if the weather stays favorable.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Moore had the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. Duncan from Nanaimo, B.C. visiting them for a few weeks recently. They would have liked to call on all their friends but the weather at that time wasn't at all nice and the roads were impassable.

We are very pleased that Mr. Mc-Bride is out of the hospital and has been re-operating at the Magistat home. Sept. 11th was Dad McBride's 81st birthday and may you have many more.

School opened Sept 13th. We welcomed our new teacher Miss Eileen McGarkin to the district. Her home is at Pelican Lake. The school has a larger attendance this year, as there are three new scholars, Marlene Lee, Cheryl and Karen Armstrong. Jean Nelson is taking her first year of Gr. 12 at Clandonald, riding horseback from home along with Bridget Pierce. We are very grateful to the school division for having the electric lights installed in the school. Four lovely hanging lights in the main room, one in the hall and kitchen and an outside light and two plug-ins. A grand improvement to the school.

Miss Betty Cross is attending the McTavish Business college in Edmonton and Miss Shirley Cross the Alberta college.

Miss Norma Soulfort of town spent last week end with Betty Cross on the farm.

Sept. 21st was our last church service at Allandale. We have had a very successful summer, and the weather favored us, as we had the ten Sundays. Mr. Jackson left Clandonald Monday morning to visit on his last summer's field at Ponoka. From there he goes east to his home and college.

Sept. 28th the Young People of Vermilion will take the service at Clandonald at 3:00 p.m. and every two weeks thereafter. This will be an opportunity for Allandale folks to attend church and encourage these young people in their work.

The Allandale W. A. meetings skipped August and September but will meet at the Throndson home on Oct. 9th, the second Thursday, which is our usual day of meeting. The Clandonald United Church W.A. are cordially invited to attend this meeting. The main interest of the afternoon will be dressing the dolls".

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Onuess and daughters Janice and Irene visited relatives in the district and at Elk Point and Spring Park last week end. They have shortly returned from an interesting holiday to Vancouver Wash., Victoria and Kamloops through the Fraser and Okanagan Valleys.

Congratulations to Mrs. Jack Hobbis (nee Larline Omanus) on winning $440 on CFRN 'Detect and Collect' program.

Closing Thought: Speech is a form of communication. But there are many ways of communicating ourselves to others. In our acts there is the beauty of a silent rhetoric.

Night stopping, particularly in suburban areas, seems to be spreading to Canada, reports The Financial Post. There is some prospect of this practice spreading further across the country and to more types of stores, says The Post.

CITIES TOO BIG?

The major cities of Canada, declares Community Planner Harold Clark in The Financial Post, have grown beyond the point where they are efficient in terms of industry and commerce, and also beyond the point where they provide happy and satisfactory living.

In Vermilion Churches Sunday, Sept. 28th

To Observe New Revised Version of The Bible

This month marks an event of great religious significance in the church — it is the publication of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible, which will go on sale on Tuesday, Sept. 30th.

Let us note briefly some of the facts concerning the origin of our Bible.

Soon after Jesus in bodily form left the earth, there began to be written records of what He had said and done. Also, soon after, as churches were established in the various towns and cities of that time, letters were written and circulated among them.

This is the beginning of what we know as the New Testament. We do not have the original records and letters that were written at that time. What we have, are the Biblical copies and translations that have been made from them, all written in Greek. Consult your Bible and why Luke wrote the Gospel of Luke, Chapter 1, vs. 1-4.

Before the time of Jesus, about 270 years before the Old Testament was translated from the Hebrew language into Greek. Later about 400 years after Jesus' time, the whole Bible was translated into the Latin language. Since then a number of translations have been made from the Hebrew, Greek and Latin into English, the most famous and widely known being the King James translation written in 1611.

Why Was a Revision of the King James Version Necessary?

In the first place a new translation was needed because we have now a whole new body of resources developed, for the most part, since the King James version (1611) was published, and which aid in the understanding of Biblical languages.

Furthermore, much progress has been made, throughout the past 75 years, in archaeological studies bearing upon interpretation of the Old Testament.

In the next place a revision was needed in order that the Bible be translated into language that could be readily understood by the laymen. Much of the language of the King James version is archaic, while still intelligible, the use of thou, thee, thy, thine, and verbs ending in est, est, eth, it came to pass that, howbeit, peradventure etc. Other words are obsolete and no longer understood by the common reader.

Also some of the English words used in 1611 and in the King James version, and still in constant use today, have a different meaning now than they had in that day. These words were once accurate translations of the Hebrew and Greek scriptures, but now, having changed in meaning, they have become misleading. They no longer say what the King James translators meant them to say.

For instance the King James version uses the word, 'Let' in the sense of hinder, prevent or suppress; allow in the sense of approve; demand for ask; take no thought for be not anxious, etc. There are more than 300 such English words, which are used in the King James version in a sense substantially different from that which they now convey. It not only does the King James translators no honor, but it is quite unfair to them and to the truth which they understood and expressed, to retain these words which now convey meanings they do not intend.

In considering this matter of why a revision was necessary note the words of the translators of the Standard Revised Version in the closing paragraph of the preface. "The Revised Standard Version is not a new translation in the language of today. It is not a paraphrase which seeks by striking idioms. It is a revision which seeks to preserve all that is best in the English Bible as it has been known and used through the years. It is intended for use in public and private worship, and merely for reading and instruction. We have resisted the temptation to use phrases that are merely current usage, and have sought to put the message of the Bible in simple, enduring words that are worthy to stand in the great Tyndale-King James tradition. We are glad to say with the King James translators, 'Truly (good Christian reader) we never thought from the beginning, that we should need to make a New Translation, nor yet to make of a bad one a good one . . . but to make a good one better'."

The committee that worked on the revision was composed of 91 leading scholars of the Protestant church, with Dr. Luther A. Weigle, Dean Emeritus of Yale Divinity school, as chairman.

After twelve years of patient effort the first draft was completed in June of 1951. This was the translation of the New Testament. At last on Oct. 5th, 1951, the final manuscript of the Revised Standard Version was delivered to the publishers to be ready for publication on Sept. 30th, 1952.

The Revised Standard version will be observed in all Protestant churches in Vermilion on Sunday, Sept. 28th. It is the earnest hope and prayer as the translators have so well put it, "that this Revised Standard Version of the Bible may be used by God to speak to men in these momentous times, and to help them to understand and believe and obey His word."

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCT. 5 to 11

LOSS IN 1950 $21,750,000 AND 444 LIVES

By proclamation of the Governor General, the week of October 5 to 11 has been designated 'Fire Prevention Week' in Canada. This coincides with 'Fire Prevention Week' in the U.S.A.

Canada's fire losses in 1950, the most recent year for which complete statistics are available, rose to the unbelievable total of $21,750,000 and 444 lives!

The tragedy of fire loses, both of life and of property, in that most of them need never have occurred. In recognition of this fact and of the need for drastic action to reduce fire losses, The Canadian Chamber of Commerce has wholeheartedly supported Fire Prevention Week in Canada and will continue to do so.

Fire Prevention Week offers an opportunity to active organizations to focus attention on the year-round program of Fire Prevention activities.

Enjoy Visit With Eddy Willard in Wyoming

V. S. A. GRADUATE

Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Bentley accompanied by sons Bob and Ray spent their summer holiday on a tour through Montana, Wyoming and South Dakota during which they had a most enjoyable visit with Eddy Willard (class '50) and his family at Worland, Wyoming.

Planning only to stop overnight at this thriving small city the Bentley's learned that the Willard's Husky Service station was just a few blocks from their motor camp so went around in the evening to see Eddy. The result was that they stayed for two days during which they were on the receiving end of real Wyoming hospitality.

In addition to the service station Eddy and his dad are operating a wholesale gasoline business and a 'most' service for oil well drilling rigs. Business is booming and the Willards are busy as beavers but still have time for lots of fun. They wish to be remembered to all who knew them at V.S.A. and Lloydminster.

Incidentally, Eddy reports that he enjoyed having the Keith Gallowways (nee Jane Gibbons) from Pilot, Saskatchewan, and Mr. and Mrs. O. Weise from Flitwch (Keith and Bernie's folks) visit him in Worland during the last year or so and hope that others who know him here will call in anytime they are close to central Wyoming.

Mrs. W. S. Cash gave a very interesting synopsis of the new study for the year, on Africa. Minutes were read of the last meeting and reports of committees heard.

A special event of the evening took place when Mrs. W. S. Cash was presented with a Life Membership certificate. The presentation was made by Mrs. W. L. Robinson and Mrs. H. P. Long had the honor of pinning the membership pin on Mrs. Cash's dress. Mrs. Cash was very surprised and pleased. She is shortly leaving Vermilion to spend the winter in California. In her presentation speech Mrs. Robinson expressed the hope that Mrs. Cash would derive as much pleasure out of wearing her pin, as her own mother had from hers during her lifetime.

Mrs. Cash expressed her sincere thanks to all members for the honor bestowed upon her.

The meeting was closed with prayer by Miss Craig.

She also praised highly the national health sincere. After being away 20 years she said that she still loved Canada, but also hoped that there will always be an Eng land.

ISLAY NEWS

The community received another shock when hearing of the sudden passing on Monday evening of Mr Jack Fyfe, one of the few remaining pioneers of Islay village. It is only three years ago this month Mr. F. F. retired from our post office after serving for over 42 years. We missed him greatly then from there, this is far greater. The community expresses deep sympathy to Mrs. Fyfe and the Charlie Robertson family.

Today Tuesday, has been a very warm one for September. Combines are vanishing machines all around the village have been running until well into the evening.

We are sorry to report that Mr. Jim Allen and Mr. Albert Beck are under the weather. Mr. Beck is in the hospital. We hope to see both out on the street soon.

It is quite some time since we have had a W.A. business meeting. However there is one planned in the church on Oct. 2nd. Come and discuss our annual chicken supper.

NATURE'S MARVELS AT MANNVILLE

MANNVILLE. This is the year of marvels as far as Nature is concerned whether it is due to the beautiful fall weather or the extra rain this year, but potatoes, tomatoes and other garden produce never were before are being brought into town. Mrs Raymond Stephens was brought in a tomato threebark variety that weighed more than a pound, and had ripened perfectly on the vine. Not wanting to be outdone, the Japanese lilacs at Angus Stuart's in town are in bloom again, and will be in full bloom at the front holds off for another week.

Showers Honor Miss Irene McCormick

The McCormick residence formed the setting for a very delightful shower held in honor of Miss Irene McCormick whose marriage to Mr. John King takes place Saturday, Sept. 27th at 4.00 o'clock in the United church.

Many of the young ladies of Vermilion including schools friends of Irene, gathered at her home on Wednesday evening of last week. A lavish lunch was served and a basket piled high with gifts was presented to the bride-elect.

The evening ended with a singsong around the piano.

Miss Irene McCormick was pleasantly surprised on Friday night of last week when Mesdames Ray Hart, Dolly Williams and Pearl Williams entertained at a shower in her honor

The bride-to-be was showered with many beautiful gifts which were wheeled in on a gaily decorated wagon. One of the highlights of the evening was the presentation of a silver horseshoe to the bride. This gift came all the way from Scotland.

The bride-elect appeared quite calm, despite all the excitement, as she won one of the contests. A very delicious lunch was served by the hostesses. As the guests departed they extended their very best wishes for the future welfare of the happy couple.

A gala event of this week was a largely attended shower held in honor of Miss Irene McCormick. The shower was given by Mrs. H. MacDonald and Mrs. W. Waldenberger at the home of Mrs MacDonald.

During the evening the laundry man called with the week's wash which proved to be a basket full of beautiful and useful gifts. Miss Shirley Holmes the district home economist were present.

This was the first meeting since June. In the early part of July, five members attended the district conference at the school of agriculture, and had a very interesting day. The following week two members and one visitor attended the meeting of the Wilderness branch at the home of Mrs. Garnett Sr.

Our August meeting was postponed due to the busy season here in the district.

The meeting opened with the singing of O Canada, followed by the Women's Creed, and the roll call, an item to be used in a future issue.

The delegate's report of the W.I. conference at which twelve of our members present had been at the conference.

The members agreed to send candy parcels to the two polio patients in the University Hospital in Edmonton, Margaret Sweeney and Lee Lyons.

A very interesting talk on Meal Planning was given by Miss Holmes, also very useful ideas on marketing and preparing food and on packing the school lunch.

Miss Holmes stressed the fact that the meal should look appetizing by having a variety of colour, texture and flavour and variety of food.

The social of the meeting was a memory contest by Mrs. R. Clark. The ladies examined a tray full of small articles for a few moments and then had to write down the articles. The lucky winner was Mrs. Earl Watt.

After the meeting a very tasty lunch consisting of lovely anniversary cake was served by Mrs. R. Clark and Mrs. F. Clark.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Dixon on Oct. 1st at 2.30 p.m. weather permitting. The roll call will be a fact about cancer and the social will be sponsored by the Mrs. F. Clark Lunch this time will be supplied by Olive and Eva.

Mrs. T. Davis' group of United church ladies will be in charge of the sale and tea in the church hall on Saturday, Sept. 27th. 11-12

Archbishop Barfoot Officiates

Anglican Church Dedicated; Rector is Inducted

It was with a sense of achievement and pride that members of St. Saviour's Anglican church attended services on Sunday evening, at a service that will be remembered as possibly culminating the greatest advance made by the Parish here in its history. The service was to unfold in its scope as it included the dedication of the newly renovated building and the induction of Rev. D. A. Ford, B.A., B.D., recently appointed as parish priest. The Archbishop of Edmonton and Anglican Primate of all Canada the Rt. Rev. Walner Barfoot, conducted the services, and the rite first Sunday which he had spent in his own diocese for some months as he has just returned from attending conferences in England and Europe.

In his address to the congregation His Grace stated that the accomplishments of the people of the Parish of St. Saviour's within the past few years were hardly believable, but the new rectory, parish hall and renovated church, were monuments to their faith and determination exhibited in short time.

The interior of St. Saviour's is now beautiful. Blending soft pastel colors and natural wood hues, the effect is rightfully one of inspiration and pleasure to worshippers. It does not seem possible to effect such a complete transformation as now evident. His Grace commended most highly those responsible in any way, by their work and donations, for making the new church a reality.

Following the service a reception was held in the Parish hall in welcome to the Rev. and Mrs. Ford and family, and to the Archbishop, a Dignitary deeply revered in Vermilion.

At the reception addresses of welcome were extended to the Rev. and Mrs. Ford and family by members of the Ministerial Association, the Rev. C. W. MacKay, Rev. E. Berg and R. C. Mahaffy, Rector as well as by several members of St. Saviour's congregation. Rev. Ford replied, stating his pleasure at being in Vermilion and commenting on the very warm welcome given, some that could not be excelled which he and his family had received. In a wonderful feature too, was the feeling of unison and comradeship prevailing among the ministers as exemplified by the Ministerial Association.

The Archbishop spoke briefly, forecasting a pastorship of great value to the work of the Lord for St. Saviour's under the new rector.

A social hour of visiting, a solo rendered by Mr. Thos. Waits, and the serving of refreshments, completed a noteworthy and historical evening.

C.G.I.T. Graduation Service To Be Held In Vermilion Sunday

On Sunday evening at 7:30 in the United church, the C.G.I.T. will hold the first graduation service ever to be held in Vermilion. This service promises to be of great interest to all who know the graduands, and to all who know of the C.G.I.T. movement in Vermilion. This is a regular church service to which everyone is invited.

The names of the graduands are as follows: Miss Shirley Sutherland (Valedictorian), Miss Betty Hambly, Miss Noreen Dougan, Miss Doris Mortimer, Miss Marion Barr, Miss Catherine Barr, Miss Jean Maxwell. The girls are anxious to have as many of their friends and relations out to their graduation service as possible.

The C.G.I.T. Group is an interdenominational group for teen age girls, 12 to 17. If you have a girl interested in the group, who has not yet joined, you are invited to bring your girl to this very impressive service, on Sunday. In order to graduate a girl must have three years in the regular work of the C.G.I.T. and have attained the age of 12.

A reception will be held in the church hall following the graduation service, to which everyone is invited.

Board of Trade Hears Financial Statement

Full Scale Discussion on Hockey; Attendance 10,867 Last Season

A full scale discussion on hockey as organized and played in the Eastern Alberta league last winter took place at a very well attended meeting of the Board of Trade on Wednesday last.

The discussion was opened by Dr. Ben King, president of the Tigers Hockey club, who gave a detailed report of the activities for the 1951-52 season and presented a financial statement. In opening his remarks Dr. King stated that the club was neither unfair for a small executive, usually elected from a limited number of persons annually, to attempt to carry on a major activity such as hockey. For instance, they paid admissions tax on all home and play-off games during last season were 10,867, an admission record for hockey in Vermilion. The gate receipts, after referee charges were deducted, came to the board of directors to the hockey club. The town at the end of the season, by means of a grant, received back as its share of the gate a total of $2078. The Tigers also received considerable funds from raffles and bingo, which proved valuable in helping to keep the club afloat financially. Another mighty factor in keeping down expenses was the fact that the Board of Trade paid for transportation for the players to their outside league appointments. The financial statement reveals all avenues of receipts and expenditures.

While only coach Elmer Kreller and goalie Wally Lauhman received any remuneration for their services, travelling expenses were paid players, from Myrnam, Prevent and Mannville were paid. All this made inroads on the finances but were absolutely necessary if Vermilion and district fans were to enjoy the high standard of hockey displayed last season.

Dr. King advocated that some sort of a continuous hockey commission be appointed, instead of a new executive with no background for support being elected each fall. He pointed out that the considerable duties involved during the hockey season, should be divided, designed to assist the hockey club, from everyone.

Payne Last Year's Plan

In the ensuing round table discussion expressions of opinion were highly in favor of continuing a district team with Elmer Kreller as coach, and the same lines as last year. It was also felt that any team bringing in sufficient number of imps to balance the inequality of the teams should be dropped from the league and St. Paul invited to come in.

The financial statement shows receipts of $5611.76 with a bank balance of $5.36 and expenses of $5606.40.

Following the discussion a motion of thanks was passed to Dr. King for his complete report and financial statement.

'FLYING SAUCERS' SEEN SUNDAY

THREE AT ONE TIME

Flying saucers are now appearing in triss but a couple of months after the authenticity of their presence was first believed watched them here on Sunday, Sept. 21st at the farm of the Morrison Bros. Just four miles east of Vermilion. On that afternoon there were numerous visitors at this farm home including Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. Wilson and Billie Barnes. The men in the party were standing outside in the yard talking when they noticed that the turkeys, for which the Morrisons are quite famous, were all gazing skywards. On following their glance upwards the visitors were quite startled to see three silvery discs spinning in the sky. At the instant one shot northwest at a terrific speed and the others disappeared almost simultaneously. The men could not judge the approximate height as the sky was absolutely clear and cloudless at the time. All the observers were quite convinced of the existence of flying saucers after this display.

Bountiful Harvest

Evidence of a bountiful harvest has been coming in to the Standard office freely with quite a contest being staged for the biggest spud. The champion this week is another 3½-pounder, this from the garden of Mrs. F. Ludwig, 11 miles north-west of town. There are lots of big ones in the patch. The variety is a Katchadin and is a perfectly shaped potato much like a Netted Gem.

Cats from a 30-acre field at John Arnold's farm measure 6ft. 8in. and is an even stand. The job of cutting them is a slow one. This is in the Island Hill district.

There is quite a controversy raging over a vegetable dug from the Yiplish plot at Wm Elliott's. Is it a turnip, or a radish? The reason: It measures 25 inches in circumference and weighs 3¼ pounds!

Perfect Harvest Weather

Perfect harvest weather has prevailed all week with only one break being registered on Tuesday. A shower, .09 of an inch, during Monday night, held up operations on Tuesday. Everything was back in operation on Wednesday and good weather continues this Thursday. Due to the heavy crop progress is not rapid but the grain is steadily finding its way into the granaries.

Record September Reading

A record high September reading of 90 above was registered at the radio beam station on Friday Sept. 26th, the warmest September day since the station was located here in 1945. The previous day it was 84 and Tuesday last week also saw ah 80 reading. Only one other place in Alberta, Medicine Hat, had the 90 temperature.

The only frost of September was on the 21st with 4 degrees, while it was an even 32 above on Oct. 1st.

Rainfall for September amounted to 1.75 inches but the only rain in the past two weeks was on Sept. 20 with .02.

The records of the Beam station reveal that for the past seven years there has been very little precipitation in October. Starting with 1931 and going back one year each time the October rainfall has been .71; .50; .00; .21; .39; 1.45; .25. This takes us back to 1942 when the weather station was located here and records kept.

Two Former Vermilion Men Die in Edmonton

Vermilion people were shocked this week by news of the death of two men who spent many of their years in Vermilion, both passing away at comparatively early ages.

On September 26th Ross Mackenzie of Edmonton passed away at the age of 54 years. He had been ill for some time. Ross was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Mackenzie, well known former residents of the town. Ross attended Vermilion schools and grew to manhood here. He is survived by his wife, one son John of Edmonton; his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mackenzie and three brothers, Alex at Vancouver, Jack and Charlie of Edmonton.

Raymond Tyner

Raymond Hurst Tyner passed away in the city on Sept. 30th. He was the son of the late Rev. Tyner and the family lived in Vermilion for a number of years, leaving here about 1930. He leaves his wife, one son and one daughter, all at home in Edmonton. One sister Miss Clara Tyner and two brothers Leigh and Lawrence also reside in the city.

Miss Ruth Simonsen Becomes Bride Of Mr. Robert John Rowe

Large baskets of mixed flowers graced the altar of St. Saviour's Anglican church on Wednesday, Sept. 24th when Miss Florence Ruth Simonsen pledged vows of marriage with Mr. Robert John Rowe.

Rev. D. A. Ford performed the ceremony for the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Simonsen and the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Rowe, all of Vermilion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride entered the church wearing a gown of snowy Chantilly lace and nylon net over satin. Her gown was fashioned with a strapless bodice and was modified with a lace bolero jacket that was designed with a Peter Pan collar and lily point sleeves. A row of lace buttons extended from the collar to the fitted waistline and the sleeves formed lily points over her wrists. Her fingertip veil of illusion net, edged with Chantilly lace, misted from a small Juliet cap and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The bride's sisters, Miss Esther Simonsen and Miss Alice Simonsen, attended her. Esther wore a gown of gold lace and net over taffeta, and Alice wore a similar gown of blue lace and net over taffeta. They were matching floral bandeaux and carried Colonial bouquets of white and pink carnations.

The groom's brother, Mr. Roger Rowe, was best man. Guests were ushered to pews marked with white satin bows by Mr. Keith King and Mr. Robert Tidsbury.

Mrs. Cecil King played the wedding music and Mr. Saviour's choir led the singing of the hymns "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden" During the signing of the register Dr. A. B. King sang "The Lord's Prayer".

Following the ceremony a reception for some 200 guests was held in the Parish hall which was entered by the Evening Branch of the St. Saviour's W.A.

To receive her guests the bride's mother wore a Coronation blue sheer and lace afternoon dress with a navy hat and accessories. A corsage of pink roses completed her ensemble

Mrs. Rowe, mother of the groom, also received wearing an afternoon dress of navy sheer with inserts of rose lace. She wore a dusty rose hat and navy accessories. A corsage of deep pink roses was pinned at her shoulder.

The bride's table was centred with a triple-tiered wedding cake, embedded in frothy white tulle, and sprinkled with yellow and pink carnations. The cake was flanked by tapers and vases of red roses.

A toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. D. A. Ford.

For a honeymoon to Vancouver and the U.S. the bride changed to a grey suit complemented with red accessories. She wore white roses on corsage

On their return the newlyweds will make their home in Vermilion.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Art Bellows, Mr. Jack T. Elmer, Mr. James Simonsen, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Williams and Mrs. T. W. Trane, all of Edmonton and Mrs. L. Davies of Hay Lakes.

Family Farewells Mr. and Mrs. Bert Williams

A family surprise party was held on Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Ross Leitch for Elsie and Bert Williams on their departure to Edmonton. Those present were Mrs. C. Mann, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Scaggins, Mr. and Mrs. Les Mann, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Mann and Mr. and Mrs. R. Leitch, and of course the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Williams. They were given various items in kitchen ware by the family.

Mrs. S Olsonberg was off her feet for a short time after a slight operation but is up and around again now.

Harvest Service

The Pirtah hall was beautifully decorated for the Harvest service on Sunday, this being the first time in a long time that the flowers have been still blooming so late in the fall. Rev. Clement was called to Edmonton to take the evening service at All Saints' cathedral and Rev. Jones, a guest from the cathedral was the minister for the service here. By next Sunday the church will probably be ready to hold services in.

Mrs. A. Cundal from Edmonton is visiting for a few days with her daughter, Mrs. M. Mercer.

Mrs. C. Hamilton is relieving at the hospital during the holidays of Mrs. Gordon.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. A. Stuart are Mr. and Mrs. Grey (Sunny) Stuart from Lulu Island, B.C.

Buys Store

Mr. Ol-ernberg has purchased the house formerly occupied by Mr. Kraven, adjoining to the school board, and hopes to move in this week. Mrs. Mary Morrison with her small daughter, and mother and father Mr. and Mrs. H. Thomas, will probably move into the house vacated by Mr. Olsonberg.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY

. . . . And She Be Fair

By DAY RUSSELL

"Still grandmotherly lady was not a person you could ignore. There was a serenity about her that was almost a kind of radiance. She sat, her back-glowed hands crossed on her lap, in the corner of one of the long oak double-sided benches that hyphened the length of the art gallery. She gazed quietly at one picture.

The gallery was exhibiting the collection of Harvey J. Collinson, the city's wealthiest citizen, lately deceased. He had collected art, at first with zest and later with discrimination, and he had bequeathed his collection to the city. Now it was being exhibited, old masters and modern, each in its separate room, and the reel, a mixed bag of unknowns, in this gallery where the old lady sat.

She had been the first in on this weekday morning but now students were coming in. Two of the older ones, a boy and a girl, slid down into the bench where the old lady sat.

"They should have thrown out some of the stuff in this room too." The boy was at the arrogant stage of his convictions. "Sweet stuff."

"And She Be Fair", read the girl aloud. "Pirtah Grey. Ever heard of him?"

"Never," said the boy. "Didn't they just love to throw a young girl down on a bank of flowers and paint her all sweetness and light."

"But she is lovely," said the girl slowly.

The boy nodded with superiority. "Idealized sentiment. But she was never like that."

"But she was!" They started as the old lady turned to them. "You see, I knew her."

Awkwardly, to save fumbling for a reply, they turned to look at the picture again. It was a huge canvas in which a fair-skinned girl, young and lovely, lay in a patch of mottled sunlight against the shadow of a hedgerow.

"Look at the perfect detail," said the girl.

"Detail doesn't count. Might just as well have a color photograph," said the boy.

"But, no," said the old lady, quietly. "No! Can't you see? She is in love."

"Um," breathed the girl. "Did you know the artist too?"

"Yes. Very well. He painted that picture fifty years ago . . . in this city."

The boy spoke. "But nobody ever heard of him."

"It was harder for artists in those days. There was no interest in art."

"No interest!" said the boy quickly. "Collinson bought that picture and I'll bet he paid a pretty price for it."

"Twenty dollars," said the old lady sadly. "That was the first picture he bought, that started his collection. He had to buy others . . . more and more to make that girl seem smaller in his disturbing."

There was a puzzled expression on the girl's face. "But I don't see . . ."

The old lady went on. "In a way it was that picture that gave this collection to the city."

"A million dollar collection," said the boy.

"And it was because of that girl Harvey Collinson bought the picture. He was a boy who gave birth to this collection." The old lady seemed to search her mind for a date. "1898", she said softly. "That was the year the artist came back from Paris. He had been left some money and went to Paris and stayed there until his money was gone. He and Harvey Collinson had been at school together but Harvey had left school at fourteen to work in his father's machine shop. By the time the artist returned from Paris, Harvey had taken over the business and owned quite a brick building. He was full of ambition. He was also engaged to the girl."

The girl whispered, "That is why she looks so happy."

"Yes," said the old lady. "When the artist returned she broke the engagement. Harvey wouldn't let her go without a fight. He said he would give her everything she could want. He asked what the artist could give her."

The boy leaned forward. "For ever she'll be fair! He was right. There is the girl, the model, still young, still perfect, while the artist is forgotten and Collinson is dead.

The old lady waited a moment before she spoke. "Harvey Collinson was angry. He said she was a fool to marry an artist . . . that painting her wouldn't pay their bills. Who did they suppose would buy it?"

"'Not you,' said the artist. 'We'd have to be starving before I'd sell it to you'."

The girl whispered the next words. "And he paid sixty twenty dollars for it?"

The old lady lifted her hand again. "It doesn't seem to matter now, does it?"

The boy frowned. "And he never painted another picture anybody ever heard of . . . I don't understand. How could he paint like that and yet nobody ever heard of him as a painter?"

"Sometimes," said the old lady, "I think that fame and love are like oil and water. They do not go together." She gathered her coat about her and rose. She stood for a moment before the picture. As she turned to go she looked down at the young lovers.

"But we were very happy."

Alta. Brothers Believed Oldest Identical Twins in Canada

CALGARY.—The Graham brothers—Joe of Calgary and Ben of Vulcan, some 65 miles south—are believed the oldest identical twins in Canada, if not elsewhere. Joe and Ben, the eighth and ninth members of a family of 11, celebrated their 80th birthday recently.

The Calgary twin was still convalescing from an illness and was unable to take part in the annual birthday celebration. But at Vulcan, Ben was at home to his friends as usual.

Great nephews of Canadian explorer Alexander Mackenzie, Joseph and Benjamin were born in 1862 at Sandy Hill, West Hawkesbury, Ont., the sons of John Graham and Jean Mackenzie, who came to Canada in 1814.

Joe took up carpentry, which later he gave up to join Ben at lumbering in the Wisconsin woods. They returned to Canada and bought a farm in Ontario.

Joe married in 1886 and remained on the farm while Ben journeyed to Montana where he worked for four years. Then, in 1903 Ben came to Alberta and took up a homestead near Vulcan. He still lives on his original land. He married that year and had three children all still in Alberta.

Joe went to Vulcan in 1905 but was not able to stay long enough each year to prove up a homestead because he was still keeping the Ontario farm. In 1915, he returned with his wife, four boys and three girls and bought land near Vulcan.

Joe and his wife retired and moved to Calgary in 1928 and two of their sons took over the farm, which they still run.

Up until Joe Graham's illness at Calgary, both were in excellent health. Ben still takes an active interest in Vulcan farm activities.

Students Are Presented With Honor Pins

MANNVILLE HOME AND SCHOOL MEETS

MANNVILLE.—The Red Home and School meeting of the fall term was held on Friday evening in the auditorium of the Mannville school with Mrs. C. Finlay in the chair and Mr. Chorney as secretary. Following the reading of the minutes principal S. Olesenberg introduced the teaching staff including the new members and those who had been there in previous years.

The present staff is comprised of Miss Bourassa and Miss Spicer, grade 1; Mrs. Otto, 2; Mrs. Baldwin, 3; Mrs. Legg, 4; Mrs. Mercer, 5; Mrs. Ross, 6; Mr. A. Bowren, 7; Mr. Bevzan, 8; Mrs. Park, 9, who is also assistant principal.

The high school teachers are Mr. S. Olesenberg, Principal; Mr. Chorney and Miss Nelson.

Presentation of buttons for vacation reading was made by Mrs. F. Proudfoot, chairman of the library board, to 39 children who had earned them.

Honor Pins

Honor pins were presented by Mr Olesenberg to students in the various grades on behalf of the Home and School. In grade 12 Bruce McDonald took five subjects and had honor standing. He will attend the Vermilion school of agriculture this fall. In grade 11 Mary Boyle and Fred Otto tied for first place. It is interesting to note that when these two students passed out of grade 9 Mary Boyle won the Governor-General's medal for the Vegreville school division and Fred Otto was a close second. Two sisters, Eileen and Doreen Arnold tied for second place in grade 11 and the other honors student was Patsy Winters.

In grade 10 Audrey Hamilton had the highest marks with Florence Otto, Sharon Reece and Arlene Leitch close behind.

It was noted with interest that both Florence Otto and Arlene Leitch, in the absence of a music teacher last year, taught a number of younger children.

In grade 9 were our two candidates for the governor-general's medal this year, Barry Smith and Carol Mercer with highest honors standing in the division. Incidentally Carol received the pin on her 13th birthday. Also attaining honors standing in grade 9 were Peter Stackiniak and Adele Matney.

Board of Trade Scholarship

A Board of Trade scholarship for grades 10 and 11 was presented by Mr. Rekeit, vice-president of the Board of Trade. For grade 11 it was divided between Mary Boyle and Fred Otto; for grade 10 Audrey Hamilton had the high marks.

W. I. Scholarship

Mrs. J. I. Jones of the Provincial Board of the W.I. presented a scholarship donated by the 8 local branches of the W.I. to the amount of $30 to the grade 12 honor student. She said this was to further two of the W.I. projects, better Education and Higher Standard of Living. This scholarship too, had to be divided as there was no more than a fraction between the marks of Donna Hanning and Alayne Thompson.

Home and School Officers

An election of officers was held with the following being elected for two years:

President — Mrs. Finlay
Vice-Pres. — Dr. Haslauff
Treasurer — Mrs. F. Proudfoot
Secretary — Mrs. G. Majewski.

Representatives on the executive by grade units: Thurs., C. Smith; Brass, Mrs. Margaret McLaughlin; Forest Hills, Mrs. W. Ross; Indian Lake and Hamilton, Mrs. H. Thompson; Claymore and Ramsey, Oliver Wilfes; Clovelly and Stotlaville, Harvey Robertson. Creighton and Tanderton, Mrs. H. Hamilton. Minhorn, Mrs. C. Arnold.

H. & S. Round-Up at Vermilion

In a letter from Mrs. Ken Tory of Wainwright, South Central representative, received since the Home and School meeting, Mr. Chorney wishes to make it known that the fall round-up Home and School conference will be held in Vermilion at the agricultural college on Wednesday, Oct. 15th, from 9:30 a.m. through to the evening. Provincial executive members will be present to discuss problems and suggestions. There will be a film on Home and S[illegible] in the evening a play entitled 'Scattered Showers.' There will be meals and accommodation at the school for those desiring same.

Pleasant-Valley

This news bulletin was written for last week's Standard so due allowance should be made for lapse of time.

It is not only pleasant but very lovely these days with all the autumn beauty. We experienced a rather heavy frost in this area which spoiled the flowers, and now the leaves are falling fast.

Everyone was pleased to meet Mrs. Ford and the three children who accompanied Mr. Ford to the service at Pleasant Valley. Our next service will be Harvest Thanksgiving and a large congregation is expected on that special day. One should give thanks for the bountiful crops and lovely gardens.

Vegetables have been very good this summer. The writer picked cucumbers from the patch in her garden until just a few days ago. (I left one for you Annie, did you eat it?)

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gillies and Mrs. Gillies Sr. traveled to Unity on Sunday where they spent a few days visiting Lea's parents.

Visitors at the writer's home recently were Mrs. Giles, Bill and Lila, Mr. and Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Dedelly. Nora tripped along on Wednesday and enjoyed a cup of coffee—glad to see you Nora.

Allan Monaghan has gone to Grimshaw to teach this year. There are two families there from this district now, the other is Mr. and Mrs. Bob Minard. Bob is a machine agent there.

Doreen Gould had her two sisters and children for supper on Sunday and it was nice to see them all out to church in the afternoon.

Mr. Bowyer has been busy with his hammer again, building a potato bin for Bill. On Friday he came up and helped Christie shingle a granary. How would you like to build a carrot bin for yours truly Lew?

The farmer bum of Tom Sherwood's threshing machine is based by Shirley Holms, Wainwright, Alberta

Happy Centre W. I. Meets At Mannville

MANNVILLE — Happy Centre W.I. met on Sept. 18th at the home of Mrs. Jack Coxford with 13 members and 3 visitors present. The minutes and financial statement were read and approved.

Moved by Mrs. Hulbert and seconded by Mrs. Scott that we pay $5 as our share of the W.I. scholarship.

It was also decided to renew the subscription to National Geograph. for the Chalfey school if they desire it.

Mrs. Cotter thanked the members for sending her as their guest to Farm Women's week at the V.S.A. Much humor was turned in. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Thomas.

Mrs. J. J. Mercer presented Mrs. E. Mercer with a W.I. spoon as a remembrance from her fellow members. The members were pleased to have Mrs. Knight (nee Eleanor Schryer) as a visitor. She spoke to the gathering on W.I. work in England and answered many questions from the members. At the close of her talk the president presented here with a W.I. spoon as a remembrance of her visit.

Mrs. Arnold is to be congratulated on her 'fashion parade'. She went to a great deal of trouble securing costumes of days gone by, some as far back as styles of 50 years ago. Grateful thanks are extended to those who kindly loaned the costumes and to those who modelled them.

Mrs. R. McLaughlin won the pig in a poke.

[illegible] these day and it is a very agreeable [illegible]

All too soon the winter will come and we'll love to let Jack Frost have us thing. But one thing is sure, we will have spring, with budding trees, showing creeks, and all the wonderful miracles like these.

News Notes From Your District Home Economist

Good Neighbors

Head, Heart, Hands and Health—those are the qualities implied by the title 4-H now assumed by the former Junior Clubs of Canada. There is much in a name, and we in this country have learned to associate the term 'Junior Clubs' with an alert and progressive farm young people.

It is felt, however, that the time has arrived for the common ideals and increasing neighborliness of farm youth groups of many countries to be recognized and cemented by the use of a common title. That is why the Canadian Council of Boys and Girls clubs (now the Canadian Council of 4-H Clubs) decided to adopt the name used by the farm young people's groups of the United States and several other countries.

Here is the 4-H club pledge:
"I pledge my Head to clearer thinking, my Heart to greater loyalty, my Hands to larger service and my Health to better living, for my club, my community and my country."
With 4-H members everywhere aspire to these ideals, their spirit of friendship and influence for good can well prove effective within and beyond the national sphere.

Styles for Children's Clothing

To keep the outgrown look from your children's clothes, here are some ideas from Mrs V. Macdonald, Supervisor, Home Economics Division.

When shopping for a jacket choose the styles with raglan sleeves, she advises. Then, when the sleeve is lengthened, the garment still fits in the shoulder area as well. At least 3 inches over should be turned under in the sleeve and from inches in the hem when the garment is new. When adjusting snowsuits, an inch tuck taken inside just above the cuffs on the legs and sleeves is satisfactory.

Box-style coats and jackets do not look outgrown as quickly as those with a waistline seam or the waistline can be lowered by the simple process of moving the belt loops down. Instead of having a garment that must be given away or lay one will, leave as in between the chest and back as part of the design then the only alteration needed when the child grows is lengthening. This gives you the satisfaction of wearing a new garment that fits properly.

When making a garment set in with a seam allowance to each side and on the underarm of the sleeve. Set in the sleeve before sewing the side of the garment, then sew in the seam from the hem edge of the garment to the hem edge of the sleeve to fit the child. When the child grows, the seam can be let out to loosen the sleeve, lower the armhole and add width throughout all with one row of machining.

To keep the waistline of little girls' dresses in place, an extra tuck is tucked into the material when cutting the bodice serves a trimming, and can be let out as needed to lower the waistline.

Footprint Frosting

This can be made and stored in the refrigerator, ready to use at a moment's notice.

Combine sugar, salt, syrup, chocolate, and cream or evap. milk. Boil until it forms a soft ball in cold water 1,235 degrees F on a candy thermometer) stirring constantly to prevent sticking. Let cool until pan is barely warm to the hand (110F.) Add butter or margarine and vanilla. Beat at medium speed in an electric mixer, or by hand with a stiff spoon until slightly creamy (3 to 12 minutes)

At this stage, frosting has not completely crystallized and still has consistency of thick syrup. Store in refrigerator in closely covered container. Frosting will crystallize and be ready for use any time after 6 to 8 hours, but can be stored for several weeks.

To Use: Place frosting needed in top of double boiler over hot (not boiling water to soften. Stir constantly and remove from boiling water as soon as it reaches spreading consistency. This should not take longer than 1 or 2 minutes.

Can you make a fluffy boiled frosting that does not sugar? Watch my column in the Standard next week for 'Snowbank Frosting.'

Watch Out For Rats

Watch out for rats this fall! Warns W. Labay, Supervisor of Crop Protection, Alberta Department of Agriculture. After crops are in the fields in the summer the grown up rat families are now seeking for winter quarters. They are on the go in most districts farmsteads and other buildings that will give them winter feed and protection keep on the alert advises Mr. Labay. Make sure that your premises do not become rat infested. Any evidence of rats should be reported immediately to the local pest control officer.

Mr. Labay advises that 'all Alberta farmsteads have now been poison-proofed between townships 23 and 37 in a strip 12 miles wide. This covers the rat invasion spear head. Rats entering this area are not likely to live long since contact with the special powder laid out for them means death. If rats are discovered elsewhere, warfarin is one poison that can be used to advantage, says Mr. Labay. Warfarin can be obtained from district agriculturists if required.

The Western Harvest

THE SUCCESS OF THE WHEAT CROP is of great importance to the people of Western Canada. On it depends, for a large part, the prosperity of the farmers and of local merchants and others who depend for their living upon supplying the needs of those on the farms. However, the size and quantity of Western Canada's wheat harvest affects, as well, many thousands of people far removed from the Western prairies. Those who work for the railway companies, the elevator companies, and seamen on the freighters which carry the grain to other lands are among the many who benefit when a large crop and one of high quality is harvested in the West.

* * * * *

Wide Interest in The Crop

Early frosts such as occurred three years ago, or heavy rains, such as those which damaged the wheat last year are disastrous to the hopes of the farmers, but they also affect the prosperity of all those whose living depends upon the handling of the crop after it is harvested. It is disastrous, too, to the business communities in the West and to those in other parts of Canada who supply these communities. The expression 'One World' has become a part of our vocabulary in recent years and separation of the affairs of one group of people from those of others is becoming increasingly rare in these times. It is not new, however, for the eyes of the rest of Canada and of other parts of the world to be on the West at harvest time.

* * * * *

Is Need For Wheat Abroad

This year there have been smaller grain crops in other parts of the world and there is need abroad for Canadian wheat to make up for these shortages. So while the Western farmers market their wheat and balance the returns of the year's work, they may know that many others from many nations in Canada are likewise affected by their success and that upon it depends the prosperity of other Canadians and perhaps the lives of people in less fortunate countries. The taking in of the crop has long been an event in the lives of the people of the West, but they may not realize how many, not known to them, share their interest and concern.

Saskatchewan, Canada's No. 2 Oil Province, Potential Doubled

CALGARY, Alta — Saskatchewan, Canada's No. 2 oil province, has doubled its oil potential in a recent months, to a current productive ability exceeding 8,000 barrels daily, and in recent weeks has boosted actual production for the first time to more than 5,000 barrels daily. The potential is expected to materially increase over the next few months, from evaluation drilling of recent discovery areas, and probably from new strikes. Actual production will likely push the 6,000 barrel mark by late spring.

The Saskatchewan picture compares with current oil production of around 185,000 barrels daily in Alberta, and Alberta potential of around 200,000 barrels daily in third place is Manitoba, with current production of some 600 barrels daily and potential exceeding 1,000 barrels. Manitoba output is expected to pass 1,000 barrels daily in a few weeks, with completion of facilities for deliveries to the Alberta-Great Lakes interprovincial pipeline.

At the time of Alberta's Leduc discovery in February, 1947, Saskatchewan was producing 630 barrels of Lloydminster heavy crude daily. Compared to Alberta's 18,000 barrels daily mainly from Turner Valley. During the spectacular climb of Alberta discoveries, potential and production since 1947, Saskatchewan has also been moving ahead. In 1947 daily average was 1,479 barrels increasing to 2,343 barrels daily in 1948, reaching 2,952 barrels daily in 1949. 3,422 barrels daily in 1950 and averaging 4,130 barrels daily during first half of 1951.

The greatest Saskatchewan encouragement has come this year in the southwest corner of Saskatchewan, 95 miles north of the American border. Sorony-Vacuum Exploration Company has recently made their discoveries on lands secured under farmout from Western Private Exploration Company and Southern Production Inc. These strikes are in the Fosterton-Canlan-Midway-Success area.

So far 14 Fosterton area wells have been completed with oil indicated. Three rigs are engaged in evaluation drilling. Indicated potential is over 1,200 barrels daily and should be substantially increased in coming months. Actual production is small, averaging around 130 barrels daily and no great increase in output is likely for some months. Primary concern of Sorony is evaluation of the area. There are good reasons to expect that evaluation will justify in the next year or so construction of pipeline facilities for low cost transport of production to Estevan.

Fosterton Pool currently has nine wells capable of production. Only one is being operated. Its potential is about 300 barrels daily per day quarter inch choke, will crude from the lower crataceous pay and flowing about 24 degrees API gravity. The Canlaw Pool 8½ miles southeast of Fosterton Pool now has two wells capable of production, pay zones being two lower cretaceous sands, one yielding 25.1 gravity oil, the other 11.6 gravity heavy crude.

The Success Pool, 10 miles east of Fosterton Pool has at present a five-well capable of producing 32.6 gravity oil from a lower cretaceous sand. The Midway Pool, 15 miles southwest of Fosterton Pool has a discovery oil well capable of produc-

Workers' Mascot A Fisherman

Arizona Grain Grower To Establish Large Alfalfa Seed Farm North Of Flin Flon

FLIN FLON, Man.—A 2,000 acre farm producing registered alfalfa seed for the Canadian market is being established less than 75 miles south of Flin Flon.

Bulldozers are busy at the present time tearing out bush that covers over three sections of land on the outskirts of Wanless some 33 miles south of the 54th parallel.

When broken the land is expected to produce thousands of bushels of registered seed that will be sold at top market prices for planting in other parts of the Dominion.

The large project is being undertaken by W. Wright of Armena, A certified seed-grower and rancher in the United States, Mr. Wright purchased the large tract of land from several residents of Wanless last winter and is still working to buy further acreage for his venture.

He has established a home at Wanless and travels between the two widely separated farms by private aircraft. A landing field has been built on his northern farm to allow his land in his own back yard rather than motor from the field at The Pas 30 miles south.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright have been at Wanless since last July although he recently flew back to Arizona. He will return shortly.

Mr Wright first learned of the area through the Dominion government and a year ago paid a visit to the north. He took samples of the soil at that time and had it analyzed in Arizona. According to the Wright's the soil is very rich and extremely suitable for growing alfalfa as well as other crops.

The soil was found suitable for growing certified seed a few years ago when a Nipawin farmer cultivated several acres in the area and tested its productive ability.

Watch for Rats

Another rat has been found, this time near Chandendall. One was found south of Vermilion last fall. This all means that everyone must be on the watch for rats. If you see a rat around the buildings try to kill it and bring it in for identification. Pocket gophers and musk rats are often mistaken for the Norway rat. Let us know if you suspect rats and someone will check it.

Straw Cutters

When combining heavy crops it is advisable to cut or chop the straw. Otherwise it may be hard to till the fields with long coarse straw on the surface and standard cutters be burned without a permit. Two types of straw cutters are being sold this year: The Alloway radial knife type, and the Wonder Straw Shredder. Further information may be obtained through this office.

In Wet

You do not need power lines and deep freezers to have ice in the summer. Anyone can build an ice house or dig an ice well. Get plans from this office and make a place to hold ice. Milk, fresh fruit and meats can be kept from spoiling on ice during the hot days next July.

Feed Reserves

Just because there is a lot of stock feed right now is no good reason why every bit of feed possible should not be put up. The wise farmer will save everything that makes feed for the time when feed is scarce. We had a close shave to drought and feed shortage last June. One of these years we will not be so lucky so save all the straw and coarse feed that is possible.

Grain Storage

There is no doubt that a lot of grain will have to be stored on the farms. The better the storage the more grain you will save. If you do not have granaries and cribs for last thing is snow fencing and paper or any other makeshift. It is better to do something other than dump the grain in piles. You will save far more than the price of the material and work you put into building it, too.

Stagettes Initiate New Members

E-e-e-k! What is it?
It's the result of the atomic age?
It's the end of the world!
No — it's Stagette initiation!

Eleven new members go through the horrors of initiation and when the fire goes down, the smoke clears, and the new members do they parade the town in a variety of get-ups, after an original hunt to "The Greatest Show on Earth" as they run through the pastoe (Shoe Shine). Little Joy Ries (blindfolded) in the back of Lawrence Harvether's truck.

Bob, how did he get mixed up in this? Of course, a photographer is a must at initiation time. The kids got their pictures taken, though as Photographer Bob Carlson had left the cafe with as much a face as any of them. A tube of lipstick in the hands of a revengeful bunch of girls can be a wicked weapon.

The girls – Merna Wertz, Nellie Tingle, Berna Swaffert, Kay Caton, Evelyn Patterson, Joan Cawthorne, Thelma Tessari, Jo Chapman, Theresa Tower, Olga Mihalchuck and Sophie Paulisk are wonderful sports and the Club is proud indeed to claim them as members. We look forward eagerly to a new year of even greater activity. Already willing volunteers are lending a helping hand for Stagette today day for the Blind and a number of the girls are doing their bit. You can pick up tags at the local library from Mrs. H. MacDonald before going out as she will be there all day.

Then there's Saturday checking. Olga and Merna.

If anyone runs out of dance tickets to sell there are more at the club room.

We are truly sorry to lose one of our outstanding faithfuls to the Calgary club. Dorothy McCormick who has been a member of the executive just about as long as there was one here, is now transferred to the Calgary Canine Oil office and leaves a spot in the club that will be hard to fill. We will miss you Dot but the best of luck to you in your new location, and if Calgary doesn't treat you pretty well . . . we'll initiate them! From what we hear of Calgary Stagettes you should fit in O. K. A farewell in the form of a bowling party will be held Thursday night so try and make it by 8:30 girls.

Addresses Given By Divisional Officials

Home And School Commence Meetings

The Vermilion Home and School Association held the first meeting of the 1952-53 term in the high school on Oct. 6th.

Mr. Hugh Stewart, vice-president, was unavoidably absent during the first part of the meeting, so Mr. Smeltzer took the chair.

He outlined briefly the work of this Association, and recalled to our mind the words of the Home and School Creed. The wholehearted carrying out of this Creed would make a stronger and more unified group.

Mr. Ashley Cooper, trustee of our own local school board and town member of the Home and School Association, gave an interesting talk on the history of the Vermilion schools. An interesting feature of the classroom accommodation as at present and a description of the plans for the new school now under construction.

Mr. S. Simonson, school superintendent, followed Mr. Cooper's address with an explanation of the organization of classes for the current term.

These talks were followed by reports from the principals of the three schools, Mr. Mr. Smeltzer, Mr. Walker and Miss Oldenburg. Each in turn outlined the teaching staff in their school.

Mr. Gibbewhite reported for the nominating committee. He presented the following slate of officers which was unanimously approved by the group.

President - Mr. Hugh Stewart
Vice-President Mr. Roxburgh
Secretary - Mr. J. Tarnapol
Treasurer - Mrs. Wm. Dixon.

The executive is made up of Mrs. C. Herbert, Mrs. J. Wright, Mrs. L. Simonson, Mr. N. Bentley, the three principals and one other member to be chosen to represent the rural areas.

There was much discussion regarding the conference to be held here Oct 15th in the school of agriculture. The Association hadn't received a program as were unable to make too many plans for this meeting. However, it is hoped that Vermilion will be well represented at the conference. If not able to attend every session, be there for as many as you can. It has been noted that the sessions are to begin at 9:30 in the morning.

Senior Hockey Meeting Wednesday, Oct. 22nd

The secretary of last year, Mr. Tom Stack, has moved from town and the president, Dr. Ben King will not be standing for office again. Remember the date — Wednesday Oct. 22nd, and the time 8:00 p.m.

A discussion will follow led by Mrs. Kindseth.

Mannville Loses Librarian

MANNVILLE. It is with regret that the Library board has accepted the resignation of Mrs. J. McDuff- as librarian. She has had the position for the past two years and has helped considerably to make the library a success. Mrs. McDuff- is leaving with both children and adults alike. Mr. and Mrs. McDuff- are moving to the coast the end of this month.

A large order of new books has recently been received and with Mrs. Cooper as the new librarian the library will be run as efficiently as before. Mrs. Hay, Mrs. Cooper, best of luck and a smile for everyone.

Mac Fisk Bags Two Banded Ducks

Mac Fisk is making a specialty of bagging banded ducks and already has two bands this fall. He knocked the first one down two days ago while on a shoot near Islay. Last week he brought down another with a rifle while shooting on the west of Vermilion.

The information contained on the bands is to be forwarded to the Canadian Wildlife Services at Ottawa

Shoots Golden Eagle, Wing Spread 7 ft.

A rarity in these parts, an eagle was shot by James Mahan at his farm 11 miles south of town on Tuesday. The bird had a wing spread of 7 feet, was brown with a white head and is probably classified as a Golden Eagle. The big bird was seated in a tree back of the farm yard watching very intently when spotted.

The fine specimen was immediately shipped to a taxidermist in Edmonton for stuffing and mounting.

Afternoon Ceremonies And Dance Planned

Official Armoury Opening Set For October 15th

The program for the opening of the Vermilion Armory on Oct. 15th is now announced by Capt. B. C. Ackerman, Officer Commanding 'A' Company of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment.

The armory will be open to the public at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 15th. The public is invited to inspect the new building which has just been completed.

Personnel from Headquarters in Edmonton as well as the officers and men of 'A' Coy., will be on hand to explain the quarter master stores, the rifle range, the Bren gun carriers and other items of training by the men of the regiment.

At 4:00 p.m. the armory will be officially opened by Lieut.-Col. Alan Jamieson, D.S.O., Commanding The Loyal Edmonton Regiment. There will be a party of senior Edmonton and government officials to assist in the opening ceremonies. All ex-members of the Armed forces of Vermilion and district make a point of attending this function, which will take place promptly at 8:00 p.m. Wednesday.

Following official 'History of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment' will be handed out as souvenirs of the occasion.

The officers and men of 'A' Coy., are holding a dance at 9:00 p.m. Wednesday. The general public is invited, admission is $2 per couple.

On Saturday evening Oct. 18 the Citizen's committee of 'A' Company will hold a military ball. Invitations are available as long as the supply lasts on application to Captain A. E. Kolzer or the Secretary Capt. E. H. Buckingham.

The Armory is now in use by 'A' Company and by the local detachment of the Air Cadets. Training in suitable quarters can be much more efficient than was the case in the previously occupied building. It is hoped by those in charge that more young men in the district will join up for training with this famous regiment. At any rate the people of Vermilion and district will have an opportunity to inspect the local armory and to see the facilities for themselves. Young people and old are invited to come to the opening and to support it well by attending one or both of the military dances put on for the occasion.

At the Pool elevator, 2/3 of the roofing on the driveway sideways, scattering it to the field and many straws were blown all over. In town several sheds were lifted by the force of the wind, grain doors on elevators were whisked, power poles blown over and light wires on one lot were snapped at the pole. So many potatoes are dressed this year that it will pay to plan them over a couple of days before digging. Shipping Fever

Bulletin No. 68 entitled Shipping Fever of Cattle was just issued in September. Every farmer raising cattle ought to have a copy. The new bulletin Symptoms and the treatment are set out in a form that is easy to follow. Read this bulletin and prevent your cattle from loss by shipping fever.

The Much Loss

At the Vermilion Egg Grading station last week I was informed that only two-thirds of the eggs are grading A. There is a spread of 2½ cents per dozen between A and grade B. The chief reasons for eggs losing grade is given as being stale, dirty and poor yolk color

Live Stock Sale

Entries close on Oct 31st for the Vermilion Pure Bred stock sale, which will be held on Nov 14. If this sale is to continue, there must be more support from breeders. Some of the best pure bred Shorthorns, Herefords and Aberdeen-Angus are raised in the Vermilion-Lloydminster area. This sale can be made the best fall sale in Alberta if every breeder brings in some good ones.

Breeding Eggs

Anyone who wishes to sell eggs for hatching next spring must have their flocks inspected and approved now. Poultrymen already on the list are asked to have catching crates and pens in good repair and ready for the arrival of the poultry inspector.

Cull the Boarders

Poultry raisers should cull out the misfits and fatten them for the market. We have a circular which tells how to cull a flock in one easy lesson, so why let the boarders eat up expensive feed.

NEW CHAIRMAN RESEARCH

Hon Dr. J. L. Robinson, Minister of the Department of Education and Labor, has been appointed as Chairman of the Alberta Research Council. He replaces W. F. Scout Apple Day This Saturday

The annual Boy Scout Apple Day will be held on Saturday, Oct. 11th. During the day apples will be on sale in town by members of the Scout troop. Proceeds of the sale of these apples are used to finance the troop operations throughout the year, for the purchase of equipment and supplies, camping etc. You are urged to give generously and assist in the development of Scouting in Vermilion.

The troop at present consists of approximately 30 boys from both town and country. Scouting teaches the boys initiative and resourcefulness through games, woodcraft and the Scout Law which sets a high standard of conduct for all those adhering to it. In order to carry on with this training, funds are essential, and as Apple Day is the only appeal to the public during the year, your generous assistance is earnestly solicited. Help the Scouts to help themselves.

Enrolment Invited For Night School

BOOKKEEPING AND TYPEWRITING

Night school classes in bookkeeping and typewriting will be offered this year if there is enough interest. Those interested in enrolling are invited to telephone 108.

Last year the Vermilion School Division sponsored its first night school. As the enrolment and interest in both bookkeeping and typewriting was good, the courses lasted for five months, giving the students an opportunity to cover as much work as is normally covered in ten months of high school work.

The Divisional Board is to be commended for offering courses that were not on the curriculum when we adults went to school

First Meeting Of St. Saviour's Men's Club

On Monday last, the Men's Club of St. Saviour's church got off to a flying start for the season with 20 men sitting down to enjoy a supper prepared by Messrs. J. Robinson, A. Kneale, A. Cooper, E. Buckingham and D. Ford. Following the meal, the meeting was called to order by vice-president J. Kneale and the election of a new secretary to replace Mr. Pettem was held. Mr. Fred Bernard Stewart was elected secretary. Guests were then introduced in the persons of Mr. L. Chiver-ton and Mr. J. Knight.

Plans were laid for the program for the next meeting of the club which will take place on Monday, Nov. 3rd. Then followed a lively period of discussion on projects the Men's club could undertake around the church, and several excellent suggestions were made. The discussion ranged on to young people's work and brought forth much provocative thought.

As the meeting adjourned, it was felt that a good beginning for the season had been made and that a series of excellent meetings lay ahead.

Snow This Time Last Year

In contrast to the long run of very fine weather which is being enjoyed this fall, weather station records show that it snowed 3.5 inches on Sept. 23th, one year ago and that the snow didn't melt for five days, until Sept. 30th. It was nice for a few days, then turned cold again Oct. 11th and more snow fell Oct. 13th, from then on it was mild winter weather.

It has been fine for the past week with the exception of last Thursday when a gale blew in from the west. It averaged 36 miles per hour with gusts up to 50. The wind blew in a sudden drop in temperature and the first hard frosts of the season were recorded with a low of 23 on Oct. 3rd; 27 on the 4th; 12 on the 5th and 20 on the 8th. Warmer days were last Thursday prior to the high wind, 71, and Wednesday Oct. 8th it was 72.

70% Wheat Threshed

Ideal weather still holds and 70% of the wheat is now threshed. This is grading for the most part 3 and 4, the greater part, 3. There is some 5 and 6. Yields vary greatly, running from 15 to 30 bushels per acre, with an average of 25.

35 to 40% of the oats and barley are also in the bin.

Some frost damage is showing up since last week when several hard frosts were registered.

Badger Looks Over The Town

Evidently wondering why some species of life chose to build above the earth when they could burrow deeply into its depths, a husky badger trotted sedately down the hospital road past the high school on Sunday. It took little notice of anyone and some small children excitedly cried "see the porcupine" and gave the badger a wide berth. Art Trey kept a watchful eye on the country visitor to town until it was well past the children, because as is well known, Mr. Badger has plenty of courage and backs up from no one, man or beast. When last seen it was pursuing its peaceful and not too hurried way past Joe Green's and looked as if he was considering paying a brief call on Dr. Payment — maybe he needed some dental work done — who knows!

Floor Price for Cattle After September 30th

OTTAWA. — Following a Cabinet meeting, the Minister of Agriculture stated that in accordance with previous announcements a support price for cattle would continue until the U.S. embargo is lifted or until April 1, 1953, whichever is the earlier, the support price will be $23 per 100 pounds, basis 'good' steers at Toronto. If the embargo continues after that date the support price will be raised to $25 per 100 for 'good' steers, basis Toronto delivery.

The Minister also stated that in order to protect those farmers who had held back and finished their cattle during the summer period and who might not yet have marketed their heavy steers and heifers the Board would continue until Nov. 15, 1952, to maintain a floor price of $23 per 100 pounds live weight for heavy steers and heifers (this causes 700 pounds and up, cold dressed weight, for in basis, including the Grades A, B and C.)

In making this announcement the Minister re-emphasized the importance of farmers continuing to hold their cattle and pointed out that the continuation of present floor price for next spring is designed to provide ample incentive for this action or for other farmers to purchase and winter stocker and feeder cattle.

The Minister reported that out of a possible 83 million pounds of beef nearly 50 million has already been purchased for delivery to Great Britain under the meat exchange plan. Because of the small amount of the contract left and restricted storage space, it is clear that the price support program cannot be relied solely on the purchase of meat but can be greatly assisted by the co-operation of livestock owners.

"Direct price support through the purchase of beef will not extend to hogs which we are warning producers and others not to bring to market. In short, it will be our intention to do everything possible to keep cattle not fully fed from being slaughtered in order that there will be a market or storage for fin ished beef", the Minister stated.

MAKE THANKSGIVING DINNER EASIER ON THE COOK

Thanksgiving Dinner Isn't All Food

It's never too early to check on table linen you expect to use. Decide on your centerpiece arrangement. Fruit should be washed and polished and flowers arranged the day before. Silver polishing can be a dreadful chore if done at the last minute. Do it a week ahead, store it in a tarnish proof chest or paper. If your room arrangements permits, set the table a day ahead, having the glasses turned upside down.

How About the Appetizer Course?

You can either skip it or have something that can be served in the living room while everyone waits patiently for you to say dinner is ready. Fruit or vegetable juices, canned, bottled, or frozen are ideal for living room service. Some suitable fruit juices are orange, apricot, grapefruit, pineapple or apple. Try blending two or more.

If fruit cocktail is your choice, you can prepare any fresh fruit except apples, pears, peaches and bananas a couple of days ahead and keep cool and well covered. The experience can be added early Thanksgiving day if there is enough juice to cover them. Add a bit of lemon juice to keep from discoloring.

Wonderful, Wonderful Turkey!

Either frozen or unfrozen. If frozen in aluminum foil wrapping the bird can be cooled right in it and allow plenty of thawing time. At room temperature it will take 1½-2 days, depending on size. A foil wrapped turkey at room temperature will require about 5 minutes per pound less cooking time in a moderately hot oven, 400°F than a non wrapped turkey in a slow oven 250°. You can foil wrap a non-frozen bird for roasting, too, it's a tidy way to cook one.

Stuffing, Of Course

If you are making your own stuffing buy the bread you plan to use and make the crumbs a few days ahead of time.

It's far easier to make rice stuffing than one using bread. Simply substitute cooked dry rice, either brown or white, for breadcrumbs. Besides being less trouble this stuffing is so good I advise you to try it. In spite of the fact that it may be traditional in your home to have bread stuffing.

Don't Let Thanksgiving Trouble You

You can buy good strained cranberry jelly or whole berry sauce. However you can make your own and keep it stored in a cool place. Cranberry orange relish tastes every so much better if made ahead and kept cool.

Celery should be washed before it is put away. Then it only has to be cut. Carrot sticks or curls should not be made too far ahead of time as this is hard on vitamins.

Ends and Work-of-Art Salads

If you skip the salad, I doubt if it will be missed; especially if you provide lots of celery, carrots and other raw vegetable relishes. Then, too, salad plates often crowd a heavily laden table, so if you serve a salad, let it be a first course and not too large. Also, if you are serving salads wash the makings and get the dressing made long ahead of time.

What's For Dessert?

Practically everyone serves at least one kind of dessert. Both bought and home-made mince and apple pies (make them the day before) can be heated while dinner is being eaten. Pumpkin pie presents a problem and yet it's a must for many. You can try pumpkin chiffon pie and this can be made a day ahead. It is strongly felt that pumpkin pie should be baked the day it is served so if the meal is a midday affair the cook must rise and shine early. The crust can be made several days ahead.

Baked pies freeze beautifully so, freezer users, give thanks.

Steamed puddings are always made ahead of time.

Sauces can also be made ahead. Beverage — Lots of it and Hot.

"Buying your Winter Clothing" will be the subject of my radio talk on Oct. 13th at 12:45 over CJCA.

"My son has chosen banking"

When a bank manager retired last year, he wrote his General Manager to tell why he was proud his son also had chosen a banking career:

"I shall always recall my banking days with pleasure and I cannot think of any other occupation that gives one a greater opportunity to meet people and form lasting friendships. I have been privileged to serve the bank in three provinces . . . That my son has chosen banking is also a great satisfaction to me. He is most anxious to make good on his own account."

Any young man on the lookout for an interesting and worthwhile career—for opportunities to grow and get ahead—should take a look at banking. Have a talk with the bank manager in your neighborhood branch. It may well prove an important turning point in your life.

The Board of Trade was agitating for more modern post office boxes. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Shane who are leaving shortly for Ontario were farewelled at a party at Thorncliffe school. Mr. Shane has been reeve of Grizzly Bear for the past 14 years.

Col. P. C. H. Primrose was the newly-appointed Lieutenant - governor of Alberta.

Provost won the inter-high school track meet.

Fred Rhoades, aged 36 years, of Clandonald passed away from an injury caused by being trampled by a horse back in 1934.

Golf and tennis still flourish, the weather proving fine for these popular summer pastimes. Short days are the big drawback now.

W. R. Wiebe purchased the John Thompson cottage on the south side.

Leslie Geake won the Governor-General's medal for highest marks obtained in the pubic school leaving examinations for Vermilion inspectorate. He was a grade 8 pupil at Rusylvia school.

Bert Duncan is still picking ripe strawberries from the vines in his garden. As proof he took the Editor in and showed him the strawberry patch. The vines contained fruit from a green berry to a bright ripe red product. The flavor of the latter was delicious.

Fine weather prevails and great headway is being made with threshing. Considerable stacking is also being done as there is a shortage of threshing outfits.

REPORT to the PEOPLE

BY ROBERT FAIR, M.P.
BATTLE RIVER

In my last contribution to these columns I endeavored to show the results of the Government's fiscal policy during the past number of years and its effect on the productive capacity of our people, as well as the effect of taxation policy when taken on the average of all the citizens of our country. I must admit at once, of course, that taxation on an average basis is not by any means the correct way to assess this policy, as the residents of some provinces are either more ambitious than others or are engaged in enterprise that brings them higher returns and therefore, they are called upon to pay a much higher tax bill than those who earn just enough to provide them with a bare subsistence.

When Great War 2 broke out, a large majority of our people lost no time in making preparations for all out production and when the call went out for production of certain commodities every effort was put forth in that direction and continued until the conflict was finally won. When heavier taxes were levied in July, 1942, to pay the ever-increasing costs of the war, our citizens did not complain too much and fell in with the government's program, which has not been altered to any noticeable degree up to the present time and which we are told will continue up to 1953-54.

During the fiscal years 1935-36 to 1939-40, when the war broke out, it cost the government between 45% and 5 hundred million dollars annually to provide the services of government. During the present fiscal year it is estimated it will cost 1,249 million dollars to provide the necessary services. In the fiscal year which ended on March 31 last it cost the country no less than 941.4 million dollars to service the national debt — an amount almost equal to the cost of running the country between 1935 and 1940, annually.

Particularly during the war years when our colonial debt was being built up, Social Credit members et normalcy consistently urged the government to make use of the Bank of Canada when it was found necessary to borrow money to finance war operations and when the Minister of Finance made excuses and gave reasons why the government should not use the Bank of Canada directly, all of his arguments were successfully answered as well, indeed, that on one occasion when Mr Victor Quelch, S.C. member for Acadia entered into a discussion of money with the then Minister of Finance, Hon. J. L. Ilsley, the Minister admitted on the floor of the House that I believe my Honorable friend knows more about (this question (money) than I do. As a result of the government's stubborn adherence to the outmoded system of finance, which creates booms and busts, the Canadian taxpayers are now compelled to pay hundreds of millions of dollars annually in interest on money that was created by the chartered banks from the end of a fountain pen that might just as effectively, even more so, have been created by the Bank of Canada, at the cost of operating the account rather than with the additional interest, which is being collected by the chartered banks.

It would seem that the people all across the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific are getting fed up and waking up to the deal they are getting and have been getting during many years past. Some of the government members at Ottawa have been boasting that they are a government that keeps the country prosperous by paying out a lot of money to the people in various forms and then taking it back again in taxes and repeating the process over and over again. Results of elections that have been held in Ontario, Quebec, Saskatchewan, British Columbia, Alberta and finally New Brunswick shows that the policies of the present government are not any longer good enough. The opinion expressed by the voters of New Brunswick was most emphatic of all provinces as the Liberals held 46 seats prior to the election while the Conservatives held only 5 and one vacant seat. When the ballot were counted after the election Conservatives held 26 seats and the Liberals 16. Their defeat can be attributed to heavy taxation and loss of markets mainly with smug complacency continuing to exist.

On Sept. 25th, the Minister of Agriculture, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, announced that effective Sept. 29, the government support price for cattle would be reduced from $27 per cwt. to $25. This will remain in effect until Apr. 1st next and will then return to $27 if the U.S. embargo against Canadian cattle and meat has not been lifted by that time. It must be understood that no floor price has been placed under feeder cattle or lower grades. The present $25 floor price will apply on fancy steers and heifers up to Nov. 25th.

On Sept. 24th the Minister also announced that the floor price on hogs of $28 per cwt. will be maintained until Dec. 31 next, but will be dropped after that date to $23 per cwt. In commenting on the announcement the Minister stated that the new price is not an incentive one. In other words while the government is not encouraging production, they do not want to discourage it. This is a sad indication that there are no outside markets in sight and to average hog raiser it says "We have lost your market for hogs".

Farmers Should Store Their Own Grain

A timely article written by C. V. Combe, Financial Editor, The Winnipeg Tribune in the interests of Canadian Grain Producers.

Canadian grain producers know that safe, cheap and adequate storage for their bountiful 1952 crop must be provided by themselves right at home on the farm if it is to be provided at all Otherwise, some 500,000,000 bushels of high quality grain must be dumped on the ground in grain fields or stored in make-shift snow-fence and tarpaper ferry-built field bins after all available storage facilities are filled

The 1952 crop in the west totals 1,320,000,000 bushels of all grain. This with the 405,000,000 bushel carryover makes a volume of 1,725,000,000 bushels requiring adequate storage. Public elevators in Canada will house 480,000,000 bushels at working levels. Farmers can store 600,000,000 bushels with present facilities and this fall domestic and export customer channels will drain off another 120,000,000 bushels. That leaves around 500,000,000 bushels with no storage facilities at all!

Given good threshing weather the West's 23 million wheat farmers could gather the record 1952 harvest in six weeks or working days. The out-put averages 37,000,000 bushels a day. Farm storage can handle 17,000,000 bushels daily leaving 20,000,000 daily to be moved by the grain industry and railways or left on the spilled on the ground.

On present prospects when the harvesting job is done some 500,000,000 bushels will be in ferry-built storage or lying unprotected on the ground. In either case it will be a continuing danger of loss of grade and volume due to bad weather and field thieves birds mice and rats. The loss can be imagined but not pin-pointed

No sound profit-making storage or railway system can be geared to handle so vast a quantity in so short a time standing relatively idle the rest of the year. Back in 1928, with the requirement to obtain priorities and with both Canadian and U.S. Great Lakes grain fleet's keen for cargoes the railways moved 103,000,000 bushels to terminals in a single month, October. Today's boxcar, steamer and trucks could probably reach a new record of 150,000,000 bushels in a month of sunday grower-light transport conditions. But the task of moving a needed 400,000,000 bushels a month to major terminals would be fantastically impossible even in these days of streamlined mechanical efficiency in industry—and farming.

That is why this fall of 1952 is an excellent time for Canadian grain growers to face up to the modern necessity of providing themselves with adequate, permanent farm grain storage. Efficient, modern farm storage satisfaction will be satisfied with nothing less. The present glut of grain all the way from prairie farm to tide-water seaports leading to world markets is here to remain. It will be an annual continuing problem until farmers provide sufficient adstorage grainage right on the farm.

The farmer who builds himself sufficient farm grainarie now will reap second cash profits. His bonded will finance purchase of material for these grainaries as a project within the requirements of good farm house keeping. His local lumber yard manager will sell him for $275 more or less, based on shipping charges, all the lumber and hardware necessary for an 1,100-bushel grainary. And he can build it when pressure of farm field work eases off transferring grain on the ground to the new portable grainary mounted on skids.

This works out at 25 cents a bushel capital cost. Put on a two year amortization basis, he pays 2½ cents a bushel annually. After that he has a bin to his home free. On such a proposition he just can't lose.

Before deciding to erect an improved 1-shed-fence-tar-paper field bin the farmer should sit down and figure things out. His initial cost for the 1,100 bin is around $70 for materials $35 of which cannot be salvaged. His two-year costs will be $350 for such storage plus a lot of labor. Against this he has around 3,000 to 5,000 more bushels with no storage facilities at all!

Mannville Local Items

Mrs. Brown, formerly of Mannville, now residing in Lloydminster, was visiting in town this week.

3-Way Stove

A three way stove took place this past week in Mannville. Mr. Hector Whitson was here from Pincher Creek to help her in locating, to move his furniture to Pincher Creek. Recently Mr. Enfield traded his house in town on the deal for the farm owned by Mr. Whitson. Mr. C. Koontz has been renting the house on the farm. Chas. Mr. Whitson moved his furniture etc., to Pincher Creek. Mr. Enfield moved to the farm and Mr. Koontz to the house in town, which he is renting. One stove at a time is load enough but to be mixed up in three at one time must be one big headache.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Olsenberg who are now settled in the house for merly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Kravetz, had as guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Simonson of Camrose, Mr. and Mrs. Shiler and family of Tofield and Mr. and Mrs. Cinnamon and family of Tofield. These were Mrs. Olsenberg's father and mother and two sisters.

Dr. Hvalnoff, Mr. M. Mercer and Mr. C. Swain were out the odd day helping during the harvest. But whether the Doctor was interested in the threshing or the pictures he was taking is a matter of opinion.

Birch Creek W.I. met

The ladies of Birch Creek W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Whitson on Monday night and went on to surprise Mrs. J. McDuffe at her own home. This was a farewell part: for Mrs. McDuffe who has been a member of the W.I. both here and at Mundare for a number of years. After an enjoyable evening spent in games, Mrs. Eber McFadden presented the guest of honor with a W.I. spoon as a token of esteem from the W.I. A delicious lunch was served by members of the group.

Mrs. Kistler, Messrs. Herbie and Otto Krafeik were home from Cold Lake for the week end.

The National elevator coal shed is being jacked up and a foundation put under it and general repairs around the elevator are being done by the elevator repair crew.

Messrs. Chuck Thumbert and Charlie Moore are away in the southern part of the province goose hunting. Good luck boys!

Mr. C. C. Young and Mr. Romanick were in the hospital last week but both are out and home again now. Walter Pulyk who has been in the hospital for burns received several days ago is out now but must still return for dressings. Mrs. George Bennett is a patient in the local hospital.

The weather is nice again after the frosty spell. It certainly damaged the flowers, even to house plants in the house.

We sang "Come ye thankful people, come" on Sunday at our Thanksgiving service and the service is sure that people everywhere are thankful for such a bountiful harvest, and most of it is safe in the granaries. Such a grand fall!

It really is nice seeing our old friend Mr. Playne running down to the little church and reading the lessons. Usually the past when all the family attended on faith fully. We were sorry to hear that his grandson Larry is in hospital and hope that he will be well and home again soon.

Mrs. Dell did a little visiting nevertheless one day last week, even had her wish to the flowers at the home of Mrs. Gillies. He was accompanied by Mr Playne.

The writer sent out a signal on Monday to get up to the church to help decorate as the car was out of order—of all days. Mrs. Dell came along but Mrs. Sherwood it was certainly very kind of her and was greatly appreciated, thanks again. Three rides was a little too far to walk with both arms loaded.

It was nice to see Bill and Lila out to church again.

A belated birthday wish goes out to Mrs. Van den Dolder who was 39 years young a short time ago. Perhaps I shouldn't be telling how young she is but my pen just wouldn't stop.

Joyce Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Scott was rushed to the hospital on Friday night for emergency appendectomy. She is reported progressing favorably.

Don Upton has moved his house on to a new foundation and plans to do a bit of painting and repairing.

Frank Accident

The first cold day last week caused more or less a fresh accident. The dray horses, tired of standing in the cold, moved about on their own and the dray caught a car belonging to Ed Ambler and pushed it around into the ditch, owned by Maurice Mercer, parked beside it. Damage of approximately $75 and $25 respectively was done to the two cars.

John Thomas Fyfe Laid To Rest

Funeral services for John Thomas Fyfe were held at the Knox United church, Islay, on Thursday, September 25th at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Interment followed at the Islay cemetery. The Rev. C. E. Vogel conducted the services while at the graveside the solemn rituals of the Masonic Lodge was carried out. A very large number attended the services, anxious to pay their tributes to one whom they had long held in deep respect and high esteem.

Mr. Fyfe passed away on Monday evening September 22nd at the family home near Islay, following a short illness. He was born at Exeter, Ontario 74 years ago but heart the call of the West and settled at Islay in 1907 and here he had since made his home. From that year until 1939 when he voluntarily retired he filled the position of postmaster, giving courteous service and becoming favorably known to a very wide circle of people.

Following his retirement in 1940 he and Mrs. Fyfe continued to make their home in the village. Just this fall they moved out to the farm home of their daughter and family, a short distance from Islay.

In 1909 he married Miss Catherine Williamson at Islay. He is survived by his sorrowing widow; one daughter Mrs. Charles Robertson of Islay, two granddaughters, four brothers and six sisters.

The pall bearers were Messrs. N. McEachern, J. C. Cross, Jas. Carey, J. W. C. Morgan, S. J. Irwin, Chas. Kennedy.

Beautiful floral tributes were received from:

Woodvale News

Brrr' What a cold wind last Thursday! It put a quick stop to threshing and combining that afternoon and we have not heard of any damage being done. And it was certainly cold for a few days such a contrast with the frostless nights of September. Well, there is no doubt more, everyone's garden and flowers are frozen, but as late as Oct. 2nd exceptional blossoming was noticed by Mrs. O. Wolters when a branch of her honeysuckle had pink flowers on it. Now we have a bunch of flowers before we will see that again

Death of Mrs. C. Lewis

Last week word was received that Mrs. C. Lewis, better known as Veranina Leslie in the Tofield district, died on Sept. 23rd at the home of her daughter in Dublin after a short illness, at the age of 86 years. She was one of the old timers here and when she left in 1914 she was as spry and healthy as ever, and through the years always kept in touch with her daughter and friends around here. She always showed a keen interest in the community where she lived for so many years. She always will be remembered lovingly by all who knew her.

Pioneer Recovering from Accident

Mrs. C. McGrath returned home after a stay in the Islay hospital of 2½ months with a broken hip. Though she is not able to walk alone yet, she feels much better after getting out of bed and will be, we are sure, so pleased to be home again, and so are all of us.

Mrs. Pearson (Madeleine) would like to thank all her friends in the Tofield district who so kindly presented her with the lovely fare well gifts, after she taught for two years in Garden school. They consisted of a silver tray, silver cream pitcher and sugar bowl, six silver teaspoons and a tablecloth. They are gifts she will always cherish, because of the good wishes and kind thoughts which accompanied them. Needless to say, the people in our district really appreciated Mrs. Pearson's work during the past two years and will often think of her in friendly ink, and hope to see her and the boys as often as possible.

Good Yields Reported

The best fields we have heard of so far are from Ted Schubert's 33 bushels of wheat to the acre on Ralph Thomsen's 30, the latter not on summerfallow. Barley seems to be threshing around 70 and wheat around 25 in many places. Ducks did considerable damage in scattered fields around the district.

Harvesting has been progressing steadily and slowly, due to lack of enough help, and the ladies are wrestling, no boiling, to get the last garden parts and potatoes out of the now frozen ground.

Rudy Pearman was lucky in that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rankin, and Mr. and Mrs. Jensen came out on a lovely day, full of energy, and helped to bring in her garden stuff

Since the first Canada Savings Bond was sold —interest payments totalling about ninety three and a half million dollars have been paid out to about one million owners. This represents an average return of approximately $100. Some owners have earned more interest than this—some less—but all would agree that they have had a handsome return for an investment that is cashable at full face value at an instant's notice.

It is the easiest, most carefree way to earn money that one can imagine. And now the new Seventh Series of Canada Savings Bonds offer a better return than ever! They pay an average of 3.44% per year if held for their full term of 10 years and 9 months. The Seventh Series bonds—like earlier issues—are cashable at full face value plus interest at any time at any bank in Canada.

P.V. Girls' Garden Club Complete Active Year

PARADISE VALLEY. — We are now able to give a final report on the Paradise Valley Girls' Garden Club (Prairie Gardeners).

The judging of garden plots took place on Aug. 21st when Miss Reed district home economist and Mr. Braithwaite, Pool representative, with the girls and several mothers visited every garden plot. Mrs. Victor Dobson, assistant leader, invited the group for a picnic lunch on her lawn. All co-operated by bringing hampers of food, helping to serve, etc. The chicken, salads and pies all tasted very good. The weather being favorable helped to make the day a success. We thank all who supplied transportation or helped in any way.

Miss Rose Bloxham was the winner of the prize presented by the Alberta Wheat Pool for the best garden plot. Emily Swayze and Marlene McDonald came next.

September 1st was a busy day as 16 prairie gardeners prepared for their achievement day. The spies did display of vegetables, flowers, canning, fruits, jams and jellies, and flowers was a credit to the girls and the people of Paradise Valley have cause to be proud of the members of this club. The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. STRANGE
Director, Research Department, Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

The Cinderella Crop — Grass

The very first lesson of life on this earth, long preceding the advent of man, was grass. The book of Genesis tells us "And God said, let the earth bring forth grass . . . And the earth brought forth grass . . . And there evened the morning were the third day." (Man was not introduced until the sixth day).

Grass seems to be the Cinderella of all plants. Much less improvement work has been done by man on grass, it seems, than on grains and livestock; but it appears the opportunities for greater productivity of livestock by means of the improvement of grasses and pastures are great indeed. Representatives of 63 nations meeting in the U.S., to talk about grass were informed by Mr. Will M. Myers, of the University of Minnesota, that improvement of grasses could well be made that would enable the northwest of the U.S.A. to carry 30% more cattle and sheep than it does today, and that two acres of improved pasture in the northwest could provide all the forage needed by a dairy cow; so that much the same thing applies to beef cattle. Dr. Myers thought, however, that a great deal of research work and breeding work would have to be done to breed and to introduce these new varieties of grasses. No doubt the same opportunity for grass improvement exists in Canada.

When the wind blows, you need more heat in your home. Engineers of Minneapolis-Honeywell say that a 10-mile-an-hour wind blowing against the side of your house may have the same effect on heat loss as a 10-degree drop in outdoor temperature.

C.G.I.T. Entertained At Home of Mrs. Stewart

The home of Mrs. E. M. Stewart was the scene of a very happy and lively party on Friday afternoon Oct. 3rd when she was hostess to the Intermediate C.G.I.T. group. The girls gathered immediately after school and proceedings started off with a sing-song, followed by dancing lessons (Grandpappy Polka and the French Minuet) then games and tricks were played.

Mrs. Stewart served a delicious and bountiful supper, the girls all leaving for home well filled and happy after thanking their hostess profusely for a very enjoyable party.

John Lakness of New Westminster, B.C., is renewing his acquaintance with the Derwent district after an absence of over 30 years. He was one of the early settlers in that area then known as Monkman. Mr. Lakness has been in the employ of the Canadian National and is looking forward to retirement having reached the age limit. He finds a marvelous development in country districts and particularly in the town of Vermilion which in his days was the shipping point for all the country north to the Saskatchewan river.

A line from George Brown now settled at East Saanich Rd., R.R. 1, Saanichton, V.I., states that so far they like it but would paint a more definite opinion after they had spent a winter there. He also remarks that there are lots of apples thereabouts without much demand for them as everyone seems to have more than they want. The Browns have apparently settled in a beautiful spot, about one mile from the water, and they can see the boats going to Victoria.

Mannville Girl Is Married in Edmonton

WALKER—GAMBLE

Miss Eileen Gamble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Gamble of Mannville, became the bride of Mr. George Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Walker of Wetaskiwin, in an interesting ceremony solemnized recently at Metropolitan United church.

Pink and white gladioli banked the altar for the double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. Reid Vipond.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of French Chantilly lace and illusion net over satin. Her fingertip veil of net and lace was caught to a braided satin coronet, and she wore a triple-strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of red roses in a cascade arrangement.

Miss Shirley Gamble was maid of honor and Miss Doreen Cameron, Miss Joyce Gamble and Miss Ruth Gamble were bridesmaids. Their gowns were of taffeta and nylon net in shades of gold and sea green, respectively, and they carried cascade bouquets of autumn flowers.

Mr. Alvin Horricks of Wetaskiwin attended the groom. Ushers were Mr. Jack Gamble and Mr. Willard Harricks, and Mr. Dean Walker, both of Wetaskiwin.

Miss Shirley Gamble sang, using "A Wedding Prayer" during the signing of the register, accompanied by Mrs. Dabbs.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gamble chose a gray crepe afternoon frock with rose and navy accessories. Talisman roses formed her corsage.

The groom's mother wore a bottle green velvet dress with gray accessories. Pinned at her shoulder was a corsage of yellow roses.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Gamble, who also received at the reception, chose a navy frock with yellow roses on corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church hall.

A toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Olsenberg of Mannville. Miss Shirley Gamble sang "Because".

For a honeymoon to southern Alberta the bride chose a navy pea coat and suit with yellow accessories. Pinned at her shoulder was a corsage of yellow roses.

The couple will make their home in Edmonton — Journal.

Alasdale

Jack Frost has sneaked up on us again in a great hurry, causing considerable damage, cracking on the heads freezing trucks, cars and tractors and no doubt some vegetables still out in the garden. Sunday morning was the coldest here. It was 10 above, Saturday 15, Friday, 20.

Combining and threshing are running along quite well, about half finished in the district. Some of the grain shows considerable frost damage, especially the wheat.

Sept. 28th Rev. McKay held service at Chandonald at 2 00 p.m., a very interesting sermon, "Why you should go to church". After the service the ladies served lunch. It was good to visit with the neighbors. Mrs. McKay and the boys were also present. Mrs. W. Frezers, Presidess of Chandonald W.A., on behalf of the members, presented Mr and Mrs. Rhodes with a lovely electric heating pad. This so seemed couple are leaving shortly to make their home in Elk Point. They will be greatly missed in Chandonald and surrounding districts.

The Young People of Vermilion are taking the Thanksgiving service at 3 00 p.m. Watch for announcements of a ribbon supper the latter part of October.

This credit goes to our Chandonald correspondent and I especially am very grateful for it. Thanks a lot Eddie. In the Forsythe Lorne wedding, on talking to Irene, the bride, I found the Nelsons knew her dad as a boy, Jack Locke. In later years her uncle married a cousin, all news to us. It was grand hearing of friends and relatives and their whereabouts last in the span of years since '18.

Bride-Elect Feted At Landonville

On the afternoon of Saturday, Oct. 6th, Mrs. Blanche Buts and Mrs. Zeller Christian were cohostesses at a miscellaneous shower held in Zeller Lake summer home of Miss Mabel Quicksland, whose marriage to Mr. Burnie Garnier of Lewisberry will take place in the near future. Some 40 ladies attended extending best wishes for a happy life ahead for this popular young couple. Mrs. Martha Oslo chuk, a former teacher of the bride-elect, made the fitting presentation speech. The gifts were presented in the form of a decorated wedding cake, mounted on a decorated sleigh, which was pulled in by a miniature bride and groom, little Lynda Butz and Ted Etherington, nephew of the bride-elect. After due admiration of the varied array of lovely gifts which were passed around among the ladies, a well delivered thank you speech was made by the guest of honor with an invitation for all to visit her in her new home. A tasty lunch was served, following which the ladies dispersed.

Students' Union Officers Elected

We're winding up the old school week with a new cast of officers. They are:

President - Anne Martin

Social Convener—Lois Herzog

Secretary—Anne Stewart

Treasurer—Allee Britz

Boys' Sport Rep.—Edward Cooper

Boys Sport Rep.—Bob Bentley

Girls' Sport Rep.—Doris Schmidt

Past Member Janet Wilson

To start things rolling, an initiation for all new students was held Day Oct. 8 and 7. Boys were awearin-hed squares or baby bonnets and girls from school weren't they Duncan and Victor?

The girls shared the fun too — Dress and Mr. Smith secured ten of ourselves and we think there was quite a resemblance girls.

Newcomers weren't spared either as they were given the task of letting the girls' hair go straight, so we let them wear half of it done up in the back. Cheers for us.

Cheer up kids — and just wait 'til next year!

Well, maybe the girls' basketball team needs a 'little' practice but we can still beat Lloyd. On a surprise invitation, last Wednesday, Oct. 8th, Mr. Terangie, Mr. Kokotello and Mr. Smith secured ten girls to play Lloyd for an out-of-doors basketball game. Neither team having had any practice it was a fairly rough game. Who could tell the difference between the rivalship of the bed and of their joints or muscles the next morning? If Hopps Jones or anybody group they'll have all the girls running around in the race track. Why? Well, because they have to be in good condition for the big dance on the 24th of October. We want all the ex-studer and students to be there.

Here's a word for our heroines that the No. 2 girls' track uniform is missing.

Three-fold Project Achieved By Anglicans

Seven years ago the Parish of St. Andrew's in Vermilion found themselves with a rectory which needed renovating, a church which had been built in 1916, was hard to heat and with a not too bright an interior, and a place was urgently needed for Sunday school and the church gatherings.

It seemed like an almost impossible program. The projects were however, undertaken in three phases. Firstly, the fine rectory seen at the extreme right of the picture above was built for some $9000 and completed six years ago. It would cost considerably more than that now. After a brief period a parish hall was considered next in line and the construction commenced. A large portion of the work on the hall was done by volunteer labor. Two years ago the hall and the basement church were completed. It forms a wing of the church. With barely time to gather their forces, renovation of the church proper was launched upon.

This practically amounted to re building and resulted in an impressive structure from the outside with a very beautiful interior.

After the roof was lowered and windows put in by contractor Bill Pettigrew the bulk of the remaining of the work was done by a band of very willing and persistent workers who really made a most remarkable success of the project. The buildings from left to right are the parish hall, the church and rectory.

Military Personnel Present from Edmonton

Fitting Ceremonies Officially Open New Armouries

Fitting ceremonies to mark the official opening of the new armories were carried out Wednesday afternoon and a more complete report will appear in next week's Standard regarding the brilliant function.

Officially declaring the fine new building open was Col. J. S. Ross, D.S.O., a former Commanding Officer of the Loyal Edmonton Regiment, a soldier with a brilliant active service record. Taking a leading part in the ceremonies was Lieut.-Allen MacDonald of Edmonton, the officer presently in command of the Loyal Edmontons, and Capt. Is. C. Ackerman of Vermilion's 'A' Company.

Others on the platform during the ceremonies and introduced to the audience were Col. E. L. Debaney, Col. Stillman, Lt.-Col. Wade, Major Rolsct, Capt. McBride all from Edmonton, Robert Fair, M.P. for Battle River, John Decore, M.P. for Vegreville, George Martin, area commander Canadian Legion and Civil Defence co-ordinator for this area, the Rev. D. A. Ford, padre for 'A' Coy., and the Canadian Legion branch A. E. Kaiser chairman of the civilian committee and Mrs. Buckingham a member of the civilian committee, to whom much credit is due for the organization of the fine new armories.

Purposes of the armories were outlined by Col. MacDonald while Col. Ross gave a short history of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment of which Vermilion's 'A' Coy. under Capt. B. C. Ackerman is a unit. Col. Ross dwelt on the development of the Canadian Army from a very small beginning in 1939 to the present.

A very impressive opening was made at the ceremonies when the Color party marched in to the strains of the regimental tune 'Bonnie Dundee'. The Color party was escorted by 'A' Company, members of the Legion, and Air Cadets.

Capt. Buckingham Awarded Efficiency Decoration

Capt Ernie Buckingham, well known Vermilion man, whose army service goes back to 1912 and has been continuous since that time either on active duty, or with the reserve militia, was awarded the Efficiency Decoration in recognition of his very long military record. The presentation was made by Col. Allen MacDonald

The biggest oat crop this year is reported from the farm of W. L. Robinson. In a field of 30 acres the yield was 122 bushels per acre The variety was Victory

Blowouts Injured

Quite a few farmers have reported that crops were damaged by blowouts last spring. No doubt there is a lot more damage from this insect than is noticed. Many blowouts are present in a field but they can be controlled by treating seed with HHC This is a new treatment but very effective

Fall Cultivation

Now that threshing is windin up, is the time to get the thistle patches Fall cultivation will kill a lot of thistles and make it possible to crop land next year. It does not do so much good to fall till for wild oats, or pig weed but we leave it to other parts of Alberta to take prizes at the Toronto and Chicago shows. If you have some good looking wheat, oats, rye, barley, flax or grass seed, bring in a sample and we can talk over showing it at the big shows. Entries close at Toronto Oct. 18 and at Chicago Nov. 10th.

The Monday holiday, which set the Standard back a day at the very start, one man short on the staff, and a demand for extra advertising space, necessitating a 14-page paper, all combined to make the Standard one day late this week, despite the fact that the usual night shifts were worked Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Pretty Wedding At St. Andrew's Church

GLASS—WASYLISHEN

The St. Andrew's church was the scene of a beautiful wedding on September 12th when Miss Stella Wasylishen, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wasylishen of Edmonton, was wedded to Mr. Gerard Joseph Glass, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Glass of Ruyslis.

Rev. Father McLean officiated at the ceremony.

Entering the church with her father the bride looked lovely in a ballerina length gown of white satin and nylon net. Her circular veil fell from a Juliet cap. She wore a corsage of red roses and carried a white prayer book garlanded with fresh sweet peas and white stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace.

Mrs. Kay Williams, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. She wore a silk green ballerina length gown of taffeta and nylon net with matching headdress and corsage of pink rosebuds.

Attending the groom were Jack Glass, brother of the groom and Jerry O'Connor.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

In the evening a large number of friends and well wishers of the young couple attended a dance in the St Columbus hall, Clandonald.

Who has the black crayon? -- Did anybody see the glue? — Has anyone a pair of sharp scissors? — What color shall I do this? —

It was not a kindergarten meeting Tuesday night — however Olga must have felt very much at home as she did a super job of supervising decoration making.

It turned out that some of the girls are quite artistic. You should see Berna's ! I'm not going to tell what. You will just have to turn out at the Harvest ball Dec. 22nd and see for yourselves.

Three or four members were absent. Could it be because they remembered that Tuesday night was a work night?

Pride goeth Eleanor Jean are cheering Saturday night.

We will be looking forward to seeing you on Oct. 21st.

Wainwright Signs Hockey Coach For Coming Season

Mr. Don Shillington, generally called "Shilley" in sports circles, was chosen from a number of applicants last Sunday, Oct. 5th to coach hockey in Wainwright. Don was born and raised in Delisle Sask., he received his education at Drlisle and Saskatoon and played most of his hockey there as well.

Don has a good solid hockey background and comes to us highly recommended by Harold Brostwell, President of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association, by George Ward, Director of Playgrounds for Saskatoon, the manager of the Calgary Stampede hockey club and others. He has produced league winning teams for the past few years. Among the teams he has coached are a junior team the Saskatoon Merchants, who won 16 games, tied two and lost two in their 20-game league schedule. Another of his teams the Hillhurst Hustlers of the South Central Alberta Hockey league won the league cup and were barely nosed out in the Provincial play-offs. The Hustlers are a farm team of the team in the Big Six league of Calgary.

Don is primarily interested in developing local players and will be responsible for the coaching of all hockey in Wainwright from Pee Wee to Commando. His position as coach is a full time job and it is to be hoped that he will be able to cover a lot of territory in this re gard. — Wainwright Star Chronicle

1952 Christmas Seals Arrive

FUNDS AID THE FIGHT AGAINST TB.

Thousands of 1952 Christmas Seals have arrived in Edmonton, for distribution to Edmonton and Northern Alberta householders in November, it is announced by the Kinsmen Club TB Christmas Seal committee. Dozens of voluntary workers are busy addressing envelopes, folding seals and letters and preparing for what is hoped to be the best Seal sale yet.

Edmonton and Northern Alberta's objective for 1952 is $80,000. Every cent is already budgeted for with the provision that any surplus over the regular work of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association will be spent to install X-ray equipment in hospitals for routine chest X-ray of all admissions.

Mr. G. H. Bowen, chairman of the Kinsmen Club TB Seal committee said, "This is one of our biggest and most important projects but we have a long way to go before reaching our goal of an X-ray unit in every hospital. At least four times as much unsuspected TB is found among hospital patients as among the general population. Finding these hidden casualties and removing these sources of infection to sanatoria will prevent the spread of tuberculosis which killed nearly 3,000 Canadians last year."

Anyone who wishes to have their Xmas Seals ahead of time for overseas mail may have them by writing to the Kinsmen Club TB Christmas Seal committee, Heintzman Hall, Edmonton, Alberta.

Welcome, Teachers!

Fourth TB Essay Contest Announced

$1300.00 IN PRIZES FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Pupils in Alberta schools from grade 7 to 12 will compete this fall for prizes totalling $1300, in an essay contest sponsored by the Alberta Tuberculosis Association it has been announced by T. A. Shandro, president. Information concerning the contest will be sent out this week to schools in all parts of the province and the closing date for entries has been set at Dec 23.

"This is the fourth consecutive year that such a contest has been held. The purpose is to spread more information about tuberculosis among the younger people and their parents. Letters and public information are among our chief weapons in the fight against TB", said Mr. Shandro.

Interest has been increasing yearly. It was reported that officials expect a record number of entries in both the graded and rural school competitions. Expenses of the contest will be defrayed from Xmas Seal funds as part of the health education program of the association.

Pleasant Valley

The weather is cooler but still nice no snow. The harvest is all but completed for another season.

The district was shocked to learn of the death of two well known Islay old timers on Monday. Mr Joe Dupuit, and Mrs. Anderson. Deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved families.

Betty Gould helped Mrs. McNeland with the threshers. Mrs. Gilles is staying with Christie at present. She spent the week end with the writer and on Sunday a visit was made to Lloydminster to visit old friends. On Monday a visit was made to the Dupuit home.

Chilters at the home of Mrs. Bert Gould last week were Mrs. Cummings and Mr. and Mrs. Lyons. Mrs. F. French and her granddaughter from Minburn. The writer hopes that Mrs. Simmonds is feeling better.

With the winter and snow we will all complain, wishing it were summer with heat and rain, some people are never content, cold or hot shouldn't call for adverse comment.

What Changes in Cars?

Despite all the glitter, there aren't new automobiles haven't yet caught up to the civilization they've helped to create, a group of Canadians told the Financial Post.

Many considerations, many say, should get a bigger play from the auto designers for one thing — things like better left-hand vision for the driver; safer dashboards and windshields; effective emergency brakes; less concentration on more horsepower until our highways are made safer; safety belts.

Chrome should get a smaller play, it's suggested, for economy in the purchase price as well as repair bills. Also, along the lines of economy, as well as traffic-congestion considerations, many favor smaller autos, instead of the general trend to longer, wider vehicles.

These are part of a host of suggestions and ideas being received, and which take in: quoted prices including defrosting, heater, etc.; hardier paint jobs; directional signals as standard equipment; easier steering; tougher exteriors; more attention to cold weather running ease.

As many as 1200 vehicles in various stages of assembly may be found during the two and a half miles of assembly lines at any one time in the General Motors of Canada plant at Oshawa.

Stampeders Visit Crippled Children

Patients at Alberta's Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital were sure they were the luckiest kids in Calgary recently when members of the Calgary Stampeders football team dropped in for a visit.

As sports minded as any other youngsters, the athletic could hardly contain their excitement when Lew Lear, F1 Chairmainne, Stan Mortson, Bob Mike and Sugarfoot Anderson made bed to bed and ward to ward calls. Cries of "Hi, Sugarfoot!" proceed the party down the corridors as the youngsters vocally expressed their excitement.

As always during special visits to the hospital, autographs were the order of the day. Books, slips of paper, toys and of course casts on small limbs were all duly signed by the players.

Faster and Shinier

Though manufacturers are keeping mum for competitive reasons, The Financial Post hears that the 1953 cars coming out this fall and winter will present some changes. Several of the lower priced models will have new bodies, some of the others big changes in power plants. On the whole, the 1953 cars will be faster and shinier.

PROVINCIAL DEBT

This is what your Alberta Government has done to the $167,081,(illegible) public debt accumulated between 1906 and 1935:

- $29,000,000 was saved the taxpayers of Alberta outright through debt reduction negotiations.
- Average interest rate on Province of Alberta debentures in 1936 was 4.38 percent and now is 2.97 percent.
- A debt retirement plan has been arranged to wipe out the entire debt by 1973—in 21 years time—or of an earlier date if it is in the public interest to do so.
- This schedule of debt retirement will require 6 percent of the revenue or income account compared to 31 percent required to pay interest charges in 1936.

GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF ALBERTA

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. STRANGE
Director, Research Department,
Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

CAN OUR WHEAT BE SOLD?

Some are wondering whether the Government, through its Agent the Wheat Board, can successfully sell the present large crop of wheat. Last year the Wheat Board sold for export 356.1 million bushels. But in the year 1928-29, by grain merchants using the open market sold for export no less than 407.8 million bushels, and in those days our world-wide customers did not have the assistance of Marshall-Aid dollars. It would seem, then, as though the Wheat Board might, with good fortune, sell at least as much as was sold in 1928-29, which would make a big hole in the present large crop.

It is to be remembered, too, that the world's population has very greatly increased since 1928-29. There are many mouths now to be fed. Naturally much will depend on whether our overseas customers can lay their hands on sufficient Canadian dollars with which to purchase our wheat. If Canada would lower her tariffs and so permit more foreign goods to come into this country, then the people would have more money to buy more of our good Canadian wheat and which they certainly badly need. Our farmers, therefore, should ever lastingly press the Dominion Government to lower existing Canadian tariffs against foreign goods.

Alfalfa for Winter Pigs

Unfavorable weather resulted in deterioration of much of the first cutting of alfalfa, but prospects for the second crop appear brighter.

Well-cured, green leafy alfalfa is high in protein, calcium and Vitamins A and D — all very necessary for successful and profitable swine production. Feed alfalfa to pigs of all ages just as it comes from the stack, advises Mr. A. J. Charsetski, Lloydminster Supervisor, Alberta Department of Agriculture. Remember however, that alfalfa alone is not sufficient. Good feed mixtures, plenty of water and good housing accommodation are also

Illustrated—Buick Custom 4-door Fourbach Sedan

You'll be amazed at the LOW price of BUICK

TODAY'S market conditions are the kind in which Buick really shines.

Do you know why?

Buick prices start down within easy reach of the folks who, in the past, have been in the habit of buying lower-priced cars.

Fact is—a big chunk of Buick sales now comes from the folks who trade in one of these lower-priced cars.

For very few extra dollars, they're getting a lot more automobile.

They're getting more power—and the thrill that goes with it.

They're getting "big-car" comfort. They're getting a ride that cost a million dollars and more to develop.

They like the room, the fabrics, the extra appointments they find in the smart-stepping beauty pictured here. And they like Dynaflow Drive.*

They like the way it handles. They like the way it's engineered. They like the satisfaction they get out of touching off the power of its Fireball 8 Engine—and they like the miles they get from a gallon of fuel.

So Buick sales are booming. Not just the CUSTOM—but also the SUPER and ROADMASTER. Folks find that each one is the buy in its field.

When we tell you that business is great, we can back up that statement with figures. More people are buying Buicks than any other car at their price or above.

Why don't you come in and see for yourself what's behind this popularity?

If you can afford a new car, you can be the proud owner of a Buick.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Dynaflow Drive and 8 fuel Units standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other series.

Turkey Left-Overs

Why not try something different instead of just cold turkey slices? Arrange turkey slices in centre of baking dish. Surround with stuffing, and cover with gravy. Cover and place in moderate oven 375° for about 20 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Or place a tablespoon of stuffing in centre of each turkey slice. Roll up, and secure with a toothpick or string. Arrange in casserole; top with left-over gravy and heat, covered, in moderate oven.

Ruth's Frosting

Here is that recipe for fluffy boiled frosting which can be made in a variety of flavors. It doesn't sugar either. Remember? I was telling you about it two weeks ago.

Snowbank Frosting makes about 2½ cups.

Two-thirds cup granulated sugar
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
One-third cup water
2 egg whites
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
¼ cup sifted confectioner's sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon salt.

Cook two-thirds cup granulated sugar, cream of tartar and water until it forms a hard ball in cold water (250° on a candy thermometer). Beat egg whites until they form peaks. Beat in 2 tablespoons granulated sugar; then slowly beat in the syrup, confectioner's sugar, flavoring and salt. Beat a few minutes until it holds its shape.

Flavor variations you can use in place of Vanilla: 1. Orange or Lemon frosting 2 teaspoons grated orange rind or, 1 tsp. grated lemon rind.

2. Strawberry or Raspberry Frosting — ½ cup strawberry or raspberry preserves. Fold in just before spreading.

3. Maple Frosting—½ tsp. maple flavoring.

4. Peppermint-Stick-Candy Frosting—Fold in ½ cup chopped peppermint stick candy just before spreading. Tint pink, if desired.

5. Fruit Filling—Fold in one-third cup chopped dates, one-third cup broken nut meats, one-third cup chopped, seedless raisins and ¼ cup chopped, candied cherries. This may be used for a frosting too.

Fire Prevention

All through the ages man has been prone to take an apathetic view of dangerous conditions which are apparent to ordinary reasoning, and eventually catastrophe occurs.

In 1951 there were reported in Canada, 66,139 fires causing the death of 484 persons and property loss estimated at over $(illegible)

It is the old story of it can't happen to me and until such time as a fire occurs and affects a particular individual, fire wastage is regarded as "just one of those things".

On an average, every 10 or 15 minutes a fire occurs in some home, institution or manufacturing premises causing untold desolation, loss of lives, homes, factories and jobs.

The tragedy of these fires is that most of them are caused through carelessness. If more care were exercised and thought given to eliminate or minimize potential fire hazards the yearly toll of destruction could be greatly reduced.

It is said that half the business firms burned out by a total fire loss never resume business. What does this mean. Loss of jobs, loss of tax revenue to the municipality, and as the locality is that much poorer.

The objective of all business must be the eradication of fire hazards by constant attention to all the principles of fire protection and prevention measures.

The Diplomatic Service

A RECENT ANNOUNCEMENT from Ottawa of the addition of twenty-four members to the diplomatic service reminds us of the growth of Canada's importance in international affairs during the past few years. It has frequently been said that Canada was one of the few countries which emerged from the Second World War stronger than they were at the beginning. Because of her geographical position and of her resources of raw material, power and labor, Canada did develop rapidly to meet the urgent needs of less fortunate countries during that critical time.

Has Grown Since War

Since the war there has been continued need abroad for the output of Canada's farms and industries and with this increase in economic importance there has come an increase also in the importance of her diplomatic relations with other countries. In the past ten years Canada's prestige in foreign affairs has increased greatly and her representatives have been heard in the discussion of almost all important international problems. The Canadian diplomatic service is at present made up of 250 officers, of which about a dozen are women and three officers are the source of supply of diplomats and leaders to represent Canada in foreign countries. This representation has increased considerably in the past ten years and the responsibilities of those who undertake this important work are heavy.

Rigid Tests Are Passed

The growth of Canada's representation abroad began in 1880 when the first High Commissioner for Canada was sent to Britain. Later missions were opened in other countries in the Commonwealth as in foreign countries. The service continued to grow through the years and in 1931 Canada had diplomatic or consular missions in thirty-seven countries. Young Canadians wishing to enter the diplomatic service must pass rigid entrance examinations and only those having the highest capabilities are admitted. Recently twenty-four members of the service were selected from three hundred college graduates who took tests extending over a period of six months. The growth of Canada's importance among the other nations of the world is due no doubt in part at least, to the abilities of those who act as our representatives abroad and it is interesting to know of the care which is put into the selection of those who are to carry on this important work.

ARMY TO IMPROVE PAY SYSTEM TO SOLDIERS

OTTAWA — The system by which the army pays its soldiers may be streamlined shortly, incorporating some British and United States procedures.

The army said the changes may come as a result of the inspection being carried out in Japan and Korea by its chief paymaster, Col. C. W. Bell, director of pay services for the Canadian Army.

The army did not elaborate.

EDMONTON. — Mayor Hawrelak announced recently that 50 Irish policemen will be added to Edmonton's police force in November. Edmonton imported 13 men from Scotland for the police force in March.

May Increase Livestock By New Alfalfa

OTTAWA. — The Department of Agriculture said that the livestock production capacity of Western Canada soon may be doubled through the introduction of a creeping root alfalfa, which is being tested at 19 experimental stations.

Western Canada's livestock production capacity was doubled several years ago with the introduction of crested wheat.

The creeping root alfalfa variety now being tested is a cross of Ladak and a Siberian variety. Ladak was brought to Canada from Northern India, and for many years has been the best drought and cold resistant alfalfa variety.

HARDY RASPBERRIES IN THE MAKING

What is believed to be the hardiest red raspberry variety, a cross between Chief and Indian Summer, is now being tested at the Canada Department of Agriculture Station at Morden, Manitoba.

Raspberries have not performed too well in the last three years in many parts of Canada due to lack of hardiness. Working with nine promising varieties, C. B. Ure and co-workers at the Morden Station are trying to develop a raspberry that will incorporate such qualities as hardiness, resistance or tolerance to virus diseases, thick foliage that will resist wind damage, strong sturdy cane that will support a large crop, high yields, large and firm fruit, good storage qualities.

The Queen's Printer's Best Sellers

MANY INTERESTING VOLUMES AVAILABLE

It may come as a surprise to those who think of Government publications as dry, musty and technical to learn that the Queen's Printer has a list of books which regularly outsell the best-selling fiction published in Canada.

Books like the Massey Report, Canada 1952, The Canadian Army, Canadian Woods, The Far Distant Ships, and Native Trees of Canada, have pleased so many Canadians that sales of Government publications to the general public have jumped 400% in the past year. Canada 1952, was sold out in advance orders before it came off the press.

Government publications range from popularly written books to technical treatises and series of books on home. But best-sellers appear among all types. The Stenographer's Manual of Reference and the History of the North-West Mounted Police, for example, are consistently among the fast-moving volumes.

Through its various departments the Government publishes many hundreds of volumes material of a permanent nature. A problem exists of informing the public specifically of what is available. The Queen's Printer is at present bringing the whole of Government publications classified by subject categories. When the catalog is issued it will have an excellent guide not only to valuable reference works but also to the many popular books which filter and digest this material for general consumption. The aim is to make the vast amount of information in Government publications known and readily accessible to as great a number of people as possible.

New publications are constantly coming out many of which are expected to have sales of best-seller proportions. Among those now being published the new two-volume History of The Naval Service of Canada and a long-need, short edition of the British North America Acts for students and professors are expected to have a good reception.

In order to keep the public informed of the many books available, the Queen's Printer issues brochures and leaflets, which explain them. Recent leaflets prepared deal with books on Conservation and Dental Personnel. Reliefs will be on hand Agricultural books with Government Pamphlets and news letters. These books contain more and more Canadian facts about the Queen's Printer's best sellers.

Knitting mills in Canada produced almost 21 million pairs of men's socks last year.

Ethelwyn News

The writer has finally finished with fall work as will try to bring this news column up to date.

On Oct. 12th Rev. C. McKay gave a very fine sermon on Thanksgiving in the United church at Clandonald.

Miss Craig and Mrs. Allan Pitcairn came out with Mr. MacKay and stayed to have tea with Mrs. Pilgate. Tom Stockwell drove the ladies back to town in the evening.

Marion and Emery White had a nice week end recently in Edmonton with their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. George White.

Going back to Sept. 28th lunch was served after the church service and Mrs. Fenwick presented a departing member, Mrs. Rhodes, with a warming pad. Everyone is sorry to see Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes leave the district even they have lived so long but they will be much more comfortable in Elk Point where they can have natural gas and have electric lights. On Sept. 4th Mrs. Good entertained the W.A. of the United church when ten members were present. Her kindness was appreciated very much. On 1st the W.A. meeting was at the home of Mrs. W. Feenstra with 11 members and 2 guests present. Roll call was being a friend but as many were threshing attendance was small.

On Oct. 9th the W.A. groups were guests of the Allandale W.A. at the home of Mrs. Throndson. Ladies enjoyed a wonderful afternoon, serving dolls with milk (Editor: Mrs. Gaines was the instructor. After the dolls were finished lunch was served by the hostess. Sincere thanks to Mrs. Throndson and Mrs. Gaines with a special thank you to Mrs. Throndson who not only entertained two W.A. groups but was cooking for a threshing and combine crew and doing chores as well.

Everyone is sorry to see the Revs. and Mrs. Cathcart and daughters leave the district. They will be greatly missed all who knew them. It is hoped that Mr. Cathcart's health improves in the east. Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs. Donald McClelland on the death of her brother Jerry.

Sympathy also goes out to Hugh O'Rourke whose mother passed away Sept. 30th. Mrs. O'Rourke died in Toronto where she had gone from southern Alberta only about a month before.

Mike Morrison has been in the Lloydminster hospital for the past three weeks suffering from a stiff ankle. It is hoped that he will be home for this week-end. Mrs. Morrison's sisters are staying with her.

The district has enjoyed wonderful threshing weather this fall. A few more days should see everyone finished. We have lots to be thankful for this year, and every year in this wonderful country of ours. With threshing over attendance at school will pick up.

Allandale and Clandonald United Church W.A. groups are serving a chicken supper in the Orange hall in Clandonald Oct. 29th. Chicken, pumpkin pie and all the trimmings.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Swart on the birth of a son.

Atomic Explosion Exercise Will Test C. D. Under Fire

Civil Defence workers will have an opportunity of testing their training 'under fire' as a result of a two-day atomic explosion exercise to be conducted at Provincial headquarters on Oct. 23th.

While there will not be any actual explosion, the effects of such a disaster have been worked out, based on knowledge of the Hiroshima atom bomb explosion. All progress will also be based, as far as possible, on factual statistics for the City of Edmonton. That is population density, key installations, fire vulnerability and other civic factors.

When all the 'wrinkles' have been ironed out at the preliminary exercise, exercises will be conducted in the larger key cities, such as Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge etc. C.D. workers from surrounding municipalities will be invited to attend. The exercise for the City of Edmonton and surrounding municipalities is slated for Nov. 29 and 30. Dates for other exercises will be announced later.

Canada is the world's leading exporter of wood pulp.

FIRE PREVENTION

Waste of life and property by fire has increased so that the problem extends far beyond the insurance business. Fire Marshals and Fire Prevention organizations and is a problem of national interest both economically and morally.

The tremendous loss of life and property every year commands the earnest thought and attention of every citizen interested in the welfare of Canada.

Insurance can reimburse the insured for lost property values, but again, it has been shown from experience that only a small percentage of policy holders are insured up to full value, so that the policy holder is unable to be recompensed for his full loss. While insurance monies may be collected it does not mean to say an assured can get immediate repairs or replacement for damaged or destroyed property.

Insurance cannot bring back material resources from smoke and ashes, nor can it restore lives.

Carelessness and recklessness are the principal enemies that we must constantly fight against. Careless use of matches and careless smoking habits rank first in the list of known causes of fire.

In 1950, the last year for which statistics were published, out of 30510 fires reported, 21805 were caused by matches and similar carelessness. The match or tobacco are not to blame, the careless user is the offender.

A government official stated the problem very clearly and simply in these words:

"Laws and ordinances, and the enforcement of fire officials in enforcing them, will not alone control fire losses. Almost every fire is the result of someone's carelessness. We must strive to develop in individuals a deep sense of personal responsibility to prevent fires — to be careful at all times with things that cause fire."

All citizens are in a position to play a most significant part in this vital conservation program- to safeguard their own useful, irreplaceable properties and to take an important part in the work of fire prevention.

Co-operation and leadership in a situation that concerns the welfare of our national economy is the duty of every Canadian.

Bowtell Bulletin

Deepest sympathy of all members of the community is extended to the Dupuit family on the sudden passing of their father, Mr. Jos Dupuit. He passed peacefully away in his sleep Sunday night. It is just a few short months since Mrs. Dupuit died. Another of our old timers gone to their well earned rest.

This is the 15th of October folks and it looks like winter as we had our first snow during the night.

Mr and Mrs. Jones spent the Thanksgiving week end visiting relatives at Unity, Sask.

Some threshing still to do in our district but quite a number have finished.

The writer was pleased to have as visitors on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. C. Sweeney and family and Mr. Brown and son.

Granny Robinson was home for the holiday week end.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Crunelle of Toronto are back in this district on their annual duck hunting trip.

Mr Knutson, although over 70 years of age, surely did his share to help harvest the crop, helping on a threshing crew.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. D Arnold on the birth of a baby girl at the Vermilion hospital recently.

All good wishes are extended to Mike Warawa who is to be married in the near future.

Noticed around: Robert Repp with a grain bee on his truck: Ingvel Sherwood helping Mrs. Stewart for a few days: Harold Knutson combining on the Brix farm: Quite a number in our district ill with the flu: Mrs. Walker journeying to town with Mr. and Mrs. Dedrick; the writer enjoying a visit with her sister Mrs. J. Coutts in town on Monday.

Alberta Farm Income

Farm income from the sale of livestock was down for the early months of 1952, Mr English advises. Owing to the large amount of threshing done in the spring, however, receipts from the sale of grains were high. Income from dairying held fairly steady.

FRESH FROM THE GRAIN BELT

FRESH FROM THE GRAIN BELT. The largest cargo of Canadian grain ever carried across the Great Lakes by ship was unloaded from Canada's biggest lake steamer the 678-foot John D. McKellar into Canadian Pacific Railway grain elevators at Port McNicoll recently. The vessel's arrival at the Georgian Bay port marked the beginning of large grain shipments eastward as western farmers harvest the big, [illegible] bushels of all types of grain. Over 20,000 tons of wheat and barley, part of this year's crop and enough to fill 410 railway box cars were unloaded from the lake ship to await transfer to eastern ports by rail

Used Car Prices Slip

Used car prices have slipped not much, but enough to be noticed by wary buyers, reports The Financial Post.

How much of the drop was due to seasonal drop in demand — with couples thinking more of the fireside than the open road and how much it was due to the coming of 1953 models were also questioned that had dealers scratching their heads.

But most were not too worries. Prices have held firmly for the past three or four months and though the usual peak in spring demands didn't occur this year, it's been a steady season. Dealers do not expect any drastic price cuts now.

Tags on the 1952-53 group had been lowered about $100 with 50 and 47 models down about $50. The 1952 models are still holding their prices but these are expected to drop substantially as the birthdate of the 1953 jobs draws nearer

Wildmere Winks

Mrs. Adam Smith returned home on Friday morning last from her six months visit to Scotland. Mrs. Miller, her niece, stopped off at Moncton, N.B., to visit a few weeks with her son and family. Mrs. Smith enjoyed her visit but said she would not like to live over there anymore. Their return journey over the water was choppy and they were sick most of the boat trip. On landing in Canada she sent a wire to her son Bill which was not received until after she had arrived home. After numerous phone calls to see if it had come, the boys took it on themselves to go to Wainwright to meet the train and sure enough, their mother was on it.

We are indeed sorry to hear that Mrs. A. Rendell at Nanaimo has not been very well. Aubrey received word she had been ill in hospital but was home again. He has been getting things settled at this end before returning to B.C.

Threshing and combining is fast drawing to a close around our corner. J. Wallington, Haines Bros. and Lloyd Howard are all through. Cliff Crothers has a bit of combining left to do. George Wilson, Cowin and Rendell have threshing yet to do and Mr. Holte has still some combining.

Congrats to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Osterberg on the birth of a son last Thursday at the local hospital.

Mrs. Cliff Crothers came home from the hospital with her baby son (William Adam Smith). She still has Hilda Kufeldt helping her for a week or so.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Smith and Diana of Bon Accord, Alta., are visiting at the Smith home in Wildmere.

The Old Timers Round-Up in Vermilion is to be held on Nov. 6 with a banquet and dance in the Legion hall. All old timers please plan to attend.

Mrs. Guy Whitlock had the misfortune to catch her foot on a bark of a wire fence, cutting a gash which required three stitches. It is now healing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Frissell and Isabelle of Battleview were visitors on Sunday at the Fadden home. The writer and family were callers in the evening at the same home

A nice crowd attended church in Basswood school on Sunday afternoon where a Harvest Thanksgiving service was held by Rev. D. A. Ford of Vermilion. Church will be held there again the second Sunday in November.

Master Farm Family Awards Announced

HUNDARE FAMILY WINS FOR THIS DISTRICT

Winners of the Master Farm Family Awards for 1952 have been announced by Hon. David Ure, Minister of Agriculture. This is the fourth year of the Alberta Master Farm Family program.

These are Alberta's Master Farm Families for this year: E. R. Lewis Family, Stony Plain; John Lambert Family, Manning; John Sparby Family, Mundare; J. H. Reimuth Family, Leicester; Jesse Cole Family, Clive.

Each family receives an award of $1000, an engraved plaque and a name plate for the farm entrance.

The main objective of the Master Farm Family Program is to provide Alberta Farmers with a practical demonstration of how a family can achieve success in farming and living with each other and with the community. The program is intended to emphasize the advantages of the farming vocation and the dignity and satisfaction of farm life. Through the program, farm youth gain a clear understanding of the high ideals of agriculture and learn of the opportunities offered them in agriculture.

"Good Farming Right, Living and Clear Thinking is the slogan of the Master Farm Family program. Mr. Ure said. "We try to find farm families whose life has been guided by these principles. The families we are honoring this year are outstanding for their achievements in agriculture, home-making and citizenship."

Interest in the program continued keen this year with 32 families being nominated for the awards, approximately the same number of nominations as last year.

Candidates must be Canadian citizens who have operated a farm either as owner or lessee for 20 consecutive years. At last three neighbors must nominate a family and the family must agree to accept the honor of nomination.

Winners are selected on a regional basis and a provincial committee confirms the selections. Each regional committee is made up of a working farmer, a technical agriculturist, a home economist, a housewife and a representative of the Experimental Farms. Each person corresponds roughly to one of the five Alberta soil zones.

A total of 87 factors related to the farm operation, farm life, community work and business management are evaluated in each case and points given for each factor. For each of the factors there is a possible score and the candidate's score is measured against this.

The Minister of Agriculture extended the congratulations of the Alberta Government to the five families whose high achievements made the awards possible. He also congratulated the other candidates, pointing out that nomination is in itself a great honor and proof of the high regard held for them in their communities. In conclusion, he emphasized the very extensive work done by the selection committees, without access to same the Master Farm Family Program would be unworkable.

In Great Britain today, CARE reports that couples living on old age pensions receive about $6 a week. An individual receives only $3. There are 3 million such people in Great Britain today and every one of them would welcome a CARE food parcel. A CARE parcel, priced at $10 contains canned meat or meat and fish, fats, sugar, butter and jam. Send one today. Mail your cheque or money order to CARE, 73 Albert St., Ottawa 11

Derwent Adopts The "Slogie Appeal" Plan

ORGANIZE "DERWENT BOY-SCOUT BENEVOLENT SOCIETY"

Derwent, Alberta,
Oct. 13, 1952.

Dear Editor:

I would appreciate space in your paper for the following:

At our Board of Trade meetings as far back as 1949 the "Slogie Appeal" has been brought up for discussion, more on account the time of the Red Cross and Cancer Society appeals, as one follows the other very closely, and by the middle of the year the roads are usually in poor condition and we have found it difficult to put on one campaign let alone two or more. Last fall we tackled the problem in earnest and went about fulfilling the dream of those who pioneered the proposal.

At a Board of Trade meeting held Nov. 16th, 1951, a member brought up the "Slogie Appeal" for discussion, but the majority of the members did not think it was feasible. The matter was tabled until the Dec. 7th meeting, but no action was taken, pending further information. Discussion was resumed on Jan. 11th and a motion passed to call a special meeting for Jan. 20th to deal with the matter.

At this meeting the ball began rolling. A committee of five was appointed to map out the district and draw up a plan and submit to the next meeting. At this stage to be planned to work in conjunction with the Board of Trade by incorporating the member fee with the charity donations. However we found out that a tie-in with the Board of Trade was not practical as that idea was abandoned.

At the March 20th meeting the committee reported its findings and also produced a map of the district showing a total of 43 subdivisions and a canvasser for each. The idea of the small divisions is that it is easier to get a lot of canvassers with small districts, than a few canvassers with large districts to cover, also with practically no expense.

Also we carried on correspondence with the various government departments concerned, particularly with the Department of National Revenue, regarding deductions for income tax purposes. At the April 9th meeting we had received enough information to realize that we had to map out and organize separately from the Board of Trade in order to satisfy the Departments concerned. Accordingly it was moved, seconded and carried unanimously, that we proceed to organize a unit to be known as the "Derwent District Benevolent Society". The following were named as the first "Board"

H. Meyerman, M. Cherniawski, C. A. Major, C. T. Wilson, John Kotyk, S. Zamluk, F. V. Podlubny and Felix Woloshyn.

This was the final phase as far as the Board of Trade was concerned. The newly elected Board of the Derwent Benevolent Society took over at this stage and proceeded to get the new organization incorporated.

We are now known as the "Derwent District Benevolent Society" with power to solicit money for charitable purposes and appropriate same on a percentage basis to the different charity organizations as decided by the majority of the members.

We are also empowered to issue receipts for income tax receipts.

Our plans are for one campaign each fall after completion of harvest. When the campaign is finished we will call a meeting of all members and the majority will decide how the money raised by the

Polio Outbreak In Ranfurly District

About 12 cases of poliomyelitis have occurred recently in the Ranfurly district and some of these are being treated in hospital at Vegreville.

REGULAR EXPERIMENTAL STATION; COUNTY PLAN

MANNVILLE. —On Monday afternoon Secretary Dorward and Crs. Castle Scott, Charles Stewart and Bob Johnston of the Minburn M.D. council, were among those attending a meeting in Vegreville re proposal to establish an experimental farm in the north-eastern part of the province.

The same evening a meeting was held to discuss various aspects of the formation of counties. This was attended by representatives of Beaver, Eagle, Lamont and Minburn M.D.'s.

FLIGHTS ENJOYED BY AIR CADETS

Fifty-seven young Air Cadets got the thrill of their lives here Saturday last when an R.C.A.F. Dakota from the Namao air base spent the day at the Vermilion airport taking all the boys for a flight. Accompanying the Cadets on the various trips were Cadet officers, members of the Civilian committee and the press. 69 persons in all took the trips, 22 being Cadets from the Kitscoty squadron.

The crew in charge of the Dakota was comprised of Fl. L. C. C. Cooling, Capt.; Fl. A. F. Richards, co-pilot; F/O. H. R. Batten, navigator; F/O. T. J. Lindberg, radio officer.

The first two flights were northward for a view of Cold Lake and of the mammoth air base under construction there. The third flight was to Edmonton with the Kitscoty boys with a side trip over their home village during which the Cadets carried out a bombing raid with paper. The last journey was a shorter one taking in the country around Vermilion.

The day was perfect, bright and clear, and the air trips were a real treat for the boys and adults alike. The flights were arranged by F/O. Stan Manyluk to recompense his Cadets who were prevented from attending summer camp at Abbotsford, B.C., due to the polio outbreak here. For many boys it was their first trip in the air.

Death of Old Timer At Mannville

MANNVILLE. Mannville people were stunned on Tuesday by the sudden death of Mr. B. K. Jones, an old timer of the town. Mr. Jones, who was 83 in May, came here as the U.G.G. agent in 1914. Prior to that time he had been the first agent for the U.G.G. at Viking, then moved to Tofield in 1912 and to Mannville in 1914. About 1921 he joined what is now the National Grain Co. and he was in that company's elevator here until his retirement.

Sometime ago Mr. Jones was made a life member of Hope Lodge, No. 34, A.F. & A.M.

He leaves to mourn his passing his wife, one daughter and three sons.

The funeral services, under Masonic auspices, will be held on Friday afternoon. The Rev. R. Clement will officiate.

Moyer's are in charge of arrangements.

Archbishop Barfoot Administers Rite of Confirmation At Mannville

MANNVILLE. — The Archbishop of Edmonton and Anglican Primate of All Canada, the Rt. Rev. Walter Barfoot, officiated at a Confirmation service in Mannville. There were five candidates and this is the second group to be confirmed in one year. This was an especially important service to the Anglicans of the town. It was the first Sunday in the redecorated church. This is the result of a lot of time, donations and volunteer labor on the part of both the men and the women of the parish. They are to be congratulated on the result. The interior of the church is now truly beautiful. It has been finished in lighter colors with natural colored woodwork of birch plywood to match the Communion table and the Memorial Prayer desk and chair.

Archbishop Barfoot dedicated a Book of Remembrance given by Mrs. C. Mann and family in memory of the late Mr. Edward Mann. Mr. Mann was for a good many years a church warden of this church and a very active member.

A social half hour was held in the parish hall following the service at which the Archbishop had a chance to meet the people informally.

Presentation to Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Williams and Miss Joan Fisher

During the social half hour in the parish hall, Miss Joan Fisher, now in training at the University hospital, was presented with a bag by the Archbishop on behalf of Christ Church choir for her services to the church. Joan has been a member of the choir for a number of years and will be greatly missed.

On behalf of Christ church, the vestry and W.A., Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Williams were presented by the Archbishop also with a rug as a token of appreciation for their loyal support and work in the various branches of the church. Elsie has held office in the W.A. and was a member of the vestry and choir. Both Mr. and Mrs. Williams will be missed from this parish but best wishes go with them in their future plans.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lindell of 9708-80 Ave., Edmonton, were the lucky winners of a chicken dinner for eight recently, that was sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, Kitscoty Branch, B.E.S.L. Mr. and Mrs. Lindell are ex-residents of Kitscoty.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery go to Mrs. Dick Evans and Mr. Joseph Airey who are at present patients in the Lloydminster hospital.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

The Girl With the Green Parasol

By Helen Longworthy

OFFICER O'DAY was amazed when a sleek town car slid up in front of the Martin Jewelry Store and the chauffeur stayed straight ahead instead of leaping to the assistance of his beautiful passenger. Officer O'Day hurried to open the car door.

A very attractive young woman met his glance with startled eyes. "Thank you," she murmured hastily. Officer O'Day removed his cap with a flourish. He watched her trim figure and smiled his approval.

The Martin Jewelry Store was deserted at this hour except for Mr. Martin and his old bookkeeper at the back of the store. Mr. Martin eagerly came forward to wait upon his customer.

"I'd like to see some diamond rings," she told him.

While Mr. Martin carried trays from the safe he looked at the woman with narrowed eyes. He noticed that this customer's dark green coat and rose-filling hat looked new—and rich. Of all things, she carried a matching parasol! With her costume it appeared right and proper Mr. Martin selected his most expensive stock of diamonds to display, a happy smile lit up the woman's face as she picked up the most valuable ring of the display. She tried the ring on and moved her slim fingers to watch the glint of light.

"I'm sure I have," she confided in her bushy voice, "I made some money, a wise investment. I think I've earned a diamond."

"An excellent idea," Mr. Martin said pompously and bowed. He watched her raise her hand to inspect the ring closely. At that instant the loop of her parasol slid off her wrist and it hit the floor with a dull thud.

The woman bent to retrieve it. "These others," she continued, "I wonder if I might care for one of them?"

A slight frown crossed Mr. Martin's face. He wanted very much to sell the expensive ring. He praised it all he dared. With anxious eyes he watched her finger the less expensive diamonds. Mr. Martin would have been even more anxious if he had been able to see on the other side of the counter.

Slowly, very carefully, the woman's left hand slid down the handle of her parasol, down to the framework, and dropped the diamond among the folds.

The instant that it dropped the woman slid the other rings into a little pile. She smiled ruefully as she admitted, "I can't quite decide now." Pulling on her gloves she told him, "I'll return in an hour or two." The straight-forward look she gave him made Mr. Martin's cheeks glow dull red.

That was a wonderful idea, she was thinking, to place the diamonds on display. It would take Mr. Martin a few moments to sort his rings. Five more precious minutes! She walked briskly a few feet. Now conditions had nothing could go wrong.

Mr. Martin kept pace with her on his side of the counter. He was entirely confident she would return and he had a feeling she wanted his expensive diamond.

The woman stopped short when she saw a display of bright compacts. "Oh, aren't they adorable!" she breathed. Quickly Mr. Martin placed a half dozen on the counter. The woman glanced at the tiny wrist watch and said doubtfully, "Really, I shouldn't." Of course she shouldn't. Jim sat there in the car would be fuming. They had planned to be only a few minutes. Fifteen minutes. Jim would have the motor running now. He would drive to a certain garage. Different clerks was laid out there. They had planned carefully. Before Mr. Martin discovered his loss they would be speeding away in another car to "parts unknown." The gangsters would paint the big town car. There weren't going to be any slip-ups.

But what of a measly little five minutes, the woman thought contemptuously. Jim could wait. Leisurely she opened the compacts. There was a brightly jewelled one she preferred. When she turned away it lay in the folds of her parasol!

She murmured things; no, the diamond would be enough. She smiled at Mr. Martin and glanced at her watch. More than five extra minutes had elapsed. Her heart beat a little faster. She all but counted the steps to the door still talking to Mr. Martin.

Involuntarily she gave a little sigh because she was almost out. She could see Jim in the car looking murderous. Then her eyes grew wide with horror.

"Miss little rain." Mr. Martin said pleasantly from behind her.

She hesitated with the door ajar an six foot three of Irish policeman strode up. Officer O'Day smiled broadly. "Just a shower; it started five minutes ago," he said and motioned to her parasol. "You're lucky to have that. Let me—"

"Oh, no!" The woman's voice was strangely frightened. "It doesn't work," she said quickly and held the parasol tight to her body.

Patrick O'Day was positive a lady's parasol would have to yield to him. "I can fix it," he said and pulled the parasol from the woman's convulsive grip

Patrick O'Day raised the parasol slowly, peering at the framework. There was the crash of the compact as it hit the sidewalk and the light tinkle of the diamond ring as it hit and bounced. That incredulous expression on the officer's face, his mouth open; Mr. Martin screaming and waving his arms, and Jim speeding away from the curb and roaring down the street—all was lost.

Five orphan pups are fed assembly line style with this amalgamated "puppy-teria". Archaeologists Busy

GILBERT PLAINS, Man. — The first hand of an ancient weapon has started federal archaeologists on a hunt for traces of primitive man near this town 90 miles northwest of Brandon. Recently a "plainview" projectile point was found in the collection of Joe Gelsen of Gilbert Plains. The find prompted Dr. R. S. MacNeish of Ottawa to launch a survey of the district and test excavations of the site where the point was found.

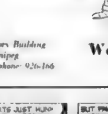
YOU CAN DEPEND ON



Population Of World Up

GENEVA. — Medical Science has lowered the death rate in post-war years with the result that the world population has risen to about 2,377,000,000 — almost 400,000,000 over the pre-war total.

A 700-page report on vital statistics, issued here by the World Health Organization, said the decrease in deaths was prevalent in most countries, due to vigorous measures against disease and to progress made in hygiene and nutrition.

Post-war marriages and the birth rate have also increased in most areas, and though there has been a decline in these departments since the peak years of 1946 and 1947, figures are still higher than before the war.

More boys than girls were born immediately after the Second World War. The researchers says this is always the case immediately following war time.

Women continue to outnumber men. America has about 34 women to every 37 men; in Britain, women have a 13 to 12 majority.

Asia still claims more than half the world population with 1,253,000,000 people. China, with an estimated 464,000,000 is the largest single nation, followed by India with 357,000,000.

New Training Plan For Technicians

SASKATOON.—A new system for training laboratory technicians in Saskatchewan was outlined by Dr. F. B. Roth, provincial deputy minister of public health.

The province is 1 sting 60 per cent. of all technicians trained here, he said.

Henceforth, students will enroll for 11 months at Regina College, instead of going into hospitals for their first scientific training. After the 11 months at school, they would spend 12 months working in hospitals, applying what they had learned to actual practice.

This "improved" training program would not help to keep the technicians in the province, he admitted. In fact, it might make them in greater demand elsewhere.

We regret to hear that Doreen Stepenhol and Mildred Teasdale are patients in the Lloydminster hospital where his condition is quite serious.

Threshing and combining has been held up by the recent snow. We understand that there is quite a lot to be done in the district yet. A number have completed their harvesting and are now wondering if they can get enough of their crop to pay expenses.

Cookies That Stay Put
(By Associated Press)

When cutting cookies in fancy shapes, the delicate outlines can easily be lost when the cookies are transferred to the baking sheet. Here's a way that not only preserves the outlines distinctly, but permits rolling the dough as thin as you like, since you don't have to pick up the cut out cookie.

Roll out the dough on a sheet of aluminum foil and cut the cookies, carefully removing each time any dough that clings to the cutter. Then slip the sheet of aluminum foil holding the cookies into the oven and bake as usual.

A second sheet of cookies can be made ready while the first one bakes.

Facts Concerning Commercially Canned Foods

1. Nothing is added to canned fruits except a sugar syrup, and nothing to canned vegetables except water and sometimes a little salt or sugar for seasoning.

2. The Canning Process doesn't affect the food value of starches, sugars, fats, proteins. The canning industry has developed many methods designed to conserve vitamins and minerals of fresh raw products.

3. Canned food may be safely left in an open can if it is covered and kept in a cool place such as a refrigerator or ice box. This you should do with left-over cooked food stored in any type of container.

Did You Know?

Warm room temperatures will have much less affect on candies if they are given a light coat of clear shellac, varnish or plastic.

The dark film in aluminum ware caused by minerals in the water is easily removed by boiling a solution of cream of tartar (1 tsp. to 1 qt. of water) in a pan. Be sure the entire stain is covered by the solution.

Chatsworth Chatter

Harvesting, by combine or threshing machine is almost entirely completed in this district. It has been perfect fall weather, a very good combine, fall, with no more than a shower on the night of Monday, Sept. 29th and on Sunday, Oct. 12th, we experienced quite heavy showers, accompanied by thunder and lightning, a rather unusual occurrence at this time of year. However, the rain did not halt operations for long, and some outfits continued without any stop.

Mrs. Cyril Davis and Mrs. Arthur Burton are visiting at Bellville, Ont., where they were called due to illness in their sister's family there.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat McCann are the proud parents of a new baby daughter, born on Oct. 8th.

Miss Eleanor Bury of Mannville, was a recent visitor at the home of her sister, Mrs. Steve Jacula.

Mr. Patterson is driving a new truck.

Pat Cummings and Gordon Patterson went to Cold Lake last week to take back the threshing crew of the Cummings-Pich outfit.

The workers on the power line are very busy getting the wire up, looks like it won't be long before the job will be finished.

Winter appears to be quite close as we noticed a few snowflakes falling on Thanksgiving day, of all days of.

Our teacher Miss McCauley spent the holiday week end at her home in Mannville.

Not much news this week folks, everyone is still too busy to make news!

Farmers are faced with quite a problem in the way of storage of grain this fall and there are many heaps of grain out in the fields awaiting hauling. Soon it appears the problem will be more acute, as elevators are rapidly filling up. Everyone is very busy trying to arrange some protection against the weather for grain which is out.

Our first snow certainly cooled off the atmosphere last week but it hasn't lasted long, as most of it escaped us away again on Friday.

The coyotes are very bad around these parts. Recently a young 2½ months old heifer belonging to Jim Thompson and pasturing on his lake quarter, was despatched by coyotes. It is suspected that she had been wounded by duck hunters and was unable to defend herself. Last Monday a young 3-weeks' old colt of Pat Cummings' was killed by coyotes, and practically every body has lost chickens and turkeys to them.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Moss of Edmonton, visited Mrs. Moss' mother Mrs. D Cunningss over the Thanksgiving week end.

Johnny Wynnychuk was in Edmonton last week where he underwent medical treatment for chest trouble.

Mrs. Howard Ferguson of Edmonton was the lucky winner of the woollen blanket raffled by Chatsworth Country club, and drawn for at the September meeting. The lucky number was 53.

The October meeting of the Chatsworth Country club was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Patterson, with 13 members present.

It was decided at this meeting to hold Christmas Cookery bazaar at the December meeting. The secretary was instructed to forward a letter of appreciation to the management of the Brunswick hotel for the most enjoyable banquet tendered the club on the night of Sept 22nd. The nickel draw was won by Mildred Klashinsky, a plastic apron. The second prize was won on a draw, as there were seven winners, by Mrs. Patterson. At the close of the meeting lunch was served by the hostess assisted by the lunch committee, Mildred Klashinsky, Kay Good, Mrs. H. Good and Mrs. M. Parkash.

The November meeting is to be held at the home of Mildred Klashinsky on Nov. 5th. Mrs. Arthur Tyrell is in charge of the social while the lunch committee consists of Mrs. Jim Foster, Miss Patterson, Evelyn Thompson and Mrs. S. Sturt.

Mrs. Cummings and Pat were visitors to Elk Point last week.

Canada's Forest Wealth

A GREAT LEAL IS HEARD TODAY about the wealth of Canada's natural resources, and this country is indeed fortunate in possessing many of the materials essential to modern industrial development. New discoveries of oil, gas, iron and uranium here have attracted widespread attention and the progress of developing these resources is followed with great interest. We are sometimes reminded, however, that one of our resources, less spectacular perhaps than some of the others, creates more wealth for Canada than the output of all her mines, or all her grain crops combined. Purposed, which in taken annually from our forests, remains one of our richest resources and one which is of great importance to Canada's economy.

* * * * *

Large Tracts Of Woodland

Canada s forests cover nearly one and a half million square miles of the country and more than one half of the land area of all the provinces is made up of forests. In comparison, only one-fourteenth of the total land area in Canada is under cultivation or useful for pasture. Even the so-called "Prairie Provinces" have large tracts of forest lands in some districts, while in British Columbia the Central provinces and the Maritimes there are large areas of forests. Not all these woodlands are useful for lumbering. Large areas are not yet accessible by roads, and others do not have growth suitable for making lumber or pulpwood. At present some 140,000 square miles are leased to companies engaged in the making of pulp and paper this land being situated mainly in Eastern Canada and in British Columbia.

High Losses Each Year

There has been concern in recent years regarding the depletion of our forests and much attention has been given to conserving them. However, authorities on the subject say that the average annual consumption of wood for the manufacture of pulp and paper consumes only one-fifth as much trees a do fires, insects and disease. These destructive forces account for nearly one per cent of the entire consumption of forest products in Canada each year and constitute a grave menace to this important source of wealth. Constant improvements are being made in methods of lumbering and in the control of forces which lay waste our forest lands. Many Canadians may forget the importance of this great national asset, but a recent publication put out by the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association reminds us that the pulp and paper industry stands first in the numbers employed and wages paid, first in export trade and first as a creator of wealth for all Canadians.

COMMANDER OF ATHABASKAN—Commander John C Reed of Victoria will succeed Capt. Dudley King of Vancouver as commander of H.M.C.S Athabaskan when the destroyer sails mid from Esquimalt, B.C., on her third tour of duty in Korean waters. Reed was executive chief of staff to the flag officer, Atlantic coast, and stationed at Halifax.—Central Press Canadian.

No Shortage Of Cars To Move Prairie Grain

EDMONTON.—Officials of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways said that they have sufficient locomotives available to move the amount of prairie grain that can be handled at the lakehead and west coast terminals.

Vice-President J. R. McMillan of the C.P.R. and Vice-President D. R. Thomson of the C.P.R. both from Winnipeg, were in Edmonton inspecting company facilities.

Mr McMillan said his company and the C.P.R. are "using all the cars needed" to keep up with the terminal requirements on Prairie grain.

He said to date the terminals have been able to handle the grain no faster than the railways have been able to ship it.

Mr. McMillan said Saskatchewan and Manitoba grain is not being given priority over Alberta grain because those provinces are closer to the Lakehead, thus enabling more shipments to be made than on the longer haul.

"Grain is moved on orders of the Wheat Board and the Federal Transport Controller," Mr. McMillan said: "The quota system determines how much grain will be transferred from any given area."

Excellent Beet Crop In Manitoba

WINNIPEG. — Several hundred Manitoba beet growers will receive a total of $1,250,000.

Cheques for approximately that amount mailed by the Manitoba Sugar Company, Fort Garry, to contract growers as an initial payment for beets delivered in September.

Company officials said that the initial payment of $9.40 a ton was the "highest on record." Last year's payment was $9.6 ton.

For the 1951 crop, farmers received a total of $14.30 a ton. Company officials declined to speculate on what this year's final payment would be. Quality of the crop, including purity and sugar content, was reported "considerably better than in previous years."

Accident Total in Manitoba Increased

WINNIPEG.—Twenty-seven persons died in Manitoba during September in accidents other than traffic, W. Trevor Davies, provincial director of safety, said.

This compared with 60 fatalities in August and 19 for September, 1951. One person died in an industrial accident, eight in homes and 18 general.

Total fatalities for the nine month period were 233 compared with 236 for the same period last year.

MAGIC makes baking fine-textured, delicious!

CINNAMON SANDWICH BISCUITS

Mix and sift once, then sift into a bowl, 2 c. once-sifted pastry flour (or 1½ c. once-sifted whole wheat flour), 2 tsp. Magic Baking Powder, ½ tsp. salt and ½ c. fine granulated sugar. Cut in lightly ¼ c. shortening. Combine 1 egg, well beaten (or 2 yolks), ½ c. milk and ½ tsp. vanilla. Make a well in the flour mixture and add liquid; mix lightly and quickly, adding milk if necessary, to make a soft dough. Knead for 30 seconds on lightly-floured board. Roll to ¼" thick rectangle; shape with floured 2½" cutter. Cream together 2 tbsp. soft butter or margarine, ½ c. lightly packed brown sugar, 1 tsp. ground cinnamon. Using about one half of the mixture, spread a thin layer on each biscuit (a small amount of the mixture on half of the cut-out dough will do nicely); top with remaining dough and press ground edges to seal. Spread biscuits with remaining cinnamon mixture and sugar, slightly apart, on greased cookie sheet. Bake in hot oven, 400°, about 12 minutes. Serve warm. Yield—16 biscuits.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

WHERE EXTRA CAUTION SHOULD BE TAKEN

HALF OUR TAXES FOR WAR

What's the cold war costing Canadians?

Finance Minister Abbott, pointing out The Financial Post, answered that question in a recent speech. It is this:

Every dollar we pay in personal income tax, plus almost every dollar of revenue from the corporations' income tax as well.

Nearly 50 cents in every dollar of federal government revenue goes for defence and approximately $2 billions. This is 10 times what we spent only four years ago.

Timed to coincide with the completion of harvest in the Vermilion district and farm population might enjoy some well-earned relaxation and have some fun along with their town brethren, the fall fiesta of fun and frolic put on by the Vermilion Elks Lodge, Brother Bills, the B.P.O. Elks, and committees this Friday night as the sumptuous Elks hall. The annual opens Friday evening, Oct. 31 and continues Saturday Nov. 1 and Sunday, Nov. 3rd.

Amateur Night Attracts At Mannville

SPONSORED BY CHURCH GROUP

MANNVILLE. — The Amateur night on Friday, sponsored by the Happy Hour group, was very well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The judges, Mr. C. Torrance, Rev. R. Crighton and Mr. A. H. Elliott, had a difficult time in selecting the winners among the contestants. The numbers were all good and were well received by the audience.

The winners, according to classes, were as follows:

Preschool group — Cheryl Curtier, Doris Johnstone.

6 to 8 years—Gail Mercer and Lorraine Curtier, Brian Scoggins, Betty Coulter.

9 to 12 years—Hans Pedersen and Jim Croft, Evelyn Ross.

13 to 16 years—Joyce Scott and Betty Proudfoot tied for 1st; 2nd, Ruth Gamble.

Adults' Class — Bernice Philip; Joyce Gamble and Carol Mercer 2nd.

The fashion parade of wedding gowns, evening dresses of the different eras, along with the Gibson girl outfit and a couple of flappers, under the direction of Mrs. Rose Arnold, was a highlight of the evening program.

The minstrel show presented at the close of the evening by members of the group included old darky songs and tap dancing and there was only one thing wrong with it it wasn't long enough! Judging by the applause the audience would have liked to have kept them on the stage much longer.

Refreshments following the program was also very well attended, making the whole evening a financial success for the group while supplying a grand entertainment for the people of town and district.

Bulls on Loan

The Dominion Live Stock Branch has agreed to put out 75 bulls on loan in Alberta this year (1952). This offer means that farmers can get a bull on loan in a pure-bred sire's herd and keep him for a year. Then form a group and they must have at least 10 or more cows to get a bull on loan. See me for further particulars right away as the 75 bulls will soon be taken up.

Shipping Fever

A warning is given by Dr. J. G. Cunningham, Alberta Provincial Veterinarian against vaccinating cattle with shipping fever bacterin just before shipping. It takes three weeks before the bacterin becomes effective and furthermore the animals are weakened for the first few days after vaccination and are very susceptible to shipping fever disease. If you have not used bacterin at the right time then you can get immediate protection for your stock by using serum.

Leaf Feeding of Plants

The latest suggestion to separate plants with fertilizer which will be taken up by the leaves. This makes the wheat, the turnips and the petunias grow bigger and better than ever. Ain't nature wonderful!

Farm Radio Forum

I received in the mail today a list of Farm Forum groups in our district. There are none in my district. What's wrong, folks? This is a fine way to spend every Monday evening throughout the winter. The idea is to meet at farm homes and listen to the broadcast which comes over the radio every Monday night at 8:30 p.m. Then have a discussion on the topic and the business serves coffee and cake. Can't we get some groups going here. See me for further information.

Living With Thistles

A lot of farms are getting badly polluted with Canada Thistle. This weed is to thinned out consider. Two cultivations in June, at the time to work stubble land that has any thistles at all. Cut off the roots and shake off the soil with a cultivator or blade weeder. Let Jack Frost help you by freezing the unprotected roots.

Grain Best in Years, Says Miller

The Vermilion district is just completing its second harvest this season under ideal weather conditions.

From information gleaned from our local flour mill, we are advised that the milling quality of wheat received at the mill so far this fall, is much superior to that they have had for the past three years, and produces a high grading content of flour.

It may also be noted that yields are exceptionally heavy—no doubt the heaviest and best crop harvested here since 1915, according to Mr. Wiebe.

Funeral of Mannville Lady At Lacombe

MANNVILLE. — Mr. and Mrs. Ken Scoggins, Mrs. Art Scoggins, Mrs. R. E. Beatty and Mr. and Mrs. I. McLeod attended the funeral of their mother, Mrs. J. Scoggins at Lacombe on Wednesday. One daughter Mrs. R. Gilmore of Chicago was unable to come. Mrs. Scoggins was predeceased by her husband three years ago. She is survived by two sons and three daughters.

Among the pall bearers attending from Mannville were Messrs. Bert Blair, Mac McDonald, Bruce Scott, and A. E. Williams of Edmonton.

WILDMERE WINKS

Billie and Adam Smith helped Albert Holte and Ken Kennedy finish up their combining last week.

Threshing and combining are about all done in our corner. Quite a lot of farm work has been done as well this fall.

Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, Mrs. C. Struthers and George, Hilda Rufeldt and the Wallingford family were callers at the Howard home to get their blankets which Mrs. Howard had borrowed from Fairholme.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gibson of Rasmussel and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Martin of Wildmere were Edmonton visitors last week end. While there they attended the football game Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson were unable to accompany them this year. These couples nearly always celebrate their wedding anniversaries together. Another year when your new home is completed you will be able to take your usual holiday home and John.

What a crowd attended the dance held at Thorneville Friday evening. There was scarcely standing room, let alone room to dance. Charlie Sweeney was M.C. and Miss Davies and Mr. Horpstad furnished the music.

Monday afternoon the writer received a phone call saying a prairie fire had broken out at the Cruthers place. It was later discovered that the tiller blade had hit a rock causing a spark when George was going out to work. The breeze had fanned it into a blaze. Luckily Mrs. Cruthers was home and discovered it or it could have burned their buildings. The fire brigade had its name thing happen but Adam and Cliff Cruthers were there at the time and soon got the fire out. It shows just how simply and easily fire can be started.

Mr. Aubrey Rendell was called back to Nanaimo, B.C. last Friday when his wife was taken ill again. He went by plane from Edmonton. On Saturday he wired Mrs. Riley that when he arrived Mrs. Rendell was a little better. We are all sorry to hear of her illness and hope she will soon be feeling better again.

Mr. George Martin informs the writer that First Aid classes will start next week in Wildmere school. Anyone interested should contact Ray Osterberg, or Mrs. Whitlock, W.I. president.

Prize Boar Goes To Wainwright District

Anyone interested is invited to look over this prize boar at the Perkins' farm 3 miles north-east of Wainwright.

Clandonald Church Is Scene Of Pretty Wedding

GARNIER—QUICKSYAD

In Columbus church, Clandonald was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, Oct. 15th when Mabel Julia, seventh daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Quicksyad of Lauderdale, became the bride of Bernard Eugene Garnier, youngest son of Mr. Gus Garnier and the late Mrs. Garnier of Clandonald.

The ceremony was performed by Father McPhee.

The bride, escorted down the aisle by her father, wore a beautiful floor-length dress of Chantilly lace and satin. The fitted bodice buttoned down the back with many tiny lace covered buttons, extending below the waistline and the long lace sleeves tapered to lily-petals over the wrists. Her full length veil of illusion net was held in place by a coronet of pearls and she carried a bouquet of red carnations. The bride's jewelry consisted of pearls and matching earrings, a gift of the groom.

Miss Frances Ziomek, as brides maid, was attractively attired in a floor-length gown of turquoise blue sheer with a matching halo. She wore a pearl necklace and pearl drop earrings, and carried a Colonial bouquet of carnations.

The groom was attended by his nephew Eugene Maitais of Dewberry.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother wore a pearl grey crepe dress with matching grey accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, when over one hundred guests were entertained at the wedding dinner. The bride's table was laid with an ecru lace cloth and centred by a 3-tiered wedding cake baked by Mrs. Blanche Bara, a close friend of the bride, and beautifully decorated by Mrs. Vic Denelli of Dewberry. The cake was flanked by pink candles in crystal glass holders, and vases of flowers. Pink and white streamers completed the decorative scheme supervised by Mrs. Zelma Nettleton. The toast to the bride was proposed by Father McPee and ably responded to by the groom.

In the evening a wedding dance was held in St. Columbus hall, Clandonald, when a huge crowd of friends were entertained at dancing to the music of Swanson's orchestra of Vermilion.

The young couple are making their home in Dewberry.

Musical Week-end Enjoyable Event

VISITORS ARE FETED

Red Indian Summer weather prevailed for the special musical week-end sponsored by the local band of the Salvation Army last Saturday and Sunday. Visitors for the event were the Provincial Commander, Lieut.-Col. F. Merrett and Mrs. Merrett and a group of instrumentalists from the South Edmonton band.

Large crowds were attracted to both the indoor and outdoor services, and the part music has in the ministry of the Gospel was made evident.

The local Home League feted the visitors and also the local Army Band to a joint supper on the Saturday evening in the United Church hall. Words of welcome were extended by Capt. R. Chapman and Rev. C. MacKay, and Col. Merrett expressed much pleasure at being able to be present in Vermilion for the special services. An open air meeting in the business area and a praise meeting in the citadel completed the activities of the day.

Early Sunday morning the visitors along with the Vermilion band presented a service on the grounds of the local hospital, and then held a Bible of Witness in the residential area, following by morning worship. A splendid crowd greeted the visitors at the Vermilion comrades for a musical program in the Kitscoty town hall in the afternoon. Special items included band marches, vocal numbers, trombone and piano accordion duets, and a piano solo by bandmember Dennis Isley. Col. Merrett concluded the service with a short address speaking of the need of tuning in music of realms, comparing it to the necessity of the life being in tune with the Master Musician, who can be the conductor in things pertaining to the spiritual realm.

The Sunday evening service was held in the local United church where a large crowd of Salvationists and church friends met for a happy time of fellowship. Led by the united bands, a vocal trio, personal items by the visitors, hearty singing, and a powerful message by Col. Merrett combined to bring blessing and inspiration.

Manville Sr. W. A. Holds Farwell For Mrs. McDuffe

The following further spiritual offerings and donations were received in memory of the late Mr. Jos. Dupuis of Islay: Spiritual, Mrs. Jim McLaughlin; Crippled Children's fund, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McLagan: Mr. and Mrs. L. Buchanan and family, Mrs. Bell and girls, Cancer fund, Mr. and Mrs. A. Planning Kitchen Cupboards?

Finally your long awaited dream has come true — now you can say goodbye to that old kitchen cupboard you felt was such an eyesore and replace it with compact, modern storage units.

But, I'll bet you're wondering what kind and what height of cupboards and what doors you'll find most satisfactory. Here are some ideas for wall storage units which may help.

Ideal storage is provided by wall cabinets which are built no higher than 6'6" from the floor. This way, all objects on the shelves are clearly visible and easily reached. Shelving above 6'6" height should be used only for seasonal storage. Many prefer to close this area off by furring the ceiling down to 6'6" height or by finishing the area with facia board.

The most popular wall unit has 2 doors which open over the whole space. This unit is easiest to construct and most efficient to operate.

The sliding door unit takes up less space but as the doors do not project over the work surface, storage is only 50% exposed or immediately available which is a disadvantage. Doors may be of glass or plywood and a hardwood strip may be substituted for the more expensive steel track.

Wide wall cabinets may have adjustable fold doors which swing back and do not project fully over the counter.

To prevent accidents the cabinet doors should not extend beyond the width of the base cabinet.

If you're having any trouble with your kitchen planning why not bring them to me? I would be very pleased to assist you.

Are You Buying a Fur Coat?

Here are some good tips which point out good and poor quality furs.

A good quality fur is

1. Bright and lustrous.
2. Uniform in color, depth and texture.
3. Soft and pliable on the leather side and also firm and strong.

A poor quality fur shows

2. Matted areas
3. Dulle faded or lifeless coloring.
4. Stiffness in fur or leather, harsh, brittle and sometimes burnt.

OUR COMPLETE SUNDAY STORY—

They Still Love Clowns

By Charlotte McCarthy

THERE shabby tent seemed to be bursting out at the seams with flurry and excitement. It was the biggest town the little circus had ever played, and in a fresh surge of apprehension, Steve Booth, the owner, rushed around in a dither of anxiety, getting in everyone's way. "Please, Mark, don't ask me again. I know you were a good clown in your day, but can't you understand that people just don't go for a clown act anymore?"

Mark Castle, his eyes dim and troubled under their shaggy brows, wiped his bald head with a grimy bandana. "If you'd just give me a chance, Mr. Booth, you'll see they still love clowns."

Looking down into the pleading eyes, he realized the uselessness of trying to reason with him. "Listen, Mark. If there's a gap in the billing . . . any trouble," with an old trouper's superstition, he crossed his fingers, "I'll let you go on. Okay? In the meantime, for the love of Mike, head that old act before she yowls her head off."

From behind the tent an excited, silvery voice whistled, and there was the rising cheer of the barker's voice beginning. The big act, a savvy, mangy old lion, showed brownish teeth in a snarl, as the man approached. "Quiet, Nalda. Those teeth of yours ain't much more use than cry over." There just had to be a pep somehow. He'd show those people who thought he was finished that he could keep a crowd amused, if only he had a chance.

Inside the tent, the seats were filling rapidly. There was a steady hum of conversation, interspersed with the complaining grunts of an old bear. The sickish, sweet smell of candy had lazily applied mingled with the acrid tang of the animals, and from a trapeze, a faded blonde swung hand down.

He was trying to move a heavy barrel, when he felt the boss's hand on his shoulder. "Pete's hurt his arm, so I guess I'll have to keep my promise. But if the crowd doesn't like you, I don't want to hear another word."

The excitement of the moment was a tangible thing almost, tightening his throat. "They'll like me, Mr. Booth." It was a prayer and a promise.

The old costume was a trifle tight and his head shook as he applied the grease paint. "I thought they'd put that act in mothballs years ago." He overheard the remark made by a young acrobat.

He had forgotten how a sea of faces appeared, staring up at you. Hundreds of pale moons. Mark felt action to your act make up the difference between success and failure. He had forgotten, too, the tense fear of the first moment, remembering only the thrill of their applause. Somehow, he just had to make them like him.

Slowly, a trifle woodenly, he went into his act. A limp girl in the front row began sobbing weakly, terrified of the painted face so close to her. His shoulders ached, and there was a sticky river of perspiration between his shoulders. Just let this be good, he prayed to Jesus, as well as he had been good, still was, and he'd be glad to go back to the farm. Gone was the tired look after the animals.

One after the other, pitifully, like a lonely child trying to bribe a friendship with candy, he drew on his bag of tricks. Waited tensely, agonizingly, for the laughter he yearned so desperately. Waited until the act was almost over, and there was only the rustle of paper bags, and whispers, ablaze as tearing tissue paper.

There was just a few moments left, and though knowing, with an awful despondency, that he must face the ridicule of the others, the clown, like the seasoned old trouper he was, put everything into a final shuffling dance. Suddenly, it was all around him. Laughter, hysterical almost in its intensity, that reverberated through the tent, and rose to a crescendo unlike anything ever heard by the other acts.

He realized then, how close to complete exhaustion he had been, and his heart pounding, almost on the verge of collapse, stumbled off the stage. His voice was a trifle hoarse whisper. "I guess I pleased 'em, eh, boss? But maybe I'll stick to animal taming just the same. That's pretty strenuous work for an old fellow."

"You certainly did show them, Mark." His hand was very gentle on the thin shoulder.

Jimmy, the midget, inclined a willing ear to the boss's whispering lips, and via the grapevine, the message passed from ear to ear: "Don't let Mark find out what happened."

And late that night, a tired, completely happy old clown, who was forever done with clowning, pulled contentedly on his pipe, mercifully spared the knowledge that Mary, the pinto little monkey, had found her way to the stage, and from the background had mimicked every movement of his last act, sending the bored crowd into gales of mirth.

Plenty Of Oil, Coal Reserves In The West

WINNIPEG. — Western Canada proved oil reserves now stand at 2,000,000,000 barrels, the annual western meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy was told here.

By the end of 1951, the proved oil reserves of western Canada stood at more than 1,500,000,000 barrels, and with "several interesting discoveries so far this year," they should hit the two billion mark, Vernon Taylor, management assistant, producing department, Imperial Oil limited, told his audience.

Also speaking at the energy symposium in the Royal Alexandra hotel was Dr. H. H. Grace of the Alberta research council who stated that at present requirements, there is enough coal in western Canada for 3,000 years to come.

The new Alberta oil developments have been "settled up", Mr. Taylor said, but it was "not unreasonable to bring the proved oil reserves up to the two billion mark."

Recent discoveries in Manitoba had proved interesting, Mr. Taylor said, "but it is somewhat difficult to tell how much will eventually be produced."

Discussing the sources of energy available in North America, Dr. Grace said, Mr. Taylor said that somewhere in the neighborhood of twenty energy is found in the form of coal, while about one per cent. of the world figure existed as petroleum or natural gas.

In contrast with this, about 50 per cent. of energy used in the U.S. depends on oil and gas, and this proportion is expected to rise to well above 60 per cent. by 1975 according to recent authorities, he said.

Dr. Grace said 90 per cent. of Canada's estimated coal reserves were in western Canada.

The director of research for the Alberta Research council, said he was sure that the cost of coal must be kept down, and this could only be achieved through the vigorous application of research and development of all phases of the industry.

"The proportion of the total energy needs which will be met by coal, will depend, to a considerable extent, on the relative costs of the other sources of energy," he stated.

Dr. Grace noted that in the United States about $33,000,000 was spent on coal research, of which $7,500,000 was provided by the U.S. government.

At the same time, upwards of $121,000,000 was spent by the petroleum industry on research, and this marked the difference in industries, Dr. Grace said.

Attractive Wedding At First United Church

RING—McCORMICK

The Rev. C. W. MacKay, B.A., B.D., performed an attractive wedding ceremony in First United church on September 27th when Miss Irene Elizabeth McCormick, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McCormick became the bride of Mr. John M. King, youngest son of Mrs. P. M. Smith of Edmonton.

Baskets of autumn tinted flowers banked the altar for the double-ring ceremony and the guests were received with clusters of sweet peas tied with white ribbon.

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. C. J. McCormick, the bride chose a floor-length gown of French lace and nylon net over satin. A bonnet trimmed with orange blossoms held her fingertip veil of misty nylon tulle and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, gift of the groom. She was attended by her two sisters, Dorothy and Shirley McCormick, who wore floor-length gowns of yellow and mauve net over satin, respectively, and carried bouquets of rust and yellow chrysanthemums. In their hair they wore headeas of matching flowers. Sharon King, niece of the groom was the flower girl. She wore a floor-length dress of pink silk crepe with matching Mary Queen of Scots head dress.

Mr. Ralph King, brother of the groom was best man and guests were ushered by Mr. Fred Smith of Waterhen and Mr John Ratti of Edmonton.

The wedding music was played by Mr. B. Elford and Mr. L. C. Fultz sang "The Lord's Prayer" during the signing of the register.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. McCormick wearing a beige corded silk dress with pink accessories, received the guests, while the groom's mother chose a brown crepe dress with green accessories. The bridal table was centred with a triple-tiered cake, flanked by lighted candles in silver holders. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. (Dr.) McDonald, Mrs. W. Waldenberger, Mrs. L. McFadden and Mrs. C. Berg. Serving were the Misses Louise and Doreen Stone, the Misses Teresa and Alice Tower, Mrs. Eva Leigh, Miss Mildred Conboy, Miss Bernie Scuffert, Mrs. Ann Baldock and Miss Sophie Pawliuk. In charge of the gifts were Miss Hilary Boyle and Miss Lee Fortune.

Dr. Hugh McDonald proposed the toast to the bride.

For a honeymoon to California and Mexico, the bride donned a light tan suit with black hat and accessories. She carried a red velvet top coat and wore white orchids on corsage. On their return the happy couple will make their home in Wainwright.

Out of town guests included Mrs. J. R. Stone of Calgary, Mr. D. Cavanaugh, Mr. and Mrs. E. Summerfield, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Telford, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Hilary Boyle, Miss Lee Fortune, Mr. and Mrs. A. "... saved me days, perhaps weeks, of work"

After returning from his first trip to the West, a business man wrote his bank:

"I arrived having no idea where to start in to make the connections I required. The thought occurred to me that perhaps the bank, which has been very helpful to me on numerous occasions, would give me some guidance. Mr. W. proved to be of tremendous help. He introduced me to the people I should have met and saved me days, perhaps weeks, of work."

Every chartered bank works this way. Whether you walk into your neighborhood branch or one a thousand miles away, you will find the same full range of banking service—and the same readiness to help.

Vigilant Constable Averts Tragedy At Mannville

MANNVILLE — Alert vigilance on the part of the Mannville town constable, F. E. Stevens, probably saved the life of a harvester last week. This young man climbed into a truck on a parking lot and went to sleep with a lighted cigarette in his mouth. The clothing caught fire, burning right through to the skin on his chest. When found by Constable Stevens he was on the ground with his sweater caught over his head and would have either smothered or burned to death in a short time. Cushions of the truck were burned.

GOVERNMENT BUSINESS IS Everybody's Business

QUESTION: What is your share of Alberta's Agricultural wealth?

ANSWER: Approximately ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS for each man, woman and child in the province.

AGRICULTURE, our basic industry, brought $784,000,000 to the people in 1951.

That is why the Government is so concerned about the proper use and care of the soil and the welfare of the farmer.

Outstanding achievements in the past few years, brought about by the Alberta Department of Agriculture include:

- A two-fold expansion in the production of forage crops for fodder and seed.
- Assistance in the establishment of municipal seed cleaning plants
- Determined rat extermination, experts control and weed control programs
- A tree planting program with annual plantings of 2,000,000 trees
- Limited assistance to farmers for the purchase of purebred bulls now in excess of 1,200, placing of 1,248 bulls, $19 value, and distribution of 1,200 dairy heifer calves to junior dairy calf clubs.
- Assistance to feeder associations which to date have finished a total of 141,481 head of cattle and 607,552 sheep.
- Establishment of Dairy Cattle inspection, instruction and cow testing service to help farmers reform of their herds and raise the quality and direct attention to the economy of the industry

Farm Labour

FOR SOME TIME a shortage of labour has been a problem to farmers in almost all parts of Canada. Many additional workers have been brought into the country through immigration and this has been a great assistance in many cases. Increased mechanization of farms has also alleviated the situation, but in spite of these measures there is still need for more farm workers in Canada each year. Since agriculture is one of our major industries the problem of farm labour is an important one here. However, a recent report from the International Federation of Agriculture shows that there are serious shortages in other countries also. The United States, New Zealand, France, Norway, Northern Ireland and a number of other countries are said to have the same difficulties as Canada in regard to farm workers.

• • • • •

Less Need in Some Places

Scotland, Ireland, Sweden, Argentina and Germany are among the countries in which there is less difficulty in securing farm labour. The survey showed that the greatest shortages occur in those countries which are highly industrialized and that in almost all cases the shortage is blamed on the fact that workers leave the farms to take employment in cities and towns. Higher wages and more attractive living conditions in urban centres draw labour from the farms and have a continuous need for help on the land. The Canadian Federation of Agriculture reported a need for from fifteen to twenty thousand additional workers this year on farms in this country.

• • • • •

Must Compete With Industry

In many countries seasonal help is brought in to meet the needs of the farmers at certain times of the year. Large numbers of such workers are brought into the United States from Mexico. Like Canada, New Zealand has attempted to solve the problem by encouraging the immigration of farm labourers from other countries, and many have been brought from the Netherlands and the East Indies for that purpose. While Canadians are interested primarily in the situation here, it is interesting to know that other countries have the same problem and that they deal with it much as we do. As Canada becomes increasingly industrialized, workers will continue to be drawn from the farms to factories, and the farmers will have to compete with wages and working conditions on the industrial labour market.

Finishes Job He Started Thirty-Nine Years Ago

EDMONTON — James R. Lowery, 68, of Vancouver was admitted to the Alberta Bar 39 years after he graduated in law from the University of Alberta and about 30 years after he passed his bar examinations.

"I don't like to start something and never finish it" he explained to Chief Justice G. H. D. Conror, who admitted him to the Bar.

Mr. Lowery's intended law career was put off after university graduation while he fought in the First World War being injured at Vimy Ridge and retiring with the rank of major. After writing his Bar exams in 1923 he became interested in oil.

Mr. Lowery said however that he won't practice law. He just wanted to join the association of barristers as he had planned many years ago.

New Type Potato Producing Good Results in Manitoba

Potatoes continue to be a very important crop says the Morden Experimental Farm. Much effort is being made towards improving varieties through plant breeding programs. Two of the objectives are to develop varieties which are not susceptible to late blight and scab diseases. Gratifying progress is being attained in the Department of Horticulture of the University of Manitoba where continuous potato breeding is underway.

Manota is a variety which has been introduced by the University after planning performance in Manitoba since 1945, when it was received as North Dakota seedling 134-18. It resulted from a cross made in 1938 in North Dakota.

The following description of Manota is from the "Summary Report 1951, National Potato Seedling and Variety Tests", by N. M. Faris, Division of Horticulture, Ottawa:

"This variety has proved to be well adapted in soil types and climatic conditions in Manitoba. It is a fast growing variety of mid-season maturity comparable to Irish Cobbler, and has good yielding ability, producing an average of six to eight tubers per hill, a high percentage of which are marketable. Tubers are formed close to the stem and are detached very easily at harvest. Its tubers are smooth, shallow eyed, with a creamy-white skin and very white flesh. Cooking tests indicate its quality as good. Manota is susceptible to the different virus diseases which commonly affect potatoes. It shows symptoms of leaf roll and mild mosaic very distinctly when infected. No evidence of net necrosis has been found in tubers to date. Also, the variety is susceptible to late blight, common scab and bacterial ring rot. Hollow heart has rarely been found in Manota while Irish Cobbler grown under the same condition has a high percentage. The Manota variety of potato was licensed for sale in Canada in 1952 and is now eligible for certification. Because of its early maturity, good market and cooking qualities it is felt that the Manota will fill a very definite need in the potato industry in Manitoba.

10-Day Season For Hunting Big Game In Manitoba

WINNIPEG.—G. W. Malaher, director of game and fisheries in Manitoba, announced a 10-day season for big game from Nov. 24 to Dec. 4 inclusive, except for the intervening Sunday, Nov. 30.

The limit for deer will be one male animal over the age of one year, the same as last season.

Hunting of moose will be restricted to the area south of the third parallel and to residents of Manitoba. Dates and bag limits are the same as for deer.

An open season for barren ground caribou will be held Dec. 1-31 but only for bona fide residents in the caribou range in Manitoba. The limit is one adult animal. There will be a closed season for woodland caribou, still comparatively scarce in all parts of Manitoba.

IN MEMORIAM

In fond and loving memory of my husband and our dear father

Joseph Alfred Airey,

who passed away Nov. 4th 1951

Your kind and loving father
My dearest husband too
His loss no one can understand
Save those he loved so true
Our hearts still ache with sadness
Our eyes shed tears a-tear
Only God knows how we miss him
As it dawns another year.

—Always remembered by his loving wife and family.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our mother Mrs. Margaret Graham who passed away Oct 29, 1951.

Just a word of sweet remembrance
Just a memory sweet and true
Just a word of sweet devotion
That our hearts will long for you.

—Ever remembered by Maudie and Jim.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Marianne Purves
who passed away Oct. 21 1942
There are stars who go out in the darkness,
But whose silvery light cometh on.
There are roses whose perfume will linger,
Why in the blossoms are faded and gone.
There are lives full of light and of sweetness,
When no longer their life current flows,
Still that sweetness lives on with the loving,
Like the soul of the star and the rose.

We keep in memory a love of the past
To us, it's as bright as of old
For deep in our hearts it was painted to last,
And in absence it never grows cold.

—Lovingly remembered by Mother, Father, Sister and Brother.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our mother Mrs. Margaret Graham who passed away Oct 29, 1951.

Faithful mother, both true and kind
A truer Mother you could never find.
For all of us she did her best
We know God grants her eternal rest

STAGETTE NOTES

Twenty-two members met at the club rooms Tuesday night and all seemed to have survived the dance of last week. Speaking of the dance we would like to move a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Pooks who turned her house over to the Stagettes before the dance. We all enjoyed a hearty sing-song which put us in a good mood for the evening also. We also want to thank Mr. Don Taylor for his able job as floor manager. If you enjoyed the dance we hope that you will come and bring your friends to our next dance at Christmas. Watch for the date later on.

Arrangements were made for sending of a CARE parcel to the Bakisone Street school in England. Helping this school is one of the national projects of all Stagette Clubs.

November 1st to 7th is National Stagette week. There will be a church parade on Sunday. All members are to meet in the United church basement at 11:15 sharp.

Checking on Nov. 8th will be Lena and Teresa and Nov. 15th Vivian and Eileen.

It is hoped that all members will meet at the Legion hall on Nov. 11th to attend the service at the cenotaph.

After our business meeting we all took a most enjoyable trip to Banff, Yellowstone and points of interest through the States — Mrs. Bentley showed us some beautiful slides and gave a most interesting commentary, describing trips they have taken. It was almost as good as actually taking the trip. Thank you very much Mrs. Bentley we enjoyed it very much and we got several good laughs on our vivarious trips.

Monro-Dupuit Nuptials At Dewberry

On Wednesday morning St. Antony's church, Dewberry, was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Fernande Dupuit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dupuit of the Morrison district, became the bride of James Munro, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Munro of Dewberry.

Entering the church with her father the bride looked charming in a floor-length dress of white satin fashioned with a lace yoke trimmed with pearl embroidery.

Her finger-tip veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Her necklace and earring set of rhinestones are in silver was a gift of the groom.

Miss Marie Dupuit, sister of the bride was bridesmaid and was attired in a floor-length dress of mauve taffeta with bolero top and overskirt of illusion net. She wore a chapel veil to match. Her colonial bouquet was of yellow baby mums. She wore a necklace of rhinestones, a gift from the bride.

Alex Dupuit, brother of the bride, was best man.

Guests were ushered to their ribbon-marked seats by Tom Jarrett and Clifford Beck.

Mrs. Dupuit, mother of the bride was unable to attend the wedding. For the reception she wore a copen blue crepe with corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Munro chose a dress of navy sheer over navy and white printed taffeta and grey hat. Her corsage was also of pink carnations.

Rev. Fr McPher of Clandonald officiated.

During nuptial mass the choir rang "On This Day O Beautiful Mother", "O, What Could Joy Be" "Jesus Do Mere" and "Jesus Thou Ar Coming".

Flanked by vases of roses a three-tiered wedding cake centered a lace-covered table for a wedding luncheon held in the Brunswick hotel in Vermilion.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents during the afternoon.

Nominating Convention Held At Viking

Robert Fair Is Candidate For New Constituency

Robert Fair of Vermilion was elected Social Credit candidate in the new Provincial constituency of Battle River Camrose. The nominating convention, attended by 238 accredited delegates and sufficient visitors to overflow the hall, was held at Viking last Saturday afternoon.

Two names were placed before the convention, Mr. Robert Fair, Battle River member since 1935, was proposed by Mr. Ashley H. Cooper, and Dr. H. W. W. Beyerstein, member for Camrose since 1948 was nominated by Mr. Ed Bazant.

Both candidates addressed the large gathering prior to the balloting. A scrutineer committee was appointed by Mr. Jos Batty of Kitscoty as chairman, Mr. Fred King of Camrose, Mr. Sayers of Camrose, Mr. Martin Bruce of Dewberry and Mr. Ashley Cooper of Vermilion to count the votes. The result only was announced with no figures made public.

Immediately after announcement of the result was made Dr. Beyerstein was on hand to congratulate the successful candidate and to move that the nomination be unanimous.

The convention, notable for the congeniality and good feeling which prevailed, was presided over by Mr. Smith of Kitscoty as chairman and

High School High-Lites

We were driving by the Legion hall about 10:00 o'clock p.m. on Oct. 24th and noticed that the lights were on and the air was filled with music. Upon inquiry we found out that the high chool was holding its first social function. Larry Kehoe was up there handing out prizes right and left, and little couldn't make up his mind between the girls upstairs and the girls downstairs. But fasten your safety belts, readers, because this one will floor you — Bob Acheson helped dry dishes!

Really, though, the dance was a wonderful success, thanks to a big crowd from Lloydminster. The floor was too crowded to dance almost, but when the high school orchestra plays, we don't like to sit on the sidelines! Can we depend on all of you to come back again? We hope so.

Thanks to the Laurier House boys for putting the use of the basketball floor, house games will soon be under way.

P.S. We are still in search of the number 2 girls track uniform.

H. J. Payne and B.C. Ackerman represented the town of Vermilion at the annual convention of the Union of Alberta Municipalities held in Edmonton Thursday and Friday last week.

Audience Enraptured By Performance of Pianist Roman Stecura

On Sunday evening, Nov. 2nd, the Vermilion Male Voice choir presented in recital the promising young pianist, Roman Stecura. The event proved to be one of the most delightful musical evenings heard in Vermilion for some time, and the audience which filled the Columbia theatre to capacity, was completely captured by the young performer. Mr. Stecura's pleasing 'stage manner', his flawless technique and remarkable interpretive inspiring particularly to the young musicians listening to him, and his performance as a whole was the culmination of every music-lover's dream.

The program opened with Beethoven's beloved 'Sonata Pathetique' followed by two impressionistic pieces 'The Girl with the Flaxen Hair' and 'Minstrels', by Claude Debussy. Next was the group of Moussorgsky 'Pictures from an Exhibition', which Mr. Stecura confided 'Chickens' and 'The Great Gate at Kiev' were popular favorites.

After a brief intermission the Vermilion Male Voice choir sang four numbers, and despite verbal handicaps, came through with flying colors. Mension must be made of the very fine bass section the choir has developed Its deep ringing tones added much to the rendering of all four selections.

Mr. Stecura returned with a group of four Chopin numbers, 'Nocturne in E flat Minor', 'Valse in C Minor' Scherzo-Opus 31' and lastly the well known 'Polonaise in A flat Major'. For his closing selection Mr. Stecura chose a Franz Liszt piano paraphrase of Verdi's 'Rigoletto'. He graciously added two encores, 'La Campanella' by Liszt and Felix Mendelssohn's 'Flight of the Bumble Bee'.

It would be difficult to choose any one favorite selection of the evening for Mr. Stecura's group, as while of high calibre throughout was of wide appeal and executed with brilliance and sensitivity from start to finish. Such a standard of performance is only reached through a very great deal of hard work and natural talent, and Mr. Stecura is indeed to be congratulated. We, of Vermilion, feel he has a great future in the concert field and we hope that Mr. J. Pepin, his manager, will be able to bring him back before too long.

Three-Team League This Season

Vegreville Withdraws From Hockey Loop

Vegreville representatives at the annual meeting of the Eastern Alberta Hockey league held here Sunday afternoon asked for a year's leave of absence from league participation. The other three towns represented, Wainwright, Lloydminster and Vermilion, all stated that it was their intention to continue.

The Vegreville representatives, Dr. Reid and Mr. Gorsline frankly stated that they found it impossible to ice a contender anywhere near the calibre of the team built up by Lloydminster. As this meant a losing team, poorer games and poor gate receipts, with the club ending in the red, it was felt that Vegreville should withdraw until hockey prospects were better there or until the league was composed of 100 per cent home town players. The Lloydminster representatives stated that they were out to win the Western Canada Intermediate championship this season, and were building up a team with that end in view. They found it easier to finance a good team than a poor one.

Wainwright have hired a full time coach with the idea in mind that he may be able to develop players within a few seasons so that the town will not have to import players. This year they would be handicapped by the loss of their best mover.

Vermilion, according to Stan Manyluk and Bob Carmichael, would depend on local and district players as last year, with the hope that they could again secure Elmer Kreller of Mannville as playing coach. The big difficulty at Vermilion, as in the past, is the lack of ice.

Jean has brought a great deal of credit not only to herself and her school, but also to her grade 9 teachers, Miss Esther Jones and Mr. Frank Welsh for a job well done. Jean is wished every success in her future academic efforts.

This young student is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kibblewhite.

HONORS FOR Jean Kibblewhite

WINS GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S MEDAL FOR VERMILION SCHOOL DIVISION

It has recently been announced that Miss Jean Kibblewhite of the Vermilion town school has won the Governor-General's medal. She obtained the highest marks awarded any grade 9 student in the Vermilion school division in the departmental examinations of June 1952.

Jean, a very likeable 14-year girl, is the light of her parents' eyes in the Vermilion school system. In addition to a busy school year in 1951-52, she successfully passed her grade 8 music examinations and found time to take an active part in C.G.I.T. activities and basketball affairs.

By The District Agriculturist

"GREEN ACRES"

Bull Loan Policy

I have had several enquiries since last week about the Government policy whereby bulls can be put out on loan. Only so many bulls are allowed in this district so if you want one please see me soon It is usually necessary for more farmers must go in together to get one of these bulls.

Fatten the Chickens

The poultry market reports that there is 10 cents per pound difference between the price of fat and lean. Ill dressed chickens The reason for most of the ill is lack of fitness It will certainly pay poultry raisers to pen up their chickens for 3 weeks and feed a little extra. Get a circular from my office on feeding poultry

Blackleg Again

Two reports have come into my office of Farmers losing calves from blackleg One man lost five head Everyone ought to vaccinate every calf they own to stop losses from blackleg

It only costs 5c per head, and think of the chances you take by letting it slide

More Wheat Per Acre

Crop yields are up for the last three years The reason is not altogether more rainfall, good farming of it's part. Less weeds, good seed, fall cultivation, larger implements and work done on time all played a part in getting higher yields After all, the higher the yield the greater the profit

Vegetables in the Cellar

Your district agriculturist has about 1 of the oil engine in the basement also carrots, beets, tomatoes, celery, turnips, cabbage and potatoes. Why should we have to bring in onions from California when they can so easy to grow here" Farmers, and town people too, ought to get one-third of their living from the garden.

Bang's Vaccinations

Four veterinarians in Vermilion River and Sioburn M.D's are busy vaccinating heifer calves against 'Bang's disease' This disease will likely be stamped out in a few years and a lot of money saved for stock owners. Livestock diseases cause tremendous losses. If you want circulars on Bang's disease shipping fever, rhinitis, blackleg, or any cattle or pig disease, write in to my office.

Remembrance Day Nov. 11th

POPPY DAY NOV. 8th

As in past years, the Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion is presently preparing their programs for the Nov. 11th activities.

The following is the program for this year

Saturday, Nov. 8th—Poppy Day
Monday, Nov. 10th — Armistice dance in the new armories.
Tuesday, Nov. 11th — Remembrance Day service at cenotaph and in Columbia theatre. A Smoker for all returned men in the evening

In unsettled times like these it is important that Canadian Legion members and the Canadian public keep fresh in their minds the meaning of the sacrifice that have been made in two world wars. The message of the poppy is of more importance today than ever before. While it is important that funds and wreaths be sold in order to provide for the disabled veterans and their dependents, it is equally, if not more important to ensure that everyone in this country either wears or displays a poppy or wreath, and at the same time is aware of the significance of their act. Let us not forget the dead of two world wars, but keep their memory bright by the little red poppy of remembrance which is worn as a personal token of tribute to those who gave their lives for Canada.

The merchants of Vermilion are requested to display a wreath, and householders will be asked to do likewise. Let us not forget — Remember — Wear a Poppy on Poppy Day!

I.O.D.E. ANNOUNCE PLANS FOR NEW LIBRARY

Before very long, Frog Lake Chapter, I.O.D.E., will re-open their library in the new Vermilion Public Library building, with Mrs. H. D. Long as librarian and Mrs. S. Carroll as relief librarian.

Operating the library is the contribution of our Chapter to the public. We do not profit from it in any way.

Every penny paid into the library is spent on books and librarians salary. Besides this, our Chapter makes a donation of money to the library, to spend on books, as in this year we have ordered 130 new books and hope to order more soon

Our Chapter has raised enough money to buy the shelves and to buy the curtains and furniture for the new building. This is the first time, since our Chapter was in library over 23 years ago, that we have had proper space and facilities which to operate Consequently we will be able to give you more and better service

We wish to bring to your attention that this service is for every one who becomes a member

We cordially invite all of you, in rural areas, surrounding towns and villages and residents of Vermilion to become a member and make full use of your library. There are leading rooms in the new building where there will be periodicals for your use.

We have added a Junior section where your children will have a choice of good reading.

There will be a nice selection of fiction, novels and mysteries, also science and reference books. The library hours will be greatly extended, on Tuesday and Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 and Saturday evenings 7:30 to 9:30.

Adult membership is $1 per year. Junior membership which includes public, high and agricultural school students is 50 cents per year This covers the cost of the use of reading rooms and reference books and you may take out three books per week. A fine of two cents per day will be charged on overdue book. New books will be allowed out for one week only, and cannot be renewed. No reservations for books will be taken.

Books must not be loaned by a member to anyone else for they must go through the proper channels.

We invite the public to leave the names of books and the author's name, that you wish to have on the shelves, with the librarian and we will obtain them, if possible.

A good library is a wonderful asset to a town and community. We are supplying you with one, and in order to continue service fully we need your assistance. We need you as a member and as a reader

Become a member!
Use your library regularly!
Advertise your library!
Get the children to join!

FINE WEATHER CONTINUES

Extra fine weather fall weather is still with us. The nights are getting a little frostier with the low point for the past week being 15 above (this Thursday morning). Highest point was on Oct. 30th with 62, registered, one of the highest readings in the Dominion on that day.

Tuesday was the only unpleasant day when a high wind prevailed. The wind had a velocity of 38 miles per hour with gusts up to 50, which was not nearly as high as some centres reporting. Considerable country crowed around during the day and it was quite easy to see the advantages of trash cover.

For the first time in several years harvesting is 100% completed and considerable work has been done on the land.

Janz Quartette At The Columbia Theatre

The Janz Quartette of the Prairie Bible Institute will be at the Columbia theatre, Vermilion on Sunday Nov. 9th at 3:00 p.m., under the auspices of Alliance chapel. Rev. Leo Janz, the male spokesman for the party, sings first bass. Other members of the Quartette are Hilmer Janz, first tenor; Adolph Janz, second tenor, Cornie Enns, second bass, Jack Symons, pianist. The Quartette derives the name "Janz" from the fact that three of its members are brothers. The men have been together as a quartet for about five years.

The Janz Quartette is one of the leading male quartets in the U.S. and Canada. They are much sought after by religious groups for city wide campaigns, and have conducted many services throughout the U.S. and Canada, having appeared in rallies in such centers of population as Chicago, Washington, D.C., San Francisco, and Los Angeles. The Quartette spent 76 days in Germany under Youth for Christ International in the summer of 1951: there they were engaged in mass evangelistic rallies in the Ruhr area. The Janz Quartette also has an extensive radio ministry. Their 'Hymns That Live' program is broadcast over numerous radio stations throughout Canada, the U.S. and even South America. This program of best-loved Gospel hymns has gained a tremendous listening audience, especially across the prairies of Western Canada. All radio programs are prepared by the Quartette in their own studio at the Prairie Bible Institute. Various members of the Quartette are on the Institute's staff of 100 indispensable persons.

The Prairie Bible Institute, which the Quartette represents, is known as the "Miracle of Three Hills". Begun in 1922 with an original enrollment of 8 students, the attendance now averages well over 1000, including high school and Bible school. The founding of this interdenominational Bible Institute is unprecedented among Christian schools, for it is located in a little farming community on the side of sparsely-settled prairie which the happy couple were recipients of many lovely gifts. A telegram of best wishes was received from the bride's brother, Bill Harvey, Seymour, wife and family of Vermilion.

After a motor trip through Washington State, Mr. and Mrs. Rose will make their home in Vancouver

The public is cordially invited to attend this fine sacred program, for which there is no charge.

ROSE—SEYMOUR

On October 18th a pretty wedding was solemnized in Mountain View United church, Vancouver, B.C., when Beulah Mae, only daughter of Garfield Seymour, formerly of Vermilion, was united in marriage to Mr. George Albert, second son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rose of Montreal.

The bride looked lovely in a winter white wool suite with brown accessories and wore a corsage of Talisman roses and carnations.

Mrs. Joe Dumont was matron of honor and was attractively attired in a gold wool dress with green accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses and mums.

Mr. Joe Dumont was best man.

A wedding reception was held at the bride's home in the evening for twenty-five relatives and friends after which the happy couple were re-

Allandale Notes

We are really enjoying the fine fall weather. Practically everyone has completed threshing and much fall work has been done.

Golden Wedding Anniversary

On October 29th there was a good attendance at the school on the occasion of the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Baldock, which actually fell on that day, Oct. 26th. For the first part of the evening seven tables of whist were played. The prize winners were Mrs. E. Gower of Ruzyhia, consolation R. Fraser; for the men Norman McPhee was first and W. Armstrong consolation. At midnight Happy Anniversary was sung by the crowd. Orley Ormsmen on behalf of the family and friends presented the honored couple with a Sunbeam Mixmaster. Several other presents were also received. Mr. and Mrs. Baldock thanked the folks very fittingly. Lunch was served by the ladies and a three-tiered wedding cake from the family, baked and iced by Mrs. Ormsmen was cut by bridal fashion and passed by the bride to all. Following a social hour all departed homeward, having spent a very enjoyable and worthwhile evening.

Mrs. Tommy Greaves (nee Beryl Baldock) and daughter Brenda arrived home from Edmonton. Baldock is attending school in the city and is staying with his sister and family, coming home for 24th. Tommy was able to be home also to attend the silver anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. John Young who used to reside in Allandale and later in Islay, have left for the east the first part of October to spend the winter with their many friends and friends.

The Allandale chicken supper was a grand success. We are very grateful to all who helped in any way who patronized it. Thanks a lot.

Sunday, Oct. 26th was a grand day, though a little cool for our visit to Two Hills to visit with Mr. and Mrs. George English (nee Alberta Dow). Alberta is looking well. They had just finished threshing. We were surprised to meet Mr. Jack Baldwin there, a very efficient helper during the busy days. We had an "extra" chop for dinner, such a rarity. George has the hide tanned and it was really a huge bear.

This Friday Nov. 7th there is to be a dance in the school. proceeds are for the Xmas fund. Electric lights are now in the school and are certainly grand. They are greatly appreciated in the community.

Hello Pleasant Valley, the parcel arrived just fine and such a variety of lovely bulbs. Blooms of all kinds for our cold winter time. Your kindness is appreciated very much, and thanks.

It was good to attend the Gay 90's last Friday evening. Such excellent entertainment is rare these days. Mr and Mrs. Herb McPhee attended from Allandale.

Miss Joyce Armstrong is in the city with her sister Mrs. Jack Dwyer and family.

Closing Thought: "The core of Christian neighborliness is to help others without thought of reward."

DISTRICT COURT

The regular sittings of the District Court were held at Vermilion on Tuesday Oct. 14th, His Honour Judge E. Garispy presiding.

A Certificate of Citizenship was presented to Frank Wilbejer of Vermilion upon his taking the usual Oath of Allegiance. Applications for citizenship by J. Chow and Mah Yee Gik, both of Lloydminster; John and Walter Howorko of Mannville and Alex Malychuk of Derwent were approved.

The Judge heard an appeal of Alcida Bodard of Mannville against a conviction for an alleged infraction of the Highway Traffic Act, for which Bodard was fined in the Police Magistrate's court, $25 and costs. Bodard appealed the conviction and the appeal was allowed for a defect in the proceedings, the Crown not opposing the appeal. The fine and costs were ordered refunded. A. Jones of Mannville acted on behalf of Bodard.

Another interesting case was that of Barney Johre vs. Marshall Franklin, in which Johre sued Franklin for damages occasioned by an alleged assault by Franklin. The defendant argued that under certain sections of the Criminal Code the plaintiff was barred from taking civil action because the defendant had already been convicted in the Police Magistrate's court for this same assault and convicted, he having pleaded guilty in the Magistrate's Court.

After a lengthy argument by both sides judgment was reserved and further arguments requested. Judgment has now been given in favor of the plaintiff Johre for the sum of $251.75 damages and costs.

F. J. Richardson, Q.C., acted for Johre and James McCorry of Killam for Franklin.

Dr. W. H. Alexander, Veterinary Surgeon, Lloydminster, in a Small Debt action sued Noel Mayer of Lloydminster for a bill for professional services rendered. Mayer alleged that the proper services were not given. His Honour ruled in favor of the doctor and gave judgment to him for the claim and costs.

F. J. Richardson, Q.C., appeared for the plaintiff and the defendant appeared in person.

The Small Debt action Chris Hamilton, Lloydminster vs. Steve Samman of Two Hills, was an action for damages to the plaintiff's car. The accident involved backing out from a group of cars and it appeared that the Town of Lloydminster has a by-law requiring persons backing out to sound their horns. Judgment was given for the plaintiff's claim and costs. Noel Lean and Anderson of Lloydminster appeared for the plaintiff and F. J. Richardson, Q.C., Vermilion, for the defendant.

Dr. and Mrs. Feltins of Chauvin were Sunday visitors at the Gordon home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobson of La Grandeur, Oregon is visiting with Mrs. Hobson's mother Mrs. A. T. Goodwin, who we regret to hear, is not enjoying the best of health.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gordon, Maureen and Brian spent several days in Edmonton during the past week.

Mr. Frank Ball was a visitor in Edmonton for a few days this week. While there he attended the wedding of his niece Miss Carol Gauer.

Mrs. Keseler [illegible] has been visiting at the home of her daughter Mrs. Cubin Ball during the past two weeks but returned to her home in Waskatenau. Mrs. Ball and Cubin went along with her for a short holiday.

Quite a number of our young men have gone hunting for big game. Messrs. Gordon Davidson, Harvey McLeod and Percy Stoddart are included in the party.

The weather during the past week has been quite good for this time of year, very little snow so far, so a small cattle are getting the goal of the grasslands, which will save on the amount of feeding necessary.

The British and Foreign Bible Society presented a film program featuring "Frontiersmen" in the Church of God on Tuesday evening with a nice mixed audience present. Rev. Emanuel Henry, District Secretary of the Northern Auxiliary was the speaker at the meeting.

Hallowe'en passed off much as usual. The young fry were out in all manner of dress with their bags begging treats while the ancient order of "Hi Wie" were up to their usual pranks.

Valley Maids C.G.I.T.

Valley Maids C.G.I.T. of Paradise Valley held their annual Hallowe'en party in the church basement on Wednesday night, Oct. 29. The girls were led through the ghost tunnel — each ghost performing some trick. The witch, perhaps we'd better not describe her or tell names, but she was super. This, with the ducking for apples bobbed, caused much hilarity and screams, but such is Hallowe'en. Marlene, Lois and Joan as a committee prepared a short program which was enjoyed. Brenda was convenor of lunch committee and with a number of the younger girls served the bunch of hot chocolate, sandwiches, cake, ice cream and candy.

The decoration committee had done a good job. With the help of the mothers and the members co-operating it was a good party.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

EASY DOES IT

Rash Promise ends "We're Remodeling the Kitchen" In Favor of a Permanent Separation and Troubled Times and Penny Pinched.

— By — ROY V. PRICE

WHEN Percy told Hortense that the manager of the West Side branch had handed in his resignation that morning, she withered her diminutive husband with a look and barked, "Have you applied for his job?"

Percy tried to shrink further into his pin-striped suit and summoned up his most soothing tone. "What's the use, darling? I haven't a chance against Jack Gunn."

"You're a better bank teller than that social lion, Jack Gunn!"

Percy adjusted his goldrimmed glasses, and his tiny moustache twitched, laboring unsuccessfully to add a dashing touch to his appearance.

"You're too quiet and easy-going. You let everybody shove you around!"

"But I try not to, darling."

"I keep telling you, you've got to be more aggressive! And doing your job perfectly is not enough!"

Percy collapsed in his over-stuffed easy chair, folded his hands and his lap.

"No matter how competent you are, you've got to impress the right people and go after what you want! Else you're right first as though knocking something from in front of her.

"Yes, darling. I know you're right." He felt too uncomfortable to smile, but he did try. "But, but I'll be miserable gossiping and gadding about it. I know I was neglecting something that should be done, dear."

"You're too conscientious about your work!" she shouted. "You sit down right now and write a letter to Mr. Hardy and tell him why you're the best man for manager of the West Side branch! You're not too timid to do that, are you?"

"No, darling."

In his mind, he could see Hardy's thick neck turning purple above a stiff white collar, pounding his desk and shouting: "What's the idea, Meek? You can't pick your job here! If you don't like what you're doing, you can quit!" Percy trembled as though he were having a chill.

Hortense pounded her palm with a bare-like fist. "You're always bringing work home from the bank when I beeps me from going out evenings for a little recreation. And what about it get you!"

"But, darling—"

"Just this afternoon I heard that stuck-up floozy, Flora Gunn, bragging about how Jack dines and golfs at the country club with Mr. Hardy and his other business superiors. Then she turned to me purring like a Cheshire cat and said, 'No matter how well you know your job, it doesn't mean a thing without that certain swing, does it dearie?' Then she laughed in my face!"

"Now, now, darling, please don't get excited. Remember your blood pressure and your heart."

"You should concentrate on playing like Jack does and not so much on doing a good job! You're never going to get very far unless you learn how to play up to people who can advance you in business!"

He stopped writing long enough to look at her and say, "Yes, darling."

"Now you take that letter right up to Mr. Hardy in the morning and demand what's rightfully yours!"

"Yes, darling," he said, soothingly. He placed the letter in an envelope and paced the floor before Hortense. With fists clenched, he growled softly and said, "I'll walk in and say: Hardy, I'm serving notice here and now! Either I get my due share of recognition or I'm leaving this miserable street shop today!' Percy bared his front teeth trying to look tough and outraged. 'And that's final!'" He finished in his highest voice, trying his best to appear tough.

The next morning, Percy walked with an unaccustomed swagger. His hat was tipped rakishly over one eye.

When he entered the president's office, he heard Hardy roaring at somebody over the telephone.

Percy caught his breath and his heart almost leaped out of his chest. Now or never! His lips formed the opening sentences of his declaration of independence. He shifted the letter from one hand to the other while he tremblingly wiped a handkerchief over his face.

The president slammed the receiver down and glowered at Percy. "Oh, Meek, I'm glad you came in. I was just going to ring for you. We've carefully considered you and Gunn. And we've decided Gunn is the better man for the West Side, but we haven't told him yet. We feel you're too valuable to us here in the main bank."

With hopes shattered, Percy clerked a baseball out of his throat. "I've made yourself such a good teller, they couldn't see you as anything else! How could he ever be able to go home now and face Hortense? He felt sick at the very thought. He couldn't remember now, what he had rehearsed to say. Unconsciously, he pushed the letter into a hard wad in his pocket. He wished he could drop dead—suddenly, he stopped thinking and held his breath.

"We've something a bit better in mind for such a dominant, aggressive and competent man as you, Meek," the president said.

Percy couldn't quite believe his ears.

"Jones is retiring in two months, and Ray is moving up to the cashier's desk. We've asked the board of directors to appoint you to succeed Ray as assistant cashier."

Ten seconds later, the president was shouting, "Somebody bring some water!" He had buzzed everybody. "Why's heck doesn't somebody do something? Meek has fainted!"

Forecast Cities Of Twenty To Thirty Thousand In Northern Canada In Next Fifty Years

OTTAWA.—Cities of 20,000 to 30,000 and maybe more will spring up in Canada's forbidding northland within this century. That's the prediction of the Defence Department's senior authority on the Arctic. Mining, says English-born Graham Rowley, is the fact that will carry civilization into the Arctic and sub-Arctic in the next 50 years, building cities where now there are only isolated airfields, mining camps and tiny settlements.

"Not only do I think this will happen," he said in an interview, "but I will be surprised if it doesn't happen."

The opinion comes from a Cambridge University graduate who first started going into the Arctic years ago and spent a total of some years there before becoming the Defence Research Board's official responsible for correlating all northland studies from a defence standpoint.

That is the way he sees it.

Canada hasn't gone as far as Russia, Denmark, in developing other northland mainly because her small population has been too busy taming the country to the south. Nor has there been any pressure on Canadians to go north to seek land and space because there has been plenty in less bleak places.

The result is that the northland is a potential treasure house which Canadians have just started exploring.

But the opening of the north now is definitely on. Mining and oil exploration are the keys. One mining development after another has cropped up either in the Yukon, the Northwest Territories or in the far northern regions of the provinces such as Quebec and Saskatchewan. Explorations are pushing steadily forward.

This is almost certain to lead eventually to cities. The northern climate doesn't hold people back when economic opportunity offers.

Goose Bay, C.ne, Churchill, Whitehorse . . . these and other places which now count their inhabitants in the dozens and hundreds should some day be counting them in the thousands. They are all in what is known as the sub-Arctic.

As for the far Arctic itself, up north of the Arctic Circle, that is another phase, says Graham Rowley. That will take a little longer.

Greenlawn Grapevine

The Grapevine hasn't quite died away, though withered a bit from lack of attention. We hope, however, to get it down quite regularly from now on.

All of us have been happy to hear of the continued progress of Mrs. Bill McMullen and Mrs. Ray Thompson since their accident. Bill McMullen is home, we hear, and everyone hopes the others soon will follow.

It seems good to hear that the social swing is under way again. Most summer activities were cancelled in Greenlawn as elsewhere, because of the polls, but from all the plans underway, winter will be a busy season.

Greenlawn Goodwill club held hold their October meeting at the home of Mrs. Mike Savic. Plans are being made for the Christmas concert and the club is completing stage curtains for that event.

A bean supper and annual meeting was put on by Greenlawn Local U.F.U.A. The new executive is as follows. President, Bob Gray; Vice-Pres. — Pat Mathison; Mrs. Effie Mathison was returned as secretary. Local directors are Mrs. M. Kuziw, Mrs. Ray Jones and J. Magill. Four canvassers were also elected, so have your membership fees ready, folks. This year the Provincial F.U.A. is sponsoring an action contest, with points given for both new and old memberships. Needless to say the treasury could do with one of the prizes.

Johnny Anderson was present in his capacity of District President, and spoke on the need of an active and large membership in our farm locals.

Other business included a report on the amount of business done to date by members of the Local with the UFA Coop Wholesale. It was also announced that a Masquerade will be sponsored on Nov. 6th.

The Old Timers of Greenlawn also have a dinner scheduled for Nov. 7th.

There's a great deal of tootin' going on about these parts! The Pipes' band will make their first public appearance at the big opening of the new Dewberry school. We're all looking forward to this event, as the boys have put a great deal of time and effort into their practices

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Another reason why more people buy
CHEVROLET TRUCKS
than any other make!

When you buy a truck, whatever you're hauling, you buy it for one reason and one only — to make money. And, in the long run the truck that saves you the most is the truck that's going to make the most. And that, without frills or fancy talk, is one of the biggest basic reasons why more people buy and drive Chevrolet trucks than any other make.

Look at it any way you want. You save because Chevrolet's economical, dependable Valve-in-Head engines, famous for power and stamina, keep fuel consumption low. You save because Chevrolet's husky hypoid rear axles, deep channel-type frames, Flexi-Mounted cabs, Recirculating Ball-Steering and other Advance-Design features keep maintenance costs down. And you keep on saving while you earn because these extra values are built in to stay in, to protect your truck investment.

But seeing is better than saying, so come in and look these versatile, money-making Chevrolet trucks over from top to bottom. Check the comparative values of Chevrolet trucks and prove to yourself that Chevrolet does save you money all along the line.

Roll Your Own Kindling

Here's a way of rolling and knotting newspaper so it will burn for a long time, with a good flame and intense heat. They are easy to make and you can count on the children to produce a good supply.

Open about 10 sheets of newspaper; roll diagonally into a fairly tight tube, with your knee or foot held firmly on the rolled newspaper; shape it into a circle. Knot the circular tube, forcing both ends together forcibly as paper won't crack. These are best used in a fireplace with other seasonal logs. The knots start a brisk fire and will burn for half an hour or more.

Cheese Twists

Cheese Stuffed Baked Potato: Cut lengthwise slit in top of hot baked potato, press a piece of cheese into slit. Put in oven, 400F for 5 minutes, or until cheese starts to melt.

Hot Cheese-Onion Canapes: Cut small rounds of toasted bread and cheddar cheese. Put cheese on toast and top with slice of onion. Brush with salad. Broil under moderate heat to melt cheese.

Stuffed Roll Slices: Cut slices off each end of hot dog rolls. Scoop out centres and stuff with any cheese spread. Wrap in waxed paper, chill, or store in frig. Slice to serve.

Clandonald News

Most of the harvest rush now being over and work on the land nearly completed we will try to report district happenings a bit more regularly than has been the case during the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGillivray had quite a large number of guests at their home during the early part of the harvest season as took the opportunity of putting some of them to work. Cousins of Mrs. McGillivray making their home in Edmonton but not long out from the Old Country, Mr. and Mrs. Pat McGinley and three children visited for a week. A brother Owen accompanied by his wife and two children from Vancouver spent a week end at his sister's home. Also from Edmonton Mr. and Mrs. Don MacDonald and three children were guests at the McGillivray home at about the same time.

DEPARTING MINISTER FAREWELLED

Following the final church service conducted by the Rev. Cathcart a very pleasant social gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Stanley when practically the entire congregation assembled to bid the Cathcart's farewell and to wish them every success in their new home. Following refreshments the Rev. Cathcart and family were presented with a gift of money as a token of appreciation by members of the community with whom they had been so well during their stay here. Both Rev. and Mrs. Cathcart expressed their deep gratitude for the gift and also their extreme regret for having to leave the district and the many kind friends they had made during their three years in the parish. Later in the week the Cathcart family left by car for their new home about 30 miles from Toronto, not far from the Malton airport.

A rather interesting item was brought to our attention recently. At the Donald McAllen home in the Chauvin district they have a calf brought from the Old Country. The McAllan children made the 9th generation — but have used this term of furniture which is probably more durable than some of the sheets made nowadays.

Another visitor from the Old Country a sister of Alex Grant is spending the latter part of the year here, returning home about the time of the departure from Winnipeg as far as we know she was fortunate enough to not be among the passengers at that particular time.

Quite a large concert is planned for the harvest festival service on Sunday, Oct. 26th which will be conducted by the Reverend of Vermilion. Mr. Phipps and Rev. Popplewell assisting with the service. None of the particulars of the concert are available at present but we understand that Miss Dyer, Stonehill, a vocal visit and how we'll have a chance to hear her voice for a few days. Also Miss Dyer also is a pianist of considerable ability and a member of the Red Cross Society Children's Hospital Staff.

Harvesting should be completed in the time the reports of phenomenal favorable weather and astonishing yields are being reported from various parts of the district. West of here one farmer finished 7500 bushels of wheat and he knows another 3000 bushels in the north reports come from all directions and from a farm near Lindbergh report of 70 bushels of wheat from two acres. Surely this must be an all time record for one acre. Oats are reported to run over 100 bushels to the acre to well over the 100 mark in places. Corn is also a Lloydminster district. However we would be also glad to hear of more than was expected and it is better than Nil.

Famine prices for oats does not appear to be a very prominent feature this year. In a recent purchase we made a load of good feeding oats at 60 cents per bushel delivered in our district.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert, formerly of Lac Des Lake district have purchased their farm home into town and plan to make their permanent home here.

Congratulations and best wishes for future happiness to Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Garnier whose wedding took place in the Roman Catholic church this month. The Henry Schneider, agent for this territory

"A very valuable citizen"

When a bank manager was transferred recently a group of citizens wrote the bank in tribute to his sense of public service:

"During the time he was here, we found him to be a very valuable citizen. He always took a deep interest in our community, so we feel we have lost a valuable asset. However, we feel sure that his replacement will be made with a man of similar calibre."

A bank man, by the very nature of his work, becomes part of the life around him. During his training in various branches, and as he takes on growing responsibilities, he learns more and more about people and how his bank can help them. And he brings to his community his personal readiness to serve in any way he can.

A Friendly Gesture

SINCE THE EARLY YEARS of the last war the people of Canada and the other Commonwealth countries which were not affected by acute food shortages have sent food parcels to the people of the United Kingdom. Many have been sent also by individuals and organizations in the United States. There have been many expressions of appreciation from those who have benefitted from the parcels and there has also been official recognition of the generosity of people in other lands who have helped to make the long period of food rationing which has been the lot of the British people less burdensome.

• • • • •

Official Sign Of Gratitude

One official sign of gratitude for the food parcels sent to Britain during the Second World War is a fund which has been raised there to be used for the benefit of Commonwealth and American students in London. Started in 1956 by Her Majesty the Queen, who was then Princess Elizabeth, the fund now totals more than $2,000,000. Present plans are that it will be used to build an extension to London House, which is a home for Commonwealth students who are living in London. The addition is to include quarters for men and women students and for married couples and for the first time the residence is to be opened to Americans in recognition for the voluntary help which came to Britain from the American people during the war in the form of food parcels.

• • • • •

No Thanks Were Expected

Those who participated in the sending of food parcels did so without thought of receiving thanks but it will give pleasure to many to know that the people of the United Kingdom have joined to contribute to a fund to commemorate their appreciation. A home for students from other parts of the Commonwealth and from the United States will no doubt contribute a great deal in the future to the already firmly-established friendship and understanding among those countries. It will also stand as a fitting monument to this far-flung friendship among people of many nations

A big snowman—her first this winter—is what children dream of these days. They delight in the large snowflakes drop lazily from the skies. Parents, however, take a dimmer view of the white stuff, as they know it means shovels and brooms.—Central Press Canadian.

Funny and Otherwise

Mavis: "I can't bear that man. He always smiles to himself when I say a thing like that."

Joan: "I know, dear. A sort of perpetual grin."

The bruised traveller arrived, very sad and exhausted, outside the Pig and Whistle. Knocking at the door, he at last aroused an irate man, who put his head out of a window: "Go away! You can't hang up any like this—we're closed—see?"

"Say," said the stranger, "where's your telephone?"

• • •

Magistrate: "Now, why did you break into this draper's shop four nights running?"

Defendant: "I've got a new dress for my wife and she made me go back and change it three times."

Johnnie: "Yes, I know that. I thought he was a good little boy, but after I bit him once, I found he wasn't."

"Pop, what does it mean when it says a man attends a convention as a delegate-at-large?"

A Hills girl at a party refused a second helping of ice cream with a polite but forceful "No, thank you."

"Do have some more, dear," her hostess urged.

Fortune Teller: "Do you want to know something about your future husband?"

Client: "No, I want to know something about the past of my present husband for future use."

The oldest inhabitant had just celebrated his birthday, and a local reporter called to interview him. "And, tell me, what would you do if you could have your time over again?"

There was a long silence, while the old man appeared to be deep in thought. "I think I would part my hair in the middle," he replied at last.

New Customs Regulations On Overseas Parcels

OTTAWA. — The Defence Department gave this tip to Canadians who send parcels to servicemen in Britain and Germany: Coffee, liquor, cigars, cigarettes and tobacco no longer are free of customs duties.

New customs regulations have cancelled the concession under which two pounds of coffee monthly could be sent duty-free to servicemen in those countries. One reason is that there now is ample coffee available overseas.

Vessel "Manned" By Women

CHURCHILL, Man.—Many women are just as eager to sail the seas as men are.

The vessel La Cordillera, owned by Burns Maxis, which docked recently at this Hudson Bay port, carried ten women cooks and stewards. The ship's owners had asked veterans of the Royal Navy Women's Auxiliary after the last war for applications and were almost swamped.

The women said they like the work at sea, and the turnover in personnel is low.

SINCE FLOODWOOD IN HOLLAND

Danger Of Prairie Dog Becoming Extinct

Five hundred prairie dogs—more wily than the gopher and longer—have a town in southwestern Saskatchewan that doesn't appear on the map although maybe it should. It's the only one of its kind in the British Commonwealth. But for a town so distinctive, its appearance isn't very impressive.

On the surface, it consists of numerous mounds in two small areas separated by a grain field along Frenchman creek, 16 miles southeast of Val Marie.

Underground, it is a maze of tunnels.

That's what two provincial museum workers — Fred Lahrman and Terry Walker—found when they went there to capture specimens and take pictures.

But so wily are these large ground squirrels which inhabit dogtown that six days spent there, the two men trapped only 12 of them.

She have been sent to the Wild Animal park at Moose Jaw and the remainder are to be mounted for the museum in Regina.

The two museum workers had a blind which they erected at the town but they discovered even with a blind they would have to exercise great patience.

"At the least sign of danger, a prairie dog would bark a warning to his friends and then drop 12 feet down to the bottom of his hole. It might be five hours before the dogs would appear again, sometimes longer than that.

Prairie dogs and antelopes are good companions. The antelope come down and rest in dogtown because they know the dogs will be watchful of danger.

"The dogs are very good friends of each other and run and play about, sometimes standing on their hind legs going in opposite directions to rub noses.

But they are not such good friends of rattlesnakes and burrowing owls, although there's a saying about them all living together in the same burrow.

It's far from true. The prairie dog will eat the burrowing owl if it catches one and the rattlesnake will do the same with the dog.

The prairie dog also has to look out for the large-footed ferret, the badger and the coyote.

Eleanor Jean Goodwin Married In Edmonton

A quiet wedding took place on Saturday, November 1st at the Manse, Jasper Place United church, Edmonton, when Eleanor Jean Goodwin, daughter of Mrs. W. T. Goodwin and the late Mr. W. T. Goodwin, Vermilion became the bride of Dennis Evan Carson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Carson of Sherbrooke, Que.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother Mr. James R. Goodwin, wore a two-piece suit of rust taffeta with black velvet accessories. Her corsage was a mauve and yellow orchid.

The bride's mother wore a black gabardine suit with a corsage of red roses.

The manse was beautifully decorated with mauve and yellow chrysanthemums and white candles.

Later the wedding supper for the bridal party was held at the King Edward hotel.

After a short honeymoon the happy couple will make their home in Calgary.

Elizabeth Freda Hansen Wed At Marwayne

Marwayne United church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, October 29th when Elizabeth Freda, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hansen, and Robert Samuel Chesek, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Chesek of Elnora, were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Snechol.

The church was prettily decorated with huge white mums and asters.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a floor length bridal gown of white lace and nylon net over white taffeta with veil and pearl coronet. She wore a pearl necklace, gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of red roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Barbara Dutnin, wore a mauve floor-length gown while the little flower girl, Diane Clark, was qualmly pretty in a long yellow dress flower chaplet, and an old fashioned posy.

The best man was Mr. Dennis Chesek. Ushers were Mr. C. Hodgkinson and Mr. Bob Hansen.

The brides' mother wore a green corsage with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses, while Mrs. Chesek chose a beige ensemble with corsage of red roses.

Mr. Harlan Green played delightfully on the organ while during the signing of the register Miss Marion Green sang "Because".

After the ceremony a reception and supper was held at the bride's home where a beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake graced the bride's table.

Guests from Elnora were Mr. and Mrs. O. Chesek, Mr. and Mrs. Hodgkinson and Dan, Mr. D. Chesek and Mr. Alan Barnes.

After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Chesek will be at home in Elnora.

Charlie Robinson Made Honorary President

183 Old Timers At Annual Round-Up

Charles W. Robinson, who has been president of the Vermilion Old Timers' Association for the past 15 to 20 years was honored at the annual banquet and round-up at the Legion hall on Thursday evening when he was given a certificate of membership as Life President of the Association. In addition he was presented with a beautiful ebony wood cane inscribed "Presented to C.W. Robinson by Vermilion Old Timers' Association, 1952", as an expression of appreciation for his services by the members of the association. Prior to his long tenure as president he acted as secretary-treasurer for many years. The presentation address was made by J. W. G. Morrison, also a member of the Old Timers of many years.

A suitable reply was made by Mr. Robinson who was quite taken aback by being thus honored. He said that whatever he had done was a matter of duty to those people who had established themselves in the district and had by their perseverance and energies laid the foundations upon which the community has been so firmly built, one of the best in the province or anywhere.

Mr. Morrison, in making the presentation address said that the association and "Charles" were synonymous you could not speak or think of the one without being reminded of the other. The association has grown up with the man, harmoniously contributing to the general welfare and development of the district. He had a wonderful record for neighborliness.

183 Members Attend

The Round-Up was probably the largest attended in its history, 183 having signed the register. The ladies auxiliary of the Canadian Legion catered to the sumptuous banquet, which was voted the best ever.

His Worship Mayor Heckbert welcomed the members to Vermilion in an inspiring address in which he paid a glowing tribute to the place the association occupies and has long occupied, in the town and district and in the hearts of the people everywhere.

Gen. Web Elected President

George C. Web was elected president of the Old Timers for the coming year. James Wallington was made vice-president and the following executive committee was elected: Messdames May Fisk, Agnes Whyte, Nora Rossaghan, Annie Cameron, and Messrs. Geo. Whyte, W. J. Moore and Hiram Hodgins.

Mrs. Hilda Cross was selected as secretary and Miss Ann Snayshuk as treasurer.

Mr. Morrison presided at the election of officers.

The meeting was presided over by the president, now lately removed to Edmonton, who had come from the city to be present at the annual gathering.

The meeting closed with a dance lasting well after midnight. Hanna's orchestra provided the music. The occasion was a brilliant success in the records of the Vermilion Old Timers' Association, and one to be long remembered by the members

NEW HOCKEY LEAGUE FORMED

WAINWRIGHT, VEGREVILLE, VIKING AND VERMILION HOLD FRANCHISES

A new hockey league came into being on Wednesday night at Viking when franchises were granted to Viking, Wainwright, Vermilion and Vegreville. A second meeting will be held at Wainwright on Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock when the officials for the new league will be elected and a constitution drawn up.

Local and District Players

A feature of the meeting held at Viking Wednesday evening was the avowed intention to use only local and district players on all the teams in the town appointed as delegates to attend the Sunday afternoon meeting and Vermilion will be represented by Stan Manyluk and Bob Carmichael.

Action to form the new league was taken when news spread that Lloydminster had entered a loop with Saskatoon, Noon, North Battleford and Prince Albert. Vegreville, which had taken leave of absence for a year due to the growing number of semi-pro players being used, stated that they would gladly enter the new proposed league, while Viking with its big new Carena is ripe for such a venture.

Vermilion's representatives at the Viking meeting Wednesday evening were Dr. Ben King, Stan Manyluk, Bob Carmichael and Charlie Upshall.

Save Money This Way

Tire and rubber dressing protects your tires and belts from sealing cracks and protecting cuts from tiny moisture. Rust inhibitors sprayed or brushed on exposed parts is better than axle grease to prevent rust. Every implement should be gone over carefully before it is put away for all winter with nothing but the bare inky over them.

Floor Price of Cattle

The government announced recently that the support price for beef will be $25 per 100 pounds for good steers basis Toronto delivery, after April 1 until the U.S. embargo is lifted. It would appear that support prices announced will not remain in effect after the embargo is lifted.

Forestry Nimbler

It is a violation of the Forestry Act to burn stubble without a permit from your council. These permits are hard to get because councils believe that it is good business for farmers to burn the stubble into farm cover. The other day I saw one field that was burned over as a bare as the geovertial September Morn Get a circular from my office on the handling of trash cover.

Trees and Shrubs Available

An announcement was just received from the department saying that shrubs are available for windbreak purposes. The following shrubs and trees can be had free of charge: Gennalian Maple, Chinese Hawthorne, Mountain Ash, Siberian Dogwood, Poplar and Golden Willow are available. Let me know what you want.

Pocket Gopher Control

One of our sheep raisers lost 5 lambs from Tuesday. A single coyote killed them one after another. If you wish to get help from your municipality tell your councillor about it. Or you could write to this office and I will pass on your letter to the council. The government will provide coyote-getters and will pay the municipality or organizes the control program.

Farm Forums

Next Monday Tisley tales will be the topic on the National Farm Radio Forum program. Why not form a group of neighbors to listen in every Monday evening at 8:30 p.m. It will pay you better to listen to Farm Forum than to some of the other programs on the air. Bruce McDonald to the Toronto Royal is one of the awards for their prowess. The team was trained for the Alberta contests by John Hafta of the Poultry Branch, Edmonton, and by H. H. All Functions Were Well Attended

Solemn Remembrance Day Services Carried Out by Legion

Solemn and thought-provoking Remembrance Day services were carried out Tuesday morning, Nov 11th under ideal weather conditions. The day was bright, and warm, beautiful and serene, and it was no doubt the hope of all gathered at the outdoor service at the cenotaph that the beauty, brightness and peace of nature as exemplified at that time, would permeate the hearts and minds of men everywhere the world over.

The attendance at both the latter and wreaths at the cenotaph, and at the Memorial service in the Columbia theatre, was as large as ever, if not larger than ever before. The parade was headed by the local detachment of the R.C.M.P. in their scarlet tunics and marching to the strains of the Legion pipe band. Making up the long parade were the members of the Canadian Legion, the W.A. 'A' Company, Air Cadets, Boy Scouts, Cubs, Girl Guides, Brownies, 1010E Robert Hughes Memorial, A.A. students in their school sweaters, the V.I.S. students in their school colors with the air primary school pupils.

Music for the outdoor ceremony was provided by the Salvation Army band and the parade drew many favorable comments, the harmony of the music being outstanding.

In charge of the cenotaph ceremonies were the Legion padre Rev. Ivor Lloyd and the Legion president, Bob Allen.

Remembrance Day Service

As previously stated the theatre failed to accommodate the large crowds desiring to attend the Remembrance Day service and many joined in the members of the Minburn Ladies' Auxiliary. The padre was Rev. C. W. MacKay. Rev. J. Betz, Cred. Rob Chapman and Rev. D. A. Fraser. On the platform with them who George Mutch, president of the Canadian Legion Branch 11

The address was given by the Rev. Eric Betz, pastor of the Alliance church. The speaker based his address on several short poignant stanzas of scripture applying to world conditions following the two great wars and alluding to Russia as a country who had attempted to enslave the world.

Roll of Honor

The names of all men from Vermilion and district who gave their lives in the two great wars for the freedom of the world were flashed upon the screen in a roll of honor, arranged conveniently by the appropriate council or units.

Completing the service in a befitting manner Theo Watts, one of the inspiring pipers, well known to all Vermilion, played in a most flawlessly and in beautiful tone and was accompanied by Pipe Major C. W. Stephens.

Remembrance Activities

In addition to the Remembrance Day service the local branch of the Legion carried out the annual poppy day sales on Saturday, Nov 8th. The tagging was done by members of the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary and many other willing helpers.

On Monday evening Nov. 10th the annual Armistice ball was held in the perfect setting provided by the new armories and aided by excellent weather, this attracted a very large crowd.

The speaker for the returned men of all wars and of all countries, was held in the spacious Legion hall Tuesday evening and is reported as being the usual gala event.

Cenotaph Grounds Improved

The grounds around the cenotaph have been improved greatly during the past year by the joint action of the town council and the Legion. The grounds have been levelled off and lawn grass planted; this showed up still a beautiful green, though many held there

Memorial Services Held At Mannville

MANNVILLE. There was an exceptionally large turnout of local War Veterans and congregation at the annual Remembrance Day Memorial service in the United church Sunday morning. The War Vets paraded from the Memorial hall to the church and at the close of the service they fell in and marched back to the hall.

After the singing of the second hymn a two minutes silence was observed for fallen comrades, followed by the sounding of the Last Post. The combined choir sang an anthem. For all the Saints". Rev. Crighton's sermon was very timely reminding us that only as active Christians can we combat Communism and bring the world out of the chaos it is in today.

Mr Y. A. Wood addressed the Board briefly regarding the Provincial park. He conveyed the regrets of the Minister Mr. Casey, that he found it impossible to be here.

Mr. Wood stated that the policy of the Conservative government of Provincial parks was that they were not to be treated as tourist attractions but as recreational centres for the local communities.

He said the government expected the co-operation of the people of each local community.

Mr. Wood also said that the Government had spent about $40,000 in purchasing land for this park and stated that they were prepared to assist financially with the development of the park by the local community If the annexed vision Government would have specific plans drawn up to set out the Park and the development of the Park and the Government would provide financial assistance

Mr. T. Dalkie stated that the Unit of raising the dam another 2 feet, would mean altering the design of the project as well as raising the top 2 feet, and the Engineers stated that would cost about $10,000. Mr. Dalkie was of the opinion that the present arrangement would provide a suitable lake.

The Chairman congratulated Mr. Robert Fair on his nomination as the Social Credit candidate in the federal election for the Battle River-Camrose constituency.

When enabled by deep sand, traction may be increased by letting a little air out of the rear tires but don't forget to reinflate them immediately afterwards.

Wheat Still King

In the last crop year, Canada shipped substantial quantities of wheat and flour to countries that seldom bought from us previously, says The Financial Post. Japan, Ceylon India and Egypt are examples.

This is a welcome and important development. We can certainly use more markets for our wheat. The greater the number of customers the more stable and firm the permanent demand.

Several of these new customers for wheat and wheat flour were formerly almost exclusively rice eaters. But rice is much more costly to produce than wheat.

In recent years, due to military and political disturbances in Asia, international shipments of rice have slumped, hence big importers like India, Ceylon and Japan have been forced to use wheat. If the people of these countries develop a real taste for wheat that will mean bigger permanent markets. Because we can grow this grain more cheaply than most other countries, any increase in world demand is bound to benefit us.

In this business too, it is well to remember that wheat is one of the major exports and will continue to occupy that position for a long time to come, concludes the Post.

Twenty-five Years

W. Lobay, Supervisor of Crop Protection, Alberta Department of Agriculture, warns that a slackening of interest on account that rats will be well established in all parts of this province in the next 20 to 25 years. It took only years for them to cross Saskatchewan, says Mr. Lobay. Rats first invaded Canada over a century ago when the first white settlers started coming in. They have slowly followed man westward since.

As far as Western Canada is concerned, rats were first noticed at Emerson in 1900. By 1914 reports of rats came from Deloraine, Winnipeg Portage La Prairie and Brandon. The movement continued reach-ward until by 1918, rats were seen near Yorkton, Sask. In 1929 rats were established in Regina and Moose Jaw. Slowly but surely, the westward movement reached Saskatoon and Swift Current by 1935-38. At the end of the next ten years (1939-49) the movement westward saw rats established within ten miles of the Alberta boundary in the region through Loverna and south towards Alsask.

In 1950 the first colony of rats in Alberta was discovered west of Alsask, and since that time effort has been made to destroy every rat that made its appearance in the province. To keep rats out of Alberta, cooperation of everyone in the province will be needed. Any signs of rats should be reported immediately to the nearest pest control officer so that prompt action can be taken.

Lowly Spud Now Aristocrat

The lowly spud is lowly no longer, says The Financial Post.

Potato prices will not only remain high this year; they are likely to stay up for some time.

Weather conditions may turn Canada's 3% acreage boost in to a 9% larger crop. But crop prospects from the U.S. are only some 6% ahead of last year so there is little hope of price help from that quarter.

Currently, wholesale prices are running over 50% higher than last year.

A number of years of relatively low prices coupled with higher labor, fertilizer and spray prices encouraged a shift to other lucrative crops. It may take two to three years of continued high prices to reverse the trend.

Letters to the Editor

[No paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.]

Vermillion, Nov. 8th.

The Editor,
Vermillion Standard,
Dear Sir:

It is with a great sense of relief and pride that I notice that the north side of Main street which has been an eye sore for many years, has all been cleaned up. Whether it be the town council or property owners who are responsible, it was a very necessary job well done. We people from the country who drive in from the west always regretted the unsightly mess those lots presented to the passerby and the cleaning up of them makes the business section much more presentable. Now what can be done about the south side of Main street? Wouldn't it be nice if those lots could be cleaned up too?

A Rural Vermillionite.

V.H.S. Basketballers Win Two Games

DEFEAT LLOYDMINSTER

On Friday evening Nov. 7th we were lucky enough to be able to invite Lloydminster back to play basketball in the new armories. The boys' 'A' team handed an improved L.H.S. boys' team a 34-10 defeat. Ken Brown, star right wing for V.H.S. notched a total of 14 points.

Once more the girls' 'A' team defeated the L.H.S. girls, 16-11. Right wing must be a lucky place, because Dora Schmidt had the scoring from that position.

After the game we adjourned to the high school for a hearty lunch, then had a short record dance before the visitors went home.

The ducks have also drawn up their teams. In after school games on Friday, Carmen and Service boys fought to a 6-6 deadlock in overtime. On Monday, Lassiter lost 11 to 10 to Service and 9-8 to Carmen.

An official opening of the new school is planned for the new year by some.

Vic and Bradley Donnell and John Pakula are away on a big game hunt.

Our grain quota is expected to be raised here shortly. Dave Findlay had a field of oats which averaged over 100 bushels to the acre. Ernest had a field of wheat that ran about 35 bushels.

For the first time in several years harvesting is completed. Much of the threshing was done with the use of stook sweeps. Average grade seems to be No. 4. Many acres of fall work have been done. Some men and teams were getting $15 per day for threshing.

Ted Allmen of Terrace, B.C. is visiting his home here and may stay the winter.

Redi beer has purchased all the baled hay from the heitges' farm at 12th Point. Some 20-ton bales of alfalfa and brome grass is all in her 340 head of cattle near there.

Our most grader man wants all the snow fence returned so it can be put up before the ground freezes.

A four room addition is being built to the record storey of the Dewberry hotel.

Halloween pranksters this year seemed to pick the town of Kitscoty to a nearby slough and now they are hauling from there to above. Some damage was also reported from district farms.

Bernie Garnier has taken over the drag business in town and Wally Curtis has moved back to the farm.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

Nov. 17, 1936

The V.S.A. had settled down for the 1936-37 term with 136 students registered.

Mr. Howard Armstrong won a new Plymouth car given away by a firm in Regina.

Fred Firth was elected president of the curling club, Geo. Webb vice-president and H. R. Parker secretary.

After a spell of two weeks of real winter the weather suddenly turned warm, a chinook started the snow melting on Sunday and bright sunshiny days since have done the rest.

Thirty-two Years Ago Today

Nov. 10, 1920

Grain prices were dropping rapidly with No. 1 wheat at $1.38, oats barley and rye are holding up at 35c, 64c and $1.10.

W. E. Mackenzie was president of the curling club, Chas Eanford was vice-president and Steve Laughlin secretary-pro-tem. John Craig, Jas. Walker, Bill Telford, Harley Gidley and Alf Kaiser were the executive.

The ground is now frozen with no snow yet to cover it.

REPORT to the PEOPLE

BY ROBERT FAIR, M.P.
BATTLE RIVER

The question of redistribution of seats in the House of Commons has been a live issue for many months past and as I have heard many reasons given for this, I felt it might be timely just now to set out a few facts in connection with it. Legislation provides for the taking of a census every 10 years and adjustment of seats in the House of Commons based upon such census. A census was taken in 1941 but no redistribution took place at that time because of the fact that we were at war and many of our people were away from home, in the services, in war factories and for many other reasons. In 1947, however, redistribution did take place but in the case of Alberta the number of seats was not affected and as many of our people were still away from home, the sub-committee recommended to the main committee that no change take place and this report was accepted.

It was the practice until recently to fix the number of seats in all other provinces on the basis of the population of Quebec. That province had 65 seats as a permanent fixture. That number was divided into the population of the province after each Decennial census and the result thus obtained divided into the population of each of the other provinces to fix their number of representatives. Recent amendments have done away with that system and we now have a guaranteed minimum of seats for some of the Maritime Provinces. New Brunswick, and one seat each for the Yukon and Mackenzie Territory. The representation of those mentioned is deducted from the total number of seats, which at present is 265 and the remainder divided into the population of the provinces which are not included in the list above. This gives a quotient of 54,402.

Under the present registration Nova Scotia loses one seat, Manitoba 2 and Saskatchewan 3. Quebec gains 2, Ontario 2 and B.C. 4. All other provinces remain the same as before.

An amendment to the B.N.A. Act at the last session providing for a 15% minimum reduction of seats in any province at any one redistribution, prevented Saskatchewan's representation being cut down to 15 instead of the present 20. When the present Parliament is dissolved the results of the redistribution will become effective and with give the provinces the following number of members in the next Parliament Ontario 83; Quebec 75; Nova Scotia 12; New Brunswick 10; Manitoba 14; Saskatchewan 17; Alberta 17; British Columbia 22; Newfoundland 7; Prince Edward Island 4; Yukon 1 and MacKenzie River 1, making a total of 265 seats.

We can now leave the overall picture and return to the Province of Alberta where the number of seats remains the same in the new parliament. During the 10-year period 1941-1951 the population of the province increased from 788,169 to 939,501. Quite a shift in population has taken place also as the following figures will show: (1941 population in brackets) Calgary East 31,721 (26,380); Athabasca 51,539 (53,699); Battle River 39,719 (43,455); Bow River 69,276 (45,389); Camrose 11,793 (43,164); Jasper-Edson 56,491 (36,977); Macleod 42,398 (43,039); Peace River 61,103 (53,497); Red Deer 52,047 (46,903); Vegreville 43,735 (43,735 (Weistaskiwin 30,089 (35,516); Calgary East 43,698 (47,107); Calgary West 72,636 (43,744); Edmonton East 87,809 (53,766); Edmonton West 90,619 (63,309); Lethbridge 35,195 (41,636); Medicine Hat 47,063 (41,673).

A check on the figures above will show that Edmonton East and Edmonton West have a population of 178,119, represented by 2 members while the constituencies of Acadia, Battle River, Camrose and Vegreville have a population of 162,238, represented by four members. The citizens of Edmonton demanded a third member and as there were no extra seats allotted to the province it was at once suggested that the four rural constituencies just mentioned be reduced to three. In order to do this we took four rows of townships from the south side of Battle River and Camrose and added them to Acadia, which, with the addition of a strip from the east side of Red Deer and Wetaskiwin brought the population of Acadia up to just over 41,000. The new territory added is approximately A. 930 miles. To build up Vegreville on the north we took one row of townships from the north side of Camrose and added it on then took from Battle River townships 30 to 53 inclusive ranges 8 to 11 inclusive and added that on, making a total addition of approximately 1150 square miles to Vegreville. This left the remainder of Battle River and Camrose to make up the new constituency of Battle River-Camrose. It is now made up of townships 42 to 49, ranges 1 to 21 both inclusive and townships 30 to the North Saskatchewan River, ranges 1 to 7 inclusive. This, I believe will cover an area of more than 7500 square miles. The name Battle River-Camrose was adopted because, in the first place, Battle River was the only electoral district which Camrose was organized in 1904. In the second place, Camrose is where Battle River than Camrose goes to make up the new constituency.

I hope the above information will help those affected to know the constituency to which they belong and also enable their representatives in the future will not be able to visit all parts of their territory as regularly as in the past. Larger territory and prolonged terms at Ottawa will make this impossible.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

SPELL-DOWN

By MARION WALDEN

"SEPARATE," Thalmerian." The words were getting harder. Addie Burke, now a spectator, fidgeted. Addie had been eliminated early in the spelling contest but she was ambitied to be a belle rather than a brain. Her heart stopped beating when Arthur successfully got through "physicist". Three went down on "phthisis" before Roscoe Meyers rolled it off glibly.

Why on earth had she ever made that silly bargain? Her engagement to attend the big dance with Arthur had been settled weeks ago. Then Roscoe had come home for his college vacation and had butted in.

Back in high school she'd thought Roscoe quite a catch. Why hadn't she just said, "You take too much for granted," instead of promising to go with the winner of this spelldown? Arthur was shy, studious and now if he lost, he'd surely feel she was giving him the mitten.

Everyone knew the champion would be either Roscoe or Arthur, and now she realized that Roscoe had the better chance. He'd be in better practice, studying law, than Arthur, just working as a clerk in Addie's dad's 31,721 (26,380). Athabasca 51,539 (53,699); Battle River 39,719 (43,455); Bow River 69,276 (45,389); Camrose 11,793 (43,164); Jasper-Edson 56,491 (36,977); Macleod 42,398 (43,039); Peace River 61,103 (53,497); Red Deer 52,047 (46,903); Vegreville 43,735 (43,735 (Weistaskiwin 30,089 (35,516); Calgary East 43,698 (47,107); Calgary West 72,636 (43,744); Edmonton East 87,809 (53,766); Edmonton West 90,619 (63,309); Lethbridge 35,195 (41,636); Medicine Hat 47,063 (41,673).

Roscoe never forgot to jump to open a door for a lady, or pull out her chair with a flourish, but Mamma didn't know that, he pinched Addie's elbows and gave her impudent little slaps when he helped her into a buggy. It was just Arthur's bashfulness that made him seem awkward. He was really the soul of courtesy, and felt badly whenever he forgot his manners. Besides, he was learning. Now he could hold Addie's cloak so that she didn't nearly burst her dress seams trying to find the armhole, and buckle her overshoes without getting all twisted up in her skirts.

Mamma didn't know how smart Arthur was, either. When he was alone with Addie he could make up the cleverest puns! He was a real wit, not just silly like Roscoe, who couldn't think up anything funnier than plaguing her about her rat showing through her pompadour. And Arthur was ambitious. He was learning all about those new-fangled automobiles, how they run with no horses attached. He'd tried to explain it to Addie, but she couldn't catch on.

But he was just a little too timid. She took a look in his eye, on occasion—as that night when the crowd sang "Put-trees Maiden"—that made her think he might—. Well, at the New Year dance it was customary to kiss one's partner at midnight, and after one kiss as a sample, he'd surely

Some chicky little words like "picnicking" and "nettes" thinned the ranks down to the two main contenders. Roscoe spanned his shoulders. A sharp glance hit his eye. Arthur became careful and guarded. Addie twirled her long watch chain on nervous fingers until the watch popped out of her belt. They were given some awful jaw-breakers, "intermittent", "homogeneous", "transcendentalism". Roscoe got "pompadour", and he grinned at Addie's hair insolently.

Then Miss Hibbard pronounced "chrysanthe'mum". To Arthur. Drat Miss Hibbard!

Suddenly she jumped. Roscoe was speaking, out of turn. "Chrysanthemum, if you don't mind, Miss Hibbard. Mum."

Everyone stared. Addie's face reddened. Roscoe folded his arms and smiled smugly. He didn't seem to realize that he'd committed the unforgivable rudeness of correcting his elders—and in public! Addie could almost feel the audience thanking for him. Tiny Miss Hibbard seemed to shrink behind her desk.

Addie looked at Arthur. A red flush was creeping up his face. He looked like something about to explode. What would Arthur do? What could he do?

He cleared his throat. "Chrysanthe'mum!" He flung it out. "C-h-r-y-s-a-n-t-h-e-m-u-m, sir, Mr. Meyers." He took his seat without waiting for Miss Hibbard's signal.

A grim silence held the hall.

"Chrysanchy-mums, Mr. Meyers," Miss Hibbard said tartly. Roscoe spelled the word. He made a sweeping bow to the thin applause of applause.

The meeting broke up. Addie noticed that everyone avoided Roscoe. They avoided Arthur, too, but perhaps only because he looked so downcast. She made her way to him.

"Thank you, Arthur," she said softly, "for wiping town thanks you. The whole town—loves you." And I do, too, she said with her eyes. It was forward, but Arthur needed encouragement.

Sportsman - Trapper Tells Of Life In Hudson Bay Area

C. A. Gorham Advises Go North If You Want To See Geese in Large Flocks

WINNIPEG. — Go north, men, if you are still anxious to see geese in numbers calculated to make you whistle . . . This is the advice of veteran sportsman-trapper C. A. Gorham, just returned from an coveted jaunt to the Fort Severn area of Hudson's Bay.

The Rainy River man paid a visit to the Ducks Unlimited here, for which organization he long acted as scout. A reliable observer of wildlife in western Canada for many years, Gorham had some interesting things to report on his northern trip.

During one 200-mile tour of the coastline of Hudson's Bay, east from Fort Severn, Gorham told of seeing "a solid belt of white geese constantly along the shorelines." Hunters in this vast wilderness are almost exclusively Indians, who still rely on "natives" for a goodly portion of their winter's food supply. Originally Wa Wa, the Goose is Indian legend, it has been corrupted to "white goose."

Gorham's party killed its legal limit of geese in individually easy fashion, but left most of the bag with various Indian families in the area. It seems unfortunate that important geese rate with the natives," said Gorham, adding but not in mysterious when you consider what few sources of food they have against winter demands.

He told of watching natives gathering fuel for their fires along a creek bank. The only source of wood for miles around, it consisted of thin lengths of willow, each about as thick as a man's thumb. One Indian told Gorham, "They (natives) have a very hard time finding fuel families in winter . . . No fish, no ducks, no wood and no rabbits . . . Only wood eight miles from Fort.

A side trip was taken to Big Trout Lake, we re members of the party found some fantastic lake trout fishing. Specimens in beautiful condition fought to take flies and other artificial lures. Largest went to 22 pounds and nothing smaller than seven. However, it wasn't the poundage, but the number of cripply-fleshed lakers which amazed the fishermen.

Lines were set in a few other smaller lakes close by and the same story took type of fishing was experienced. An approaching storm forced the elated angling party to "break it up and climb aboard the Stinson their winter's food supply. Originally aircraft for return journey.

A seasoned bushman and outdoorsman for most of his life, Gorham admitted that 'it gets brutally cold up around the Bay . . . Indians think it's mild it, but the only time I get warm was in my eiderdown sleeping bag."

Whatever the rigors of climate, he thinks the great sweep of Bay shoreline yet to be along the southern end of the Bay, is the finest g..ese concentration spot he's ever visited. There's simply just a lot of birds . . . So many that it frightens you the first time you see it."

Oddly, Gorham mentioned that a few of the Indians had asked him about Ducks Unlimited. Apparently one of wildlife conservation's most solidly established names is far from being unknown quantity, even in the New York City employs some 10,000 firemen.

Woodvale News

Sorry folks we have been so slow getting any news written. We better do some October reviewing.

That month brought what we all hoped for — lovely fall weather, which is still with us in early November. The large crop taken before got safely harvested around here, though it kept some farmers busy all of last week yet, but we think even the grounded is stacked now and quite a bit of fall work has been done. That has not happened in a couple of years. The best yields we heard of were of wheat, exceptional enough to be mentioned: the Goulter brothers had 30 acres that went 1500 bushels; and T. Preston approximately 12 acres going 600 bushels.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. A. Haines (nee Nan Metcalf) on their recent marriage. Friends and neighbors gave them a shower on Nov. 7th at Watson school where they received many lovely gifts and a good time was had by everyone. They live on the farm Andy purchased last year from Mr. Harry Portsmith.

Congratulations also go to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ahlgren on the birth of a baby daughter.

Bernard Portsmith arrived home from Japan where he served with the Canadian forces the past few years and now is enjoying a two months leave, staying with his parents in their new home near the Tolland store. It sure is nice to have him back for a while, as he has many interesting stories to tell and souvenirs to show. He made a trip from Japan to Vancouver by ship.

Brooks and Peggy Lyness moved to the home farm from where Brooks drives the children to school in his new yellow light delivery truck. He accompanied by his mother and Harry Sweeney spent the week end of November 1st in Edmonton, visiting Lyo and Margaret in the hospital.

Other visitors to Edmonton recently were Mrs. T. Preston, who spent a week with her daughter, Mrs. B. Warring there and is paying a visit now to her daughter, Mrs. Eileen Young in Vermilion, Mr. and Mrs. Van Wagenigen who stayed a few days in the city; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Pierman lookin up friends and relatives there.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Watt and girls planned a visit to Mrs. Watt's sister in High Prairie for last week end, staying over until the 11th.

Mavis Gourlay and her friend Edith Dion made a surprise visit to her parents' home when they got an unexpected car ride from Fort Kent to Vermilion.

Doris Thomsen has come home to do the housekeeping for her father and brother, now Hazel is working in the college.

Pringle Gardens was unfortunate enough to have his horse fall on him and break his leg near his knee. He is now in the Vermilion hospital.

Jimmy Ross got a real scare when his truck, hauling some of his grain, and in which he was a passenger, veered off the road near Cartwright's after hitting a soft spot. Luckily, no damage was done and after being hauled on the road again by a tractor the truck could proceed to Borradaile.

Jim Proudfoot, a former Woodvale school teacher, paid a surprise visit two weeks ago to the writer's home. He lived in New Glasgow for the past two years after graduating as a civil engineer from the U of A, but is back in Chinook, Alberta now to take over his father's farm. He was accompanied by his wife, little daughter Bonnie and baby son Lorne. They hope to come back in another year and see some more of Jim's friends in the district.

The Rev. F. Heuer of the British and Foreign Bible Society showed some colourful travel films at the Canton school. It was too bad, that due to harvest work, not more people were able to see these movies. He was at the same time canvassing for contributions to the Society. Mrs. Florence McQuid kindly consented to collect in the district and so, if you would like to contribute here your money with her or at the store.

The Red Cross meeting and quilting bee at the home of Mrs. C. Wolters was very well attended with 12 ladies working hard and finishing a large quilt shortly after 3:30 o'clock. They really enjoyed a pot luck dinner served by the hostess and her two young daughters. Mrs. F. Kotzmeier was a welcome visitor and everyone was glad to have Mrs. Sadie Oldenburg and Mrs. Edna Oldenburg over again with them. Rather a lot of business was brought up and among other things it was decided to send a CARE parcel to Korea and to contribute to the TB fund. Also to ask Miss Shirley Helms, district home economist to come to our January meeting. The December meeting will be the annual one to be held at the home of Mrs. Betty Lyssons on Dec. 3rd and for once we will not quilt. It will be a social afternoon, with the opportunity to exchange magazines, books, recipes and to go over all the nice pieces donated by the T. Eaton Co. for bazaar articles.

Mr. A. W. McGridrie and Mr. Bateman organized a St. John's Ambulance course at Union school on Nov. 4th. Though there were not enough people there that night it was hoped that more will hear of it and come to follow this very worthwhile course in first aid. The classes began Nov. 11th at 8:30 o'clock and will be conducted by Mr. Bateman for the next 6 weeks or more. Anyone reading this who would still like to join will be very welcome. It is not only useful to know first aid, but it is fun to learn and practise together on your partners.

Clandonald News

By Shirley Holms, Wainwright, Alberta

Most farmers have taken advantage of the fine fall weather to do a considerable amount of work in the fields in the hopes of starting a crop of weeds next spring. A lot of activity is noticed around various building projects by those who are anxious to get everything in shape before the arrival of snow and colder weather.

Well-known Farm Home Moved To Dewberry

The house formerly owned by Cliff Stockwell and sold during the summer to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wilson of Dewberry was moved recently by the Mis Movers of Vermilion This house was quite a landmark having been originally built by Mr. Ben King about 42 years ago Situated very close to what was then the main road from the north country to Vermilion, nearly everyone' for many miles around called or passed that way at one time or another. Moving the building was quite an undertaking but was soon accomplished under the experienced direction of Mr. Bill Ellis. When loaded on the moving trucks the structure took a little more than the width of the road in many places and consideration time her had to be felled on the route north which was taken. Very careful driving was required along some of the cutbanks. As the writer has never personally seen the moving pass that it arrived safely at its destination in the village of Dewberry.

News Notes From Your District Home Economist

Planning Your Shoes' Wardrobe

A good plan: 6 sheets for each bed; 3 cases for each pillow.

Your skin wrinkles, 6 sheets 50, each bed; 2 cases for each pillow.

Your best and most efficient plan should allow for convenient rotation which lengthens the wear life of your sheets.

Replacements: When housekeepers buy a pair of sheets and a pair of cases every year for each bed, it's easier on the budget than waiting until your whole sheet supply gets low.

Sizes For economy, comfort and wear buy sheets of ample length, and width. Remember, sheet sizes run sizes before hemming and that all sheets shrink some after small. With war orders the period first washing. Standard Finished Size 81x108in. Three-quarter bed 81x108in. Double-bed 90x108in. Better size for bed with innerspring mattresses would be 113 inches in length instead of 108.

How to Make Sheets Last Longer

1. Rotate sheets by placing fresh supply from laundry at bottom of pile in linen closet.

2. Equalize wear by reversing the sheets every second time. Switch bottom hem to top of bed.

3. Reinforce edges of sheets before stripping bed. Cut worn ends sheets off.

4. Before putting them away leave sheets and cases in open fresh air all dampness is out and mildew is avoided.

Growth in Industry

FOR SOME TIME PAST there has been widespread interest in the expansion of industry in Western Canada. Most noticable progress has, of course, taken place in Alberta, as a result of the discovery of rich oil resources in that province. However, there is evidence also in Saskatchewan, Manitoba and British Columbia of industrial development in areas which were at one time predominately agricultural, or in the case of British Columbia, dependent mainly on forestry. Manitoba, where farming was once the leading industry, in 1950 derived $475,000,000 from manufacturing, while its income from agriculture in that year was $240,000,000. Its great areas of forests, rich base-metal resources and reserves of water power are attracting industries and making manufacturing an increasingly important activity in that province.

* * * *

Agriculture is Still Leading

Saskatchewan continues to be Canada's greatest wheat growing province and income from industry there falls behind the financial returns from the products of the farm lands. In 1950 income from Saskatchewan agricultural products was $345,000,000, small industry there yielded $216,000,000 in that year. However, there is great activity in that province in the development of uranium mines and there are also rich mineral deposits in the north where zinc and copper are now being produced. In Alberta, in spite of the great industrial expansion, agriculture is still the leading source of income. In 1950, agricultural products there were valued at $444,000,000 while manufacturing brought $372,000,000 to the people of that province. It is interesting to know that Alberta produces forty per cent. of Canada's total supply of coal.

* * * *

Still Looking To The West

In contrast to Saskatchewan and Alberta, manufacturing is by far the greatest source of income in British Columbia. There, returns from manufacturing in 1950 were $959,000,000 while the income from forestry, always that province's foremost primary industry, yielded $400,000,000. With its rich resources of minerals and timber, British Columbia is a prosperous province, providing its people with the highest per capita income of any part of Canada. These figures show that the West, while still a great agricultural country, is also expanding industrially. Canadian business men, as well as those in other countries, now look for a continuation of this expansion and as people fifty years ago went there to cultivate the land, others are now turning to it for wider opportunities in the industrial development which is taking place.

Every Care Should Be Taken To Preserve Whooping Crane

Estimate of Only 31 Now in Existence—Officials Fear The Birds Are Rapidly Approaching Stage of Extinction

REGINA. — The whooping crane, one of the most majestic birds in North America, is rapidly approaching the stage of extinction. This sad state of affairs has arisen through mankind's failure to recognise and observe the simple fundamentals of conservation.

Even though great efforts are being put forth to save the whooping crane from total destruction, the fight is shaping into a losing battle. One by one they are disappearing.

A whooping crane survey was made in 1945, and it was estimated there were then 27 in existence. The survey was well publicised and as a result interested persons who were on the alert sighted an additional eight birds, to swell the total to 35. Since that time the number has slowly been diminishing.

Earlier, at the beginning of the 20th century, the birds were comparatively plentiful, and hunters thought it a feat to shoot them. It wasn't so much for the food value, but because they were difficult to hunt.

At one time, 18 whoopers made their winter home in Louisiana. Unfortunately a torrential rainstorm drove them into the interior where with the exception of one, all were killed. Naturalists captured the remaining one and it was taken to a refuge.

Now it is estimated there are 31 in existence. Twenty-seven are in their wild state, and four are held in captivity at the Aransas, Texas, refuge. These four birds were captured after being wounded, and none are able to fly. They have mated, have passed the mating age, and the other is the recent arrival from Saskatchewan.

According to provincial museum director, Fred Bard, Saskatchewan has truly been the summer home of the whooping crane. However, during the past few years what is left of the crane population has been forced to move northward. He stated that to enable them to get away from civilization, these birds have been pushed as far north as the Northwest Territories which exposes them to additional hazards. It was only last summer that a United States Fish and Wildlife Service pilot, Bob Smith, spotted what he believed to be whooping grounds of the whooping crane, near Great Slave Lake.

The near extinct cranes arrive annually in Southern Saskatchewan, on their migration southward. Mr. Bard said the birds usually visit the southern part of the province from the middle of April to the middle of May.

Mr. Bard, in talking about the whooper found in the Griffin area of Saskatchewan recently, was disappointed because it was not located and given medical attention sooner. Had it been, it would have been given oil extensive physical exhaustion which might have endangered the birds life.

The wounded whooper, named Victoria Regina "Queenie" by Mr. Bard, has now completed its 2,000 mile journey to Texas. It was delivered to its destination by a United States Fish and Wildlife Service aircraft, and was under the care of R.C. Hanson of Winona, Minnesota, and Ralph Blasek of Abernathy.

Mr. Hanson, a former U.S. Navy pilot, is a game agent-pilot for the service, while Mr. Blasek is a retired farmer and an amateur naturalist.

When Mr. Stueck heard of the wounded whooping crane he drove to Regina to see Mr. Bard and remarked that he would give $1,000 to save the life of the bird. His chance came when Mr. Bard arranged for him to travel to Texas with the bird.

Exhibits of whooping cranes in museums are becoming very valuable. In fact so valuable that expert taxidermists are being employed to remount them. The Saskatchewan provincial museum has three on display which were confiscated from hunters.

One originally came from the Forget area, another is from the Estevan district and the third came from an unknown point in the province.

The provincial museum also has two eggs on exhibit, which are actually in one sense more valuable than exhibits in the field. The eggs measure approximately 3½ inches in length and 2¼ inches in width. There are a total of 40 on exhibit in North American museums.

It would be a dream come true for Mr. Bard, if a program would soon be organized for the capture of the remaining whooping cranes at large. If this was done, he said, there would be a mathematical chance of saving them from complete extermination, by confining them to the Aransas refuge. The hazards of migration are so great that it is just a matter of time, Mr. Bard said, until we have passed the point of no return.

Alaska derived its name from an Eskimo word meaning roughly "Great Lands".

Nurses' Aide Salaries Are Revised

BASIC NOW $125.00 MONTH

Revision of the basic salary for Certified Nursing Aides in the Province of Alberta was announced recently by the Department of Public Health.

Certified Nursing Aides working in hospitals or on an 8-hour day will now start at $133 gross, including any cost-of-living bonus. Increases will be effective in stages of $3 on Jan. 1 and July 1 of each year, until the ultimate figure is reached.

Basic requirements for certification. These increases will be effective providing at least 50 per cent of the six-month period has been worked. Deductions for medical hospitalization and other expenses will be made in line with the hospital policies concerning nurses.

For Certified Nursing Aides on private duty, the 8-hour daily rate is now $9.50 plus meals while on duty. Overtime pay will be 75c per hour. For two patients, 50c extra per day will be charged and for three or more patients $1 extra per day. In private duty, four hours or less will be counted as a half day and one-half to one day will be counted as a full day.

Nursing Aides in Alberta are trained at the School for Nursing Aides in Calgary and certified under the Nurses' Aide Act. They may assist in giving bed side nursing in general hospitals, sanitoriums, in work with children or in private duty. They should not be confused with practical nurses, nurses aides or ward aides. Nursing Aides can be recognized by their distinctive uniforms a grey smock with short sleeves, white bib style apron with gored skirt, white shoes and stockings, a grey cap with white band and a sterling pin with "Nursing Aide" in red letters on a white shield above and below the Alberta Coat of Arms in color.

Gala Time at Crippled Children's Hospital

Thanksgiving morning was a gala time at the Alberta Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital when members of the Edmonton Eskimo football team called on the small patients in a pre-game visit.

Frankie Filchock, Rollie Miles, Steve Mendyk, Claude Arnold and Vic Mason toured the wards autographed books and casts and played with the children.

All always when personalities visit the hospital, the whole swaying the team were agog with excitement. Up-patients reported the progress of the visitors down the ward, reporting to their pals who were bed-bound. And a troup of up-patients followed right along with the players.

All rabid sports fans, the children listen to the games and with patients as far north as Slave Lake in the building, the Eskimos found plenty of supporters all over the hospital.

At present there are 136 patients, more than 80 of which are polio victims. It is expected before the current polio epidemic the hospital will be at full capacity of 138 beds within the next few weeks.

Rise in Importance Of Woman is Reflected in Jewellery

Famous Lovelies of History Shed Priceless Aura Now Worn By Every Woman

The Queen of Sheba sported enough jewelry to win a medal as a woman weight-lifter. Cleopatra probably looked as if she was wearing a bathroom chandelier when she first made Antony her Marc.

But the average woman in the ardent world She was lucky if her eyes glittered. She came about as close to owning jewelry as she did to such decadent luxuries as a daily wash.

Only the wealthy could afford the jeweller's art back in the days when the Roman nose ruled a world of weak hearts. The early craftsmen "running workmen" in the Biblical phrase, spent their lives hammering out silver ornaments for the rich. The court jewellers of Pharaoh Egypt even decked out the mummies of their masters in necklaces. The ancient Assyrians made earrings a badge of wealth as early as 2500 B.C. Civilization has since progressed to the mink coat, which is a little hard to figure as a step upward.

But it was much the same in the Middle Ages. Queen Isabella of Spain had plenty of pleasure-treasure — she raised the cash to finance C. Columbus on his westward look-see by pawning jewels.

In Edmonton for the wedding of Miss Sheila Reid on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Rowe.

Reg Spencer of Barrhead was a visitor here for a few days over the week-end, as guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Watts.

First dance of the season will be held at Woodvale school on Friday, Nov. 21st.

The average goodwife of the days was hardly to be a greater nag to hold the beverage she swept in, after blowing the froth off.

It was the goodwife who ordered the world's first self-winding watch, for one of her court favorites. Peter Henlein, the Nuremberg watch pioneer, Abram-Louis Breguet, the golden-fingered artist 300, 000 francs, but there is no record of the huge bill ever being paid.

Even throughout the early modern era, women were so dependent on men that, in actual fact, they almost always had to be a man to find out the time of day. The 18th century saw pocket watches and clocks into common use for men. But comparatively few women carried the time on their wrists in fact, right up to World War 2 most women's watches were bought for them by men.

The woman's world changes her own as it swings and men's as it swings as well as looks pretty a fact indicated by the overwhelming popularity of jewelled-lever Swiss watches. Many business and professional women are beginning to use self-winding watches. It's enough to make the hair on Marie Antoinette's powdered wig stand on end.

The time is fast coming when the hand that jerks the cradle will be automatically winding up its wrist watch at the same time!

New Seats At The Columbia Theatre

ADD MUCH TO COMFORT, PLEASURE OF PATRONS

The management of the Columbia theatre have installed 315 new deluxe Haywood-Wakefield fabrikoid seats in the theatre and these will shortly be followed by 135 more which means that the popular picture house will have complete seating of these new arm chairs.

The chairs are of the very latest design, brand new and cost in round figures $27 each on the floor. They have upholstered fabrikoid seats with velour backs. The seat comes up when a person rises. There is absolutely no place on them that would snag a ladies nylons and they are just as comfortable to sit in on your own favorite chesterfield chair at home.

With the installation of the new chairs the management adopted a new seating arrangement and more wide aisle down the centre. As the change in the chairs means an investment when completed of something more than $12,000, all patrons are reminded that it is for their comfort and pleasure and they should treat the new furniture with the care it deserves.

Rally Day is Held At Kitscoty

KITSCOTY.—A Rally Day service was held in the United church, Kitscoty, on the morning of Nov. 9th with a large number of parents and friends present. Before each class mentioned its part in the program the teacher of that class introduced its members to the congregation. A choir of 24 girls from the Jr., Intermediate and Sr. classes rendered two beautiful anthems, 'Sailing, Sailing, Daily Building' and 'My Church'. The offering from this service is given to the Missionary and Maintenance Fund, to be used in church extension. As the United church here is in the process itself of church extension, the theme 'Let us now prepare to build' was a fitting text for this year's program.

The flowers that decorated the altar at morning service were presented to the Rev. Mr. Vogel at the evening service as a token of appreciation for his untiring efforts for the building of the new foundation for the church.

The regular November meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. J. Smith the evening of November 4th with a large number of visitors and members present. A vote of thanks was unanimously passed to all those who in any way helped Mr. MacDrew in making the chicken supper and program on the 25th a success. Arrangements were also made for the tea and bazaar to be held in the Percy Memorial hall Nov. 28 from 3 to 5:30 p.m.

A very man shall receive his own reward according to his labor." Let us labourers together with God." — 1 Cor. 3:8.

On the beautifully colored pictures of "Life in a Leper Colony" to be shown on Nov. 16 at the Kitscoty high school gymnasium, commencing at 8:00 p.m.

ISLAY NEWS

My, what a busy week the last one was! The annual chicken supper on the 4th was exceptionally well attended, $363 realized. The W.A. are very grateful to all who helped, so many are so willing and just step in and fill the gaps without having to be asked — and not forgetting those who give the food so generously, also to the men who put up and take down the tables and many other odd jobs.

On Wednesday evening Mrs Billie Hannon opened her home for a shower in honor of a bride-elect, Miss Olga Sheilds. Fifteen members took place on Nov. 12th. The Vermilion Agricultural Society is rapidly taking the lead among organizations of similar kind throughout Western Canada and has been promoting, in addition to the annual exhibition, events such as the purebred livestock sale, an annual seed fair, plowing matches etc. Brees has been laid in the past year or two upon the Junior fair for the benefit of the younger generation.

Purebred Livestock Sale Proves An Outstanding Success

WIDE AREA SERVED

The annual purebred livestock sale conducted by the Vermilion Agricultural society on Nov. 14th proved to be most successful. A record number of cattle and hogs were sold, and demand for the animals offered appeared to be keener than ever before. In all, 31 Hereford, 6 Aberdeen Angus and 14 Shorthorn cattle were sold, as well as 30 head of registered hogs. Hall of Edmonton was auctioneer.

Generally speaking, a high quality of animal was entered in this sale, and there would appear to be considerable demand for good stock as high prices were received. The record crowd in attendance showed that considerable interest is taken by farmers in purebred stock.

One feature of the sale is the large area which it covers. This year, animals were entered from as far east as Maidstone, Sask., west to Vegreville, while buyers came from Cold Lake south to Czar, from Edmonton on the west to Lloydminster on the east.

Farmers Endorse Toad Flax Program

Meeting recently in McLaughlin, farmers who have been co-operating with the Vermilion River M.D.'s Agricultural Board in its control program to eradicate Toad Flax requested that the program be continued in 1953, and that the same financial assistance be made available to them. It was also requested that the Special Toad Flax Area include the townships in the immediate north and west of the present boundary.

The program was inaugurated in 1951 by the M.D. with the co-operation of the Department of Agriculture and the Municipal council, which has been doing practically every farm in the 6 townships was inspected with the purpose in mind. Under the present provision chemical is available to the farmers at the reduced price of $5 per keg, with a maximum of 3, 12-lb kegs per quarter section. Where the infestation requires more than this a chemical, cultural methods are used. Farmers sign contracts with the Council to cultivate land 12 to 15 times during the season. They also receive financial assistance of $5 per acre, not exceeding $150 on any one quarter, supervisor Ernest Sharek, weed inspector in the Toad Flax area keeps a close check on land under summerfallow and cultivation.

Discussing the 1952 program, E. H. Buckingham, District Agriculturist, stated that despite a very wet season, which had hampered land work the majority of the land under contract had been well worked and he expressed the hope that something more than temporary control had been achieved. Warning the farmers of the susceptibility of the soil to erosion following the intensive cultivation necessary to combat toad flax Mr. Buckingham mentioned strip farming, shelter belts and cultivation at right angles to the prevailing wind.

A. Hoanek, Municipal Field Supervisor stated that patches of toad flax on the road allowances through out the Toad Flax Area had been treated with sodium chlorate this year, 35 miles were used. He expressed the hope that in 1953 more of these patches would be treated.

D. G. Lawrence, Chairman of the A.S.B. assured the co-operators that the Council and the A.S.B. had their interests at heart and were always willing to assist in every possible way. H. Haan, former member of the A.S.B. thanked those responsible for the interest taken during the last year.

FIRST TIME IN CANADA

Relics 3000 Years Old Are Displayed In Vermilion

Recently a parcel containing articles up to 3000 years old were received in Vermilion by Rev. C.W. MacKay, minister of the United church.

The relics are the genuine articles found during the excavation of the ancient city of 'Mizpah' as spoken of in the Bible (e.g. 2 Kings 25:23), situated 7 miles from Jerusalem on the road to Damascus.

Among the articles are to be found a number of lamps as used in Bible times, and similar to the ones spoken of in the parable of "The Wise and Foolish Maidens" (Revised Standard Version), also an oil juglet as referred to in this parable.

A sling-stone as used by David to kill Goliath is to be found in the display along with the replica of a sling shot.

As evidence that women's vanity goes back many thousands of years, is a cosmetic mortar of carved marble, and a bronze cosmetic spatula used for the application of eye paint. Another set of rings, beads, bracelet and anklet further prove the feminine love of fine things that has been handed down through the generations.

A pottery piece bearing the inscription "King Herod Agrippa" and "Alexandra Jannaeus", in Hebrew, date the coins to the year 4 BC and 178 BC.

Many other relics are to be found in the collection Jabels and relevant Bible texts accompany the exhibit.

Also received were visual aids from the buried city" These slides all in color, show the process of excavation, surrounding country, and many other exhibits too large to be included in the mailed exhibit.

The people of Vermilion and district feel greatly privileged to be the first in Canada to enjoy the message given by the men of the ancient world. These are here for only a short period of time and any who are interested, are advised to see them when opportunity presents itself.

The purpose of this service is to help the people to "come to life" with new meaning for children, young people and adults of today. They have been made available through personal contact with the Palestine Institute in Berkeley, Calif., who were responsible for the excavation of the city of 'Mizpah'.

Appreciative audiences have witnessed the message of these relics of the ancient world at Vermilion, Islay, Marwayne, Clandonald, Elk Point, Manville and Kitscoty.

Garage Mechanics Asking Opinion Of Public

DESIRE SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAYS IN PLACE OF WEDNESDAY

The garage mechanics of Vermilion wish to follow the practice set in several other Alberta towns by observing the regular weekly half holiday on Saturday afternoons instead of on Wednesday as now. They claim that the Saturday afternoon closing along with Sunday gives them a much better break in the week's work than the short mid-week half holiday. They also claim that more work could be done in the garage if there was just the one break and then, instead of two breaks in the week as at present, Wednesday and Sunday.

The mechanics wish to avoid inconveniencing anyone and are asking the farming population to express their opinion on this matter. On an inside page they place the issue squarely up to the rural public. The case is stated quite fairly, and a coupon is attached to the advertisement, asking everyone to fill it out and send it in as directed. Service stations will remain open on Wednesday would be carried out on Saturday afternoon and evening, so that no one would be short of gas, oil or emergency service.

Pharis, Supervisor of Crop Improvement, outlined a program of demonstrations featuring legumes, seed production, pasture improvement balanced farming, the use of fertilizers and the seeding of legumes with cereal crops. General D.A.'s stated that farmers desirous of having seeding alfalfa in pastures due to losses caused by the 'sloughing' of cattle and in this regard pasture management was extremely important. Other D.A.'s requested figures showing production of beef, mutton and milk on unpressed pasture in order that they might further the phase of crop improvement in their respective districts.

Turning to soil conservation, the problem of handling heavy stubble without burning it was discussed, as was the use of field shelter belts. P. D. McCalla, Supervisor of Horticulture, stated that a good supply of trees will be available in 1953. Problems relating to weed control, shelterbelts were dealt with by C. with G. R. Sterling, Supervisor of Weed Control.

Dr. Gilray, Alberta's Agricultural Pest Control expert, reported on work being done by his branch. Coyotes have received a large amount of attention. 1080 strychnine were made available to local pest control officers in 36 M.D.'s. In the war on rats the Crop Protection relief stated that N. L. Poulin of Winnipeg has been exterminating and re-covering 600 farmsteads. 95% of which were rat infested, between Provost and Empress, inside the Alberta border. Well pleased with the result of this work Mr. Lobay stated that there was still "a way of hope" that the rats may be checked in their westward advance, but he cautioned "It will require constant vigilance". Alberta farmers planning new buildings would be well to incorporate rat-proofing in their plans.

Mr. & Mrs. Farmer

WE WANT YOUR OPINION ON THE FOLLOWING QUESTION:

The garage mechanics and garage employees in the Town of Vermilion are between forty or half hour each week. This is on Wednesday afternoon. They now desire to change this to Saturday afternoon. Before taking definite action towards this end, they wish to make sure that by so doing they will not be causing any inconvenience or hardship to anyone.

So working on weekends week — from Monday morning to Saturday noon — a more satisfactory mechanical service would be given with greater output of work.

WHAT IS YOUR OPINION, MR. AND MRS. FARMER? As long as you can get your car and oil, would a Saturday half holiday inconvenience you in any way? Emergency mechanical service would, of course, be available.

YOU WILL HELP US GREATLY BY FILLING OUT THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONAIRE. MARK YOUR OPINION WITH AN "X"

ALBERTA WHEAT POOL

- Information -

The Alberta Wheat Pool's assets include 485 country elevators with 410 annexes in this province and also in the Cessina and Dawson Creek localities in British Columbia, the total capacity being 33,844,850 bushels. The Pool also owns a 3,150,000 bushel terminal at Vancouver and a 2,000,000 bushel terminal at Fort Arthur. The grand total capacity of the entire system is 40,994,850 bushels.

Since its inception Alberta Wheat Pool has made the following payments:

Patronage dividends in cash	$ 5,099,683
Interest on reserves paid prior to 1929	631,253
Repayment of debt to government	8,855,629
Redemption of reserves	6,980,189
Total	$21,566,754
Patronage dividend paid in reserves	5,983,644

The ownership of the Alberta Wheat Pool and Pool Elevators rests with farmer reserve holders. The farmer can become a member of the Alberta Wheat Pool by delivering 500 bushels of grain to a Pool elevator and purchasing reserves to the value of $5.00.

The Pool policy provides for the payment of patronage dividends, partly in cash and partly in reserves, in years when earnings are sufficient to justify such action. Members can increase their reserve holdings by patronizing Alberta Pool Elevators.

This substantial Pool elevator system is a valuable property. It is operated for the benefit of the membership.

The Wheat Pool's objective is to keep handling charges as low as possible and return excessive earnings in the form of patronage dividends; also to redeem reserves from members who have ceased to farm.

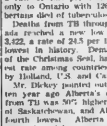
The P.W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Parke Dobson on Nov. 14 for their regular meeting. Mrs. G. Verner, the president, was in the chair and called the meeting to order. Mrs. F. Bevierel read the scripture and Mrs. Dobson presided at the piano. Mrs. E. Knor, secretary, read the minutes and Mrs. D. Odegard the treasurer's report. The financial report from the chicken supper was most gratifying. The co-operation and help of so many workers made this a most successful event. Good to see so many people from far away come back to the old home town for the day. A must chicken supper.

It was voted to make a donation to the church board, also to the 3 girls clubs. The next meeting will be held on Dec. 8th. This will be the Christmas meeting and the business will be followed by a social time and exchange of Xmas gifts. All ladies in town or country who are interested in this work are invited to remain and bring a gift.

T.B. DEATHS ARE DROPPING

ALBERTA RATE SECOND LOWEST IN CANADA



Alberta's tuberculosis death rate is now second lowest in Canada, it was announced by C. H. Dickey, general secretary of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association. The figures for 1951 just published show Alberta to have a rate of 15.5 per 100,000, second only to Ontario with 12.6 and 14.2 Bertans died of tuberculosis in 1951.

Deaths from TB throughout Canada reached a new low record of 3,222, a rate of 24.5 per 100,000, the lowest in history. Dr. Dickey, director of the Christmas Seal, has the lowest rate among countries, followed by Holland, U.S. and Canada.

Mr. Dickey pointed out that only ten year ago Alberta's death rate from TB was 50% higher than that of Saskatchewan, and Alberta was fourth lowest. Alberta gradually overtook and last year passed Saskatchewan, which has now dropped to fourth position, with P.E.I. having third lowest death rate.

Incidence of tuberculosis still, however, remains high. Mr Dickey commented. 18,000 TB patients are now under treatment in Canadian Sanatoria, compared with 12,000 ten years ago, and said that it is obvious that we must intensify our campaign for prevention through early diagnosis. One of the best means yet discovered for finding unsuspected cases is the routine chest X-ray at hospital admission. We hope that the 1953 Christmas Seal sale will supply us with enough money to carry on with additional hospital X-ray installations. Mr Dickey said. The 1952 TB Christmas Seal sale opened on Nov. 17th

Clandonald News

The entire community was saddened when word was received of the sudden passing of Mr. Jim Smith on Monday morning at the Vermilion Hospital. Mr Smith had been in poor health for some time but on Sunday afternoon seemed unusually bright. Deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Smith and the family in the loss of a kind husband and father.

Death Wm. Moberly, Edmonton

Word was received lately of the death of Wm. Moberly in Edmonton following a long illness. Mr. Moberly was one of the first grain buyers in Clandonald, operating the U.G.G. elevator for several years after the coming of the railroad. Of a kindly disposition Mr. Moberly was always ready to give a helping hand to anyone in need and was keenly interested in community affair., particularly those in connection with farm organizations. Being very well he dearly loved an argument and seldom if ever came off second best in such debates. Following his retirement from the elevator he farmed for a short while in the Rusylvia district but was forced to give that up due to his ill health.

Martin McCormack Nuptials

On Tuesday Nov. 11th at the Catholic manse church in Clandonald Miss Eileen McCormack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis McCormack of Rusylvia became the bride of Mr. James Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Martin of the Moreton district. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride where the relatives of both families were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. McCormack and family. In the evening the McCormack's were again hosts to a huge crowd which gathered in the Columbus hall at the dance held in honor of the newlyweds. Later in the evening the happy couple left for a honeymoon trip to Prince George where several members of the groom's family reside. On their return they plan to take up residence in the Moreton district.

Buying Too Much On Credit?

There has been a huge increase in retail sales on credit. Where does it all lead? Asks Hon. Ernest Col Post "Is trouble" Probably it's some but for the economy as a whole there are a couple of considerations which make the outlook much less ominous than may have been feering.

Canadians generally are still in a relatively good liquid asset position despite their buying on credit. Savings deposits, for example are up 8% over last year. Other personal savings, like life insurance, are up too.

We believe that when the figures are available it will be shown that the total amount of money available for spending has grown even more than the gain in savings life insurance, etc.

On the whole it seems that today's higher retail sales are riding on larger incomes more than on dreams for tomorrow. Some individuals with their credit buying are doubtless digging fits into which they will some day fall. Perhaps the same applies to some retailers. But over all, today's credit sales volume need not be regarded as alarming

JOSEPH AIREY

Residents of Kitscoty and Eatie districts mourn the passing of one of their beloved old timers in the passing of Joseph Airey, who died in the Lloydminster hospital, Oct 22nd, after a short illness.

Mr. Airey was born in the village of Silkwyth, Cumberland County, England, on August 4, 1846, and came to Canada in 1908, working at Sinclair and Whitewood, Sask., until 1911 when he homesteaded in the Eatie district, south of Kitscoty, with his brother Wm. Airey, where he had resided since.

Mr. Airey was especially interested in young people and was always present at track meets, school festivals, picnics and concerts ready to lend a helping hand and an encouraging word.

Aided by his brother's Bill, he yearly planted a garden that was a showplace of prize-winning vegetables and flowers, which he freely distributed among his friends and neighbors. His kindness and generosity will long be remembered.

He leaves to mourn their loss two brothers William of Eatie district; Christopher and three sisters of England, also one nephew Ted Airey and wife Bea of Vancouver, B.C., also a wide circle of friends and neighbors.

The funeral service was held in the Kitscoty town hall on Saturday October 25th with Rev. Roy Brown, F.S.A. (dcon) of Presbyterian church, Lloydminster, officiating. The hymns sung were Twenty-Third Psalm, The Lord Is My Shepherd and Abide With Me. Rev. Brown paid fitting tribute to Mr. Airey, mentioning his kindliness as a neighbor and his love for his fellowmen.

The pall bearers were all old friends and neighbors, Messrs. Paul Dawn, Robert Grevelees, Cyriel Moore, Lorne Davidson, C. Cooper and R. S. Pinkett.

The many floral and memorial tributes denoted the high esteem in which Mr. Airey was held.

There were about 75 cattle on sale for sale today and they cleaned up at steady prices. The only cattle that would be quoted lower are steers weighing from 1300 lbs. up, this class selling about $2.00 lower from last week due to the Government lowering the top price from $3.85 to 21.85. We do not anticipate any change this coming week and would advise you to contact the Lloydminster Union Stockyards if you have any cattle for sale.

Christmas Seals were first sold to fight tuberculosis in Denmark in 1904, last year 39 countries held Christmas Seal sales as a means of raising money to help prevent tuberculosis. tf

MISS JEANNE REID MARRIED IN EDMONTON

Christ Church was the setting for an attractive wedding one morning recently when Miss Jeanne Mavis Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Reid, of Mary Valley, became the bride of Mr. William Aubrey Cooke, son of Mr. W. Cooke and the late Mrs. Cooke of Vanscoy, Sask.

Rev. E. S. Otley performed the double-ring ceremony amid bouquets of bronze and white chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a powder blue Chantilly lace cocktail-length dress over satin. It was styled with a Chinese neckline, lily-point sleeves and nylon net insert in the skirt. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a Juliet cap. She wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom, and carried a white Bible with white gardenias set in red roses and white ribbons.

Miss Olga Drees was maid of honor and Miss Verna Cooke, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. They wore navy blue nylon net cocktail-length dresses with three-tiered capes. They wore headbands with rosettes and carried nosegays of chrysanthemums, carnations and roses.

Mr. Lyle Cooke was best man and ushering the guests were Mr. Robert Reid, brother of the bride, and Mr. Douglas Harrington.

Miss Mary Berts sang the "Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love".

Lunch, at a reception for 100 guests, the mother of the bride received wearing a rosewood crepe dress with lace inserts. Her hat was a black velvet model and she wore a corsage of Talisman roses and white carnations.

Mrs. C. Coombes and Mrs. T. Sutherland poured tea at a table covered with a triple-layered wedding cake, bronze and white chrysanthemums and candles. Mr. T. Watts of Vermilion proposed a toast to the bride.

For a honeymoon at Great Falls, Mont., the bride changed to a winter white suit with a gold hat and matching accessories. She donned a black topcoat with a corsage of gardenias and roses.

The newlyweds will make their home in Calgary.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. H. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. L. Amos, Mr. and Mrs. K. Rowe, Miss G. Burry, Mr. and Mrs. T. Watts, Miss Helen Adam and Mrs. A. Paradise Valley

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Nickle had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. C. Conrad of Dariwell, Alta., during the past week end.

Mrs E. S. Siddoe of White Rock, B.C. is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Teasdale for a few weeks.

On Saturday afternoon the many friends of Miss Fanny Bradwell met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Raven to 'shower' Fanny who will be a bride-elect of early November. The presents were many and beautiful and Mr. J. Hawkes made the presentation speech to which Fanny very aptly replied and thanked one and all. Food also had to take a bow.

We regret to hear that Mr. John McAmmond is still confined to hospital in Lloydminster; also Mr. John Holgate at the Royal Alex hospital at Edmonton. Both of these elderly gentlemen are not responding to treatment as quickly as their friends would like.

First Aid Classes.

St. John Ambulance First Aid classes have been started in Paradise Valley as part of the civil defence work being done within the municipality. The first class was conducted by Mr. A. McGladrie of Kitscoty assisted by Mr. Lawrence Venasve who is now the regular instructor. Classes will be held each Tuesday night at 8:00 p.m. in the school.

Considerable interest has been indicated by the good attendance of both men and women. Successful candidates will be issued St. John Ambulance certificates.

Evergreen Home & School

The reorganization meeting of the Paradise Valley Home and School association was held in the school on Thursday evening Nov. 13th. The following officers were elected for the year: President:—Stanton Murray; Vice-Pres.—Parke Dobson; Secretary—Eva Redmond; Treasurer C. A. Richardson. A discussion period followed and business matters were taken care of. Mrs. Jean Adams was chosen as the social convener and Miss Thelma Flint as the Health convener. It was decided that the H & S Assoc. should assist the Health unit by appointing one member each month to assist with the book-keeping when the clinic is held. Health is to be the theme of the next meeting which will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 10th. An invitation has been extended to Dr. Smith to attend this meeting. The question of our association sponsoring the Scout and Cub movement was tabled for discussion at the next meeting. It is hoped that we will have a really good attendance at our meetings. We feel the association can be very effective if it has the wholehearted support of the parents and teachers of the community.

Special Church Meeting

A special meeting was held in the United church on Thursday evening with Rev. C. K. Vogel of Kitscoty and the United Church minister from Wainwright present. Rev. USE OF FERTILIZERS
Some astonishing results have been achieved on Ostafin farms by the use of much more fertilizer per acre than has usually been considered necessary. Increased fertilizer brought increased net profits. We suggest that prairie farmers, during the long winter, might well look into the whole question of the use of fertilizers.

News Notes From Your District Home Economist

New Ideas With Bananas

Did you know that bananas can be used in 15 or more different ways? Not only in bananas and cream or banana cream pie or in a fruit salad but bananas can be scalloped, used with cheese sauce, rice and with meat or in a cake, bread, cookies and sandwiches. They can also be fried, broiled and baked.

Here is a recipe for banana layer cake: 2¼ cups sifted cake flour; 1¼ cups sugar; 2½ teaspoons baking powder; ¾ teaspoon baking soda; ½ teaspoon salt; ½ cup shortening; 1½ cups mashed ripe bananas (4 to 5); 2 eggs; 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, soda and salt. Add shortening, ½ cup of bananas and eggs. Beat 2 minutes by hand or with electric mixer at slow to medium speed. Add remaining 1 cup of bananas and vanilla. Beat 1 minute longer. Turn into 2 well greased 8-inch layer cake pans. Bake in moderate oven 375F about 25 minutes or until done. Frost with your favorite frosting, any flavor blends well with banana cake.

To prevent sliced bananas from discoloring when standing before serving, dip slices into or sprinkle with canned pineapple juice, fresh or canned grapefruit, orange or lemon juice.

The scars and blemishes frequently seen on banana peel in addition to the brown flecks do not usually affect the eating quality of the fruit.

It is not necessary to scrape off or remove the "strings" that sometimes cling to the pulp of the banana except for infant feeding. The strings are practically the same as the pulp itself.

Sewing Velvet

I have had several questions asked regarding sewing velvet so I thought I would give you a few suggestions on cutting and laying a pattern using velvet. Like any other napped fabric, velvet must be cut in one direction, on a smooth, flat surface.

1. Check pattern layout.

2. Check pattern measurements with your own, making all the necessary alterations before cutting, any change made later on the fabric itself will be noticeable. (When in doubt, make a muslin pattern and fit that correctly).

3. Place velvet on cutting table with pile side up. Place pattern on fabric following layout for cutting (with nap). Pin pattern, inside seamlines, to fabric (use needles for pinning; regular dress pins will mark fabric).

4 Before cutting fabric be sure all grainlines are straight and all pattern pieces go in one direction. Cut with firm, even strokes.

5. Gently place pattern pieces in a flat box to avoid wrinkling.

Mrs. Durward Rowmen and Lelie were patients in the Lacey hospital for a few days but are home now and we are glad to say they are keeping better.

Mr and Mrs. Bill Cusack and family drove to Athabasca in their new 1953 Meteor car and brought Mr. Frank Debard back with them. It is a lovely car, the writer enjoying a drive to Clandonald in it.

Mr. and Mrs Charlie Moore have beautiful new 1953 Dodge car. We have been promised a drive in it and are looking forward to it with pleasure.

The ladies of the Dewberry C. W.I. wish to thank all who helped to make the fowl shoot and bingo a success.

The United Church Ladies Aid bazaar will be held in the United church at Dewberry on Dec. 6th commencing at 2:30. Sale of work, afternoon lunches, sale of home cooking and produce table, also a tag, candy table. Everybody welcome.

Valley Maids C.G.I.T.

The regular meeting of the Valley Maids C.G.I.T. was held on Nov. 10th, Monday evening, at the Home and School met on Wednesday evening. Marlene McDonald, the president was in the chair and opened the meeting with singing. After forming a square and repeating the Girls' Purpose, Beatrice and Marlene led the worship. It was decided that the girls would sell candy at the hall Saturday night. Project books and Xmas cards were also discussed. Mrs. Gunn gave a lesson on hemming tea towels and how to make four different seams. Our first etiquette lesson was read by Beatrice and followed by a discussion. Next roll call will be Etiquette hint. Project books and middies were discussed. Shirley Wiley and Carol Richardson served lunch. After adournment "Thanks Comrades" and "Taps" closed the meeting.

The charts shown above were used as exhibits by the Canadian Pacific Railway at recent hearings before the Board of Transport Commissioners at Ottawa to refute arguments that the burden of freight rates is borne largely by the western provinces. The first chart for gross ton miles shows that the railway's service in Western Canada is substantially greater than that in eastern Canada. The second shows that average revenue per ton mile is much greater in eastern Canada and that the difference has been increasing since 1946. The third chart shows that the net earnings of the company, before income tax, once higher in western Canada than in eastern Canada, have been lower since mid-1948 despite the fact that two-thirds of the C.P.R. mileage is in the west.

Four good ways to save gasoline are recommended by General Motors engineers: time your driving to the setting of traffic lights to avoid stops and starts; avoid high speed, especially on the open highway; keep spark plugs cleaned and properly gapped; maintain proper tire inflation.

"...the building of my herd"

Many a farmer knows that initiative, hard work and the financial support of the bank can all play their part in developing a successful farming operation.

One such man, a rancher in the West, recently wrote to his bank manager:

"I wish to express my appreciation of the way your bank has treated me through the years ... the encouragement you have given me in the building of my herd. I feel the success we have achieved could hardly have been obtained without your intelligent support."

The farmer uses bank credit in many ways: to develop his land, buy livestock and equipment, market crops. Aiding Canada's food producers is an important part of the broad service the chartered banks perform for all Canadians.

The Value Of Trees

THOSE WHO HAVE TRAVELLED widely in Canada are aware of the vast areas of the country which are covered with forests and lakes. Of its 3,467,000 square miles which make up Canada's total area, 1,375,000 square miles are forests. Only about one-half of this forest area is classified as being productive, but nevertheless, more than one-third of the land is covered with trees and the forests provide one of Canada's greatest sources of national revenue. The Prairie Provinces are not among the most heavily forested areas, although all of them have large tracts of wooded land, especially in the northern sections.

* * * * *

Farmers Have Planted Trees

In the prairie regions, however, there are many farms where trees have been planted to provide windbreaks and to preserve the soil. Tree planting on the prairies has been highly successful and there is no longer any question as to whether it is possible to grow trees on the prairie land. These trees, planted by the farmers not only provide shade and shelter from the wind, but they play their part in the continuous war against soil erosion and drought. In storing moisture and preventing soil drifting trees are one of the most important weapons in the fight to preserve the soil

* * * * *

Most Provide More Moisture

It has not always been easy to retain groves of trees planted on the prairie farm lands but knowledge of scientific methods of growing trees has helped to overcome difficulties arising from plant diseases, insects, lack of moisture and extremes of temperature. One of the early-planted problems in growing trees successfully on the prairie is the lack of sufficient moisture to ensure their natural growth and to make them resistant to other hazards. Many farmers overcome this difficulty by providing additional moisture by irrigation, a method recommended by forestry experts. Trees are a permanent asset to the farm, and the planting of trees on the prairies has proven to be a successful and rewarding undertaking on many of hundreds of Western farms.

Upset About High Prices? Try Buying In Yukon

WHITEHORSE, Y.T.—A housewife in Dawson City or Mayo pays about 50 per cent more for groceries than her counterpart on the "outside". In Whitehorse, she pays about a third more. The average family of four in Dawson pays upwards of $150 a month for groceries and in Mayo upwards of $120.

Wood, the basic fuel of the territory, costs about $30 a cord in Dawson and about $10 here. It is very hard to burn two cords a month during a Yukon winter. Oil, common in kitchens, costs 70 cents a gallon here and considerably more in Dawson.

Transportation costs are of course, the chief reason for the high prices. Most of the territory's food is imported from Vancouver or Seattle, with some coming from Edmonton.

Food from Vancouver and Seattle is shipped by plane or boat to Juneau, Alaska, and thence by train to Whitehorse. During the winter, most perishable foods are shipped here direct by air.

Dawson, Mayo and other towns north of here get food by river boat or road in summer and by road alone in winter.

Here are some comparative prices.

Coffee—Whitehorse $1.39 to $1.80 a pound, Dawson $1.60.

Tea—Whitehorse $1.35 to $1.80 a pound; Dawson $1.45.

Milk—Whitehorse 22 cents a can; Dawson 40 cents.

Soups—Whitehorse 30 cents a can; Dawson 35 cents.

Salmon—Whitehorse $1.17 a 1-pound tin; Dawson $1.30.

Sugar—Whitehorse 17 cents a pound, Dawson 18 cents.

Butter—Whitehorse 89 cents a pound; Dawson 85 cents.

Fresh vegetables—Whitehorse or "air" prices:

Lettuce—Whitehorse 60 cents a pound; Dawson 50 cents,

Tomatoes—Whitehorse 45 cents a pound; Dawson 75 cents.

Meats:

Sirloin roast—Whitehorse $1.05 a pound; Dawson $1.20.

Rump roast—Whitehorse 95 cents a pound; Dawson $1.05.

Sirloin steak—Whitehorse $1.05 a pound; Dawson $1.05.

Fowl—Whitehorse 70 cents a pound; Dawson 70 cents.

Language Didn't Worry Cupid

VANCOUVER—A young Montreal soldier and his wife strolled hand in hand down Granville Street's theatre row and took in the sights.

Every so often he asked her if she was happy and urged: "Don't be nervous."

The shops and theatres, humdrum to many, were Kalenko Hiroto's introduction to her new homeland. Now Mrs. Ken Fraser, she is the second Japanese war bride to arrive in Canada.

L.-Cpl. Fraser and his petite, 23-year-old wife arrived by air from Japan and will leave by train for Montreal.

They met while L.-Cpl. Fraser was stationed near Okayama and were married March 7 by Protestant Padre H. A. Doig.

Differences in language didn't bother Cupid during their courtship.

"Language was not a barrier," the soldier explained. "Because Japanese is a lot like French."

PRECIPITATION ON PRAIRIES BELOW NORMAL

WINNIPEG — Precipitation summary for the Prairie Provinces issued by the meteorological office in Winnipeg recently showed all three provinces received below normal moisture in the three months ending Oct. 31.

Alberta showed the biggest deficiency with a provincial average 3.6 inches below normal. Medicine was .76 inches below normal, and Saskatchewan down .54 inches.

The biggest deficiencies show in the southern areas of the provinces. Fall moisture has a big bearing on the outlook for the next season's grain crop.

Of 33 points reporting in Alberta, only two showed above normal precipitation for the three-month period. In Manitoba, five of the 16 reporting points showed above normal. In Saskatchewan above normal precipitation was received by eight out of 26 points.

Booming Town

Lynn Lake, Manitoba, One Of Brightest Stars In Canada's Mineral World

LYNN LAKE, Man. — This booming mine town, one of the brightest new stars in Canada's mineral world, soon will be diffusing new wealth into the national economy. Nestling in the Manitoba wilds just south of the 57th parallel, the town's expanding mine is considered the world's richest source of copper-nickel ore apart from the great mines at Sudbury, Ont.

Within a year a 143-mile rail line will link it with supply routes to the south, hauling ore estimated to be worth $14,000,000 yearly to world markets. Much of it will go to Canada's defence production for peacetime.

Development costs at Lynn Lake are great. About $50,000,000 will have been spent by late fall of 1953 when the Sherritt Gordon mine is expected to start production. Already ore worth $178,000,000 at current prices has been blocked out.

The rail line, estimated to cost about $18,000,000, is being pushed through rocky terrain and muskeg by the Canadian National Railways. When completed it will reach north-east from Sherridon, Man., to a point west of Winnipeg.

Aircraft and tractor trains have been the chief forms of transportation since the district was opened 15 years ago. A few made the trip by canoe and on foot.

Some 500 men now are working on the line. By Oct. 5 the complete right-of-way had been cleared, the roadbed graded for 85 miles and 26 miles of track laid.

Engineering and construction problems — despite modern equipment — are as challenging as those which faced the men who built the first transcontinental line across Northern Ontario 70 years ago.

The Lynn line will open the same possibilities for farmers who settled across the Prairies toward a new life. The roads may serve as the springboard for all-year settlement of lakes, rich in scarce and untouched resources.

As are trundles south, homes and equipment from the defunct Sherridon mine will move north. Last winter tractor trains working round-the-clock hauled 72 houses and countless tons of mining machinery, dismantled there and now erected here.

Homes were plucked from their foundations, placed on sleighs and

"GREEN ACRES"

Bull Loan Policy

Six groups in Vermilion River M.D. have signed up for bulls under the Bull Loaning policy. There are still a few bulls left but I would advise you not to wait too long and find that the bulls are all taken up. It takes 3 or more farmers with 30 or more cows to form a group for taking over one of these bulls.

Synthetic Cow's Milk

The latest invention is synthetic cow's milk. You buy it in a can and feed it in troughs. The pigs grow faster and there is less disease. Also three litters can be raised a year instead of one or two as previously. It is hard to keep up with all these new ideas the scientists are bringing out.

Improving Pastures

Both manure and commercial fertilizers applied to pastures will pay big dividends. At this time of the year when harvesting is over is a good time to haul out some of that big manure pile and scatter it on the hay fields. Spraying pastures with 2, 4-D will get rid of dandelions and other weeds. It will also get rid of alfalfa so we should not spray stands with alfalfa and clover therein.

4-H Club Started

The Mannville 4-H club is going again. There will be over 25 boys and girls in this club feeding calves for the winter. What a building back the boys and girls in other districts. Let me know if you want a club in your community. Anyone between the ages of 12 and 21 in the Clandonald, Islay and Vermilion districts will be welcome to join the Mannville club or if there are enough we could have separate clubs.

Meetings for Women

Farm women's groups in my district do not make many calls on our District Home Economist for addressing meetings or to give demonstrations. Miss Shirley Holme of Wainwright is the lecturer for this district (Vermilion River and Minburn M.D.'s). Besides attending adult meetings, Miss Holme organizes farm girls' clubs. When you pay taxes you pay for these services. In other districts people get far more out of their Home Economist than we do here.

Honorable Mention

Two members of the Vermilion Turkey club are in Toronto this week. Last Friday they were placed third in the junior poultry judging contest for all Canada. This team consisting of Christine Morrison and Bruce McDonald did extremely well in such high competition and I wish to add my congratulations to those offered by so many others.

Many thanks to Fred and Jack for bringing a Mannville people the show—ten million dos do the smaller places get a chance to see the really good vaudeville entertainment. The moving pictures of the school and the various farms taken by Dr. Hamilton were very interesting

Chatsworth Chatter

The weather remains very nice for this time of year, though Monday is more like a raw November day than we've yet experienced.

The 'Dry' majority in the riding of Battle River in the liquor referendum is officially given as 2499. Only approximately one-third of the voters exercised their franchise. The vote stood affirmative 3573, negative 3074.

W. Arnold was Reeve of Metiora with Messrs. Steele, Wayling and Scott on the council.

Wildmere Winks

The Old Timers' round-up was really a success. The ladies did a wonderful job catering for the big crowd. During the business session some very amusing incidents were related which livened up the evening. We all hope Mr. Robinson does not get hold of another suit that shrinks like the one he told about that night. The dance was good too, all joining in to make it a jolly evening. Everyone is looking forward to another get-together in 1953.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holmes of Beaverdell on the birth on a son, Edward Roy on Nov. 2nd at the local hospital.

Billie and Adam Smith accompanied their mother back to Vancouver where they will spend the winter. They made the trip by car, visiting in Edmonton, Banff, Lacombe and Calgary on the way.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan Castle and son William left early Saturday on the start of their journey back to England. They have resided the past year on the farm of Aubrey Rendell in the Triangle district.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson moved into their new home over the week end. They will have a very comfortable place when John gets it all finished. It really is a lot of work when you re-model a house.

The First Aid course at Wildmere has been well attended. 20 are taking the course and Mr. Bevan was very pleased to see so many turn out.

Wildmere Beavers girls' club dance was well attended and every one enjoyed themselves. Jeff and Freddie Martin furnished the music and Bill Steele and Roy Garnett were M.C.'s. J. C. Wallagren is at Calgary this week attending the municipal convention held Nov. 19 to 21st.

Funniest thing seen: A young father in Battleview who was busy slitting so his wife could attend the dance Friday night couldn't get the baby to sleep so very nicely bundled her up and came to the dance too. Did the fresh air help Howdy? Later more often Mother, so he'll get more practice!

Keep in mind the W.M.I. dance in Battleview Friday Dec. 5th. Gents $2c, ladies $5c. Lunch provided. There also is to be a sale of articles, useful and otherwise.

Everyone was pleased to hear Mrs. A. Rendell was feeling much better according to the last word from Aubrey at the coast.

Allandale Notes

We're having just wonderful weather for this time of year. The slight snowfall has disappeared and on the 13th we had rain.

Sorry about the error in the last news. Should have read 'Clandonald and Allandale chicken supper.' Thanks Clandonald for your splendid ad for our supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Woody Wilson spent a day in the city on Nov. 6.

Joyce Armstrong has returned home from the city.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goddard on the birth of a daughter Nov. 9th.

Mrs. Louis Baldock, Beryl (Mrs. Greeves') and daughter Brenda accompanied Mr. and Mrs. R. Ferrazzo to the city on Nov. 2nd. Mr. Baldock went for the week end and he and his wife returned home the following Tuesday evening.

The Isley chicken supper was as splendid as ever and it was good to visit with old friends.

Orley Greeves and Don Wilson left on Nov. 4th for the north, first going to Lac La Biche where they saw Jimmy Walsh, then went to Athabasca and on north to Peace River town where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Pat Anstett and family. Hunting is barred north of Peace River on account of hydrophobia among the animals. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Lundblad (Lucy Thrundson) and daughters at Valley View. They covered around 1000 miles and saw a lot of country. Jim Wilson and family are very hobbying at the Omness home while the men were away.

Our road is kept busy. On Nov. 6th the Regent Oil Drilling Co. started to drill one mile and a half north of the Allandale school on Mr. Pierre's land.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. Wm. Mayers on the death of his brother Jim on Nov. 1st at Grand Rapids, Minn. Jim was an old pioneer of this district, living just 3 miles north of the school.

On Nov. 5th Mrs. Don Wilson was kind enough to take Mrs. Throndson and myself to the Clandonald W.A. at the Schoonmaker home. It was a lovely afternoon to meet with the ladies. We enjoyed our May home and meet her hubby.

Nov. 9th, Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mayers entertained at a supper and had as their guests Mrs. Pertle Thrunson, Mr. and Mrs. John Arnold and Mrs. Nora Renaghan.

Alvin Throndson is working for the winter at Lloydminster.

Mr. Lorne Strome and lady friend of Englefeld, Sask., were visitors at his brothers and families, Ort and Ralph. They returned home last week.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil Phillipsi on the birth on the 4th of a son the latter part of October.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Anderson and family Dianne and Sharon of Lloydminster were visitors at the Armstrong home on Armistice day.

On the evening of Nov. 10th a number of friends, neighbors and relatives gathered at the school for a birthday and farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mayers who left Nov. 14th for Grand Rapids to spend most of the winter with relatives in Minnesota and Wisconsin. Mrs. Nora Renaghan (sister of the latter) is accompanying them on their trip. Orley Greeves, on behalf of the folks presented Stella with 2 pair of nylons, her birthday being Nov. 20th and Willie a light grey all wool sweater for his birthday, being 70 on Nov. 27th, wishing them many more happy birthdays and a safe journey. After a social lunch hour all went their way.

Nov. 13th the Allandale W. A. met at the Omness home. Though it was a drizzly day all members were present except Mr. McBride, a faithful member, who did his share for our supper and supplied us with chickens, we did appreciate that very much. The December meeting will be at the Armstrong home. Missional date, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Omness on the lunch committee.

Nov. 8th Mrs. Gertie Swanson of Elk Point attended the Old Timers' banquet and from all reports it was a gala affair. The next day Gertie accompanied her sister Mrs. Nora Renaghan to the city where she visited her son Earl Kepke and family and Mrs. Renaghan her daughter Rena who is attending University. Later Mrs. Swanson visited her daughter Florence and Raymond Hammond at Lashburn, Sask. and relatives at Allandale and Vermilion. With the kindness of Armstrong's she returned home on Nov. 19th.

Mrs. Margaret (Jim) Armstrong was a visitor at the Armstrong home on Nov. 7th.

The will be interesting news to all who knew our student in 1949, now Rev. Cyril Gough. Rev. and Mrs. Gough of Peach Cove, Nfld., announce the proud parents of a daughter, Susan Margaret, born Oct. 8th.

A letter received recently from Mr. Ralph Jackson, our student last summer reports that he is getting on well at college, his first year in theology. He wished to be remembered to all his friends.

The purebred livestock sale held at the agricultural grounds was a grand success. Jack Cross sold 5 head at a good price. Isidore Nelson bought a Poll Hereford bull. Gus Throndson also bought a bull and Johnny Nelson a hog.

Noticed recently: Isidore Nelson with a new 1952 Chev car; Johnny Nelson a new 1952 Chev ton truck; Jimmy Armstrong a new '52 Chev car; Charlie Moore a new '53 Dodge car; Ort Strome with a new '52 Ford — clear selling folks: A Chevrolet sage was moved to the school on the 13th.

Closing Thought: Begin today to do some mental stock-taking. Analyze your thoughts for the past; were they on the whole, constructive or destructive; positive or negative; productive or worthless? Frankly examine them and resolve to stand porter at the door of your mind.

Almost a million dollars worth of Spetsch is manufactured in Canada in a year.

Seed Cleaning Rates

The following rates and regulations are in effect at the MARWAYNE SEED CLEANING PLANT for the 1952-53 crop year:

CLEANING COMMERCIAL SEED GRAIN

Until end of 1952 ..... 6c per bushel
From January 1st, 1953 ..... 8c per bushel
Cleaning Registered Grain ..... 10c per bushel
Seeding Registered Grain ..... 15c per bushel
Cleaning Grass and Forage Seed ..... $1.00 per hour

TREATING SEED

With Agrox (Powder) ..... 4½c per bushel
With Panogen (liquid) ..... 6c per bushel
With Merygamon C (for wireworm control) — rate and yet determined.

Insurance levy on grain delivered to plant is ¼c per bushel: minimum charge 30c.

Grain containing Tartarian Buckwheat will not be accepted at the plant.

Screenings unclaimed after four days will be sold and proceeds credited to owner.

STORAGE REGULATIONS

Grain will not be accepted at plant for storage.

Forty-eight hours after notification by operator that grain is cleaned, a charge of one cent per bushel per day may be levied.

PLEASE NOTE: Storage capacity at the plant is limited. Farmers are urged to take delivery of grain as soon as it is cleaned. This will make available bins for other lots of incoming grain.

It is important to contact operator for appointment before delivering grain to plant.

To provide a service for all farmers in the area they are urged to arrange delivery of grain NOW so that the plant may operate at full capacity during the slack season. During the rush last season, many who would, could not have this service.

We are pleased to advise that the Superior Cleaner has been replaced by a new and larger machine. This should result in better quality work and greater cleaning capacity.

The Plant is agent for Alberta Seed Growers' Grass and Forage Seed and provides seed-grain marketing information for farmers.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. STRANGE
Director, Research Department, Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

PARITY PRICES?

Some people have expressed the view that parity farmers should have parity prices, the same as farmers have in the US. The U.S. parity prices are based on an index of the cost of the things U.S. farmers buy on a base of 1909-1914. The Canadian Bureau of Statistics have worked out a similar index on the cost of things prairie farmers have to buy on a 1935-39 base. If we had a parity system in this country based on 1935-39, the parity price for wheat would be $2.17 instead of the $1.73 guaranteed International Wheat Agreement price. For steers at Winnipeg the parity price would be $12.70 per 100 pounds whereas the Government present support price on steers is $22.72. For hogs the parity price would be $25.72 per 100 lbs., present market price $21.91. For eggs the parity price would be 64 cents a dozen; present market price 48 cents. For potatoes the parity price would be $1.82 per 75 lb. bag; present market price $3.00.

So it will [illegible] those who produce wheat and eggs, as examples, would be better off than they are today, whereas producers of steers and potatoes would be worse off than they are.

CROWED CITIES

Downtown areas in most big cities, in Canada as well as the United States, are traffic-jammed now three times a day, warns The Financial Post. Without huge new parking facilities they simply can not meet the 50% increase in motor vehicles predicted by 1960. And most of them are not even trying. They are playing around with little measures to ease the pressure, but ignoring the fact that no street can be big enough if we use them for parking lots as well as traffic lanes. Close to the stores we want to shop in, close to the offices we must visit, there must be a place where we can park our car, or very soon a lot of us are not going to try to go downtown. Most people are willing to walk a block or two but they certainly won't walk a mile.

But only a few big cities are waking up. Most of them still follow the old 'let nature take its course' plan. In their frantic desire for growth, too many of them are willing to jettison zoning and other regulations without any thought about the congestion that is certain to follow.

GRADUATE NURSES TO MEET

The Graduate Nurses Assoc. will hold their regular monthly meeting in the nurses quarters at the Vermilion municipal hospital on Monday Nov. 24th at 8:00 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Myers and Mrs. Nora Renaghan leave this week for Litchfield, Minnesota, where they plan to spend the next three months.

Robert Fair, M.P. left for Ottawa last Friday morning and is now attending the sessions of the House of Commons which opened this Thursday morning in the Canadian capitol.

Mrs. Westman has just returned from Edmonton where she visited her mother Mrs. A. Emanott. Mrs. Emanott will return with her for an Edmonton where she will visit for awhile. Their plans as yet are indefinite.

Mrs. Nina Taylor sends along her Calgary address and a 'hello' to all her friends here.

Bert Porter of Toronto is visiting his mother, Mrs. Tom Smith in Vermilion this week. Bert is an old time Vermilion boy who learned the printing trade with the Standard. In 1921 he secured a position with the McLean-Hunter Publishing Co. in Toronto and has been with that firm ever since. Some of the attractive full page adverts which appear in McLean's Magazine are Bert's handiwork. Incidentally when he left here he was leader of the town band and played in the Vermilion dance orchestra. Bert manages to get back home pretty officially although it is 12 years since his last visit. The Editor was pleased to see him again and also to note that he was looking young and fit.

Tom Souder drops the editor a line from Falmouth remarking on how much they enjoy receiving the Standard, and stating too their appreciation of the Clandonald and Allandale columns which keep Tom and family in close touch with all their old friends here.

LEARN THE BAGPIPES

All young men and boys interested in learning to play the bagpipes are requested to contact Roderick MacMillan, R.R. 2, Clandonald, or at the Highland Society classes on Tuesday evening at the Legion hall. 20tc

Sub-Lt. (MN) Dorothy Taylor who has been serving in the naval [illegible] at Halifax, N.S. paid a brief visit to the family home here en route to the Royal Canadian Naval hospital, H.M.C.S. Naden at Esquimalt, B.C. where she is now posted. She was very much impressed with improvements in Vermilion during the last two years, especially the library and alterations at St. Saviour's church.

Dr. and Mrs. A. Ben King had as their guests last Thursday the latter's mother Mrs. W. H. Prescott, and Dr. and Mrs. Gibson, all from Saskatoon. Dr. Gibson was the speaker at the Canadian Club meeting held that evening. He is the head of the Dairy Department at the University of Saskatchewan. Previous to the meeting he spoke at the Y.M.A. and was a guest of Mrs. N. N. Brantley and his staff for supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Livingstone of the Claymore district are planning to leave within the next week for a holiday at the coast. This is the first time they have been able to get away for 40 years and the trip will be made by plane.

Mrs. Norman Foster from Saanichton, B.C. is spending a few days with her mother Mrs. A. Emanott. Mrs. Emanott will return with her for an Edmonton where she will visit for awhile. Their plans as yet are indefinite.

Mrs. Nellie Coombe reports that a big brown butterfly with large black spots is flitting about in her window. Apparently the butterfly, with such fine summery weather, saw no reason to remain in its cocoon until next spring.

Quiet Wedding At United Church

ANDERSON—LIGHT

First United church, Vermilion, was the scene of a quiet wedding recently when Mary Doreen Light, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Light of Rex, Sask., was united in marriage to Mr. James Linden Anderson, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Anderson of Vermilion, Alberta.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. W. Mackay.

The bride looked sweet in an English wool suit of soft grey shade with slippers to match. A white feather hat and white accessories completed her costume. Her corsage was of red roses and she carried a white prayer book.

The bridesmaid was Miss Dot Stockwell who wore a blue gabar dine suit with pink accessories and corsage of white carnations.

Mr. Walter Coulter was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a grey gravenshot taffeta dress with pale green accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother wore a dress of grey pork taffeta with pink accessories and pink carnations.

A triple-tiered cake encircled by tapers, flanked by tall white flowers and flanked by tall white flowers in silver holders, centred the bride's table which was laid with a lace-cloth lace cloth.

Miss Dorothy Gould, sister of the bride poured tea

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Harry Coulter and responded to by the groom.

After a short honeymoon the couple will make their home to their friends at Lloydminster.

Out-of-town guests present were Mr and Mrs. Wm. Light, Noel and Ted and Mrs Allen of Rex Sask. Mr and Mrs Bill Gould, Mr and Mrs V. Nicklen, Mr and Mrs. H. Sproule Mr and Mrs E. Reeves, Mr and Mrs A. Bedford, Mrs Ross Boyuiste, Lloydminster. Mr and Mrs Chas Anderson and Robert, Mr and Mrs J. Pearn, Mr. and Mrs J. Beresford Miss Jessie Waugh, Edmonton. Mr and Mrs. T. Lecturer Outlines Signposts on Highway To Friendship

CANADIAN CLUB MEETING

Dr. D. L. Gibson was the guest speaker at the first meeting for the current season of the Canadian Club of Vermilion when his members met in the United church hall last Thursday evening.

Although Dr. Gibson is Professor of Dairying at the University of Saskatchewan and has achieved considerable distinction in his professional field he "let someone else look after the cows" that evening. His topic "Highways to Friendship" proved most interesting and stimulating to all who attended.

Quoting proverbs and comments by many of the world's great philosophers, Dr. Gibson employed an understanding of fundamental principles of psychology to explain why friendship has always been so important in human relationships. He warned against criticism, condemnation and complaint as most damaging hazards that confront the individual in large their sphere of friendship and proposed in their stead sincere praise, forgiveness, appreciation and positive interest in the other fellow.

At the close of his address Mr. D. C. Folk moved a hearty vote of thanks to the speaker for this valuable contribution to the program and assured him that he had gained a large number of friends in Vermilion.

The President of the Canadian Club for the current season, Mr. G. F. Stephens, welcomed the members to the meeting and reported that arrangements have already been made for two other speakers to visit Vermilion in the near future. Anyone interested in attending the Canadian Club meetings this winter should contact the Secretary, Mrs. M. Hill.

Martin-McCormack Nuptials At Clandonald

Yellow and white baby mums decorated the altar of St. Columbus church on Monday, Nov. 10th when Eileen, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denis McCormack became the bride of Mr. Jim Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Martin.

The nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Scriven. Father MacPhee and Father Gillis were in the sanctuary. Altar boys were Edwin Lawrence and Henry Dyjur.

The bride, entering the church on the arm of her father, looked lovely in a floor-length gown of white lace and nylon net with matching veil. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. Her only jewelry was a pearl and watch and locket, gift of the groom.

The bride's gift to the groom was a gold watch.

She was attended by her sister Kathleen Light, the groom's sister Sarah. Kathleen was gowned in yellow taffeta with matching accessories

Still the Good Earth

It wasn't even a close race between the record wheat crop of this year and the previous best in 1928, says The Financial Post. The mammoth yield now safely harvested is officially estimated at 600 million bushels. This is 121 millions greater than the 1928 crop or enough to feed Canada for a full year.

The yield per acre, which over the whole country averaged 26.5 bushels, is a more significant figure for measuring the crop. It is also the biggest ever.

The fact that we can still grow more wheat per acre than in the early days doesn't give much comfort to those gloomsters, who, almost a generation ago, predicted that our western soil was wearing out.

First Real Snow and Sub-zero Weather

This week's weather was signalled by the first snowfall worthy of mention, 1.9 inches on Sunday, Nov. 23, and the first sub-zero temperatures, 10 below on Tuesday morning and 6 below Wednesday a.m. Other snow flurries have brought the total snowfall to 2.7 inches.

Warmest days of the week were Saturday, Sunday with 36 and 34. Today, Thursday, the high was 31 above.

Vermilion Aces Win From V. S. A.

SCORE 59-2 IN BASKETBALL GAME

The newly-formed Vermilion girls basketball team played their first game of the 1952-53 season on Tuesday evening this week. They ceased to victory behind the terrific scoring ability of Thelma Hunter, Ross Smith, who rang up 9 points. The team as a whole showed great promise for the months to come when they plan games with the high school, Lloydminster and Wainwright.

Game time was 7 p.m. and the play was exciting from start to finish. In the first period the Aces had it much their own way and were leading 10-0 when the half time bell rang. In the second, the Aces seemed to slow down and the V.S.A. girls had the ball most of the time but were jinxed on their shooting, scoring only two points.

With a capacity crowd of students attending the roof of the gym was nearly lifted off as Briggs scored the first point for the V. S.A. on a free throw.

If the games are all as good as this one the people of the town will really miss some good and exciting basketball. Come on out Vermilion and see these teams play.

Game line up and scoring was: ACES—Thelma Hunter, 8; Chapman, 4; Ross Smith, 5; Marfleet; Carson; Cawthorpe; Scuffort. Total points 59.

V. S. A. — Flynn; King; Hogens, 1; Briggs, 1; Cranston; McCormick. Total points 2.

Mannville Student Presented with Medal, Gold Watch, Cheque

MANNVILLE. -At the November meeting of the Home and School Association, John Barry Smith was presented with the Governor-General's medal by Mr. Facey from Vegreville. This award is based on marks made by Grade 9 candidates in June. Out of 170 students in the Vegreville Division there were 5 honor students, two from Mannville and three from Vegreville. Mr. Facey was very pleased to present this medal, stating that the students, parents and teachers were all to be commended on the result. He said this award is not won by just the work in one year but is the result of several years. Barry was also presented with a gold watch by the Vegreville School Division and a cheque by the A.T.A. Mannville Local.

The Lind family were recent visitors to Edmonton: Mrs. Gillies, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. B. Gould and yr writer enjoyed a short visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gould recently. Sorry Jim that you were so ill at the time.

The first wintery weather was experienced here Sunday, now the ground is covered with snow.

Sorry to hear that Mrs. Carroll was in hospital but are glad to say she is now feeling much better.

Congratulations to Mrs. G. Hilton on winning Casino: also to Mrs. Sweezey at Barrhaven who recently won a refrigerator.

ALBERTA

Pleasant Valley

The writer entertained a few friends to tea recently in honor of Mrs. Van den Dokker who will soon be leaving us to live in Vermilion. She received some very nice gifts. It certainly was a complete surprise party wasn't it?

Mrs. Gillies, Mrs. Jones and the writer enjoyed an afternoon at the Sherwood home on Tuesday.

A vestry meeting was held at the home of Mr. Bert Gould on Monday evening with 8 in attendance. A better understanding was gained in regards to raising funds for the upkeep of the church. It was also decided to raise funds for a face lifting for the church and re-shingling of the roof. Just when this will be accomplished is not quite certain as yet, the collection of the necessary money stands in the way. The W.A. has promised some financial assistance.

There was a good attendance at church at the last service with 16 in the congregation. Mrs. Bothwell came along with Hazel and it was nice to see her.

The writer is sorry to learn that Jim Gould is ill again and hopes to hear good news of his health soon.

Mr. Bothwell fell through the ice while watering stock recently and is suffering a bad cold as a result.

Isabel Kennedy also got a soaking going through the ice while skating on the river. It's dangerous yet, so better hang up the skates until the weather gets colder.

Mrs. Dupuit is ill and a quick

Mr. and Mrs. George Strecher whose recent marriage took place at the Golden Spike Lutheran church. The bride, formerly Miss Ruth Combs, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Combs of Edmonton, while the groom is a Vermilion man, a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Strecher. Mr. and Mrs. Strecher will reside in Edmonton.

The 1953 scholarships will be distributed as follows: 5 each for the cities of Edmonton, and Calgary; 3 in the Peace River district; 2 in Northern Alberta; 10 each for Central and Southern Alberta zones totalling 33 awards.

The advisory board is studying the possibilities and need for entering other fields of educational assistance in order to operate a very flexible and broad program.

WOODVALE

A bunch of wimmin finally came out way with a few horses at some lower temperatures and a cold wind. But we have been very fortunate as to weather this fall and it is about over yet unless we'll still be able to enjoy the fall for awhile.

Rev and Mrs. Brown of Lloydminster were recent visitors in the district as they did not get time to see all Rev. Brown's parishioners of last year. Let's hope they will be back again soon.

The First Aid course held in the Union school last week with a good capacity crowd of 24, which must be gratifying to Mr. Bauman.

Otto Wolfert is the P.U.A. delegate to the annual convention in Calgary, he will give his report at the December meeting.

Kaar Sette, Art Lysons and Bert Portenski went big game hunting west of Edmonton again this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Isley and family of Wetaskiwin were visiting their many relations in this part of the district earlier in the month, and spent a Sunday with the Wm Isley's in Woodvale.

The dance in the old Woodvale school on the 21st was quite a success with a nice crowd enjoying themselves all evening.

The new consolidated school is finished on the outside, and work will go on for the winter months just as soon as some parts arrive for the furnace to make work possible.

Mrs. Lyons stayed the week end with her two grandsons while Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sweeney were away to visit Margaret and Leo in the University of Alberta.

We hear that the Lysons family are getting ready for an electric light plant. They will serve as soon as the Battleview electrification project is completed. That will make another bright spot for Woodvale as the long winter evenings in the district.

Quite a few farmers are stripping cattle this week and others are trucking them to Edmonton. It is a lot of hay and grain to be fed this winter.

The snow put an end to haying operations of one farmer who likes to do that job. Bill Warriner, also to the astonishment of passing strangers! His Woodvale neighbors are quite used to that sight.

As rumors these past months of an introduction next year of the new county system in this municipality have grown to the extent that it seems fairly certain, and also that Range 5 might or might not be included in the eastern part, the stampeders are scheduling a possible (they hope in time) that they wish to be included in the western county with Range 6 in which, one million is situated, as there lies their hospital, school and business interests. There is no doubt that everyone in these townships are in favor of it.

If anyone has found two rolls of sliding door runner type, they belong to F. Van Wageningen who lost them coming home from Vermilion last Thursday, probably on Highway 16 east or on the main road to Tofield.

The road just west of Hindville P.O. has recently been graded high and wide, making a big improvement. Mr. W. Procter while passing another car there before the grade was hard, slipped over the edge and the car hit the high side of the ditch. Considerable damage was done to the fender and radiator but luckily he was not hurt at all.

Wire is now being strung on the poles of the Hindville district, the Hindville district. Will the line be finished before Christmas? Everyone hopes so.

While getting some oats out of a granary, one farmer found a big turkey lucky now of about a foot in which at least one he was sure, wondering what kind of an animal had made that, when he heard a chattering noise and there sat a reddish brown squirrel, his tail up behind his back, his front paws on his stomach, scolding him about the destruction of his home. This is the first time as far as we know, that a squirrel has been seen around here.

At time of writing we are looking forward to a turkey supper with some members of the Standard staff and the local correspondents in the Rio cafe. We missed this get-together a few years ago and we will surely enjoy meeting the other writers. Mrs. Wallington and Mrs. Thompson are sponsoring the banquet this time.

Christmas Seals were first sold to fight tuberculosis in Denmark in 1904, last year 36,000,000 sold. Christmas Seal sales are a means of raising money to help prevent tuberculosis. 17

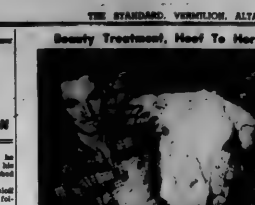
VERA BROWN



Ruth Stewart of Bonnyhill Mine... doesn't mind being called a cow herself, cluck... when she catches the eye of the Royal Winter Fair... Farmers... and in preparation he gave his entry a shampoo, shower and manicure.—Central Press Canadian.

"MOM," bubbled Ruth happily, tossing over the grill counter, "I've got a job for Jerry on nice job, Mr. Clark is taking him on as a branch bookkeeper."

I hated to drive the light out of her eyes, but someone had to put her wise. Outside of Mandolf's gang, take a job," I growled. "That I have yet to see."

Jerry's not one of The gang!" Her face flushed.

"Get wise, Ruthie," I said. "But this Jerry Bronson character ever asked you to marry him?"

"No-o-o," she said, then brightened. "He wouldn't ask a girl until he had a steady job."

"I warn you—that guy won't take any job with work attached."

"You're unfair! Because he's different you say he's no good. He's real refined when he talks to you," she added dreamily.

"Refined! he says. When I see that wicked leather talking outa the side of his mouth to Mandolf, he's just another of them mugs!"

I left. "Ah" never is soon enough. But Clark's a swell guy to work for."

"I know," said Jerry, "But I'm expecting to close a big deal today."

Ruth started off heavily on a new track. "It's not a big little town," she said persuasively, "Maybe you'll find a nice girl and get married—have a house and garden. There'll be nice friends, and on Sundays you'd go to church and later on maybe kiddies—"

The poor little dope! I thought.

"Hey, you're going too fast," he cut in. "Do you—" He stopped, his eyes hardened and the shutter closed from his face.

Ruth clung to his arm as Mandolf shouldered his way into a hold followed by Max and Tony.

"Hi, baby!" he chortled. "Mine's corned beef—an' shake those pretty palms."

"I'll take their order, Ruth," I said.

"They don't bother me," she snapped. I knew what was eating her—she was hurt that Jerry would stand for him talking to her like that.

When Ruth returned with the order, Jerry had joined them, and the four heads were close together. I knew that they were up to no good. Both Mandolf and Tony had done time for smuggling. I heard Mandolf say, "Okay, Bronson, Midnight sharp." The big lug made a pass at Ruth, but she was too quick for him. She went back to the kitchen, but a minute later out poked her head. "Mr. Bronson—wanted on the phone."

Jerry rose and followed her. Presently Ruth returned alone, and I gasped when she took the vacant seat next to Mandolf. His arm went around her, and I moved quickly, but she shook her head. I shrugged my shoulders; something was cooking that I couldn't figure. Suddenly Mandolf jumped to his feet and grabbed his hat. The others followed; they looked badly worried guys to me.

Ruth watched them go with a contented smile.

A notes of muffled shouting and cursing filtered into the room.

"What the—" I said starting off towards the noise.

Ruth checked me. "It's only Jerry," she said. "He's locked in the storeroom. I told him the joke was on them."

"Let him out pronto," I snapped. "An' no more monkey business: or you're fired."

A moment later Jerry burst in. "Where are they?" he yelled.

"I wouldn't know," I said. "Better ask Ruth."

He turned on her. "Well?"

"Where you won't find them!" she said defiantly.

He started for the door, but Ruth grabbed him. "Please, Jerry," she begged. "They'll kill you!"

He shook her off by the shoulders, his eyes probing hers. "Now why would they want to kill me?"

"Oh, Jerry," she faltered, "I couldn't bear to have being mixed up with Mandolf—I told them so—after a stoolie working for the Customs."

He threw up his hands. "That's a woman for you!" he said.

"There's that nice job with Mr. Clark," said Ruth, her eyes appealing. She looked as tragic that I butted in. "Can't you take a joke, Bronson," I said. "Little Ruthie scaring off those toughs—what a laugh!"

"Isn't funny," he said sourly. "I am a Customs agent. I'd have nabbed that gang tonight if you hadn't—if she hadn't ruined everything."

Ruth looked miserable.

"She did it for your sake, Bronson," I said. "How was she hid to know?"

His mouth relaxed, his arm went around her shoulders. "Come, honey," he said. "There's nothing to cry about. I'm quitting the Customs anyway, and I'll see Clark in the morning."

Then as she looked up starry-eyed, he added bashfully, "I can't promise the house and garden right away, but I'll sure take you to church on Sunday."

Number Of Families In Canada Up, But Family Size Down

OTTAWA.—The number of families in Canada increased by almost 700,000 in the last ten years, but the size of the average family declined. The bureau of statistics reported that the number of families climbed to 3,207,000 in 1951 from 2,525,000 in 1941. In that same period, Canada's total population jumped to 14,000,000 from 11,500,000.

During the decade the size of the family dropped to 3.7 from 3.9 persons.

Seed Experts Seek Antidote Virulent Stem Rust Strain

Dr. C. H. Goulden and A. H. Parker Meet Six Weeks Tour of Seed-Growing Stations in South American Countries

OTTAWA.—Two Canadian seed experts have embarked on a Latin-American tour on another step in Canada's campaign to find an antidote to the virulent 15-B stem rust which threatened Prairie wheat crops last spring.

Dr. C. H. Goulden, Dominion cerealist, and A. H. Parker of Gilbert Plains, Man., president of the Canadian Seed Growers' Manitoba section, have started a six-weeks tour of co-operative seed-growing stations in six South American countries.

They will examine hundreds of varieties of seed to judge how resistant they are to the fungus growth, believed to have originated in the south and carried by wind to the United States and Canada.

However, they will do more than examine what other countries are doing. Canada has a new wheat variety the experts are reluctant to talk about and which research men are confident may prove impregnable against the rust.

So far only a few bushels of the variety have been developed. It is being tested in Canada and at stations the experts will visit in Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Peru and Ecuador.

By the time the men return they may also know how resistant the new variety is against 15-B as well as other forms of rust in the Latin countries.

If the variety passes tests, it will be grown in large quantities and the seed distributed to Prairie farmers. But the experts emphasize that it will take several years before there will be sufficient seed to meet demand.

That is one reason they are trying to keep development on the new variety as secret as possible. They don't want to be swamped by demands for seed—demands which probably will not be met until about 1954 or later.

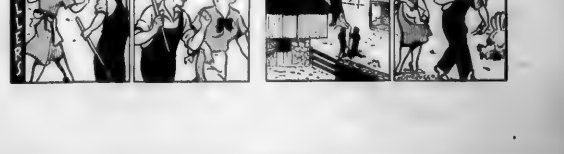
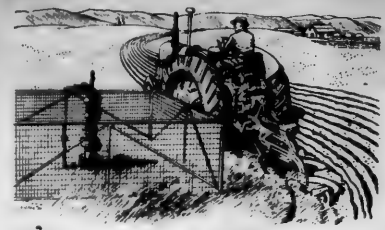
TIME TELLERS —By Lee Cornell





Today there's a NEW revenue crop in Alberta

Without needing cultivating as crop rotating, hundreds of Alberta farmers are receiving revenue today from a new crop — the well heads through which a vital stream of oil is being pumped into our economy.

To date, the oil industry has paid Alberta farmers millions of dollars for well locations, which occupy on the average only about four acres. Oil company payments to farmers for surface use in the Leduc field, for instance, average $1,340 the first year and $431 for each subsequent year for each well location. To the farmer who has four wells on a quarter section this represents an income of more than $37,000 during the life of the wells.

And even if a dry hole results, the farmer receives at least the first year's reward.

This is another illustration of how oil is bringing increased prosperity to Alberta.

News Notes From Your District Home Economist

Mrs. Wise Doesn't Flirt . . .

Imagine having to throw away one hundred quarts of home canned vegetables! That is what happened to a neighbor of Mrs. Wise. Mrs. Wise is very sorry, but also very glad that she didn't listen to that neighbors' advice when she did her canning last summer. For five years this same neighbor has been canning her vegetables by using a much shorter processing time than recommended by authorities. There is no need for processing that long time', she said, 'my canned vegetables have always been good'. But alas, this year she has learned the hard way that there is need for following the rules.

Short cut methods do not pay warns Miss Joyce Lewis, Nutrition Specialist, Alberta Department of Agriculture. The procedure recommended in Government or other authoritative canning bulletins is based on many tests carried out over many years. There are certain types of bacteria that are not destroyed in any shorter periods of time than those given in the canning time tables, and there is no way for the housemaker to know what type of bacteria are present, or to know the exact condition of the vegetable itself. These may vary with soil or climatic conditions. The improper amount of home canned food loss is quoted this year would seem to indicate that possibly the amount of moisture has had something to do with it.

Fortunately the type of spoilage thus far reported has been easily detectable, says Miss Lewis. Many people do not realize that they are flirting with death by using shorter than recommended processing times. Some types of spoilage which cause food poisoning or even death are not evident in the appearance, odor or even the taste of a product. The only sure way of destroying some of these organisms in non-acid vegetables is to can in a pressure canner. If any other method is used, these vegetables should be boiled for ten minutes before even tasting.

Mrs. Wise Wonders . . .

If drawers stick, rub the edges with wax. You can use any polishing types, but paste wax is preferred for this luteriating job.

When dishes stick to oil cloth covered shelves, wax the oil cloth the next time you clean the shelves, and you'll have no more trouble.

No more aching fingers from trying to unscrew the cap of a nail polish bottle which has become solidly stuck since the previous use. Just wax the screw top and the inside of the bottle the first time you open it and you'll have no more trouble.

Have you ever eaten china closets and corner cupboards, where dishes are stacked flat, on shelves so soon as they are emptied. Leave the doors open while the dishes are being washed so the odor of solvent can disappear before you put things back in place.

And now a word about weather. It has been a rather changeable week. We have had a touch of winter with a very light fall of snow, but lots of wind that made you think that winter was here for sure. However today (Saturday) it is nice and clear, let us hope that it will continue.

The quota has been raised to 8 bushels for grain delivery at the elevators all full it has not helped those who have many thousands to deliver on the ground very much. Let us hope that the powers that be in the C.P.R. open their hearts and let some cars come through for this neck of the woods.

Canada's Growth

FROM TIME TO TIME the prophecy is made by speakers and writers that Canada's population will more than double its present size by the end of this century. There is no doubt but that there is room here for a much larger population than we now have and that there are opportunities for many in the development of our natural resources and the extension of our farm lands. Since the war 700 000 immigrants have come to Canada from other lands and statistics show that a large proportion of them have settled in Eastern Canada, many in the larger cities, where they have been absorbed into industry.

Increase In Fifty Years

If we reach the goal set by those who aspire to raise Canada's population to thirty or forty millions in the next fifty years, a high rate of immigration will have to be maintained. One writer has calculated that such a program would mean that about 225 000 new citizens would have to be admitted annually between now and the year 2000. It is interesting to note that in the past fifty years Canada's popula on increased from 5,371,315 to 11,009,429. This period included the great influx of people from other countries in the early years of this century, when immigration reached record heights. Between 1901 and 1911 more than 1,500,000 new citizens came to Canada and very large numbers were admitted in the following years up to the outbreak of the First World War in 1914.

Many Came To The West

This influx took place when the wheat-growing land of the prairies was being opened to settlers and many of the newcomers came here. Between the years 1901 and 1941 the population of Saskatchewan increased from 91 279 to 895 992, while in the next ten-year period it dropped slightly to 829 171. Manitoba grew from 255 211 in 1901 to 777,813 in 1952 while in the same period Alberta has grown from 73 022 to 939 501. These figures show that the same changes have been attracted to the prairie provinces in the last fifty years. If the population of Canada increases greatly through immigration in the next half century, many of the newcomers will no doubt settle in the prairies and many of the pioneers came here. Between the years changes as great or greater than these which have taken place since 1900 may be expected.

Western 4-H Teams Win Top Positions

TORONTO — The 4-H teams from Western Canada won eight of the nine championships awarded each year by the Canadian council on 4-H clubs, it was announced here.

Alberta teams won first place in food, clothing and garden clubs; British Columbia won the potato club; Manitoba won the poultry and swine and Saskatchewan took the grain and beef cattle events.

The only eastern team to place was the St. Hermine, Que., club which won in dairy cattle.

The championships included:

Swine: Mountview Swine club, Dean Durston and Kenneth Forbes, Dauphin, Man.

Poultry: Montmore poultry club, Ruth Hoskin and Edythe Sumner, Montmore, Man.

Beef Cattle Whitewood 4-H club, Lesley Bowman and Wilfred Davis, Whitewood, Sask.

Grain: Grenfell 4-H grain club, Gordon Amy and Lorne Leveridge, Grenfell, Sask.

UNPROFESSIONAL JOKE

Mr W. A. Martwell of Saskatchewan Department of Natural Resources, says hunting at night with a light was the most serious crime committed. The practice was particularly dangerous, both to livestock and residents of an area, he pointed out, adding that it was harmful to conservation and "very unsportsmanlike, besides". Deer caught in a blinding beam of light have "no chance at all of escaping", he said. There were seven fined $600 and costs for night hunting during October.

"Not me. I'm as unable as I look!"

My steady girl has jilted me, But it just leaves me yawning For I've lost her down so many times I feel just like an awning

A very stout man was walking along the promenade of a seaside town when he noticed a weighing machine with the notice: "I speak your weight."

He put a penny in the slot and stood on the weighing platform. A voice answered: "One at a time, please!"

"It's astounding what love can do to some people. Take young Smith, for instance. He was telling me yesterday that he's met the one girl in all the world for him, prettier than any film star, and her very name, he told me, comprises up a vision of the radiant countryside, bustling cottages, larks soaring up from flower-dotted meadows, very farms down quiet lanes."

"And what's the girl's name?"

"Bill!"

Mother had bought father a new tie. "I suppose what would go best with it?" she said coyly, as she held it up.

Father eyed the violent-colored horror and replied briefly: "A beard!"

Denmar was taken to his first harvest festival. Among the offerings of fruit and flowers, the bunches of purple grapes greatly took his fancy. When the offertory box came round he put in ten cents and said, confidingly, "Grapes, please."

Confronted with the task of paraphrasing the sentence, "He was riled by a mill of mail," a small boy wrote: "He was a postman's daughter."

Mr to a small hotel.

"Would you like the maid to call you in the morning?" said the proprietor in his genial way.

"No," said the guest, "I wake every morning at seven."

"In that case," said the proprietor, "would you mind calling the maid?"

"Hugh I'm afraid cook's spoilt the soup."

"What again? Give her a month's notice."

"And I rather think the cotton is a failure."

"Confound the woman! Give her two months' notice!"

"Did it cure your husband of walking in his sleep when you put the bob of water by the side of his bed?"

"Yes, and it cured me of putting a bob of water by the side of his bed."

"Two cows is in the field," said a teacher to a class of small boys, indicating the writing on the blackboard. "Now that sentence is wrong. Can anyone tell me why?"

Wearily she looked over the apathetic class. "Come, come!" she said, encouragingly.

One youngster, with a faint spark of chivalry, sought to help her out of the difficulty. "Perhaps one of them are a calf, miss!" he suggested, innocently.

Prevention Of Winter Accidents

Skate or walk on ice close to shore. Skate or walk on unknown ice in pairs with some distance separating each person. On a moonlight skating party do not wander out of sight of main group.

In the event of a break through the victim should spread his arms on the solid ice. Kick the feet to the surface as in swimming. Then lean well forward flattening the body as much as possible in an effort to worm forward onto the ice. (This is a most difficult feat even with the use of hand splines.) As soon as the hips are on the ice, roll away from the danger area.

Rescuers should use a pole, branch of a tree, plank, ladder or rope to reach the victim. If a rope is used have a loop in the end thrown to the victim. He can slip his hands through the loop.

Rescuers should remember to avoid their weight by lying down. If there is no equipment available—a human chain can be formed and the chain worms its way forward.

New Methods Saving Many Soldiers' Lives in Korea

Of 900 Canadian Troops Wounded Only 36 Have Died — Mortality Rate Is Less Than 3.5 Per Cent.

Medical history is being made by Canadian army doctors in Korea, it was learned here. Of the 900 Canadian troops wounded in Korean fighting, only 30 have died of wounds. The mortality rate is less then 3.5 per cent.

"The great improvements in methods of handling the wounded have resulted in the lowest possible mortality rate. Casualty lists are not as bad as they appear," the army said.

Unlike previous wars, surgical teams are right up behind the combat units. Men wounded in action get immediate attention from these teams of skilled surgical experts.

Then, the helicopter, called one of the greatest blessings yet to the troops, comes into play. Men requiring further treatment are quickly moved to base hospitals by helicopter. These two factors are given credit for the amazing reduction in the mortality rate among the Canadian and United Nations wounded in the grim Korean fighting.

Many lessons learned in the fighting of the last war are being utilized in Korea. In addition, improvements of latest forms of the wonder drugs penicillin have been developed saving lives that it would not have been possible to save even in the last war.

ALL EYES ON PRINCESS' GOWN—Typical feminine interest in the gown worn by Princess Margaret Rose is displayed as she walks past a group of young women who came to greet her arrival at a benefit dance for a London housing project. So engrossed were some in the chic evening dress that they didn't quite do full justice with their curtsies as she passed.

Traffic Official Warns Of Carbon Monoxide Danger

REGINA. — Every winter needless deaths are caused through one of the deadliest of killers, carbon monoxide, said synchronous with the swift approach of cold weather is a warning to motorists from J. A. Christie, chairman of the Highway Traffic board.

Mr. Christie, in issuing the warning, pointed out that the exhaust from an average car contains seven per cent. of carbon monoxide. If the engine is cold, the carbon monoxide content is considerably higher.

All that is needed to cause death in a matter of minutes is one per cent. of the poisonous gas in the air a person is breathing. Because carbon monoxide is colorless, tasteless and odorless, the danger of the gas is doubled.

Mr. Christie pointed out that carbon monoxide is harmless if it is diffused in the open air, but once it becomes concentrated in a closed garage or automobile, it becomes deadly and can cause death as swiftly that the victim has hardly a chance to save himself.

In view of these facts, said Mr. Christie, motorists should not have to be urged to make sure the exhaust system in their cars is in perfect condition. Even a small leak in the exhaust system can cause fatal concentrations of the gas.

During the winter months, most motorists drive will all the windows closed, thus creating an almost airtight death chamber in cases where exhaust systems are not in proper condition. Many deaths have also caused annually, noted the Highway Traffic Board chairman, when motorists run their cars to warm them up in a closed garage.

At the same time, Mr. Christie issued another brief warning to motorists.

Many motorists, Mr. Christie said, tend to clutter the ledge above the rear seat of their car with loose objects such as shoes, soft drink bottles, metal tools or coat hangers.

Old Indian Village Found Near Brandon

BRANDON. — Archaeologists have found the remains of an Indian village near here that was inhabited between 200 and 800 years ago.

Dr. R. G. McIntosh, archaeologist for the National Museum of Canada, has been in charge of digging at the site for three weeks. His team located a mass of buffalo bones and a number of human skeletons in burial pits.

The archaeologists also dug up about 300 arrowheads, bone harpoons and other tools, implements and specimens of pottery.

The village, located on the farm of Frank Biett, appears to have been on the edge of a run where the Assiniboine Indians slaughtered buffalo.

Dr. McIntosh said the human skulls found were the same physical characteristics as those of the Assiniboine Indians and were distinctly different from those of the Cree or Saulteux Indians.
